Col. Phil Hall Urged for State Legion Com'nd'r

Prominent Cass County World War Veteran Suggested by Local Legion Men for State Head

The selection of the state commander of the American Legion by the Nebraska department at the convention this year at Hastings, has brought to the forefront in the Plattsmouth Legion circles the name of one of the outstanding veterans of the state and one of the leaders in business life of the state as well, in the person of Col. Phil L. Hall, of Greenwood, and who is well known to practically every service man in Cass county.

Col. Hall is president of the Greenwood State bank and his work in this business has not stopped his untiring efforts for the American Legion and the service men of his own community and his county and state and one of the most cherished honors that Col. Hall has is the fact that he is a "buddie" of the boys and served in the world war.

Col. Hall has the advantage of a magnetic and genial personality as well as a distinguished war record and his enthusiasm is unbounded for the cause of the men with whom he served, the call of the service men or the Legion always finds the able Greenwood gentleman ready to lay aside his business activities to give this his attention and as a state commander no more qualified man could be found or one who possessed to a greater extent the esteem and confidence of the members of the Legion, or one who would give more wholeheartedly of his service in looking after the cause of the American Legion.

Our fellow citizen is a young man and has the energy and enthusiasm of the present time to make a success of his work in the ranks of the Legion and would carry into the office of commander this same enthusiasm.

Col. Hall was adjutant of the national guard of the state of Nebraska under Governor Morehead and Governor Neville until at the entrance of the United States into the world war in April 1917 when he resigned his office to organize and muster into service the Sixth Nebraska Infantry and in whose ranks a large number of Cass county men served. It was at the head of this regiment that Col. Hall was sent to the training camp at Deming, New Mexico, and while there at Camp Dody, was transferred under the world war reorganization plans, to the command of the 127th field artillery, as the Sixth Nebraska was divided into several different units.

As the commander of the 127th field artillery (formed from the former Fourth Nebraska), Col. Hall made a very fine record and was sent with his regiment to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where his organization attained a high state of efficiency as it was sent overseas.

After the close of the war Col. Hall returned to the pursuits of peace and followed the banking business of which his loved and honored father, Dr. P. L. Hall, had been one of the outstanding figures in Lincoln for many years, and Col. Hall embarked on the banking business at Greenwood where he has been very successful. That Col. Hall is one of the outstanding members of his business is indicated by the fact that he was selected as president of the Nebraska State Bankers Association at their convention last year and has given a splendid administration of the office.

The Nebraska American Legion could search far and not find a more efficient or qualified man for the leadership of the great organization of the service men of the state.

The work will require several days and during which time the structure will be closed to the use of the traveling public.

Gravel and Sand Pits are Very Busy Places

Force of Workmen Enlarged and Demand for Material Keeps Plants Working at Top Speed

The summer program of road work over the middle west where great amounts of gravel and sand are needed, has caused the sand and gravel pits of the Lyman-Richey Co., near this city to be operated at full capacity for the past few weeks in order to secure the largest output possible.

The pits are now employing a very large force of men and may possibly be forced to employ a night force to keep the plants operating on a twenty-four hour schedule in order to keep up with the demand that is being made for the gravel and sand.

The states of Iowa and Nebraska with their enlarged road programs have created a strong demand for both the gravel and sand and which is being shipped out as rapidly as possible to the destinations. In the several states where there are many now roads being surfaced and this has brought a great deal of employment to men in this locality and which will probably cover the entire summer months or as long as the plants can be operated and the road work be carried on.

This sand and gravel company have added a great deal, to the improvement of the highway leading to their plants from highway 75 as they furnished the gravel to have the road placed in shape for the workmen to get to and from their work and giving that section a fine surfaced highway for a distance of several miles and which they otherwise would not been able to secure.

Heavy Rainfall Occurs in This City and County

Rain Early This Morning of 1.28 Inch Causes Overflow of South Sewers But No Damage

From Thursday's Daily—
The threatening clouds that hovered in the south and west all yesterday afternoon and last evening broke early this morning when a rain and windstorm from the southwest swept down on this city and the outlying districts.

The rain was 1.28 inch and was accompanied by considerable wind that drove the rain and made the storm seem even more threatening than it was.

The rain was largely in the southwest and as the result of the downpour in the territory tributary to the city and drained down the creeks leading to Chicago avenue soon had the sewer there blocked and was overflowing into the paved street and on down to the avenue west where the overflow was nicely cared for by the box sewers on South Sixth street and without any damage.

The overflow brought in its wake a great deal of mud, branches and debris that was scattered from the gutter on the street and down the Louisville road down into the business section and which is giving Street Commissioner M. B. Allen and his force a real problem in getting cleared up.

The rain came at a very bad time for the farmers who are busily engaged in trying to get their corn crop laid by and at the same time get the grain cut and ready for the harvest which is now starting in this part of the state and which finds many of the farmers in hard straits to get the farm work handled as the backward corn condition has brought the necessity of doing this work into the harvest season.

