Officers Capture Robber at Murray Store Last Night

Another Burglary at the J. E. Lancaster Store Results in Man Being Captured on Scene

From Monday's Daily—
The J. E. Lancaster store at Murray, often the scene of looting by robbers, last evening had another visit from the unwelcome callers and as the result, Tom Martin, 25, Kansas City, is in the county jail here and officers are searching for the second one of the robbers who escaped from the posse of Murray citizens last night.

The robbery occurred shortly before 1 o'clock this morning and the discovery was made of the fact that robbers were in the store and at once a general alarm was sent over the community and a number of armed men gathered around the store. The robbers evidently scenting all was not well attempted a break for liberty from the building and one was successful in getting away while the second of the party was held for the arrival of Sheriff Reed and Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and Pat Reed. The robber that escaped was shot at by the son of Mr. Lancaster who arrived soon on the scene after the alarm was given and the fleeing robber exchanged shots with the boy, David Lancaster, firing from the corner of the store building as the robber ran in a southeasterly direction toward the Brendel residence and the lumber yard.

The man captured gave his name as Tom Martin and to the sheriff and the other officers, he stated he had arrived in Murray on a train and had gone up into the town seeking a place where he might find a room to stay and as he came past the Lancaster store a man had stepped out and placed a revolver to his side and said, "come on I can use you." The men forced their way into the store and searched for the missing robber over the southeast section of Murray. Officer Dave Pickrel arrived from Plattsmouth and noticed a new Ford car parked near the C. D. Spangler home on the road north of Murray and investigation disclosed that this car was the property of Glen Williams of Bellevue and which had been stolen at 10:30 Sunday night from 42nd and Ames avenue in Omaha, and in which the robbers had evidently driven to Murray to try and rob the store. At the time it was found the keys were in the car and it was all ready to be started on the getaway. Sheriff Reed and party brought the captured robber Martin, as well as the Ford on back to this city and Mr. Williams came down this morning to secure his car while the prisoner was held to face the charges of the burglary.

The deceased lady was a native of Kent, England and has made her home in the United States for the greater part of her lifetime, coming here as a girl and for a number of years resided in Illinois, coming to Nebraska in 1878 and settling near the present city of Kearney and is one of the old time residents of that locality.

North Wins in Football Game Here Saturday

20 to 0 Is Score for Vikings of Omaha—Scoring in First Half, Reserves Playing.

The football game here Saturday afternoon between the North high team of Omaha and the Plattsmouth high school resulted in a very much one sided score of 20 to 0 in favor of the Vikings.

This year North has one of the best football machines in the big city and should cause the other schools a great deal of worry as the team has both weight and speed this year and several outstanding players in Raschke, Potter, Mason and Sharp, should help the Norsemen toward the city title.

The visitors opened the scoring in the first plays of the game, Mason, quarter of North, returning the opening kickoff thirty yards and a series of plunges and short passes took the ball over for the first touchdown, Raschke carrying the ball over. The remaining scores were accumulated in the second period when long passes brought the ball to the Plattsmouth goal and where successful line work completed the touchdown. Potter, fullback of the visitors carrying the sphere.

In the second half of the game the North reserves were sent into the game by Coach Jackson and against these the Plattmers made a very good showing and neither team was able to make a counter attack, both threat the Norsemen toward the city title.

The game was largely a punting duel between the two teams. The Plattmers made several substantial gains on the line plunges of Hershel Dew, who also carried the ball around the ends for short gains. The tackling and blocking of the locals was much better in the second half of the game and in which the linemen showed more fight.

The locals will go to Ashland Friday where they are to play one of the fastest teams in the state, comprising seasoned veterans and who have an impressive showing in the games so far this season.

The next home game of the regular Plattmer team will be on October 25th when they will entertain Wahoo at this place. The remaining games after that of Friday are all in the southeastern conference.

CASE IS AFFIRMED

From Monday's Daily—
The supreme court in the decisions handed down the past week affirmed the decision of the Cass county district court in the case of Mable Coolman vs. Theodore L. Amick, et al, sustaining the finding of the lower court in favor of the defendants.

