Belasco Celebrates His 75th Birthday

Noted Theatrical Producer Will "Quit" When Carried Out Feet First

Atlantic City, N. J., July 25.—David Belasco, dean of Broadway theatrical producers...

Although the thermometer registered 75 degrees in a backstage refrigerator of the Apollo theater...

"Seventy-five degrees!" he exclaimed. "That is nothing at all. I feel like I was 21. I can run and jump and box. Just feel that arm."

The subject of his retirement brought a vigorous outburst from the man who says he is 75, but who is granted only 70 by "Who's Who."

"I shall retire when I am carried feet first out of the theater. I expect to be working hard and producing plays when those who say I should retire have passed away."

"Why, I've been on and off the stage ever since I was 8 months old. My first appearance was with my mother in a mother-and-infant part."

Mr. Belasco finds four hours sleep out of 24 sufficient. He has done just what suited him all his life and his only trouble is a headache, which comes if he sleeps too much.

During the coming theatrical season, which he expects to be a good one, Mr. Belasco plans to revisit Virginia City, Nev., where, in his youth, he acted as amanuensis to Dion Boucicault, the playwright.

From Boucicault and others he learned the craft of authorship which fashioned about 100 of the more than 300 plays that he has directed or produced.

Following his custom, there will be no special celebration of his birthday. After the evening performance, he will be given a dinner by the company and a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gest, his son-in-law and daughter will be present.

Hoover felt the act gave him authority to delay construction in the 15 cruisers until June 30, 1931...

Mr. Hoover urged congress to eliminate the provision and place in the hands of the president the power to suspend all part of the construction at any time he might deem this advisable...

Mr. Coolidge signed it. As placed upon the statute books, it said that only in the event of an international agreement being reached could construction be suspended.

President Hoover's position is that this did not preclude him from delaying until the close of the period named for starting all of the 15 cruisers...

Move to Check Ship Building Renews Strife

Senators to Oppose Hoover Delaying Program; Executive Finds Loophole in Law

Washington, July 26.—The possibility of a controversy between President Hoover and congress over the time clause in the new construction act similar to the dispute between Calvin Coolidge and the last congress on the same question was foreseen Friday in Washington.

The White House disclosed Mr. Hoover felt the act gave him authority to delay construction in the 15 cruisers until June 30, 1931...

INCREASE IN BANK CREDIT

Washington.—The total reserve bank credit outstanding on July 17 showed an increase of about $120,000,000 over the amount reported a month previously.

The federal reserve board also announced Friday that on the same date loans and investments of member banks showed an increase of about $400,000,000 over the amount reported at the end of May.

The increase was said to be reflected chiefly in the rapid growth in loans to brokers and to dealers in securities and also some further increase in commercial loans.

Demand for addition reserve bank credit, the board found, was due chiefly to the increase in the volume of money in circulation due to the issuance of the small sized currency.
