Local Young People Announce Their Wedding

Miss Theresa Donat Married to Mr. Verne Hendricks at Grand Island in October.

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon a great surprise came to the relatives and many friends of Theresa Donat and Verne Hendricks, when they learned of the secret marriage of this young couple which had taken place Oct. 2 of this year at Grand Island.

Theresa is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donat. She was born in this city. In the year of 1927 she graduated from the Plattsmouth high school, and has held many excellent positions as a stenographer. She worked for Attorney A. L. Tidd and Golda Noble Wiles, clerk of the district court for some time.

She is highly educated in music and at the present time is instructing a class of her own, she studying in her musical work with Mrs. Lillian Freeman of this city.

Verne Hendricks is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Hendricks of Murray. He was born in Murray and received his education in Plattsmouth being a graduate in the year of 1923. Then he went to the University of Nebraska for two years. The last year he held a position as a forman at the BRIX shops of this city.

In July he commenced a business course at the Grand Island Business college which he is completing now and Grand Island will be their future home as Mr. Hendricks will hold an excellent position when he finishes his course.

These young people are surrounded by many friends who will regret their absence from this city.

PLEASANT FAREWELL PARTY

On Saturday evening the home of Judge and Mrs. James T. Beegley was the scene of a most delightful 6-30 buffet dinner, given by Mrs. Beegley, Mrs. W. G. Kleck, Mrs. A. H. Luby and Mrs. R. P. Westover. In honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Turpin who are soon to leave the city to make their home in Omaha.

The home was arranged in the Christmas colors of red and green and made a very attractive decorative scheme for the pleasant event. Following the dinner the evening was spent in bridge, there being six tables of the players to enjoy the event.

In the playing the first ladies prize was won by Mrs. John Griffin with Mrs. Sidney Bell receiving the second honors while in the gentlemen event, W. Egenberger was awarded the first prize and William A. Robertson the second honors. Mr. and Mrs. Turpin were given a very handsome guest prize, the presentation being made by Attorney W. A. Robertson.

Mrs. Turpin responded with regrets to the many expressions of regret of the friends at losing this estimable family which was given by Mr. Robertson for the group of associates.

A very pleasing musical program was enjoyed during the evening with Mrs. Robert Reed being heard in a very artistic piano number while James Beegley, Jr., and Dr. R. P. Westover gave enjoyable vocal numbers to aid in the completion of a most delightful evening.

CLAIMS MISUNDERSTANDING

The Oil Co., of this city has in the past few days been receiving a number of inquiries as to the suit which they filed against the City of Plattsmouth and B. G. Golding, many thinking that the suit was against all of the owners of curb pumps. The suit was started over the placing of pumps by Mr. Golding on Chicago avenue near the station of the defendant and the city was made defendant by reason of having given the permission, and in the trial of the case but this one station was involved. In the decision as to the legality of the placing of the pumps the district court held that the request for enforcement of the city ordinance was just and accordingly the ordinance applies to all of the curb pumps or other obstructions in the street.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION

From Wednesday's Daily— Miss Ruth Janda, graduate of the class of 1928 of the commercial department of the local high school and who has been connected with the Red and White grocery as bookkeeper for the past year, will take up her work in the future at the Walling Abstract Co., of which Robert M. Walling, licensed abstractor, is the head. Miss Janda is a very efficient stenographer and her acceptance of the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Ann Smetana, will assure the office the services of a very efficient worker and who will prove a very valuable assistant to Mr. Walling in handling the business affairs of the office.

ENJOYS DINNER PARTY

From Monday's Daily— Last evening a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Turpin were entertained at a most delightful 6 o'clock dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Egenberger and Mrs. John Bauer, Sr., at their home on Vine street.

The dinner was in the nature of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Turpin who leave the last of the week for Omaha to make their future home and was a most wonderful treat of the delicious repast such as can be found only in the Nebraska home.

The settings of the dinner were in keeping with the Christmas season in red and green.

Mrs. Bina Kitzel Oldest of Cook Family is Dead

After Long Illness Well Known Lady Passes Away Today at Home at Alvo

From Monday's Daily— This morning the message was received here of the death at Alvo, of Mrs. Bina Kitzel, aged seventy-nine, the oldest member of the Cook family of Cass county, descendants of some of the earliest residents of this state.

