Christmas is Day of Beauty and Happiness

Ideal Weather Conditions Makes Possible the Fullest Enjoyment by the Residents Here

The Christmas day of 1929 was all that one could wish as far as the weather was concerned and the Plattsmouth people had the opportunity of a real spring like day prevailing and which added much to the delight of the community in this very happy occasion.

The spirit of Christmas was reflected in the services held on Tuesday evening in the churches of the city.

The Christmas programs of the Sunday schools of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches were held at 7:30 on Tuesday evening and consisted of the programs by the little folks as well as the distributions of the treats to the members of the schools.

In the religious services the midnight mass at the St. John's and Holy Rosary Catholic churches drew out large congregations that filled the structures to their capacity and the members of the two parishes were given the communion at this service. The impressive high mass was celebrated at the St. John's church by Father George Aites and at the Holy Rosary by Father Jerry Hanck.

The impressive choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist was celebrated at the St. Luke's Episcopal church on Tuesday evening at 11:15 with the services being conducted by the Rt. Rev. Ernest Vincent Shaylor, bishop of Nebraska. There was a very pleasing congregation of the members and many from outside the church to take part in the services.

The St. Paul's Evangelical church had the usual Christmas service on Wednesday morning and which was attended by a very large number of the members of the congregation. This church also had the Tuesday evening program and exercises of the Sunday school which was enjoyed to the utmost by the school and the younger people.

The day as a rule was largely given over to home and family gatherings and the happy and festive atmosphere of greeting which makes this day the one in the year when the message of "Peace on Earth and Good Will to Man" comes the nearest to being universally observed.

SIGNS OF SPRING

William Dasher, foreman of the local section gang of the Burlington, while engaged in some work in the upper parts north of the local passenger station, discovered an unusual insect for this time of the year. Mr. Dasher observed a small grasshopper, a visitor in this section in the summer season and which lured by the springlike condition of Christmas day came out of the winter quarters to get a little of the spring-like day. The hopper was taken to the Burlington station where it was placed on display as an encouragement to the force that the spring season was almost here.

Sheriff Makes Big Drouth at Weeping Water

Pre-Christmas Visitation Results in Securing Supply of "Moonshine" Tuesday.

The Christmas flow of spirits, which might have contributed to the gaiety of the holiday season at Weeping Water, was decidedly short as the result of a visitation there on Tuesday afternoon of Sheriff Bert Reed, Deputy Sheriff Rex Young, and Constable Tom Svoboda.

The reports of the activity of the illicit liquor traffic has been under investigation by the sheriff for some time and on Tuesday warrants were prepared for two of the suspected places, one of which was that of a party who was just a short time ago taken in on a similar charge.

The visit of the sheriff and his force was unexpected and with the result that the supply that might have regaled the thirsty is now reposing in the vault at the office of the county attorney to await final disposition when the action against the parties are taken.

At the residence of Lawson Conrad it was found that he had several gallons of the real "moon" on hand and which was ruthlessly gathered in and brought on into this city together with the owner of the stock, who a few weeks ago was taken on a similar charge at a farm near Weeping Water.

The officers also visited the home of Ross Dennis where a small quantity of hooch was found together with some beer and which the officers also seized.

HOLIDAY WORKOUTS

Captain Roy Turner of the Plattsmouth high school basketball team is having his team work out every morning during the school vacation and to partake in the service of the day. The services were presided over by Oliver C. Hudson, commander of the local commandery. As guests of the commandery the members of Cass Chapter of the DeMolay were present. The invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The Christmas greetings from Grand Master William L. Sharp and the response by Grand Commander Samuel H. Burrows, of Nebraska, were given by the recorder, John E. Schütz.

ENJOY FAMILY REUNION

The home of Mrs. Rose Bookmeyer on Marble street has been the scene for the past few days of a very delightful Christmas party and family reunion as the holiday season has brought Mr. and Mrs. George Koehnke and family from Hay Springs, Nebraska, as well as other guests, to spend the holiday here. Mrs. Koehnke was formerly Miss Mary Svoboda, sister of Mrs. Bookmeyer.

The Koehnke family are spending the week here, motoring from their home in the northwest part of the state where they have extensive interests in the potato growing sections, and were joined here by their son, Marx Koehnke, who is now located in Mississippi as inspector for certified seed potatoes, this state supplying a great deal of the crop for the south, and Mr. Koehnke was joined at St. Louis by his brother, George, Jr., who came on with him to this city.

Other out of town guests here for the reunion were Miss Marion Gaswick of Omaha and Misses Imogene and Roma Turcek of Chadron.

