Master Builders

Build houses which stand the ravages of time—retain their permanency—give the best service and—in many instances—outlive the builder.
People build character and fortunes. The latter is effected by very careful saving—the putting away of as much as can be spared, which counts up as the years go by.
We are here to assist you. Start a Savings Account now and watch it grow.

Meets With Accident.
Everett Jenkins and family, who live on the Earl Lancaster farm and farm the place have been visiting at Fair Play, Missouri, for the past two weeks, where they went and were accompanied by an uncle of Mrs. Jenkins, James Russell and wife of Bennett. They had a very nice visit, but Mr. Russell met with a misfortune, in the fact that when some one in the street started a tractor, which ran over the leg of Mr. Russell breaking it badly. Medical attention was given but the fracture was such that with even the best of care gangrene set in and it is feared that the leg will be lost and even that Mr. Russell may not recover. This is keeping the party in Fair Play longer than they had expected. Mr. Russell is also a brother in law of J. A. Scotten. This had been the first trip which Mr. Russell had made in nineteen years, then only to meet with this sad accident.

MINING NECESSARY TO CIVILIZATION
Mining is so necessary to modern life that a world without metals is unimaginable.
Telephone and electric systems, automobiles, surgical instruments, jewelry, plumbing, machinery, transportation and thousands of other necessities and luxuries depend on mining for their existence.
The United States is blessed with great ore deposits and a mining industry which is characterized by the highest standards of efficiency, economy and science. It pays good wages to hundreds of thousands of workers. It is the major industry in many of the western states. And it contributes an indispensable share to our prosperity.

NEBRASKA HIGHWAY ENGINEER IS DEAD
Beatrice, Sept. 6.—Charles Beckwith of this city, who died suddenly at Grand Island Thursday, was a son of O. W. Beckwith, pioneer Beatrice druggist. He was educated in the Beatrice schools, and some time ago entered the employ of the state as a civil engineer in the highway department. His wife and one child survive. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers, Harry and Orson of Beatrice, Alfred of Central City and Nelson Beckwith of Omaha.

Reunion is Proposed of the Blue and Gray

Movement Endorsed by Commander of the United Veterans of the Confederacy.

Portland, Me.—Endorsement of a proposed reunion of veterans who fought in the northern and southern armies in the Civil war was received here Tuesday night in the first official communication in history from a commander in chief of the United Veterans of the Confederacy to be addressed to an officer of the Grand Army of the Republic or any of its allied orders.
The telegraphed communication, from Richard A. Sneed, commander of the Veterans of the Confederacy, was addressed to Edwin H. Pitcher of Baltimore, Md., commander of the Maryland department of the Sons of Union Veterans, who is here in connection with the national encampment of the G. A. R. It read:
"I feel I am expressing the sentiments of every true son of the south when I endorse most heartily your plan to promote a reunion of the blue and the gray. As a united people, loyal to one flag, we could not hand down to our children a better example of true patriotism."
Movements for reunion of the surviving members of the two armies already has the support of President Hoover, Secretary of War James J. Good and the governors of thirty-one states.

Commander Pitcher has been prominent in the efforts of national organization of the Sons of Union Veterans to induce Grand Army veterans to unite with the southern soldiers.
Matters of importance to come before the encampment were heard Tuesday night as the first business session neared. Foremost of these was the selection of a successor to Commander Reese of Nebraska. Five candidates were in the field. They were: Samuel P. Town of Philadelphia, assistant quartermaster general; Silas H. Towler of Minneapolis, commandant of the Minnesota soldiers' home; Edwin J. Foster of Worcester, Mass., past department commander of Massachusetts; James E. Jewel of Fort Morgan, Colo., senior vice commander in chief, and P. H. Cony of Kansas. The election will be held Wednesday after the review.

