Little One Receives Injury. While Carl Kupke was visiting with the family for the day last Sunday at the home of F. Lau, and was in the act of driving a stake to pitch horseshoes, and had asked his little daughter to stay back while he was driving the stake, the little one ran up behind as he was swinging the hammer and was struck by the hammer inflicting a severe wound on the side of her chin. The wound was dressed by Dr. L. D. Lee and the little one is getting along nicely. Carl was not aware the little one had run up behind him, thinking she had gone away and it was a great surprise to the father when he found she was injured.

Enjoy Fine Vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rikill and the family who have been in the west for some time, part returned home late last week and were well pleased with the excellent time which they had while they were away. They went some two weeks since and visited for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rikill at Wescott, Kansas, where they sure enjoyed a good time and found them in good health and doing nicely. They went to the mountains in Colorado and enjoyed the trip there most pleasantly. They would have liked to have remained for a longer time but felt that they had better hasten home and the farm was they thought needing them.

EXPLORER IS BACK HOME. New York, Aug. 30.—Carveth Wells, explorer, sailed into New York harbor Friday from the West Indies with a tale of seeing a town built in a hole in the ground.

"The town in a hole," he said, "is on the island Saba, an extinct volcano rising sheer from the sea and the settlement is in the crater. The citizens are industrious but not, apparently, imaginative. They call their town Bottom.

He said that when Mrs. Burt Massee of Chicago, whose husband backed the expedition, was about to christen their ship the Mopelia, a barracuda thrust his head out of the sea and swallowed the bottle of champagne she intended to use in the ceremony.

The Mopelia was skippered by Count Felix von Luckner, German sea raider of World war fame. Included in the party were MacClelland Barclay, illustrator and Lowell Thomas, author.

Mr. Wells said he was going back next summer to study life in the ocean depths.

POSTCARD GOES ROUND WORLD. When the Graf Zeppelin was preparing to make the start on the great around the world swing, Dr. P. T. Heinemann and Emil J. Weyrich of this city, addressed a postal card to each other and which was mailed as a part of the sonsignment of mail that was placed on board the Zeppelin at Lakehurst. The Plattsmouth men today received their cards back in this city after a journey around the world and which was made in twenty-one days, a world record in circling the globe. The post cards carry a large array of postage which in themselves adds to the value of the card as a souvenir of the first around the world flight of the Zep.

Another mildly diverting sight is that of a lady with about enough clothes on to make a chigger a 'kerchief, looking snuffy and offended when she sees a coatless man in a restaurant.

DIES AT NEBRASKA CITY

on New Bridge

at Falls City

160-Foot Span, 2 Approaches Over Nemaha River Cost $87,172; to Rush Work

Lincoln, Aug. 29.—By the terms of a contract awarded Wednesday night by the state department of public works, a new bridge is to be completed over the Nemaha river near Falls City by Jan. 1.

The structure, 300 feet long, will replace a crossing destroyed by spring floods. To avoid a recurrence of flood danger, the new bridge, Engineer Cochran announced Thursday, will be sufficiently high to clear flood waters and will be 129 feet longer than the old one.

Contract for the work went to the Monarch Engineering Co. of Falls City, whose bid of $87,172.23 for the 160-foot center span and two 70-foot approaches, was the lowest of four contractors.

The bridge is located on federal highway 73, a main artery for Omaha and Kansas City traffic, as well as a widely used route into Falls City.

Other projects let Wednesday were: Fairfield to Shickley, 12 miles of grading, to R. R. Knight of Lincoln, for $6,357.19.

Bayard to Broadwater, 4 miles to Paul Sawyer of Holdrege, for $2,738.89.

Another project provides completion of a gravel highway, 6 of a mile long, connecting Grand Island with the radio monitor station to be built by the government. This work will be done for $2,731.50.

Several other projects were deferred.—Omaha Bee-News.

Mrs. W. T. Distell and children mortored to Omaha today where her son, Jack, is taking regular dancing lessons.

Oscar A. Johnson Dies at Lincoln Hospital

Well Known Resident of Weeping Water and Citizen of State for Past Forty Years

Oscar A. Johnson was born in Sweden, September 25th, 1876, and died at the Lincoln General hospital on August 28th, 1929.

Mr. Johnson who has lived in Weeping Water for many years was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, the mother having passed this life some years ago. Mr. Johnson, when a mere lad, came to this country with his parents and has made his home in Weeping Water for many years. The family lived there and with the parents and four sons, made excellent citizens. There were Elmer, who makes his home in Lincoln, Waiford who lives in Kearney, and John E. Johnson who is employed in Arizona. Mr. Oscar Johnson worked for a number of years in the stone quarries of Weeping Water and conducted an eating house later conducted the Laurel hotel and then was away from Weeping Water for a few years returned engaged in the restaurant business there and his place was known for its good service and good food, as well as for the kindly treatment of all. Mr. Johnson was united in marriage and from the union six children were born, they being Waiford, Jr. Wm. and Arthur, the girls being Clara, Esther and Doris, and with the mother and grandfather Peter Johnson are left to mourn his departure. Mr. Johnson has been in poor health for some time and on last Sunday was taken to Lincoln where on Tuesday an operation was performed to restore his health, but of no use he continued to sink until near midnight on Wednesday his spirit took flight to that other world. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Swedish Evangelical church, a Mason and Odd Fellow. The funeral will be held at the Congregational church and the funeral conducted by the Rev. Geo. E. Moore, pastor of the Methodist church. The services at the cemetery will be conducted by the Masonic Order. The interment will be at Oakwood cemetery.

The Hobson funeral home sent their coach to Lincoln and the remains were brought to Weeping Water where they laid in state until the time of the funeral. The sorrowing wife and children have the sympathy of their hosts of friends in and about Weeping Water in their hour of deep grief.

WILL MAKE HOME IN ELMWOOD

In the very near future Harry Thimgan and wife of Manley will remove to Elmwood where Mr. Thimgan will become manager of a store at that place. The friends of Mr. Thimgan on Wednesday came to the Thimgan home with well laden baskets and taking possession of the home, making Mrs. Thimgan their guest of honor and made a very happy afternoon for her, as well as for themselves. Social conversation and games were the vogue of the afternoon. At the proper time the baskets of lunch were served, including ice cream and cake. The ladies extended to their guests of honor, the Thimgans, a very happy home in Elmwood but not to forget the good time she and family had enjoyed in Manley neither to forget to return and visit her friends very often. There were there for the occasion and to assist in making it a perfect day Mesdames R. Bergman, Teddy Harms, Alice Jenkins, Elmer Pearson, Hugh O'Brien, Grover and Fred Lauritzen, B. L. Meisinger, Matis and J. L. Breckenridge, Glen and Lawrence Meisinger, Henry Osborne, A. Stein-kamp and El Krecker, as well as Dorothea Meisinger, Carrie Schafer and Katie Wolpert.