DRAWS TWENTY DAYS

From Friday's Daily—Judge Lester Palmer at Omaha yesterday gave a sentence of twenty days in the city jail there, to Ronald Helget of this city. The young man was charged with a violation of the motor vehicle law by operating a car while under the influence of liquor and in view of the large number of accidents that have occurred in the state metropolis in the past year as the result of auto law violations the court gave the young man the jail sentence rather than a fine.

Christmas Day Observed at the Warner Home

Occasion Marked Golden Wedding Anniversary and Birthday of Mr. Warner

From Thursday's Daily—The observance of the Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Warner in this city was made doubly happy yesterday as it marked the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Warner as well as the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of Mr. Warner, and the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meisinger, the latter a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warner, formerly Mable Howard.

The golden wedding anniversary dinner was arranged by the members of the family without the knowledge of the guests of honor and who were very happily surprised when the group of some thirty-two of the members of the family circle gathered to spend the day and join in the festivities that marked the occasion.

The home was very handsomely arranged in the beautiful cut flowers as well as the bright and attractive Christmas decorations that lent a very bright note to the decorative plan.

In honor of the occasion the guests of honor received a large number of most attractive gifts of flowers, gold pieces and many other very beautiful gifts that expressed the love and esteem held for these two splendid citizens of this community. Among the gifts was a box of fruit sent from Florida by George W. Warner and daughter and which was a very much appreciated gift of the holiday.

The chief feature of the day was the dinner served at mid-day and which was one that embraced all of the good things that can be found in this section of the west. Gold place cards were used with the flowers in the table decorations while the large cake that formed the centerpiece of the table was prepared by Mrs. Roy Howard, a daughter and was a most beautiful feature of the occasion.

The day was occupied in visiting and a general family gathering in which all joined and making the event one that will long be remembered by all who were fortunate to be in attendance.

The bride of fifty years ago, formerly Miss Barbara Willes, was born in Cass county, January 27, 1862, a member of one of the pioneer families of the west, while Mr. Warner was born in Illinois December 25, 1854, but has largely made his home in this country. This estimable couple were married at the United Brethren church on Christmas day 1879 by the Rev. Keniston, and have since made their home in this locality and resided at the farm just west of this city up until a few years ago when they came to this city to reside.

There are living of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Warner, seven children, two having passed away, and eighteen grandchildren.

Those who enjoyed the gathering yesterday were Messrs and Mesdames Will Warza, Roy E. Howard, Leonard Terryberry, William Wetenkamp, Wallace Warner, Claude Hutchison, Herman Meisinger, Gretchen, Vivian, Helen, Donald and Charles Warner, Charles, Edward and Grant Howard, Catherine and Wallace Terryberry, William, Frances and Mary Catherine Wetenkamp, Kitty Mae and Jimmy Hutchison and Miss Marjorie Joyce of Weeping Water.

The fact that it is possible to get to and from the new traffic bridge over the Missouri river at this place, is bringing a very large number to the structure every day, passing over the bridge to Iowa and return for the purpose of trying out the new link that is to unite the states of Iowa and Nebraska. The bridge is being used a great deal by those who have business on either side of the river and several trucks have made the trip to and from the Iowa side of the river.

This bridge is a link that will cut the distance to the live stock market at Omaha for the Iowa farmers some forty miles and give them the advantage of a direct line into the south-side and the market instead of the long trip around through the business sections of Council Bluffs and Omaha that was required heretofore.

Those who are traveling to and from the bridge are urged to exercise caution in driving as the road is still incomplete and until the guard rails are placed along the new highway there will be elements of danger.

Mrs. M. A. Street, one of the old residents of the city, who has, for the past few years been in failing health, has in the past few days become very serious in her condition and her advanced years and enfeebled health has made it necessary that she be conned to her bed. The patient has been gradually growing weaker and gives but little hope of recovery.

Harry Schulz, operator of the local Missouri Pacific passenger station, departed Tuesday for St. Louis where he entered the Missouri Pacific hospital at that place and will undergo an operation for appendicitis today. The members of the family accompanied Mr. Schulz and will remain there with him until after the operation. The many friends here trust that Mr. Schulz may have a very speedy recovery and soon be able to resume his usual activities.

On Tuesday evening as the community was preparing to observe the beautiful anniversary of the birth of the King of Kings, the bringer of the message of eternal life and redemption, one of the devout followers of the Master, Mrs. Mary L. Wescott, received the call to the eternal reward at the family home on High school hill, where she had spent so many years of life.

The news of the death caused a great sorrow among the many old time friends in the community and who share with the bereaved family the loss that has come to them in the calling away of the mother and grandmother.

In her years here Mrs. Wescott has been a devout worker in her church, laboring diligently in the advancement of the ideals of her ideals of her faith in the many years of her long and useful life and this splendid Christian character has left in the hearts of her loved ones a comforting thought through the abiding faith of the mother.