This case is one in which the plaintiff, Mrs. Coolman a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Amick, sued to have a deed and will made to the defendant by Mrs. David Amick, mother of the defendant and grandmother of the plaintiff, set aside. The plaintiff had claimed an agreement with the deceased Mrs. Amick that she was to have a certain part of the estate in return for caring for her, but later the property was willed and decided to the defendant.

The trial of the case here brought many witnesses and a notable group of lawyers to try the case, Ben S. Baker and Lower & Sheehan of Omaha appearing for the plaintiff while W. R. Patrick, of Omaha, D. O. Dwyer of this city and A. P. Moran of Nebraska City represented the defendant.

Cass County Bankers Hold Meeting Here

Fine Time Enjoyed by the Financiers of the County and Distinguished Guests

The yearly meeting of the Cass County Bankers Association was held in this city Saturday and brought here a large group of the bankers and their employees to enjoy the day socially and to discuss many of the problems of the present day bankers in the smaller cities and communities.

The meeting as well as the social features were very much enjoyed and the visitors were loud in their praise of the manner in which the Plattsmouth banking fraternity had arranged and carried out the program of the day.

In the afternoon the members of the banking association met in their business session at the Elks club house where the formal session was presided over by President Carl D. Ganz of Alvo. The members of the bankers group were formally welcomed to the city by Mayor John P. Sattler in his usual pleasing manner and who tendered the freedom of the city to the visitors, while the response was given by D. C. West of the Bank of Nehawka.

The members of the association had two very interesting and thorough discussions of the problems of the Nebraska banker at this time, given by Phil L. Hall, of Fremont, president of the Nebraska Bankers association and State Senator H. G. Wellensiek of Grand Island, both being bankers and leaders in the public life of the state and from their remarks the members of the bankers group secured some very valuable information and added to the present status of the state banking.

In the afternoon session was held the election of officers with the following being named for the ensuing year:

President—T. H. Pollock, Plattsmouth
Vice-President—J. P. Cobb, Elmwood

Secretary—Carl D. Ganz, Alvo.

After the informal discussion among the members there was a short recess until the evening program of the bankers and their party at the banquet.

During the afternoon the ladies of the bankers were entertained at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Schneider on Oak street where an afternoon tea was held in honor of the visiting ladies. The rooms of the home were arranged in the most beautiful yellow and lavender chrysanthemums with the silver candles and the beautiful silver of the tables. Mrs. Marquardt and Mrs. Fahnestock of Avoca poured while Misses Marie Hiber, Edna Warren, Marie Cloidt, Marcia and Parker of Lincoln, Meadames C. P. Schneider and Frank A. Cloidt assisted in the serving.

The evening program was largely given over the social features of the yearly meeting with the banquet held at the American Legion building where a most delicious dinner of the session was enjoyed by the bankers and their ladies and invited guests.

The banquet was served by the American Legion Auxiliary in their usual pleasing manner and the tempting menu offered the bankers was as follows:

- Fruit Cocktail
- Fried Chicken Mashed Potatoes
- Giblet Gravy
- Buttered Green Beans
- Glazed Sweet Potatoes
- Combination Salad French Dressing
- Parkhouse Rolls
- Coffee
- Relish Conserve
- Pineapple Ice Lady Baltimore Cake
- Mints Nuts

While the banquet was being served the high school orchestra under the direction of B. G. Woodward gave a very fine musical program that combined with the wonderful repast placed the bankers in the best of moods for the toast list followed.

The banquet was presided over by Reese Hastain of the Bank of Commerce of Louisville, who in his own pleasing way introduced the members of the party who were to entertain for the evening.

The speeches were largely of a humorous nature and comprised, "Stop Signs" by Carl Ganz of Alvo, "Country Bankers and Customers" by Guy L. Siemens of the American Exchange bank of Elmwood, "Believe It or Not" by Mrs. C. W. Fahnestock, Senator W. B. Banning of the Bank of Union and Senator H. G. Wellensiek of Grand Island, discussed briefly a number of the propositions of the banker. Judge James T. Begley of this city was also called upon and gave a very appreciated address along the lines of the restless spirit of mankind that had led to the improvement and development of the world, being the subject of the life of Christopher Columbus and his voyage into unknown seas to find a new world.

While the list of speakers were being heard their offerings were interspersed with two very delightful vocal numbers by Mrs. James T. Begley and two readings by Mrs. J. A. Capwell.