Mrs. Kitzel has been poorly for the past several years and was unable to attend the reunion of the Cook family in the last few years although she has kept in constant touch with the members of the family and retained her keen interest in the affairs of the community.

Mrs. Kitzel was born on February 1, 1850 and has spent the greater part of her lifetime in this county where her family have been residents for so many years.

The deceased lady is a sister of Charles E. Cook, Mrs. W. D. Wheeler, Mrs. T. W. Valley and Mrs. S. O. Cole of near this city, and has several other brothers residing out in the state.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the services being held at the Alvo Methodist church and the interment will be made at the cemetery there.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

From Tuesday's Daily— Last evening Nebraska Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, one of the first in the state and also one of the most active Masonic bodies in Nebraska, held their installation of officers for the year.

The officers were installed by M. E. James M. Robertson, past grand high priest of Nebraska, with Luke L. Wiles, past high priest as marshal for the ceremony.

The officers installed were as follows: Leslie W. Niel, high priest; Raymond C. Cook, king; William G. Kleck, scribe; W. F. Evers, secretary; Frank A. Claid, treasurer; Dr. P. T. Heinemann, captain of the host; Lester Meisinger, Royal Arch captain; H. L. Gayer, principal journeyman; John Turner, master of the third veil; Ward Whalen, master of the second veil; Marion Birdsley, master of the first veil; Charles L. Cassin, sealer.

Following the installing the members enjoyed a very fine feast that had been arranged in the form of an oyster supper, with William A. Robertson and A. H. Duxbury, past high priests presiding over the kitchen force and arranging the very fine feature of the evening.

MANY ATTEND REHEARSAL

From Monday's Daily— The final rehearsal of the chorus that will take part in "The Messiah" to be presented at the city auditorium at Omaha, was held yesterday at the First Methodist church at Omaha and with the Omaha Symphony orchestra assisting in the accompaniment.

The chorus will number close to 1,000 voices and in this some hundred of the vocalists of this city will participate and the greater part of these were in attendance Sunday at the final rehearsal as the oratorio will be given on next Monday evening at Omaha.

The vocalists who will have the solo parts of this great oratorio of Handel, will arrive in Omaha on next Sunday and will have their rehearsal on the presentation day.

A very large number of the local music lovers are planning on being in attendance at the presentation of this notable musical offering which will be one of the outstanding events of the year in the west.

SUFFERING FROM ILLNESS

From Tuesday's Daily— The Bert Reed family have been victims of a visitation of the quite common and equally unwelcome flu which has prevailed a great deal in this community for the past few weeks. Sheriff Reed is suffering some from the effects of a severe cold but the attack on Mrs. Reed has caused her to be confined to her bed for the greater part of the time, while Mrs. Harold Rhoden, who has been assisting Mrs. Reed, is also suffering from the annoying malady.

Old Time Residents Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Isham Manion Observe Golden Wedding at Home at Nelson—Married Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Isham Manion celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday, Mr. Manion and Miss Amanda Lou Hayes were married at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, December 4, 1879. They came to Nuckolls county in 1888 and held their residence here until 1911. The next two years were spent in Missouri, after which they again returned to Nelson and have since that time resided here. For many years Mr. Manion was engaged in the grain business. He has now retired from active business life, and he and Mrs. Manion are enjoying the sunset of life in their comfortable home over on the south side of Elk creek. Mr. Manion is 76 years old and his wife is six years his junior. Both are in good health.

Wednesday evening fifty of the old friends and neighbors gave Mr. and Mrs. Manion a pleasant surprise by making an informal call at the home. The happy pair was seated in the living room no doubt reviewing some of the pleasant and interesting happenings of the past fifty years, when the intruders broke in upon them to extend hearty greetings and felicitations.

After a short time spent most happily in their company, the couple was presented with a wedding cake as a mark of esteem and a reminder of their good fortune in having spent a half century together along the journey of life. The cake was artistically decorated and had inscribed thereon "Happy Birthday." In the top center was embedded a beautiful vanity case for the bride, and upon investigation was discovered that it contained fifty dollars in gold coin—a gift from the friends.

