

Murray

Ben Noel was a visitor with relatives and friends in Weeping Water for the day on last Sunday.

Ralph Kennedy and Fred L. Hild were making some needed repairs on the property of Mrs. Sadie Oldham in the west of Murray.

Henry Heebner was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Saturday, where he was called by a refractory tooth, which he had removed.

Harry Nelson was feeling rather te worse for the weather and some thing which he had been eating on last Sunday and Monday.

B. H. Nelson and family were enjoying a visit on last Sunday at the home of Henning Johnson, driving out to his place in the evening.

A. H. Englekemeier of Plattsmouth was a visitor in Murray and was visiting with friends and relatives as well as looking after some business.

Mrs. H. M. Worthan was not feeling the best for a short time last week and over the week end but is hoping she will soon be in her best health again.

Louis J. Hallas and family were visiting and looking after some business matters in Omaha for the day on last Monday they driving over to the big city in their car.

W. H. Wade of Weeping Water and John Becker of near Union were looking after some business matters in Murray on last Monday. Mr. Becker hauling wheat for A. A. Young.

Gussie Brubacher and the family were guests for the day on last Sunday at the home of the parents of Mrs. Brubacher at Auburn, they driving down for the day in their auto.

John W. Amick was a visitor in Murray early last Monday where he secured some lumber for the making of some needed repairs on his property north west of Murray where Earl Kuhlman resides.

Dr. T. W. Cowan of Omaha who has been practicing in the Douglas county hospital is relieving Dr. Gilmore during his vacation and will remain while Dr. Gilmore is also at the camp at Ft. Snelling.

Charles Boedeker and Miss Frances Stewart were over to Fort Crook on last Sunday afternoon where they were enjoying the picnic given by the 17th infantry band and seeing the landing of the mail planes.

L. A. Webber was at Kamp Kill Kare on last Sunday where he and a number of his friends have a motor boat, and where they enjoyed the day in fishing, they being able to catch a number of good fish.

W. G. Boedeker and L. J. Hallas who have owned what is known as the Colvin place a few miles west of Murray, disposed of the farm one day last week to Mrs. Marjory Vernon, who will farm the place the coming year.

Many of the people of Murray were down to where the paving is being done where they went to see the way it was done, and found that the crew there were able to get the work done in a very rapid and satisfactory manner.

The work which was to be done by the Murray community threshing outfit was completed last Saturday and the machine and outfit housed in the shed at the farm of Lee Nickles, where it will be in readiness for the coming year.

C. A. Rawls and wife and W. S. Smith and wife were over to Fort Crook where they enjoyed a time listening to the concert by the 17th infantry band after which they went to Omaha and Council Bluffs and then returned via Glenwood.

Jean Taylor, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Taylor, who is visiting at Bloomington, Ill., for some time, writes she is enjoying her stay there and has gained three pounds while there. She is staying at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Sorenson.

Vac Mickluskey and son, are sure going to it on the work which comes to their shop, and have secured a young man to blow the bellows which allows Mr. Mickluskey a little time to rest between the heats of the metal on which he is working.

Charles Heebner and daughter, Mrs. Ula Westlake, of Eagle, and family, his son, Granville, and family from the farm and M. L. Markland and family of Weeping Water were all over to Murray and enjoying a swim in the Murray bathing beach.

Mrs. Helen Falls and little babe who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tutt, aunt and uncle of Mrs. Falls, from her home at Kansas City, for some time past and where both she and the folks here enjoyed the visit, returned to her home last Sunday morning.

Richard Brendel was a visitor at Avoca with his uncle J. W. Brendel and wife and was also attending the Chautauqua which was in session there. On last Monday Dr. J. F. Brendel went to Lincoln, passing that way and picked up Richard, who visited at Lincoln, they both returning home in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nickles her mother Mrs. H. C. Long who were visiting in the western portion of the state last week, where they were looking after some business matters as well as visiting, returned home on last Saturday night after having had a good trip. Mr. Nickles was looking after some business matters in Omaha for the day on last Monday.

The Sargent Rice ball team of Nebraska City were over to Murray on last Sunday and assayed to play the Murray team, but made so poor an out at that the ball fans concluded they were being bamboozled, and some of them left the grounds in disgust.

Dr. G. L. Taylor was a visitor in Union on last Monday where he took dinner with the Union Business mens club of that place and made a very clever address before the club on the necessity of the farmers of this section engaging in diversified farming especially in keeping a large flock of chickens and milking a goodly number of cows and having a nice herd of hogs. He also became a member of the club, and was well pleased with the workings of the club.

