Your Choice of Brands

Three Cans for 27c

Carnation, Wilson's or Van Camp's. Price good Friday and Saturday.

This hot weather many people use Condensed milk in preference to fresh dairy milk. Here is an opportunity to get a supply of your favorite brand at a substantial price reduction.

We advise you to lay in a supply of Flour now.

The Flour market is still going up—no telling where it will stop. We only hope the farmer will get enough more for his wheat to represent the advance in price, for if he does, we'll all be more prosperous.

However, for the present, you can save plenty of money on Flour here. Our contract for carload lots was made on a low market and we have just received another big shipment at the old price. That's how we can still sell Sunkist old wheat Flour at $1.79 per 48-lb. bag. It's a $2 value on today's market.

Sugar is another commodity on which we can save you some money based on today's market quotations.

While our supply last, we will sell 100-lb. sacks of Great Western—the fine granulated beet sugar made right here in our own state—for $5.79. 10-lb. sacks still go at the old price of 59c.

Come here Saturday to do your shopping. Our low everyday prices, along with the super-specials we are able to offer you weekly make this the great bargain center of Cass county.

The C. E. Wescott's Sons store where they are staging their 50th anniversary and merger sale, received a visit yesterday from a source that was little expected, when a large swarm of bees decided to alight on the large sign of the firm in the corner of their building at Fifth and Main. The bees were noticed flying around the vicinity of the store and the queen of the swarm decided to alight and accordingly settled on the sign and here all of the large swarm rested and started in making a regular swarming place in the ways of bees the proprietors of the store were tempted to call the police or fire department but finally Otto Pitz, who knows everything about the bee industry arrived with a large box as a swarming place and the buzzing busy bees were taken later to the Pitz home on Wintersteen hill where they can take up their dwelling in a regular hive and swarm just as much as they wish and aid in the honey production.

Victim of Assault Suffers from Injuries

Double Vision One of Outcomes of Blows on Mildred Fleming—Examine Ralph Hiner

From Wednesday's Daily—
The condition of Miss Mildred Fleming at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha this report was being generally satisfactory although the effects of the attack here on Saturday afternoon, is still weak and sore from the effects of the battle that she has maintained against her assailant as well as the fractures causing her more or less danger. One of the phases of the case has been that Miss Fleming seems to be affected with a double vision, which may pass off or might necessitate an operation to relieve the condition that is affecting the nerves. Otherwise the condition of the patient seems to be about all that could be expected.

The examination of Ralph Hiner, 16-year-old assailant of Miss Fleming, was made yesterday by the specialist, retained by the state, to determine if possible the mental attitude of Hiner. While there has been no written report of the information made by the specialist, informal report to the Cass county officers are to the effect that the youth seems mentally all right at the present time. The specialist, however, was of the opinion that at his age and under certain causes of family history, a state of epilepsy was developed that might be in two forms, one an inward attack that led to severe convulsions that were most severe or the outward demonstration that caused the victim to become suddenly violent and under which spell they were known to have attacked parties—the first person coming in contact with them being attacked, regardless of age or sex. Hiner is still under observation before a final decision on his case is made.

DRAW DOWN FINES

From Wednesday's Daily—
The law which was held in abatement while the two Richardson county men, confined in the city jail, were recovering from the effects of their over indulgence in boozing, last evening was placed in action as the two men had recovered sufficiently to hear their case and give an account of their actions.

One of the men gave the name of Kris Stucky and was aged at seven or eight while the other man gave the name of Jess Habegger, aged thirty-three and grandson of Stucky. Both men gave Humbolt as their place of residence.

The two men had been in Omaha and where they had secured a cargo of three gallons and a pint of liquor and which they had partaken freely and with the result that they were driving through the city but instead of hitting the highway out of Plattsmouth they had driven down Sixth street and on over the hills toward the shops and were left in a strange land out in the south part of the city and where by that time the liquor had taken full sway and both men were "out" on their feet.

Chief of Police Libershal was notified and took them into custody. Judge Graves after wearing the pleas of guilty made by the men assessed a fine of $10 and costs on the older man for being intoxicated while the younger man suffered a four count charge, Habegger being charged with intoxication on which he received $10 and costs, driving while intoxicated, $5 unlawful possession, $100 and costs which totalled some $125 and in addition he suffered the confiscation of the Ford coup in which they were riding.

The men phoned friends at Humbolt last evening after they arrived to give them the means of getting from their mishap and returning home.

A little greeting card will express lots of sentiment and let your friends know you're thinking of them Sunday, August 4th—the one day in the year set aside specially to remember your friends. See the large line of these cards at the Bates Book and Gift shop.

MAKE A FINE CATCH

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last night Joseph P. Hadraba and son, Robert, returned home from a very fine outing at Rainbow Camp, near East Battle Lake, Minnesota, and bringing with them the record breaking catch of bass for several seasons. The two fishermen were able to catch a bass weighing eleven pounds, the largest bass that has been caught in the lake and in addition a great many other smaller sized fish. They left the lake with the greatest of regret as the fishing was very fine but the necessity of preparing for the fall work terminated the play period.