The children are: Mrs. Berta C. Lewis, Nelson, Arch Manion, San Diego, California; Mrs. Audrey Miles, Boy and Wallace Manion, Nelson, Nelson (Nebr.) Gazette.

HAVE FINE MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily— The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church, held a very delightful and interesting meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes on Park Hill. Mrs. Howard Dodds assisting. Despite the inclement weather, bad roads and various other activities of the evening, a good representation of members and their friends were present.

This being the Christmas Party of the society, the holiday spirit was carried out in the decorations, chief of which was the lighted Christmas tree.

Mrs. W. L. Heinrich, presided over the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. E. Bailey. Mrs. R. B. Hayes led devotions using the Christmas story taken from the Book of Luke.

The lesson was given by Mrs. Otto Keck, who presented it in a very unique and interesting manner—she using letters written from the various homes and schools in the Southland to the members of the local society. The lessons for this year are in the nature of a "travelogue" wherein the schools, homes and missions supported by the church throughout the United States are visited. Last evening the travel was through the South among the colored people.

The different secretaries of the missionary work in the local church reported their accomplishments and some very fine reports were given. Mrs. Bert Coleman, supply secretary, told of the box of fruit sent to Mother Jewels Home at York, also a box of supplies and jellies having been sent to the City Mission at Omaha. The Christmas project now occupying the minds of the members is the sending of a clothing outfit to a boy at York Home which has been "adopted" by the society here.

Mrs. H. E. Sontor gave a very effective demonstration along the line of Stewardship with her Candle Lighting Service. Mrs. Hayes served as soloist for this part of the program. Following this service a Christmas offering was taken as a gift to help one of the girls who is in training as deaconess in the Kansas City Training school.

Mrs. James Rishel had prepared the Enigmas which proved very interesting and much information was gained from these on what the society is doing in other places along the lines of Missionary work. Delicious refreshments served by the hostesses which closed a most pleasant evening.

Event Will Occur at 2 P. M. on Saturday Afternoon and Children of County Invited

The pre-Christmas visit of Santa Claus to this community will take place on Saturday, December 14th, rain or shine, the committee in charge of the event have been assured. The special Santa will arrive here from the east and will make the crossing from Iowa on the new Missouri river bridge, he having special means of getting through the possible danger of bad roads so that he can be depended on to be here on time.

Santa will reach Main street at Third at 2 p. m. and here he will be greeted by the guard of honor, Boy Scouts and also receive the city greeting delivered by Mayor John P. Sattler.

The party will form a procession at Third street headed by Chief of Police Libershal, who will be mounted on a snow white steed if possible, then the color bearers, Boy Scouts, the Sam Arn drum corps and then Santa himself with the guard of honor flanking him on both sides and the rear of the procession will be composed of all who may desire to get in line for the parade.

The march will be up Main street to Sixth and hence north to Vine and then to the American Legion building where the distribution will take place. The admission and distribution will be to the children of twelve and under. The guard of honor will be the first to be served then all other of the children will be accommodated.

The guard of honor has been elected by the various grades and schools over the county and city and these names will be announced later.

ROTARY ENJOYS MUSIC

From Wednesday's Daily— At the meeting of the Plattsmouth Rotary club held yesterday at the Barclay restaurant, the members of the club enjoyed an exceptionally entertaining program that had been arranged by L. D. Hiatt, chairman of the meeting, in which was offered a number of the talented young people of the high school in a most interesting sketch of a musical nature, as well as Miss Ruth Lindsey, music supervisor being heard in a very fine solo number. The sketch was one that was presented at the Friday convocation of the high school and in which Ira Mumm was featured as the musical producer with George Saylor, bass; Marjorie Arn, contralto; Margaret Shellenbarger, soprano; Chester Lund, tenor; the young people each giving some fine solo numbers and as well several mixed quartet selections. Charles Nowacek, another of the musically gifted students served as the accompanist for the program in his usual finished manner.