Visit in North. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Hild and their son, Henry Hild and Miss Melba Dickerson, the latter of Omaha, were enjoying a visit at Sioux City and vicinity where they were guests of relatives and on their return stopped at Essex which is near Walt Hill where they visited at a powwow being held there by the Indians. They also visited for a short time at Roseville, but stopped for only a short time as the rain fell all the way from Sioux City to Omaha and gave the country there a very nice rain.

Will Spend Sometime at Camp. Dr. G. H. Gilmore and son, John, departed on last Monday morning for Overton where the doctor has lands and where he was looking after the same as well as visiting with friends there. They are expecting to remain during the greater portion of this week, returning home Saturday.

On the following day Dr. Gilmore will depart for Fort Snelling, which is near Minneapolis where he will remain for two weeks as an officer of the United States reserve army.

Bob Eaton Breaks Finger. While playing ball, a hot one coming his way, was caught by Bog Eaton and as a result one of his fingers was fractured making it difficult for him to do his work. Dr. Cowan splinted the injured member and Bob is getting along with the work some way, but not satisfactory to him.

Good Prices for Stock. Last week W. G. Boedeker and Charles Boedeker were both in Chicago, they taking invoices of stock, and in each case received good prices for the same, as they were excellent cattle. W. G. Boedeker went first and has three cars loads of cattle, two for himself and W. Wehrlein, which brought $18.80, while the two cars which were accompanied by Charles Boedeker and which also belonged to Boedeker and Wehrlein brought $16.70, both prices being very satisfactory. W. G. Boedeker returned arriving home on Thursday of last week while Charles remained for a visit with his friend, Earl Jenkins, and returned home the following day.

Doing a Nice Business. The Murray Bathing Beach seems just the place for these hot days and evenings on last Sunday there were people there from all over the country, and all were enjoying the excellent of the cool sparkling water and the good time which was provided for them. There was, at one time one hundred and thirty-five in the pool enjoying the cool waters, the cool waters.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. (Young people's meeting).

Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30. You are cordially invited to worship with us.

J. C. STEWART, Pastor.

AUTHOR PRAISES HIGHWAY MARKER. Lincoln, Aug. 12.—In appreciation of a "Covered Wagon" highway sign presented to him by the state department, Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of "Tarzan" books has sent State Engineer Roy Cochran a copy of his newest novel, "The Mad King."

"The road sign hangs on the wall, reminding me of a very pleasant visit to Nebraska, and of your courtesy in making it possible for me to add this unique decoration to my study," the author wrote.

Burroughs has described the Nebraska sign as the most outstanding marker in the nation.

The Journal does Law Brief printing. Tell your lawyer you would like your brief printed at home.

Young Citizens to be Honored

Boy and Girl From Each County in Nebraska Will Be Selected

Health, intelligence and personality will be the basis used for the selection of Nebraska "best young citizens" from a group of 186 Nebraska boys and girls, during the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee celebration in Omaha, November 5 to 7.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett of the University of Nebraska, chairman of the contest, announced that the general contest committee, of which Kirk Griggs is chairman, had decided that the contest will be for Nebraska boys and girls from 16 years up to the age of 21.

Professor A. A. Reed, examiner of the University of Nebraska, and director of its extension department, has consented to serve as vice chairman of the young citizens contest.

Ninety-three boys and 93 girls, winners of county best citizens' contests in Nebraska's 93 counties prior to the jubilee, will give a trip to Omaha during the celebration, with all expenses paid. In Omaha they will be entered in the state wide contest.

Basis of Tests. Professor Reed said that the county contests should conform as nearly as possible to the state contest which will be conducted on the following basis:

1. General health and physical condition. An examining board of leading physicians and physical directors will preside.

2. Intelligence tests. Dr. Charles Fordyce, director of educational tests and measurements of the University of Nebraska will preside, assisted by expert psychologists.

3. Personality. This examining board will be composed of the best personnel experts available, together with executives of prominent state women's organizations.

County Organizations. Chancellor Burnett and Professor Reed expect to build their county contests organizations around county committees, who will serve on the Nebraska jubilee celebration general committee. J. N. Shannahan, general chairman of the jubilee, is at present, forming a committee of these out-state civic leaders in every Nebraska county, who will assure that the jubilee is a state wide celebration, as intended by the Omaha committee.

The county contests will conform to the general state contest plan, with the exceptions that more attention will be given by the county committees to civic mindedness, which will constitute the part played by individual contestants in church, school and civic affairs.

Although civic mindedness will enter into the final selections in the state contest, not as much attention will be paid as to the three general points of health, intelligence and personality, due to the difference that environment, size of communities and other factors might play, so far as civic mindedness is concerned.

