One American Among Citizens of the Vatican

Father John Hagen, S. J., Only One Among 518 Residents There; He Is Naturalized.

Vatican City, Nov. 5.—One lone citizen of American origin—and he a naturalized one—stands out among the 518 "subjects" of the new Vatican City state.

He is father John Hagen, S. J., director of the Vatican observatory. Born an Austrian and naturalized American while at Georgetown university, he has been fulfilling his functions at the Vatican for about a quarter of a century.

Out of the 518 citizens or subjects, 389—headed by the pope himself—are of Italian origin, albeit Pius XI was actually born an Austrian subject, his birthplace, Desio, near Milan, being under Hapsburg domination at the time he came into the world.

Germany has five Vatican citizens headed by the venerable Jesuit, Cardinal Ehrle, librarian of the Vatican. Spain has two, one being Cardinal Merry del Val, former secretary of state and now arch-priest of the St. Peter's Basilica.

The only other two nations to be represented by one borrowed citizen each are Norway and Abyssinia. The latter shatters all beliefs in precedents by being a Jew.

This singular citizen of the pope's own state will not remain much longer in the faith of his fathers, however. Before the constitution of the Vatican City was effected, Hagos Fessah, native of Altana in Abyssinia, had already announced his intention of becoming a Roman Catholic; and being attached in a special capacity to the Ethiopian seminary, which is on Vatican soil, was directed to remain there pending completion of his spiritual preparation for baptism and the succeeding sacraments.

Once he has been admitted to the church, the pope will resign over 518 subjects, who are 100 per cent Catholic.

The students of the Ethiopian seminary itself are not counted among the denizens of the Vatican, since their residence is only transitory. For disciplinary and administrative purposes, though, they will

Riverview Club Has a Very Fine Group of Meetings

Organization South of Plattsmouth Has Built Excellent Community Group

The Riverside club, one of the many rural organizations in the county that is operating in connection with the extension department of the state university through the county agents and the Cass County Farm Bureau, has made a very fine advance in the past season and held a number of excellent meetings which have largely attended by the members and their families.

The club met on October 15th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wheeler, "Oakwood" where the members had arranged an evening session in the form of a winter roast, and the members spent the evening in the enjoyment of the fine moonlight by which many games were played and the winners and other dainties provided for were disposed of by the members of the party.

The club met on Friday, November 1st, at the home of Mrs. Frank Hull where the members took up the regular lessons of the course provided by the county agents and which was in the making and designing of linens and table covering and which covered the many interesting ideas for the ladies and the lesson was given very ably by the project leaders, Mrs. Major Hall and Mrs. Georgia Creamer. After the business session of the club had been disposed of, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Harold Hall, served a very dainty and delicious luncheon that all enjoyed to the utmost.

Mrs. H. L. Gayer, one of the club leaders, was at Weeping Water on Monday to attend the group chairman of Cass county which was held at the office of the county agent and the chairman were addressed by Miss Mary Ellen Brown and Mr. Gould of the extension department of the university on the winter program of study and County Agents D. D. Wainwright and Jessie Baldwin were also present to assist in the meeting and give many valuable suggestions as to the work. At the meeting Mrs. H. A. Tool of Murdock was selected as county chairman of the group and Mrs. Gayer the assistant chairman.

The man arrested denied any knowledge of the crime but stated that his name was Jack Webb instead of Charles and that he had not been in Oklahoma for two years, but his description is that of the man that the Oklahoma authorities are seeking and he was held in the jail here for further identification.

Red Cross Elects Officers for the Year

W. G. Kieck Again Named as Chairman of the Plattsmouth Chapter of This Organization

The members of the Plattsmouth chapter of the American Red Cross held a meeting yesterday at the office of County Attorney W. G. Kieck, the purpose of the meeting being to organize the chapter for the coming year and to make arrangements for the annual roll call for membership that will be started on Armistice day, Monday November 11th and continuing over Thanksgiving.

The present officers were all re-elected for the ensuing year, they being: Chairman—William G. Kieck, Vice-Chairman—Miss Matilda Soennichsen, Secretary—Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans, Treasurer—H. A. Schneider.

The local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary has received an invitation from the Omaha unit of the Auxiliary to join in the banquet and reception that will be tendered on Saturday evening to the national commander of the American Legion and Mrs. Donald McCrea of Council Bluffs, Iowa, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The Plattsmouth ladies have one of the liveliest units in the state and a large group of them are planning on attending the banquet and enjoying the evening with the service men and women from all parts of the state who will be gathered for the event. The dinner and reception will be held at the Hotel Rome and the price per plate to all will be $1.25. Those who are expecting to go should get in touch with Mrs. Robert Will, president of the local unit so that reservations may be made for them.

The local Legion post members and Auxiliary are also invited to be present at the dedication of the new building at Nebraska City on Wednesday, November 13th and it is expected that a large number will be present.

From Wednesday's Daily—The latest reports received here by relatives of the condition of Miss Lydia Weckbach at the St. Elizabeth's hospital in Lincoln, is that the patient is still in a critical condition and the members of her family have been called to the bedside of the patient and indicating that her condition is very dangerous and recovery extremely doubtful.

Mrs. Max Bowman was among the visitors in Omaha today where she was called to spend a few hours in that city looking after some matters of business and visiting with friends.

Apprehend Man Wanted in Stillwater, Oklahoma

Charles Webb Apprehended Working on Farm, Held on Rape Charge—Man Denies Charge

From Wednesday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and Pat Reed motored out to the Fred Druecker farm where they took into custody a man engaged in corn shucking and who it is claimed is Charles Webb, wanted at Stillwater, Oklahoma, on the charge of rape.