ATTENDS BAR ASSOCIATION

From Friday's Daily—This morning District Judge James T. Begley departed for Lincoln where he was called to attend the meeting of two of the committees of the Nebraska State Bar association, being the chairman of the memorial committee and also a member of the committee that has taken up the matter of the elimination of jury trials in many cases that are now tried before juries. This is a very important matter that has been discussed at many of the bar association meetings by eminent jurists and members of the bar and which will also be one of the chief objects of discussion at the forthcoming meeting of the state association.

Toll House for New Bridge to be Placed

Structure Will Be Brought From Omaha via Council Bluffs and Placed on the Bridge

The fine new steel and concrete traffic bridge over the Missouri river at this point is to have one of the finishing touches given to it today or Saturday when the toll house, which has been built at the plant of the Omaha Steel Works will be placed.

The toll house has been prepared all ready for placing and will be brought by truck through Council Bluffs and Glenwood to the new bridge and will be placed at the west end of the bridge structure.

President H. A. Schneider of the Plattsmouth Bridge Co., stated today that the company, however, would not start the taking of tolls until the roadway on the east side of the bridge is nearer completion, at the present time the travel over the road being rather rough and not so convenient.

The new bridge is attracting much attention and inquiries have been received here from many points in the state as to the travel and the use of the structure for parties driving from distant points in the state to the east.

The structure will be a great addition to the means of travel and making it possible to save the time of time to the auto drivers and trucks in getting from points east or west or in reaching Omaha with stock shipments.

On the Iowa side of the bridge the road is in good shape and makes travel very easy but the necessity of building a new highway on the west side has caused some delay in the bridge opening but this will soon be out of the way and the formal opening of the new structure will be announced and at which time it is hoped to have both the governors of Iowa and Nebraska present to join in the opening of the structure that will remove the river barrier between the two great states of the middle west.

GIVES SHOWER FOR BRIDE

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor on North 11th street was the scene of a very delightful gathering of young people, the event being a miscellaneous party in honor of Mrs. Charles Goodman, formerly Miss Viola Taylor.

The home was arranged in the Christmas decorations and here the time was spent most delightfully in cards and games of all kinds as well as enjoying a number of musical selections.

In honor of the event the guest of honor was presented with a number of very handsome gifts as expressions of the esteem held by the host of friends in this city and vicinity.

At the close of the evening dainty and delicious refreshments were served that added to the pleasures of the occasion.

PURCHASES FARM HERE

From Saturday's Daily—This morning William Clark, one of the long time residents of Mills county, Iowa, in company with his two sons, was in the city arranging the closing details of the purchase of some land known as the Kendall farm south of this city and north-east of Union. Mr. Clark resided in this city some forty-seven years ago and had the distinction of being the champion speller in the contest held here in 1853 while he was attending school and recalled well that he had a real contest with many remaining in the race until the last when he was able to spell the necessary word to clinch the contest.

WILL UNDERGO OPERATION

From Thursday's Daily—Harry Schulz, operator of the local Missouri Pacific passenger station, departed Tuesday for St. Louis where he entered the Missouri Pacific hospital at that place and will undergo an operation for appendicitis today. The members of the family accompanied Mr. Schulz and will remain there with him until after the operation. The many friends here trust that Mr. Schulz may have a very speedy recovery and soon be able to resume his usual activities.

On Christmas night quite a number of the dance lovers of the city and vicinity were at the dance given by the Elks lodge at the Legion building. The music for the occasion was given by the Knights of Melody, a local organization of young men under the direction of Charles Nowacek. This orchestra has been heard a number of times at various social events and has proven a very popular and pleasing musical organization.

On Tuesday evening as the community was preparing to observe the beautiful anniversary of the birth of the King of Kings, the bringer of the message of eternal life and redemption, one of the devout followers of the Master, Mrs. Mary L. Wescott, received the call to the eternal reward at the family home on High school hill, where she had spent so many years of life.

Mrs. Mary L. Wescott Called to the Final Rest

Long Time Resident of This Community Peacefully Sinks Into the Last Long Slumber

On Tuesday evening as the community was preparing to observe the beautiful anniversary of the birth of the King of Kings, the bringer of the message of eternal life and redemption, one of the devout followers of the Master, Mrs. Mary L. Wescott, received the call to the eternal reward at the family home on High school hill, where she had spent so many years of life.

The news of the death caused a great sorrow among the many old time friends in the community and who share with the bereaved family the loss that has come to them in the calling away of the mother and grandmother.

In her years here Mrs. Wescott has been a devout worker in her church, laboring diligently in the advancement of the ideals of her ideals of her faith in the many years of her long and useful life and this splendid Christian character has left in the hearts of her loved ones a comforting thought through the abiding faith of the mother.

Mary Louise (Coffin) Wescott, daughter of Charles G. and Margaret Ann Coffin, was born April 21st, 1848, at Madison, New York.