The support of school authorities and civic leaders in Nebraska's 93 counties will be enlisted by the Young Nebraska Citizens' contest committee to arouse interest in the county contests as well as in the final state contest to be held in Omaha during the jubilee dates, November 5 to 7.

PHOTOGRAPHER IS BEATEN. Chicago.—The slugging of a Chicago Tribune photographer in a corridor of the municipal court served as an aftermath Monday to the hearing for Willard Mogland, federal prohibition agent, who is charged with beating a sixty year old cafe proprietor during a raid. The photographer, James Bobbett, nineteen, was standing in the corridor as Mogland emerged, after Judge John Lyle had continued his case until Tuesday. Another photographer snapped a flashlight picture and ran.

Then, according to Bobbett, five agents rushed at him, four of them holding him while the fifth, B. F. Mills, struck him several times about the face, blackening both his eyes and causing severe bruises. He was also kicked several times, Bobbett said.

Mogland, the Tribune man related, did not join in the assault, but stood nearby with Assistant Prohibition Administrator George F. Huribut. The photographer asked for a warrant "for Mills' arrest" and Judge Lyle indicated he would grant it after Mogland's case is finished.

FEDERAL RESERVE LACKING. Washington.—A sweeping investigation by the senate banking committee of the financial, banking and speculative situation unless alleged abuses are corrected was predicted Monday by Senator Nye, North Dakota.

Nye, in a statement, said that the federal reserve law has signally failed to meet expectations in respect of speculation, and added that the "federal reserve board's own statements make the fact absolutely clear."

"It is doubtful," he continued, "if any sound minded economists can be found who really believe this condition of affairs is healthful to the nation or that it can fail to hurt the general business of the country. Inevitably the farmer and the small business man, the ordinary manufacturing plant, the ordinary industry, must suffer."

Senator King of Utah, a democratic member of the committee, retorted that he would press for immediate action on his resolution proposing an investigation as soon as the senate convenes after the recess.

SIX WOMEN ENTER COAST-CLEVELAND AIRPLANE DERBY

Los Angeles, Aug. 12.—Numbers had been assigned Monday to six women fliers, entrants in the air derby from Cleveland held in Cleveland in connection with the national air races to be held at Cleveland from Aug. 18 to 26. Three others are entered but not yet numbered, and many others are expected to enter.

Those entered and numbered are: Florence Lowe Barnes, Blanch Wilcox Noyes, Cleveland; Louise M. Thaden, Marvel Crosson, Mary E. von Mack, Detroit, and Amelia Earhart.

Entered but not numbered are: Bobbie Trout, Ruth Elder and Gladys O'Donnell.

The women pilots objects to proposals that men mechanics fly with them.

Three Acquitted of Negro Riot Charges

Jury Takes 10 Minutes to Find North Platte Men Not Guilty "Unlawful Assembly"

North Platte, Neb.—A jury in county court Monday found Albert A. Hastings, real estate dealer, John H. Campbell, teamster, and James Miller, insurance salesman, not guilty of unlawful assembly charges growing out of the expulsion of negroes from North Platte by a mob, following the slaying of a veteran police officer by a negro on July 13.

The jury returned its verdict after deliberating ten minutes. But one ballot was taken.

In his closing argument to the jury, Prosecutor Dort admitted the state did not have any evidence against Miller except the fact that he parked his car beside a barber shop where the rioter was later ordered to leave to go.

Counsel for the defense attacked Attorney General Sorenson, recalling his ultimatum to Mayor Temple to either enforce the law in respect to vice and bootlegging or resign.

State's witnesses testified that Hastings and Campbell were in a car which visited the negro district, but denied that any orders had been given by either of the defendants or that they had committed any act of violence.

The defense admitted that Hastings and Campbell were members of the crowd that visited the homes of negroes. Charles Smith, former chief of police and acting police chief at the time of the disturbance, testified that he had ordered Hastings to follow the crowd about and report any acts or attempts of violence upon the part of the mob. Mr. Hastings told the jury that he was merely carrying out the order of the acting chief of police.—State Journal.

1,500 IN WEIRD INDIAN DANCE. Macy, Aug. 12.—The 64th renewal of the annual powwow of the Omaha Indian tribesman, assisted by the Osages, Poncas and Sioux, opened here Sunday while thousands watched the weird dances of the fading redmen.

A dozen of the Omaha dancers wore the costumes of primitive tribesmen. They were Henry F. Turner, John Morris, Tom Reese, George Stabler, Thomas Walker and Jim Wolfe.