The arrest of the man has been sought by the Oklahoma authorities since last April and the description sent here of the wanted man, the arrest was made here yesterday and the man lodged in the county jail to await the coming of the Oklahoma authorities.

The man arrested denied any knowledge of the crime but stated that his name was Jack Webb instead of Charles and that he had not been in Oklahoma for two years, but his description is that of the man that the Oklahoma authorities are seeking and he was held in the jail here for further identification.

File Stebbins Petition for U. S. Senator

Friends Point Out Nebraska Needs Man to Work With and Help the Administration.

Lincoln, Nov. 5.—Petitions containing 10,356 names of republican voters were filed with the secretary of state here Tuesday asking that the name of W. M. Stebbins, state treasurer, be placed upon the republican primary ballot as a candidate for the United States senate next year.

Mr. Stebbins has five days in which to accept the filing. He said at Lincoln Tuesday that he would consider the matter carefully before deciding what to do. Friends of the state treasurer said Tuesday that he would accept the filing and make the race for senator. If he does he will be the third man in the contest.

Lieutenant Governor George A. Williams has made a personal filing with the secretary of state and Senator George W. Norris will do so in a few days. The Stebbins petitions were filed by E. J. Loutenheiser, banker of Gothenburg and chairman of the Dawson county republican central committee.

Mr. Loutenheiser said that he took charge of the work of circulating the petitions some weeks ago as chairman of a state-wide committee. He said the petitions contained names from 68 counties. Need Hoover Aid. "Nebraska needs a man in the United States senate who can and will co-operate with the administration in power," said Loutenheiser, in a prepared statement.

"If Nebraska is going forward it must go forward by the election of public officials who will co-operate with the administration at Washington. The great need of Nebraska is the election next fall of public officials who will thus co-operate. Nebraska will not go forward by election of men who will antagonize the administration on every public question." State Treasurer Stebbins is serving his second term. He served for several seasons as a state representative from Dawson county and was a member of the last constitutional convention. He is a pioneer of western Nebraska and a homesteader.

Presbyterian Ladies Hold a Praise Service

Missionary Society of Church Hold Very Fine Program at Fellowship Room Tuesday

From Wednesday's Daily—The Presbyterian Women's Missionary society held a very fine meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the Fellowship room and a very pleasing number of the ladies were present to take part in the meeting and to enjoy the fine program that had been arranged for the afternoon.

The room had been made very beautiful with a large basket of red roses, the bright hued berries and leaves that added to the cheerfulness and charm of the pleasant room. The decorative features of the occasion were in charge of Mrs. Frank A. Cloldt and Mrs. H. F. Goos, who also acted as receiving hostesses.

Mrs. Stephen A. Wiles conducted the devotional services of the afternoon and presided over the meeting and program in her usual pleasant manner. Messages were read from the missionaries supported by the church of this state, these being given by Mrs. H. G. McClusky.

A very delightful diversion of the afternoon was the impersonation given by Miss Nickum. In the musical portion of the program, Mrs. James T. Begley, one of the popular vocalists of the city was heard in a delightful number, "Silent Voices" by Roma, Mrs. Goos serving as the accompanist. Miss Marjorie Arn also added to the charm of this portion of the program with a delightful piano number that appealed to all.

The main address of the afternoon was given by Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the church. Starting at the home base, he took his listeners from field to field of the missionary, stressing some point of interest in each one and showing some of the marvelous work done with the contributions made at home, bringing before the members many of the heroic services that are rendered by the missionaries. The blackboard diagram used in the address made the message more vivid.

A thank offering was taken during the afternoon and $50.75 was realized to be applied on the work of the missions. Very delightful refreshments were served during the social hour, the serving hostesses being Mrs. John Wolf, Mrs. Glen Valley, Mrs. John F. Gorder, Mrs. A. J. Priddy, Mrs. George Fornoff, Mrs. F. B. Shopp.

LUTE MORSE DIES

Lucius H. (Lute) Morse, 57, prominent Lincoln automobile dealer and garage owner, was found dead in his room at the Lincoln hotel about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. He had apparently died about two hours earlier, Dr. Aaron S. Speler and Dr. Miles J. Bremer, who examined the body said death was due to a heart attack.

The body was found by Adam Scheidt, an employe at the Morse garage, who went to the room after he had been unable to get an answer to his telephone calls. Scheidt said he had first tried to call Mr. Morse about 5:30 and had called every few minutes from that time until he went to the room. The day manager had left the garage, and Scheidt said he had wanted to get in touch with Mr. Morse on a matter of business.

End Comes Unexpectedly Death was entirely unexpected, according to friends. Clark Jeary, a close personal friend and attorney for Mr. Morse, said that although Morse had not been feeling well for several weeks, he had not complained of any serious ailment. Jeary and Morse returned a week ago Saturday from a hunting trip. During the trip, Jeary said that Morse had felt quite well.

Scheidt found the body lying on the floor fully clothed but covered. Apparently Mr. Morse had gone to bed on his return from the Nebraska-Kansas football game and had drawn the bed covers over him. J. E. Dudley, a taxi driver, was probably the last person to see Morse before his death.

Complained of Pains "He met me in front of the stadium about the middle of the third quarter," Dudley said. "He said he was not feeling well and asked me to take him to the hotel. On the way he groaned considerably and told me he was suffering pains in his chest and stomach. When we arrived at the hotel he said he was feeling better. He didn't seem seriously ill when he got out of the car."

From the condition of the body when it was found, death came shortly after Morse reached his room. The body was taken to Castle, Roper and Matthews, where it will be held pending funeral arrangements. It is believed that he has a nephew in the east. Mr. Morse was very popular in this city and was heard at the Happy Hundred suppers a number of times and his clever handling of humorous subjects.
