In the often days the shingle was
the board of education.

If the world is farther to the thought the thoughts must be changing.

Foggy days seldom satisfactory. The best way is not to need them.

A small star in shoes often means large stars from the wearer.

You can't gain admission to a man's confidence by knocking.

Wall Street's great trick is to take a bomb and make a point out of him.

Any time you emphasize his wife into doing the thing she wants to do.

The residents of South America have three times three or Africa only two.

Many a man needs a job to justify what his wife can do most of the time.

Only 15 days until Christmas—and they are not all shopping days either.

Even the lazy man enjoys seeing other men work.

It is easier to be good than great;
there is less opposition.

The Little Black has gone south for their winter vacation.

Man has all the vices of other animals and a few of his own.

Logan berries were produced by crossing raspberries and blackberries.

Correction should start with the high chair and not with the electric chair.

Our idea of a frenzied financier is a man who buys a pocket book on credit.

Homer tells business men "good old world—work" should be their motto.

One of the miracles of Wall Street is the way the banks have been turned into goats.

Many a wife's idea of a husband is some one who will break both his neck and himself helping her to please herself.

Father may be helpless about getting daughter to slip on something else, but Old Man Winter often makes her slip on the ice.

A prominent actress observes that the theatre is on its last legs. But the general public will have a different view as long as Ziegfeld is active.