The powwow, which will continue 10 days, is a thanksgiving celebration in keeping with a custom of the days when the Indians were the rulers of all they surveyed.

VOCAL SOLOISTS COMPLETE. Traverse City, Mich.—John Halliday, Pleasant Grove, Utah, won first place in the voice contest of the national high school orchestra camp here Saturday. Second place went to Alice Dillon, Kernan, Calif., who Friday won the solo harp championship. Third place was taken by Myrtle Christianson, Racine, Wis.

The winning group in the string ensemble contest consisted of Sven Reher, Cincinnati; Arlindo Cate, Greensboro, N. C.; William Heller, Lincoln, Neb., and George Henry, Ortega, Fla.

Katherine McKee of Decatur, Ill., won the conducting contest, with Bernard Smith of Flint, Mich., second, and Mildred Fairve, Clay Center, Kas., and Sven Reher, Cincinnati, tied for third.

CARS KILL MORE THAN CIVIL WAR. New York, Aug. 11.—The combined union and confederate losses at the first battle of Bull Run were less than one-tenth as large as the number killed on highway in 1928 in New York city in highway accidents.

The annual report of the traffic division of the police department disclosed that more than 1,000 persons were killed and 45,000 injured in the streets of the metropolis last year.

YOUTH HURT WHEN TRACTOR OVERTURNS. Madison, Aug. 12.—Keith Housel, 21, suffered serious injuries Saturday when a tractor he was riding overturned, pinning him beneath it. The accident occurred on the Aaron Reed farm near Madison. Housel was hurried to a Norfolk hospital where his condition is critical.

Mitten Urges Workers Share in Management

Plan for Giving Employees Active Part May Settle New Orleans Strike

Washington.—The Mitten plan for giving employees as shareholders an active part in the management of all phases of operation affecting their own interests may be tried out in the New Orleans street car strike, according to an announcement made by James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor.

Thomas E. Mitten, president of the Mitten Management, Inc., of Philadelphia, and author of the plan for industrial peace found notably successful since adoption in 1922 by the Philadelphia Traction Companies, was called to Washington to confer on the New Orleans situation with Secretary Davis and Hugh L. Keenan, Director of Conciliation in the Department of Labor.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that the striking railway workers in New Orleans, represented by the National Street Railwaymen's Union, had agreed to accept Mr. Mitten's services as arbitrator, on the understanding that the Mitten plan would be the basis of negotiations to end the strike.

The department is now awaiting approval from the owners of the New Orleans Railway, and as soon as this is received Mr. Mitten will probably go to New Orleans on the request of Secretary Davis.

Labor Carries Burden. In a statement issued after his conference with Secretary Davis, Mr. Mitten stressed the fact that the chief cost of great mergers is borne at the outset by labor. The effect of such mergers, he said, is to concentrate industrial power in a few hands. He continued:

"Certain principles have withstood the test of time and stress on the Mitten properties. They proved that: '1. We must give the worker a full voice equal to that of management in all matters that affect his wages and working conditions.'

"2. We must give the worker assurance of a fair return in wages and also added reward in accordance with the success of his efforts.

"3. We must see that the worker receives full opportunity to invest his own capital in the work shop in which he earns his daily bread, and see to it that this investment is of such a nature that it will give him so great an influence in management that American industry will always be assured of a management in sympathy with labor.

Leadership Needed. "These are the principles that we have been applying under the Mitten plan in Philadelphia and in Buffalo, and which have now been adopted by organized labor leaders in our own industry, as evidenced in the pact signed by W. D. Mahon, president of the National Street Railwaymen's Union, and myself.

"The individual industries found most successful have been those having some such conception of the labor problem. Our huge industrial units—now inevitable—must not lose this conception. There is danger that they will, for as they grow larger their active management is further removed from the worker and his problem. The situation calls for courageous and dominant leadership in industry, in finance and in government. It calls for a forward-looking national labor policy," Mr. Mitten concluded.

Workers' Share in Management Builds Business

Co-operative Policy Cited in Report of Great Steel Corporation

New York.—The part which co-operation between management and employees has played in building up one of the largest enterprises in the United States was emphasized by Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in a statement just issued in the employees of subsidiary companies. The statement was included in a bulletin covering the annual conferences recently concluded between the management and representatives of the employees, similar to the company's yearly reports to stockholders.

While the "steel industry as a whole is experiencing the greatest demand in its history," the prosperity of the company is due chiefly to the co-operative relationship between management and employees, Mr. Grace declared.

