Viaduct for New Highway is Now Under Way

Structure That Will Complete New Highway to Missouri River Bridge to Be Pushed

The viaduct that will be built from the top of the hill on Wintersteen hill to Third street is now under way, the work of driving the piling for the structure is being looked after by the Burlington railroad which has the contract for the completion of the viaduct.

The pile driver reached here the last of the week and the work of driving the piling will be continued now as rapidly as possible in order that the viaduct may be ready in thirty days, which it is estimated will be required to complete the work and have this last link in the new highway ready.

The work is checked somewhat by the small force employed on the bridge gang of the railroad company at this season of the year but all possible speed will be used in getting the work completed.

The grading for the approach, which is being done by the city as their part of the highway is being rushed by the contractor, F. L. Busche and his part of the job should be completed by the last of this week or the first of next and make it possible to place the surfacing on the highway.

The grading in the city limits is being cared for by the city and the viaduct cost is largely paid by the city with the railroad company and bridge company each paying $4,250 of the cost while the city pays the sum of $10,000.

NEED RESOLVE? TRY THIS ONE

Lincoln, Dec. 31.—A pledge, suitable for all Nebraskans whether they be natives or born or adopted sons, has been drafted by Joe G. Alden, state director of publicity, as a suitable New Year's resolution.

Here it is:
"I resolve that in 1930 I will remember the benefits that have come to me through living in a state of golden opportunity. That I will be as loyal to Nebraska as she has been good to me. And I will show my gratitude in forgetting her little faults which are few, and remembering her great virtues, which are many."
"That I will tune my horn to concert pitch so that I may grace a seat in her great symphony orchestra. For I want to assist in rendering the grand paean of praise that is born in Nebraska fields, whispered by Nebraska breezes, sung by Nebraska birds, loved by Nebraska cattle, clucked by Nebraska hens, hummed by Nebraska industries and brought to its grand finale by the fervent amens of her grateful citizens."

The pledge closes with the resolution: "Be short, to be a constant loyal Nebraskan, no matter the weather, in 1930."

CATERER FACES JAIL IF PATRONS DRINK GIN

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Further difficulties were heaped in the way of Chicagoans planning New Year's eve festivities Monday when it was learned that a cafe owner will be liable to a year in jail if a patron uses one of his glasses to drink liquor from.

ENJOY CHRISTMAS

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by a number of relatives at the P. J. Wheeler home south of the city Christmas day.
The main thing on the program for the day being the dinner prepared which was enjoyed to the utmost.
They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Halter and son of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barthold, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dick, Glenwood, and Mrs. Pearl Patterson.
One enjoyable feature during the dinner were telegrams of greetings received from J. C. Wheeler unable to attend.

OBSERVE HOLIDAY

The court house was a place of quietude today as the county officers and their employes had the day off to enjoy the holiday and the offices were closed, a few of the officials coming down to look over mail or other matters and then returning homeward to feast.
The banks of the city also enjoyed the occasion by closing all day and having a brief outing from the grind of the daily banking business.
With the closing of the stores at noon the business section much resembled that of Goldsmith's celebrated deserted village as the larger part of the residents spent the time at home resting from the New Year's eve outings and listening in on the Pacific coast football games.

BOX SUPPER AND PROGRAM

A box supper and program will be given at West Grove school, District 58, Friday evening, January 3rd. Everyone welcome. Ladies bring a box.

Death of Member of Pioneer Family of City

Lafayette O'Neill, Son of First Settler Here Passed Away in South Dakota

The news has been received here of the death of Lafayette O'Neill, a son of James O'Neill, who, with Samuel Martin, laid out the city of Plattsmouth and was one of the very earliest settlers that came across the Missouri river to settle in the then Indian country. James O'Neill laid out that section of the city that embraces a part of the Burlington shops and the section to the south.

The family resided here for a great many years, but all of the O'Neill family are now gone from here, the only descendant of the man that assisted in the foundation of the city that are remaining here being Henry Herold and Mrs. A. L. Tidd, who are grandchildren of James O'Neill.

The following is a short sketch of the late Lafayette O'Neill: He was born in the town of Rainy, near Creighton, December 3rd 1829, at the age of 76 years.

At 10:30 Tuesday morning, December 2nd, he suffered a stroke, and passed away at 6:30 the same evening. His sudden death was a great shock to his family, friends and the community, where he had lived so long.

Mr. O'Neill came to South Dakota from Plattsmouth, Nebraska, in 1906. His family came two years later, and they built up the Rainy Creek Ranch where he lived at the time of his death.
His wife died October 25th, 1909, and a daughter, Mrs. Rachel Reedy, passed away July 12th, 1922.

