

RECITAL OF ST. ANDREW'S CHOIR IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Services at Christian Church Draw Many From all Denominations to Hear Song Service.

From Monday's Daily— At the evening service at the Christian church last night a congregation that taxed the auditorium assembled to hear the excellent sermon of the pastor, Rev. Walter R. Robb, and the vocal choir of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church of Omaha, which was here for the evening in a very impressive service of song.

The program of the choir was one of the most pleasing religious services that has been offered in this city in many months and the voices of the singers were well suited to the different selections offered and embraced some of the best known of the composition of sacred song. Solos were given by Mr. Donald Pillsbury, baritone, "By the Waters of Babylon," and Mrs. Hheo Orander, who sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and "Night of Nights."

The sermon by the pastor was "The King of the Ages" and was a very inspiring address in which the pastor to the Christian life and its message will be carried with his auditors for a long time.

The opportunity of the Platts-mouth people to hear this excellent musical organization was one that will be fully appreciated and the large congregation felt amply repaid by their attendance at the service.

SANTA ATTRACTS ATTENTION

From Monday's Daily— The H. M. Soennichsen store was a scene of real excitement Saturday afternoon when "Santa Claus" made his formal entry into the city and at this store distributed some 2,000 whistles to the little folks as well as candy. Santa arrived in the city on No. 24 over the Burlington at 2:12 and was greeted by a large crowd of youngsters at the station who marched with the ruddy faced St. Nick up the street to the Soennichsen store and at each corner larger crowds of children joined in and made the march of the jolly Kris Kringle one of triumph.

BANK PRESIDENT DOWN TOWN

From Monday's Daily— After a period of six months spent at the hospital and in the confines of his home, H. N. Doney, president of the First National bank, was down town today and greeted by his host of warm friends who have sympathized with him in the long months of his confinement due to the effects of his broken leg, sustained in an auto accident June 5. Mr. Doney is still getting around with the use of crutches but is looking fine and barring the stiffness due to the long disuse of the leg is feeling very well.

VISITS HERE ON LEAVE

From Monday's Daily— A. C. Griffin, who is in the service of the United States as a member of the naval forces, was here today, coming in to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Griffin and particularly with his mother, who is at the hospital in Omaha to undergo an operation. Mr. Griffin has served two years on the U. S. S. Wyoming, one of the finest of the dreadnaughts of the navy and is at the present time a blacksmith on the Destroyer Humphreys.

RECEIVES SAD NEWS

From Monday's Daily— James W. Burnie of this city has just received word from his old home of Biddeford, Maine, announcing the death of an aunt, Miss August Weeks that occurred there on Saturday following a long illness. Owing to the shrewdness of the time for the funeral and the long distance back to the old home, Mr. Burnie and family will not undertake the long journey to New England.

BLUE AND WHITE BRIEFS

Alumni Day Friday, December 21st, has been designated as P. H. S. Alumni day and the high school urges all old graduates to be present.

A musical program by students now attending and remarks by their parents are some of the features already arranged.

Remember the date, Friday the twenty-first, at 2:45 p. m. Old grads be there.

Professions and Trades

In response to a questionnaire sent out by Mr. C. A. Fulmer, state director of vocational education, in which he asked the students to signify what they would choose as their life work, a canvass was made at the high school.

The following is the result of the compilation, and it is interesting to note that those who chose trades are greatly outnumbered by those who chose professions:

Boys—Banker, 4; minister, 1; merchant, 4; bookkeeper, 3; medicine, 6; engineering, 26; athletic coach, 2; train operator, 1; mechanic, 7; law, 3; teachers, 2; agriculture, 7; artist, 3; poet, 1; carpenter, 1; radio operator, 1; advertising work, 1.

Girls—Teachers, 79; stenographers, 38; nurse, 9; actress, 3; artists, 2; doctor, 1; elocutionist, 1; author, 1; home maker, 4.

Basket Ball

Coach Rothert and squad have been busy the past week preparing a red hot welcome for Weeping Water and Pacific Junction.

These two teams play Plattsmouth at the High School gymnasium in a double header, Wednesday night at 7:30, the first basket ball games of the season.

The boys intend to win two victories so come out and root for them. Admission will be 20c and 30c.

Congratulations

Radio fans as far east as Massachusetts and as far west as Idaho, using telephone, telegraph, postal cards and letters, applauded the Junior Review program recently. Eighty-one responses in all were received by the school and out of these forty, or approximately one-half came from outside of Nebraska. These represented 19 states and the Dominion of Canada. All of these communications express appreciation of our program and congratulations to the artists who certainly feel well paid for their efforts.

