The Surprise Auxiliary

The surprise party on Kenneth Kneeder last Wednesday night at the Alvo confectionery was a great success and was so cleverly gotten up that he was completely surprised and overjoyed. Most of the evening was spent in dancing. Refreshments were served and every one had a merry time.

Kenneth says: "It certainly gives one a new lease on life to find that there are so many of the kind hearted and generous folks still on earth. I surely appreciate all that these good people are doing in their endeavor to make up for me what I miss due to the loss of my eye sight. It touches me deeply and I actually believe that I am even now more happy than when I could see, because all of the generous, big hearted people and the true friends are sifted out and I do not come in contact with those who are narrow minded and selfish. It is surprising to find so few knockers in a community and I am greatly overjoyed to know that a very large percentage of the Alvo people are of a kindly nature and believe in doing good times and seeing others have good times. I wish to thank all those who took part in getting up the surprise party last Wednesday and want them all to know that I enjoyed myself immensely.

GRADE SCHOLARS SHOW REMARKABLE AMOUNT OF SKILL

Work at Industrial Art Exhibit Displays Excellence of Training of Plattsmouth Scholars.

From Saturday's Daily—To those who attended the industrial art exhibit at the high school building this week the work of the young people in the grade schools was a revelation to the visitor there and showed strikingly the excellence of the work of the youngsters and their training that had developed their skill in the school as well as in the home training.

The art department of the city schools, of which Miss Marie Kaufman is the supervisor, was in charge of the exhibit and the various teachers in the grade schools had assisted in the success of the occasion, one of the most interesting that has been held in the schools of the city. Miss Frances Fields, supervisor of music, had arranged the program which was participated in by both the grade and high school and which was a most pleasing entertaining feature of the exhibit and attended by hundreds of the residents of the city to enjoy it to the utmost.

From the kindergarten grades up to the seventh and eighth grades there were specimens of various kinds of work, art novelties, toys, more practical wood work by the grade boys that embraced hat racks, stools, stands and other pieces of wood art that they had prepared by their own hands for the exhibit. The girls had many very artistic pieces of needlework prepared as well as the showing of the real young children in the doll clothing and other smaller articles.

It was certainly a fine showing for the schools and one that made the patrons feel proud of their children and of the excellent school system which has brought the Plattsmouth schools up to rank with the best in the state.

Many of the articles were sold to the visitors and the scholars feel well pleased with the wonderful success of the exhibit both financially and socially and as a means of showing a little of what the pupils are capable of doing.

YOUNG PEOPLE JOINED IN HOLY WEDLOCK HERE

St. Paul's Evangelical Church Scene of Simple Service—Helen Hild Weds Edgar Meisinger.

From Saturday's Daily—The wedding of two of the popular young people of this section of Cass county occurred in this city on Wednesday afternoon when Miss Helen Hild and Mr. Edgar F. Meisinger were quietly united in the bonds of holy wedlock.

The ceremony was simple, the service being held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church, where the bride has been one of the most faithful workers since her childhood. The Rev. H. Kottisch, pastor of the church, read the marriage lines which united the hearts and lives of these two estimable young people.

The bride wore a traveling suit of dark blue and a picture hat to match, while the groom wore the customary dark suit. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Minnie Hild, sister of the bride, and Mr. Victor Meisinger, brother of the groom.

After a very pleasant dinner at the home of the parents of the bride, the two happy young people departed for El Reno, Oklahoma, where they will visit at the home of Albert Pappé, grandfather of the bride and with other relatives and friends for a short time.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hild, and has been educated in the Plattsmouth city schools and for the past few years was the very efficient stenographer in the office of Attorney A. L. Tidd. Mrs. Meisinger has a host of friends over the city who will learn of her happiness with the greatest of pleasure.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Meisinger, and a member of one of the best known families of the county, and is a young man of the most sterling worth and held in the highest esteem by those who have had the pleasure of knowing him.

Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger on their return from their honeymoon will make their home on the farm of the groom southwest of the city.

MANY LETTERS FROM EAST COMING IN ON PROGRAM

From Thursday's Daily—

In addition to the letters coming in to Station WOAW on the Plattsmouth Junior Review radio program last Friday night, a number are also being received direct by Supt. DeWolf and others on the program. Mr. DeWolf has received a letter from a gentleman in Pennsylvania stating he had just returned home from a meeting of the school board in his home town, of which he is a member, and sat down and tuned in the Plattsmouth school program, which was most pleasing, coming just after he had concluded solving some of the knotty problems that confront all school boards. Among the letters relayed to us from Omaha so far are a number from Canadian listeners and a good many from the east. When it is considered that not one out of 25, or perhaps 50 listeners takes the time to drop a line acknowledging receipt of programs like the majority used to do in the earlier days of radio, the number of letters and postal cards coming in on this program is very pleasing and attests the fact that it was heard by thousands of people all over the country.

The letters are all being turned over to the artists for the perusal and will be posted on a bulletin board at the school building.

VERDICT IN STULL CASE

From Saturday's Daily—

The jury in the case wherein C. Lawrence Stull was contesting with the county board of Cass county the matter of the construction of the highway across his farm north of this city, last evening returned verdict in favor of the defendant county and which gave Mr. Stull $1,018.56 as damages for the construction of the highway. This sum is slightly less than the amount set by the appraisers who had looked the land over a few months ago and set their estimate of the damages which the county should pay. The interests of the county were represented by County Attorney A. G. Cole.