When a child her parents moved to McGrawville, New York, and near which place her childhood and girlhood were spent. Her education was received in school there, and completed in Seminary at LaPorte, Indiana.

At the age of fourteen she was confirmed in the Christian faith, and united with the Baptist church, of which her father was an honored Deacon, and in which church she retained her membership until uniting with the First Methodist church in Plattsmouth in later years.

On April 13th, 1868, she was united in marriage to Clarence Edgar Wescott at LaPorte, Indiana, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. P. Ash. Their residence continued at LaPorte until 1871, when they removed to what is now Arlington, Iowa. Here their first child, Charles Clifford, was born on October 3rd, 1873. A change in residence in 1875 located them again in LaPorte, where on July 25th, 1878, their second child, Edgar Hill, was born.

In April, 1879, the family located in Plattsmouth, where Mr. Wescott established the business which has borne his name to the present time. In August, 1882, their third child, Earl Coffin was born.

In 1912 Mr. and Mrs. Wescott removed to Los Angeles, California, which city has since been their home and where their son Earl has also made his home since 1910.

Mrs. Wescott wished to spend her last days in the old home, "Sunny-side," Plattsmouth, and arrive here Wednesday, December 18th of this present year, where it was hoped that even though her health was failing, and her condition was frail, she might gain the strength to enjoy the Christmas season with her loved ones. However, this hope could not be realized, and her decline was so rapid that at 8 o'clock Christmas evening she sank peacefully to sleep, surrounded by her children. She is survived by her three sons and their families. Her husband preceded her in death, his demise occurring in Los Angeles in January, 1924.

At her request the following paragraph is quoted:

"To all my dear friends who have contributed so much to my happiness on earth—and to those who may pay their last beautiful tributes to me—I leave and bestow my loving and grateful appreciation."

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Mrs. James T. Begley, president of the local Choral Union, which organization took part in the recent presentation of "The Messiah," at Omaha on December 16th, has received a letter from Prof. N. J. Logan, director of the oratorio, in which he desired to express his appreciation to the Plattsmouth people who took part in the presentation.

Mr. Logan states, "Let me assure you that your organization was a very important factor in making a success of this project. Please extend my sincere appreciation to the members of the Plattsmouth Choral Union for their co-operation."

Recover Car Stolen at Shubert Tuesday

Left Along Detour West of This City—Used by Men Robbing Falls City Hotel

From Friday's Daily—Vern M. Lewis of Shubert, Nebraska, was here today to secure his auto, a Whippet coach, that was found abandoned near the Henry F. Notling farm west of the city.

This car was stolen Tuesday and is thought to have been driven away by two men who had earlier in the day robbed the Hotel Weaver of some $55 in change and made their escape, apparently stopping at Shubert and taking the car of Mr. Lewis to make their way on northward into Omaha.

Local authorities were not notified of the robbery or the theft at the time and the chance of apprehending the men was lost as they had ample opportunity to abandon the car and make their getaway before it was found.

Mr. Lewis was here with the representative of the Home Insurance Co. of New York of which A. H. and R. M. Duxbury are the local representatives and the owner of the car was allowed the necessary repairs to the car as well as the cost of recovering it by the insurance and returned home well pleased with the result of his settlement and the prompt work of the local officers in notifying him of the finding of the car.

Alumni Wins Game from the Blue and White

Former Stars of the High School Battle the Blue and White of 1929, 29 to 16

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening the annual struggle between the regular high school quintet and the members of the teams of the past years occurred on the local high school court and was witnessed by a handful of the fans who gathered to enjoy the event.

The alumni team had in their line up Joe Krejci, former all state high school and college center, who, however, played guard, as well as Russell Wasley, former Peru captain, Bernard Galloway, a member of this year's Bobcats and Ralph Mason, who is also playing at Peru. Odraba and Joe Hartford, both former pilots of the Platters and who are home from college, as well as Allan McClanahan and Jack Hatt.

In the opening half of the game Wasley served as referee and in the second period Joe Krejci held the indicator and made the battle more exacting with his rulings.

The Platters made the first scoring through the Alumni to ring a basket, but this was the last time the Platters held the lead as the old heads proceeded to pile up an eight to six lead at the close of the quarter. In the second quarter the high school slipped badly as they were held scoreless while the Alumni through two baskets each by Bernard Galloway and Jack Hatt and a loop by Joe Krejci added ten more points for an eighteen to six lead at the half.

In the second half the regulars were able to make a more formidable showing and added ten points while the Alumni made eleven, with the high school team missing many free throws that would have aided in closing the gap between the two teams.

In the scoring the high point men were Bernard and John Galloway, the first having ten points for the Alumni while Joe Krejci added nine of the scores of the Platters.

The following was the box score of the battle.