The Rainbow Camp is quite a Plattsmouth resort as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Starkjohn and son, William, Mrs. H. A. Schneider and daughter, Miss Catherine, and Mrs. Arthur Troop and daughter, Miss Kathleen, are also at this resort and enjoying the pleasures of the fishing, boating and the social activities of the camp. Others from this locality who are planning on visiting the camp are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Spangler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Cloidt and children and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Keick, who are leaving soon for the northland and the lure of the fisherman's paradise.

HAVE A NICE LOCATION

The new location of the Morrow Hatchery & Produce Co., at Sixth and Pearl streets, makes a very attractive place and one that will be of easy access to the residents of the surrounding territory when they visit the city. Mr. N. A. Morrow the head of the company, has had the building cleaned out and made a neat and attractive place, removing the partition that formerly divided off the large room and will in the future install his hatchery in the main room, the incubators being placed along the whole length of the room and here he will be able to handle all orders for chicks in the winter and spring seasons.

Mr. Morrow has had an office and testing room arranged in one corner of the building and which will leave the remainder of the room free for the use of the hatchery and produce station.

DISMISS CHARGES

From Wednesday's Daily—
Frank Blotzer, Jr., former resident of this city, against whom technical charges of reckless driving was filed at Omaha the past week following the hitting of a young girl at Sixth and Williams streets, was released from the charges yesterday when at the time set for the hearing the charges were dismissed. The police as well as the parents of the little girl held that the accident was unavoidable and that Mr. Blotzer was no way to blame as the child had run from behind an ice truck directly in the path of the car of Mr. Blotzer.

Will Pick Four Health Champions

Boy and girls club members will compete for four state championships in health examinations at the state fair this year. Before this year one boy and one girl has been chosen as the best physical and mental individuals in club work. This year there will be a junior and a senior contest. Any county may enter a boy and a girl under 15 and a boy and a girl over 15 years of age. A state champion boy and girl will be chosen from each division. Only the seniors will represent the state in national health contests.

Health is one of the four H's of club work. Head, Hands, and Heart are the other three. The county try-out for health boys and girls will be held at Wescott's Water August 9. Have your club represented at this try-out.

Hog Meeting at Naeve's Farm.

Eastern Nebraska hog men are invited to meet at Louis Naeve's farm near La Platte, Nebraska, on Saturday morning, August 2 to look over his bunch of spring shoats.

Mr. Naeve's farm is a mile west of town. The roads are gravelled. La Platte is just across the river from Plattsmouth.

About five hundred pigs were farrowed in the woods without shelter of any kind. About four hundred were farrowed in the old hog lots around the farm buildings. The advantages of hog lot sanitation, and the possibilities of it, even without equipment, will be easy to see. Dr. C. H. Hays of the state bureau of animal industry will be there to cut open one of the runts and show farmers what is wrong with the pigs in the old hog lots. He will answer questions also about hog troubles.

H. J. Gramlich, chairman of the department of animal husbandry of the University of Nebraska, and O. O. Waggener, state extension agent in their counties—L. R. Salpines, County Extension Agent, J. H. Baldwin, Ass't. County Extension Agt.

RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

From Tuesday's Daily—
The case of the Plattsmouth State bank vs. A. W. Cloidt, et al., involving a dispute over an indebtedness claimed to be due the plaintiff bank and for which the defendants, members of the Parmele theatre company were named as the parties defendant, was closed this afternoon in the court after being on trial all day Monday and this forenoon.

The property on which foreclosure is sought is that of the Parmele theatre and while the matter was taken under advisement by Judge Charles Foster, of Omaha, who heard the case, the court appointed Searl S. Davis as the receiver to take charge of the property until the case is decided by the court.

The theatre building is now under lease to W. J. Seydlitz who has operated the theatre for the past few months and whose lease is in no way affected by the court action.

SECOND RIP VAN WINKLE

From Tuesday's Daily—
The party that were captured yesterday morning by Chief of Police Libershal and caught with a cargo of three gallons and a pint of liquor, is a close rival of the famous Rip Van Winkle when it comes to a state of unconsciousness and the rum that the dwellers of the Cat-skills poured into Rip was not more potent or sleep producing than the Nebraska brand of corn liquor that the two men from Richardson county imbibed before they ran afoul of the law here. The men taken to jail Monday morning were still on their sleep marathon last evening and the efforts of the police to arouse them to learn their names were unavailing and the machinery of justice stilled until the men could regain sufficient grasp on themselves to tell their story.

FRIENDSHIP DAY

Next Sunday, August 4, is Friendship day, a day that is rapidly becoming a day of remembrance for all friends in some manner, and the Bates Book Store have stocked an exceptionally fine line of greeting cards for the occasion.