In addition to the program the charges of membership were given to Judge A. H. Duxbury and E. H. Spangler in a most impressive manner by H. G. McClusky and the two new members made full pledged Rotarians.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION ELECTS

From Wednesday's Daily— The Tri-County Poultry and Pet Stock association last evening held their meeting following the close of the Happy Hundred supper and at which time the regular business of the association was taken up and the officers selected for the ensuing year. The following officers were selected to guide the destinies of this progressive poultry association for the next twelve months:

President—S. Ray Smith, Weeping Water. Vice-president—N. A. Morrow, Plattsmouth.

Directors—Frank McCamley, Springfield, Leon Haney, Springfield, for Sarry county; Fred Norenberg, Ithica, E. S. Schliefelbein, Wahoo, for Saunders county; Watson Howard, Greenwood and W. F. Nolte, Mynard, for Cass county.

The remaining officers will be named by the directors at their next meeting and the plans started for the coming year's work which will include the next poultry show in 1930.

L. C. Oberlies Talks on Spirit of Co-Operation

Noted Lincoln Civic Leader Is Speaker at Initial Happy Hundred Supper of Season

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening the initial Happy Hundred supper of the winter season was held at the Fellowship room of the First Presbyterian church and where the local people had the pleasure of having with them a large group of the officers and directors of the Tri-County Poultry show—the event being especially arranged for the paying of a special tribute to the leaders in the development of this important part of Nebraska agricultural life.

As the First Presbyterian church who arranged and served the supper in their usual delightful manner, had carried out the poultry show idea in the clever decorations of the table in the form of tiny chickens as well as in the delicious chicken pie which was a feature of the menu.

The large feast was disposed of by the large group and the banquets had joined in a number of the songs, Searl S. Davis, as the toastmaster took over the work of the conduct of the program and very cleverly introduced the various speakers and visitors of the evening whose presence made it especially notable in his opening. Mr. Davis called the attention of the supper party to the fact that in the three counties of Cass, Sarry and Saunders in the past year there has been produced poultry valued at $500,000 and the eggs and other poultry products amounted to $677,000, showing the immense value of this locality of the poultry development and upbuilding.

The Masonic quartet composed of Frank A. Claid, Raymond C. Cook, H. G. McClusky and R. W. Knorr, gave three very beautiful numbers, "Highway Home," "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Out of the Dusk to You," in a manner that held the closest attention of the large audience.

Mr. Davis then had a number of the guests present stood up and greeted among these being T. H. Pollock, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce and instrumental in the securing of the poultry show here; Watson Howard of Greenwood, president of the poultry association, R. N. Houser, Wahoo, secretary, J. W. Reed, county agent at Papillon, D. D. Wainwright, Weeping Water, Cass county agent, S. Ray Smith, Weeping Water, Leon Haney, Springfield, Frank McCamley, Springfield, Fred Norenberg, Ithica. Mr. Davis also had B. A. McElwain, just recently returned from California stood up and greeted by the members of the party.

Mr. Davis then introduced Prof. E. E. Monshell of the agricultural college of the University of Nebraska who have a few remarks along the line of the poultry industry, pointing out the great value of this production for the people of the state, how the methods of handling the industry had developed in the past years to one of the greatest in the state, how the associations such as the Tri-County association was striving to bring to the farmers and poultry raisers the best methods of feeding, housing, caring for and marketing their poultry to secure the very best results.

George Poague, one of the visitors at the show from College View, was called upon for a vocal number and responded with a very happy selection that was much enjoyed.

The speaker of the evening, L. C. Oberlies of Lincoln, one of the best known men of the state, former member of the state board of control and now with the publicity department of the Lincoln Telephone Co., was a most happy choice for the opening address of the winter season and was at his best in his humorous handling of this very timely topic, "Competition and Co-Operation." In his own able manner Mr. Oberlies illustrated by stories and incidents, the too often feeling of hatred and small methods of competition waged by persons in the same lines of trade or industry and how instead of this competition there should be co-operation among the dwellers in a community, how the men in the same lines of trade could better join in a frank and generous spirit of trade relations, striving through courtesy, service and friendly understanding to make their own business successful and not resorting to petty methods of trying to undermine the activities of their neighbors and fellow tradesmen. The improving conditions in the large corporations between the employer and employee was also touched upon with several very fine illustrations by the able speaker.

The address was one of the greatest of merit and held the closest attention of everyone until the close and as in his previous addresses Mr. Oberlies received a great ovation for his wonderful straight from the shoulder talk on a subject of the greatest interest.