CHADRON ROTARIANS SPONSOR PIG CLUB
Chadron, Sept. 8.—The Chadron Rotary club will this week divide its seven litters of pigs raised by the Rotary club pig club this summer preparatory to placing the purebred sows with other herds of the county to continue the 4-H club work in the county.
The boys will exhibit their litters at the county fair here this week. On Friday, the closing day, the litters will be divided between the boys raising the pigs and the Chadron Rotary club.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE FOR NORTH PLATTE
North Platte, Sept. 5.—The report of a recently appointed committee which made a detailed study of the traffic conditions here, called for stop-and-go lights on Dewey street here, at intersections of Fourth, Fifth and Sixth and on Jeffers street at the intersections of Fifth and Fourth streets. It also included stop buttons at all street intersections on Fourth street between Bryan avenue and Washington avenue, a total distance of 22 blocks.

We've Got to Unload!

The time is getting shorter every day until we must vacate our building and give possession to the new lessor. Sales in our House Furnishings department prove that people are quick to sense the extraordinary values we are offering—and we have refilled the 10c and other special price tables time and time again in the past ten days as the goods offered were quickly picked up—at prices below their bare wholesale cost. And the prices in this department are being revised downward daily. Whenever an article doesn't move at one price it is put in with a lower priced group—so it will be a revelation to you to visit our store often and see the extra special values that are here today—and gone tomorrow.

And Now—the Groceries

Now we are starting to reduce our large Grocery Stock, and, as in the other departments, must forget former selling prices and replacement cost in order to move it quickly. See our mammoth display of Canned Fruits and Vegetables—at prices cheaper than you could put them up yourself. We must—and will—close this stock entirely out by October 15th—Get your share of it now!

Des Moines School Into Receivership

Property Was Scene of Riot and Injunction Fight of Last May; Was Bought in 1927.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 7.—Beset by administrative difficulties, student riots and court injunctions, Des Moines university came to the end of its career as a Baptist fundamentalist school today when it was placed in the hands of a receiver.
The school property, acquired in June, 1927, by the Baptist Bible union, reverted to the Boatmen's National bank of St. Louis by foreclosure of a mortgage of 203 thousand dollars, and thence was given into receivership of John Blanchard, Des Moines attorney, by Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey.
The university and the Des Moines National bank, as holder of annuity and endowment funds, were given one year to redeem the property, which after that time would be offered for sale.
Foreclosure and receivership came six days after Miss Edith Reisman, secretary of the board of trustees, announced abandonment of the school by the Bible union through action by the trustees, headed by Dr. T. T. Shields. The latter and Miss Reisman were the center of attack when students staged a rock and egg throwing demonstration last May. The trustees at that time closed the school but it was re-opened by court order so that seniors could receive their degrees.
The bank's action to ask foreclosure was taken after notification that further payments on the mortgage could not be made and that the university had been discontinued. George D. Newcom, business manager of the school, joined in asking that a receiver be appointed to take possession of the property and administer it at the direction of the court.—World-Herald.

$11,000 DIVIDEND TO BANK DEPOSITORS

Fremont, Sept. 6.—The first dividends on claims of depositors in the failed First State bank of North Bend have been declared by Receiver R. O. Brownell. The dividend is for 15 per cent and amounts to approximately $11,000.

COMMODITIES IN FURTHER FALL

New York, Sept. 7.—The all-commodity price index declined again last week for the sixth consecutive week to within one-tenth point of the year's low, reached in June, and 3 4-10 points under the level of a year ago.
As usual, the movement was not uniform, as is shown in subsequent analysis, but the persistence of the decline suggests that the continuance of a high level of business and stock market activity, with their heavy credit requirements, coupled with crop-moving demands for funds, have resulted in a period of money tightness in which deflationary signs are appearing. It is a serious question how much farther price level can decline before deflation will be sufficiently marked to be accompanied by evidence of business recession.

ENTERTAIN FOR BROTHER

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tigner at Louisville Mrs. Tigner entertained for her brother, Mr. Jack West from Papillion in honor of his birthday. There were 150 relatives from all distances and all the neighbors where the Tigner family reside. Close friends of Mr. West and Tigner family were there. The ladies came with well filled baskets and at midnight a three-course lunch was served. Games of all kinds were played. Dancing took place until a real late hour. A Nehawka orchestra furnished the music and it was fine.
All went home wishing Mr. West many more happy birthdays, and also thanking Mr. and Mrs. James Tigner. Mrs. Tigner is a real entertainer.