In April 1925 he married Mrs. Agner Dilger, who survives him. Besides he leaves two sons, James D. of Missoula, Montana, Thos. E. of Wall, a daughter, Mrs. Matt Smith of Pedro, and a granddaughter, Patricia Reedy of Seattle, Washington.
His wife, daughter of Mrs. Smith and son, Thomas, were at his bedside at the time of his death. His son, James, from Missoula, Montana, came as soon as possible.

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church at Wall, Thursday, at 10:30 in the forenoon, Rev. Fr. Connolly officiating. The body was taken to Rapid City where it was buried at 10:30 Friday morning.

FUNERAL OF MR. HITT

The funeral services of the late Charles Hitt were held on Tuesday afternoon at the latter funeral home at Fourth and Vine street and a very large number of the old time friends were in attendance at the services and to pay their last respects to the memory of this excellent citizen that had been called to his reward.

The services were in charge of Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who in his remarks and selection of the scripture brought comfort and hope to the members of the sorrowing family circle.

During the service a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. James W. Hitt, Miss Estelle Hitt, George L. Farley and H. G. McClusky, who gave several of the old and loved hymns of peace and hope.

At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to the Oak Hill cemetery west of this city where it was consigned to the last long rest. The pall bearers were selected from the old friends and neighbors and comprised William Higfield, L. D. McKinney, W. A. Wells, Andrew Kroehler, William Oliver, V. T. Arn.

BATTER DOWN CAGE DOORS

Lexington, Ky.—After battering down caging on the third floor, seven prisoners, including one brought here for safe keeping on a charge of murder, dropped to the ground in the rear of the Fayette county jail late Tuesday by means of a rope of sheets, and made their escape. Nine other prisoners were prevented from fleeing by the arrival of William Holland, jailer, and two deputies.

The seven who escaped are: Jack Cudum, brought here from Prestonsburg charged with murder; J. C. Ackman, postoffice robbery; W. F. Ramsey, disposing of mortgaged property; O. R. Simmons and Hubert T. Higgs, forgery; and B. P. Cotter and Frank Brown, grand larceny.

It was the second time Ackman had escaped. About a month ago he was captured at Williamsburg.

WEST IS CULTURE CENTER

Chicago—The west, and not the east, is the cultural center of the United States, Forrest B. Spaulding, city librarian of Des Moines, said in a talk before the American Library association Tuesday. The speaker interpreted culture as the reading of books, and in this, he said, the Pacific coast far exceeded the midwest and east. According to Spaulding's figures, a typical town in the east, Providence, R. I., reads 40 per cent less than Des Moines, a city of similar size. He declared this indicated that the middle west ranks second to the west in cultural tendencies, and added that the east is "a poor third."

Omaha Bakers Win Case Over Occupation Tax

Action in Which City of Fremont is Defendant Decided in Favor of Baking Companies

From Wednesday's Daily—
The long pending case of the P. F. Peterson Co., of Omaha against the City of Fremont, in which the matter of the validity of the occupation tax of the city of Fremont, levying a tax of $300 against the bread trucks operating in that city was involved, was decided yesterday by the state supreme court in favor of the plaintiff.

This case is of a great deal of interest in Plattsmouth as the local council adopted their occupation tax modeled somewhat after that of Fremont and which had a provision placing the occupation of the bread trucks at $150 a year and which was opposed by the baking companies of Omaha. Litigation in the case now pending in the district court.
The full decision has not been received here but the ruling of the state high court will have an important bearing here as the same ruling will no doubt would apply to the Plattsmouth ordinance.
The baking companies won the trial in the Dodge county district court and the Peterson and Standard bakeries recovered a judgment of $600 for the amount of the tax from the city, the city of Fremont appealed the case to the state supreme court and with the result that the action of the district court was affirmed.

New Year is Ushered in Very Quietly Here

Several Watch Parties and Dance Assist in Welcoming the Year 1930 Here

The year 1930 came into being in this community in a very quiet and unassuming way and little from the ordinary marked the fact that the finger of time had turned another page and started the world on another trip around the calendar.

A great many of the residents spent the time awaiting the new year at the dance given by the Plattsmouth Volunteer fire department, the dancers while away the time most pleasantly until the stroke of twelve o'clock ushered in the new year of 1930 and which was greeted by the orchestra and the dancers with enthusiasm and cheers.

One of the most extensive New Year observances was that held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church where the Junior Church held open house at the basement room of the church building from 7:30 until the coming of the New Year and where an appropriate program was given culminating with the short religious services as the members of the party bid 1929 farewell and welcomed the coming of the new horn year.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church also held a watch party at the church where the members enjoyed a fine social time until the midnight hours when their devotional service ushered in the new year appropriately.

As the New Year arrived the church bells were sounded over the city as well as the shouts and cheers of those on the streets and the horns of the various autos joined in the greeting to the season, but this was soon passed and the usual calm settled over the community.

A great many local people enjoyed the occasion at Omaha where the midnight theatre of dinner parties served to add to the gaiety of the occasion and made the occasion one of more than passing interest.