Among the guests from out the county at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. M. Well of the National Bank of Commerce of Lincoln, Henry Schluening of the Lincoln Trust Co., of Lincoln, Samuel Waugh of the First Trust Co., of Lincoln, Fred Thomas vice-president of the First National bank of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of Papillion and Hon. ## California Religious Cult is Investigated

Mrs. D. A. Hilton, Formerly of This City One of Organizers of Strange New Cult

The investigation by Los Angeles authorities of the religious group who are known as "Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Eleven," has attracted more or less attention in this section of Nebraska as Mrs. D. A. Hilton, one of the founders of the order, is a former resident of Plattsmouth and Omaha, where for many years the family resided. The investigation followed rumors of mysterious disappearance of members of the order and strange deaths.

Mrs. Hilton was a Christian Science practitioner in Omaha. More than a year ago she told how she had been "called" to the cult. She said she had been awakened from her sleep one night, by someone shouting her name, and when she opened her eyes, she saw the name, as if written in fire, suspended in the room. Other members of the colony have told of similar experiences. Mrs. Hilton became secretary of the order.

The burial place of the colony is being sought by investigators, following the complaint a week ago by a former member against Mrs. Otis Blackburn and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Wieland-Rizzio, leaders.

Pioneer Lady Celebrates Her 94th Birthday

Mrs. Emeline Mayfield Observes Occasion at Nebraska Masonic Home in This City.

Sunday was the ninety-fourth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Emeline Mayfield, pioneer of Cass county, and was observed at the Nebraska Masonic home in this city, where Mrs. Mayfield has made her home for the past few weeks and the event was honored by the birthday cake and dinner in which the members of the home family joined in their congratulations to this splendid pioneer woman of the west.

Mrs. Mayfield was formerly Miss Emeline Todd, daughter of Jefferson and Mary E. Todd and was born at Norwalk, Ohio, October 13th, 1834, and with her parents came west to the territory of Nebraska when a child of very tender years, spending her long and useful life in this portion of the now great state. She was married at the family home of the Todds just west of this city in 1858 to George W. Mayfield, a youth who had come recently from the east and in this scene their lifetime was spent, the husband leaving his bride to assist in the Indian wars of this frontier settlement and later as the husband engaged in various newspapers over Cass county the family moved to Weeping Water and other places, finally locating at Louisville, where in 1890 Elder Mayfield established the Louisville Courier, which is now published by his son, L. J. Mayfield.

In Louisville and vicinity many happy years in the life of Mrs. Mayfield were spent, and it was there a number of years ago the husband and father passed to the last reward and after this Mrs. Mayfield continued to make her home alone in the family home which she has so cherished until her advancing years made necessary her constant care and she came to the Masonic home in this city, where in its pleasant and comfortable surroundings she is enjoying the closing days of life and which now stand in a few years of a full century of life.

The wonderful changes in this nation that have occurred within the lifetime of this grand lady can hardly be conceived, for she has seen the modes of travel that came and went with the passing years, beginning with the crudest of ox drawn wagons, the steam engine, the automobile and truck and now the airplane that carries passengers across the continent in as many hours as it required months to complete the trip in her girlhood days.

When Mrs. Mayfield was born, Andrew Jackson was serving his second term as president. She has lived to see four wars of the nation—the Mexican, the bloody Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the World war.

To Mrs. Mayfield will go the well wishes of the friends all over Cass county that she may be spared to see the dawning of her one hundredth anniversary of life and to enjoy to the utmost the declining years.

Keightley of Chicago, promotion manager for the Standard Publishing company, in his address on "Intelligent Advertising." Mr. Keightley's firm is in charge of all advertising for the Allied Clothiers.

What the group has accomplished for clothiers in the northwest in reducing production costs and increasing trade volume was related by W. Fisher of Mankato, Minn., whose firm, the Northwestern Buyers and Jobbers, is a member.

TRIM UP VALLEY

From Monday's Daily—
The combined football team of Plattsmouth and Murray yesterday afternoon gave the Valley football team a trimming to the score of 6 to 0, on the Murray park grounds.

This game was a very interesting one and in which both teams were very evenly balanced in their playing and the tide of battle swayed back and forth until the last quarter when the heavy Plattsmouth team were able to push over the needed score.