The invocation was by the Rev. O. G. Wichman of the St. Paul's church and the benediction by the Rev. Sontor of the First Methodist church.

VISITING AT GLEN VALLEY'S

From Monday's Daily— Mrs. V. D. Parish of Elmwood, Nebraska, is visiting at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Valley, north of town. Mrs. Parish just returned from Excelsior Springs, Missouri, where she took treatments for a month. Mrs. Parish speaks very highly of Dr. Ball's hospital and anyone going there for treatments will make no mistake as there is a fine staff of doctors and modern methods are used in the entire institution.

Mynard Club Presents Very Clever Play

"The Hoodooed Coon" as Given by Community Club Proves a Real Evening of Fun

It started with a laugh And ended with a roar; And when it was all over You wanted some more.

The foregoing can truly be said of the farce, "The Hoodooed Coon" given at Mynard on Thursday and Friday nights by the Mynard Community club.

That it met with hearty approval by the audience each night, was evidenced by the hearty laughter and applause. Gideon Blair (Royal Smith) aged 93 and a multi-millionaire, was determined to marry his grandchild, Rosebud (Minnie Hike) to the son (Ted Carey) of his old friend. If either of the young people refused to marry the other, the one refusing lost a million dollars.

Tom (Ted Carey) who has never seen Rosebud, mistakes an old maid (Mrs. Barnard) for the heiress, and hires Tutt (Homer Spangler) to impersonate himself, thinking that the heiress will refuse to marry him. Rosebud tries to persuade Tutt not to marry her by feigning insanity, but when she learns that Tutt is merely masquerading as Tom, she nearly sears the life out of him.

The comedy scenes were furnished by Misery Moon (Raymond Cook) a hoodooed colored boy, always introduced by Miss Francis Livingston (Francis Livingston) whose every move and speech is rag-time; Paula Maleck (Minnie Kreager) who is after Tutt with a dynamite bomb; Samantha (Mrs. Barnard) the funny old maid and Patrick (Henry Lyons) the bewildered ticket-seller.

Misery Moon was the star part and his fights with a colored cook (who does not appear in the play) afforded great merriment, as did his great efforts to collect nine dollars from the old multi-millionaire.

Song specialties were introduced by Miss Francis Livingston and Miss Minnie Hike.

Music furnished by the Cole orchestra was heartily enjoyed and proved to be a valued asset.

The play was directed by Mrs. C. C. Barnard, who was assisted in the stage settings by members of the cast.

The proceeds of the play will be used to finish the Community Hall.

The entire cast is to be congratulated for their untiring efforts to make the play a success and the community can proudly boast of its talent.

FINE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday being the sixth birthday anniversary of Master Ralph Edward Hilt, his mother, Mrs. Ralph Hilt, prepared a very delightful birthday party at the home in the south part of the city and to enjoy which a number of the young friends were invited in to spend the afternoon. The time was devoted to games of all kinds which produced much merriment for all of the members of the party. At a suitable hour daily refreshments were served and which was featured by the birthday cake and its glowing candles. Mrs. Hilt was assisted in entertaining and serving by Mrs. Elmer Chamberlain, Mrs. John B. Kaffenberger and Miss Marjorie Shopp. Those who enjoyed the occasion were Richard and Genevieve O'Donnell, Betty Jo Libershal, Dolores Gradoville, James Maury, Elizabeth Ann Wiles, Junior and Betty Shiffer, Shirley Lois Chamberlain, Vern Shanholzt, Ralph Edward and Kenneth Gene Hilt.

COME AND SEE

BASHFUL MR. BOBBS, a 3-act play to be given at the Lewiston Community Center Friday, December 13th, at 8:00 o'clock. The Project clubs will have candy for sale. Admission 10c and 25c. Under direction of H. L. Gayer. 49-2w, 3d

Mrs. A. R. Stokes departed this morning for Omaha where she will enjoy a short visit at the home with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Richards and with the little grandson, Albert Ralph, who has been very ill for some weeks but is now slowly improving.

