SAYS STATE MUCH DRIER THAN EVER

State Chairman Allen Gives Opinion to Christian Science Monitor on National Convention.

"I am opposed to a wet plank in the democratic national convention. The sentiment here is overwhelmingly dry. The delegates from Nebraska will not support a wet plank."

In these terms has Thomas S. Allen, state chairman of the Nebraska democrats, replied to an inquiry from the Christian Science Monitor as to his opinion as to what the next national convention will do.

The Monitor has just completed a canvass of all of the state chairmen, and reports that where last spring eight of them declared for a modification of the Volstead law, only one is now outspoken for a wet plank in the platform. That state is New Jersey. The article says:

"It must be borne in mind that these expressions of sentiment are obtained thru the chairmen of the various state committees. As head of the active political machinery in each state, it is to be assumed that none is better qualified to gauge the attitude of the rank and file on the issue than the chairman.

In the previous canvass the democrats of 23 states were unqualifiedly on record as opposing any modification of the Volstead act. The last survey shows twenty-nine are against it today. Forty-five states have been heard from in all. With one state recorded in favor of modification, fifteen are left in the non-committal column.

The survey shows that the following states give every indication of standing firm against any modification of the prohibition amendment: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

"The following states have declared themselves as undecided or non-committal: Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming."

PRICE OF PLAYERS BLOCKS ALL TRADES

Major Leagues in Need of Added Strength Will Turn to Two Big Minor Leagues.

New York, Dec. 17.—Blocked on all sides by a demand of everything for nothing, the major league managers in need of improvements for the 1924 pennant races will turn to the American association and the Pacific coast leagues.

These two powers of the class AA leagues have made some concessions to the majors on the draft and they are now in a position where they can accept players from the big time owners.

The Giants and the Yankees couldn't get any place in their attempts to trade with major league clubs because their rival clubs felt in no humor to add more strength to the two clubs that have enough power now.

With plenty of young players to offer in trades, the two champion New York teams should be able to land most of the choice players of the two big minor organizations.

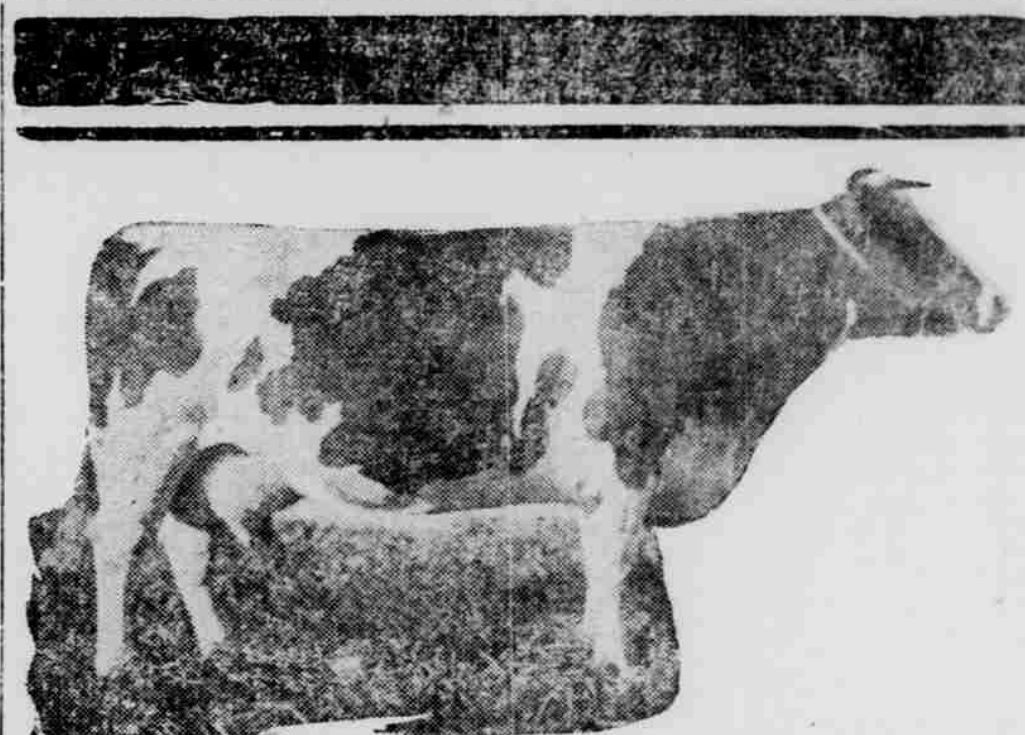

The Yankees already are negotiating with the Louisville American association club for Dean and Combs, and it is understood a deal will be brought up again with the Vernon Pacific coast league for Jakey May, a southpaw pitcher, who has been in demand.

The Yanks have plenty of youngsters to pass out and Miller Huggins said that he would trade any of them excepting Gehrig, the former Columbia first baseman, and Pigrass, a young pitcher.

If the International league had gone along with its two class AA mates in accepting the compromise on the draft, the Giants would go after Boley and Groves of the Baltimore club, but McGraw has insisted that he will not pay the cash that Jack Dunn demands for the two stars.

When the Giants announced that they had turned down several offers of $30,000 and more for Bill Terry, with the Toledo club last year, the belief was strong then and there that McGraw was disposed of George Kelly, the tall first baseman, or that he is figuring on him for a trade.

It is rumored that Kelly will be one of the players that may go to the Cincinnati Reds in a deal for Eddie Kosh or to the Cards for Rogers Hornsby.

The Farmers State Bank of Plattsmouth realizing that the High Grade Dairy Cows are absolutely essential to the success of the farming industry, have decided to make it possible for the farmers in this vicinity to secure these cows.

The Bank will at once start the importation of High Grade T. B. Tested Holstein Dairy cows into this territory under the personal supervision of Rex Young, who will leave for Wisconsin the 23rd of this month to select and ship the first car load.

The first car load will be shipped direct to Union and will be sold at Ed Leach's Sale pavillion on January 12th, 1924, Rex Young having charge of the sale.

Thousands of farmers, especially in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa have found by actual experience that good dairy cows are now making them a good living.

Every farmer should keep from five to ten or more good dairy cows and they will soon find that the cream checks coming in regularly each month rain or shine is the salvation of the farming industry.

We will be glad to have any one interested in the purchase of good dairy cows or any one thinking of becoming interested in the matter, call on us for further information.