The score was made by a series of line plunges and off tackle plays that brought the ball to striking distance of the Valley goal and from where Frank Krejci drove through for the necessary touchdown. The try of Carl Kell for the extra point failed and at the final whistle the score was 6 to 0 for the Plattsmouth team.

The work of the backs, George Sedlacek, Frank Koubek and Frank Krejci was of the best while the linessmen were able to check all attempts of the visitors to score.

Among those who showed well in the game were Charles Fulton, Frank Sedlacek, George Pierce of Nehawka, Louis Svoboda, Carl Kell and Homer Spangler.

Debating to Feature High School Year

Strong Schedule of Debates Arranged and Many Experienced Debaters on Team.

The debating teams of the Plattsmouth high school are being organized for the work of the year which promises to be one of the most interesting in this line of the school activities and with a most impressive schedule to face the members of the debating teams, who are to meet some of the leading schools of the east section of the state.

The debating squad held their first meeting on Saturday and four experienced debaters of last year's squad reported, they being Robert Livingston, Mary Swatek, Charles Nowacek, Hazel Harkins and Gerald Sperry. Mr. Livingston and Miss Swatek won gold letters for their participating last year in over half of the scheduled debates, while Mr. Nowacek and Miss Harkins have debated during the past two years but did not participate in enough to win a letter, but hope to this year. Mr. Sperry debated last year with the Huron, S. D., team and will try for a place here. At the meeting, Mr. Livingston was named as the debate captain.

The debating team hopes to hang up a record of debates this year, last year they held nineteen and this year are planning on increasing this to thirty. The squad is planning four big events for the season.

1. Have invited Nebraska Wesleyan to send two teams here for a debate November 13th. Will not meet Plattmer debaters but the Wesleyan team will debate each other.

2. Have extended invitations to Creighton University to meet one of her Missouri Valley opponents upon the Plattsmouth high school platform, probably Washington or Grinnell. Have also invited Nebraska University to stage one of its Big Six debates on the local platform. (Probably will be Iowa State. Both have expressed a desire to come.)

3. Will invite the District Debate Tournament to be held in Plattsmouth the first part of March.

4. To hold at least 30 debates. This is the biggest debate program ever planned in Plattsmouth.

The tentative schedule so far:

Nov. 13—Nebraska Wesleyan debaters, here.

Nov. 15—Abraham Lincoln, here.

Nov. 22—Creighton Prep, here.

Nov. 25—Omaha North, here.

December 2—Omaha Central, here.

December 12—Auburn, here.

January 10—Lincoln, here.

January 16—Valley, here.

January 30—Blair, here.

(The regular conference schedule in addition to this has not been arranged pending the districting of the state by the association.)

All debates tentatively scheduled will be double headers except Auburn, Valley and Blair. These three will be to decision with one team each. The other will be non-decision. Debaters are enthusiastic for a profitable year.

OIL DEPOT ROBBED

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last night sometime the oil house of the Ofe Oil Co., located near the Missouri Pacific depot in the west part of the city, was burglarized and the party secured entrance to the house by breaking the lock and gaining way into where the oil was stored.

The check of the oil house contents disclosed that one fifteen gallon barrel of oil and one thirty gallon barrel of the oil was missing from the house as well as a case of Freestone anti-freeze.

The party pulling off the crime had evidently parked a car east of the oil depot and had rolled the barrels of oil down the bank to the roadway and where it had been loaded into the car and made away with. The depot is located on a little frequented road and it would be an easy matter to load up the oil and get away without discovery unless someone accidentally came through that street, west and north of the Nebraska Masonic Home.

RECOVERS STOLEN CAR

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Sheriff Bert Reed was notified that the auto taken from South Bend yesterday morning had been found abandoned in Omaha and where it had been loaded into the car and made away with. The car was found part of the accessories that were stolen from the car of Albert Meisinger of near Cedar Creek.

The parties that stole the car at South Bend first took the car belonging to Albert Meisinger from near Cedar Creek and drove to South Bend where they stripped the Meisinger car and proceeded to cop a car belonging to the cook at the Burlington quarries at that place and successfully made a get away before the loss was discovered.