Poultry Show Brings Some Very Fine Birds Here

Exhibits From Eight Counties of the State Are Being Judged Today—400 Birds Here

From Wednesday's Daily— The Tri-County Poultry show which is now open to the public in this city is one of the largest and most attractive that has been held in the four years of the association life and some 400 birds are now on exhibit at the exposition at the American Legion building, where all of the best known strains of poultry is represented and several of the newer breeds of the chickens are being shown.

In the bright and attractive interior of the community building the stately birds that are here representing Cass, Sarry and Saunders counties, are seen at their best and are a worthy representative of this important part of the state resources.

There are shown birds from Cass, Saunders, Sarry, Douglas, Gering, Lancaster, Otoe and Madison counties, the representation from the largest number of counties that has so far been shown in any of the exhibitions of poultry under the auspices of the Tri-State association.

The judging of the birds is being conducted this afternoon by R. Redditt of the agricultural college of the University of Nebraska and the result will be announced in the last days of the big show.

Among the notable showings at the exposition is Joe V., grand champion cocker of the showing of last year and one of the outstanding birds of the flock of E. E. Hansen of Lincoln, who specializes in the white wyandotte, of which Joe V. is one of the representatives.

Another of the outstanding exhibits is that of Frank Pierce of Greenwood with his Buff Orpingtons of the single comb variety, he having won the prize for the largest showing at the 1928 show at Ashland, and this year one of the largest of the showings at the Plattsmouth exhibition is that of G. G. Felletz of Coresco, who has 14 dark and 22 light barred rocks here to contend for the honors of the show.

In the showings the barred rocks and buff orpingtons are the most numerous, the barred rocks being shown numbering 102 birds of both the dark and light variety.

In speaking of the show, R. N. Houser of Wahoo, the secretary, stated that the members of the Tri-County Poultry show were delighted with the manner in which the association had been received here and the great interest and hospitality that had been shown by the Plattsmouth people and in the show and in the treatment of the visitors here at the show. He was also very loud in his praise of the fine place for the holding of the show, the best that the association has experienced so far in their showings.

The show has in the pens an array of poultry that is a treat to behold whether or not you are a poultry raiser and as the admission is free and the management will have the show open evenings there is no reason why everyone in the community should not be in attendance.

The exhibitors showing in the big poultry show embrace the following: Herbert Heldt, Ithica, buff minorcas; Mrs. H. F. Walk, Battle Creek, buff minorcas; John Shandorff, Ashland, white and buff minorcas, all having large exhibits as has John Reed of Nebraska City with buff orpingtons. Others showing are Fred Rehmeier, single comb brown leghorns; Edward Gansamer, Nehawka, buff orpingtons; Anton Hobza, Colon, single comb brown leghorns; August Bierman, Wisner, buff orpingtons and white rocks; Mrs. R. E. Norris, Weeping Water, white rocks; Duane Reed, Weeping Water, a 4-H boy, dark barred rocks; Mrs. C. L. Wilson, Plattsmouth, dark barred rocks; Leon Haney, Springfield, dark barred rocks; Mrs. Fred Kruse of Benson, barred rocks; Ruen ducks, White African geese; C. C. Barnard, Mynard, white langshans and also wyandotte and longshane capons.

Raymond Kruse, a 4-H boy, of Benson, barred rocks; Mrs. Albert Young, Murray, white Chinese geese; Noble Kiser, Mynard, black langshans, and single comb Rhode Island Reds; Frank McCamley, Springfield, barred rocks; Mrs. A. Sandburg, Memphis, white and black Jersey giants, a new variety of poultry that is being shown for the first time; W. N. Brink, Plattsmouth, white leghorns; Fred Norenberg, Ithica, white wyandottes; Milford Reed, Weeping Water, white langshans; Milford Smith, Weeping Water, white leghorns; Julius Pitz, Plattsmouth, buff orpingtons; Mrs. E. H. Spangler, Plattsmouth, buff orpingtons; Ivan Rodanz, Unadilla, single comb Rhode Island reds; F. E. Murphy, Weeping Water, single comb Rhode Island reds, buff orpingtons; Mrs. B. G. Metzger, Springfield, buff rocks; W. E. Poague, College View, white rocks; C. L. Pittman, Chimchilla, rabbits; August Bierman, Wisner, white Pekin ducks.