Those attending the birthday dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Windheim, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bock, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Local Auto Man Gives Rules on Safe Driving

George K. Petring Tells of How Driving Can Be Made Safer and More Pleasant

From Thursday's Daily—
As a contribution towards greater safety and more pleasant driving conditions on the highways of the country this summer, the Ford Motor company has listed twelve rules as suggestions to motorists and has distributed them to dealers over the country.

Announcement of the suggestions was made today by George K. Petring, Ford dealer in this city, who will display the list prominently in his place of business.

"These rules," said Mr. Petring, "are merely common sense as applied to automobile driving. Every experienced motorist knows all of them. It is our hope, however, that by stating them concisely and posting them where they will come to the attention of a great many motorists, we can so emphasize them as to make a real contribution towards greater highway safety."

The twelve rules are:

- 1—Courtesy comes first. Consider the rights and privileges of others.
- 2—Keep your mind on your driving, and anticipate sudden emergencies.
- 3—Learn to "feel" of having your car under control.
- 4—Obey all traffic and parking regulations.
- 5—Keep to the right, and comply with road markings and signs.
- 6—Signal for stops and turns—Watch the car ahead.
- 7—Slow down at crossings, schools, dangerous places.
- 8—Never pass cars on hills, curves, crossings.
- 9—Adapt your driving to road conditions—rain, ice, soft spots and ruts.
- 10—It doesn't pay to take the "right of way" too seriously.
- 11—When you drive, remember the times when you're a pedestrian.
- 12—Know the law. It was passed for your protection.

"It is estimated that 20,000,000 persons will tour on American highways this summer," Mr. Petring continued. Recognition of the rights of others will be essential. Many unpleasant accidents will be avoided if motorists, at times of close situations, will recall these rules and act accordingly. They are the recommendations of the Ford Motor company offered to give greater peace of mind to those who travel by automobile."

The state engineer stated that the bids were considerably lower than those on the road contracts made in June and estimated the paving prices as five cents less per square yard than at the previous letting.

Additional contracts on gravel resurfacing of various projects will be made at the session with the state engineer today at Lincoln.

The letting of the paving contract means that a permanent hard surfaced highway will soon be constructed in this section in the next few months and during the time of the construction, the travel will be sent over the detour west of this city.

Former Resident Here Wedded in the West

Roy J. Tulne and Miss Hazel W. Crawford Married at Santa Ana, Calif., Saturday.

Another wedding of last week which was especially attractive was that of Saturday evening, July 6, when at seven-thirty o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crawford, 320 West 19th street, Santa Ana, California, their lovely daughter, Miss Hazel W. Crawford, became the bride of Roy J. Tulne, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tulne of 633 West Maple avenue, Orange, California, former Plattsmouth residents.

The ceremony was performed in a corner of the spacious living room of the home which had been banked with ferns and Shasta daisies, the bridal party standing underneath an arch of greenery centered with a huge white wedding veil.

The impressive single ring marriage service was read by Rev. Moffet Rhoades, pastor of the Spurgens Memorial Methodist church, South, in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends.

The bride, a vivacious brunette, was attired in white silk crepe over satin, fashioned with a tight bodice and full ruffled skirt of lace. She had the pleasure of wearing a filmy train-length veil which was worn by her mother on her wedding day twenty-two years ago. It was arranged in Queen Anne style and was held in place about the head by a wreath of orange blossoms. Besides a shower bouquet of white orchids she carried a rare old lace handkerchief, a gift to her from the bridegroom's mother.

Miss Ruth Crawford, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow Spurgens fashioned with flounces of gold lace and carried an arm bouquet of pink and lavender orchids. Wallace B. McClure of Santa Ana served Mr. Tulne as best man.

Preceding the plighting of the vows Dexter Hastings of Los Angeles played a saxophone solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hastings. The bridal couple approached the improvised altar to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Helen Holmes Robb.

The charming bride was a member of the 1928 graduating class of the Santa Ana high school and for the last year has been employed as stenographer for the Orange County Pipe Line company.

Mr. Tulne completed his high school education in the Orange high school in 1924, afterwards graduating from a Santa Ana business college. For the last three years he has been employed as a teller in the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of Italy.

The popular young couple have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

GIVES FLOOD DATE

The interesting discussion among the residents over the city as to the date of a visitation of high water or flood in this community and in which the horses of James W. Sage were drowned in the basement of the stable then in use on the north side of Pearl street, has brought out many interesting facts. One old timer has tried to fix the date as the summer that he started to work while another has tried to locate the high water in connection with his attack of rheumatism.

The most conclusive statement as to the flood seems to be that made by Henry Trout, who was for many years closely associated with Mr. Sage and had practical charge of the livery stable for many years. From his own recollection as well as the books of the livery stable which were not damaged in the flood, Mr. Trout has been able to fix the date as July 7, 1899, a year later than the date suggested by John M. Leyda, which was in 1898 while it is considerable earlier than that which others gave as that of 1907 and which fixes it self probably more definitely on the minds of the older residents as the high water of 1907 was the worst storm or rather two that has ever visited the city.

Mayor and Mrs. John P. Sattler, who accompanied their guests from Illinois put in the state on a short visit, returned home last evening and the party will enjoy Sunday here at the Sattler home.