When it is considered that not one in fifty listeners take the time to write in on the programs they hear, the size of the audience that heard the "Review" can easily be imagined.

Christmas Vacation

As we said last week Smiles at the High school are the order of the day. The Joy Club is evidently getting in its good work. At least we thought so.

But now on glancing at the calendar we suspect that some deeper motive underlies these smiling visages. Christmas vacation begins Friday, December 21, 1923, and closes January 7, 1924, two long weeks in which to forget lessons and have a good time.

The Season's Greetings

As this is the last week of school before vacation and will be our last publication of Blue and White Briefs for 1923, the editors of this column wish to extend a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you all.

Football Men Get Letters

This morning during the convocation period at the high school auditorium the football men were presented with their letters which they had earned for their part in keeping Plattsmouth on the football map during the past season.

Twelve men were presented with letters, being Capt. Krejci, Russell Wasley, James Holly, Sterling Hatt, Harlan Gorder, Stuart Chase, Oscar Campbell, Frank Godwin, George Schmidtman, Carl Kell, Herman Tikotter and Theodore Hadraba.

The team has chosen as their captain for next year Frank Godwin and with seven letter men back for next season we can be assured that we will have a very good start for a successful season.

MRS. HAROLD KOOP DIED VERY SUDDENLY LAST SATURDAY

Found by Members of Family Dead in Bed at Her Home—Cause Thot. to be Heart Trouble.

From Monday's Daily— The community of Louisville was shocked Saturday afternoon when the lifeless body of Mrs. Harold Koop, one of the well known young women of that city, was found in her home, lying on the bed beside the year and a half old baby whose childish cries she had wearily been trying to soothe when death came upon her and stilled her loving attention to the child. The cause of the death was given as heart trouble and the unfortunate lady had scarcely stirred from the position that she was in when the husband left the home several hours before the discovery of the body.

Mrs. Koop had apparently been in the best of health and with Mr. Koop, who is employed by the Lyman-Richey Sand Co., at the north side of the Platte river in Sarpy county, had arisen at an early hour to prepare the morning meal. She was in the best of spirits and had packed the lunch for her husband when the cries of the youngest child had attracted her attention and she had gone to the bedroom to soothe the little one where she was lying as the husband came in and bid her goodbye and started for his work.

Saturday afternoon about 2:30, Daisy Schlater called at the Koop home to see about some matters of business and as she knocked at the door one of the elder children, aged five years, came to the door and on the inquiry of Miss Schlater as to where the mother was, pointed to the bedroom and on entering Miss Schlater was startled to see Mrs. Koop lying there and apparently unaroused over the approach of the visitor. Miss Schlater, fearing that she was sick, touched the body and discovered that it was cold with the touch of death and rushing to the door she called to neighbors who responded and also called Dr. E. H. Worthman, who, upon coming to the home, pronounced that Mrs. Koop had been dead for at least six hours. The news was tragic to the husband who had left the home early in the morning and who had hastened home to find the wife had left so well and happy, stilled in death.

Mrs. Koop was thirty-two years of age and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Krecklow, pioneer residents of Louisville, and has lived in that place for the greater part of her life. She leaves to mourn her death the heart broken husband and three little sons, aged five, three and one and a half years. She also leaves one brother, W. K. Krecklow of Plattsmouth and one sister, Mrs. Charles Rathbun.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Koop are members of old pioneer families and the death has become a great shock to the large circle of acquaintances over the county.

The funeral services were held this afternoon from the Christian church at Louisville and conducted by Rev. W. E. Goings, with the burial at the Louisville cemetery.

The parents of Mr. Koop, Mr. and Mrs. John Koop, have taken the three little motherless children and will care for them in the future.

WHEN THE BELLS RING OUT

From Wednesday's Daily— The campaign for securing old clothing that is still serviceable for the residents of the Near East will be started tomorrow morning when all of the church bells will ring at 9 o'clock to announce that the committees in charge will be ready to handle the drive and that anyone may call No. 85 and have someone call for any donations of clothing that may be on hand or parties may bring the clothing to the Leonard building on Main street, opposite the Journal where the packages will be arranged for shipment. The people of the far east are asking no Christmas gift aside from the clothing and needed food and their need is urgent and no more appreciated gift could be made than the serviceable clothing of the residents of the city that they feel they could donate to this cause.