The bulletin reviewed the various employee-management activities sponsored by the company and emphasized the importance of the recognition on mutual interest "in producing quality products as economically and as efficiently as possible."

Among the benefits of such co-operation, it said, are improved working conditions, better understanding between employees and management, with consequently improved confidence; elimination of causes of friction between settlement of complaints that might otherwise become causes of serious friction, increase in labor stability, higher morale and loyalty among employees, recommendations along lines of efficiency, safety and economy; discovery of qualities of leadership among employees, improvement in quality of supervision and education of employees in company and management problems.

The records show that almost 17,000 employees, or 25 per cent of the force, are 45 years of age or more.

Your ad in the Journal will be read, and they sure do get results.

Workers' Share in Management Builds Business

Co-operative Policy Cited in Report of Great Steel Corporation

New York.—The part which co-operation between management and employees has played in building up one of the largest enterprises in the United States was emphasized by Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in a statement just issued in the employees of subsidiary companies. The statement was included in a bulletin covering the annual conferences recently concluded between the management and representatives of the employees, similar to the company's yearly reports to stockholders.

While the "steel industry as a whole is experiencing the greatest demand in its history," the prosperity of the company is due chiefly to the co-operative relationship between management and employees, Mr. Grace declared.

The bulletin reviewed the various employee-management activities sponsored by the company and emphasized the importance of the recognition on mutual interest "in producing quality products as economically and as efficiently as possible."

Among the benefits of such co-operation, it said, are improved working conditions, better understanding between employees and management, with consequently improved confidence; elimination of causes of friction between settlement of complaints that might otherwise become causes of serious friction, increase in labor stability, higher morale and loyalty among employees, recommendations along lines of efficiency, safety and economy; discovery of qualities of leadership among employees, improvement in quality of supervision and education of employees in company and management problems.

The records show that almost 17,000 employees, or 25 per cent of the force, are 45 years of age or more.

Your ad in the Journal will be read, and they sure do get results.

GOVERNOR WEAVER TO VISIT MILITIA CAMP

Lincoln, Aug. 13.—Another busy week looms ahead for Governor Weaver who took brief respite from official cares Tuesday to attend to personal business at his home in Falls City.

Wednesday, however, he will fill two speaking engagements, one at Beaver Crossing at 1:30, where a legion picnic will be held, and the other at Ohiowa at 7:30 o'clock.

Thursday he will attend an old timer's picnic at North Bend, and Friday he will be the guest of Garfield county at the Burwell rodo.

Sunday, the governor and his family will be guests at the national guard camp at Ashland.

SERVICES FOR AUTHOR

Chicago.—Simple funeral services were held Sunday at Ascension Episcopal church for Mary MacLane, once famous writer who told in her books of a thousand loves. About fifty persons were present, five of whom were men. The body is being taken by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Klenze of Helena, Mont., to Miss MacLane's birthplace, Ferguson Falls, Minn., for burial.

Your ad in the Journal will be read, and they sure do get results.

Shop Early While the Selection is Still at Its Height!

This lot consists of Children's One Straps and Oxfords and we know you'll agree with us that they're exceptional values at—

$1.95 pair

Ext. Special—One Lot of Children's White Canvas Straps 9c pair

Another lot of Children's low shoes—good styles in straps and oxfords. Tan and black. They will go fast at—

95c pair

Your Outstanding Money Saving Opportunity!

Men's and Boys' Outing Bal—Retan upper, composition soles. A real buy at— $1.98 pair

Flain and moccasin toe Work Shoes—Blucher style, retan upper and composition soles. A big value at— $3.45 pair

One lot Ladies' Felt Moccasin Slippers in 3 shades. A decided saving. Sizes 3 to 8. 49c Pair

Florsheim Sale
This nationally known line of Men's hi-grade Shoes—any style in our stock, now— $8.85

Group of exceptional values in Men's Black and Tan Dress Oxfords, good styles, at— $3.95 pair

Any pattern in our Sport Shoe Stock—Leather and composition soles. New combinations, at only— $4.85 pair

No Approvals No Exchanges
All Sales Final

Ladies' Pumps
A beautiful array of seasonable footwear in Patent and light colors. New patterns in Pumps $3.95 and Straps. Except'l value.

Oxfords and Straps
This lot consists of a variety of good patterns in Oxfords and Strap Pumps in tan and patent leathers. Only $2.95

Fetzer Shoe Co.

The Home of Quality Footwear!

Let us show you and talk to you about the John Deere General Purpose Tractor. The Row Crop Tractor.

Ask us for a demonstration of the Majestic Radio

Murray Hardware Co.

H. B. NELSON