Horses and Mules.
I have some sixteen head of well broken horses and mules, which I will sell or trade for other property. Better see me before the time comes for commencing farming.—E. E. Leach, Union, Nebraska. 127-37w.

Will Farm This Year
Louis Burbee will farm this year and has arranged to go on the Harry M. Frans farm in a short time. Harry is a hustler and should make a good farmer and we are certain he will succeed.

Been Sawing Lumber.
Henry H. Becker has been conducting a saw mill over near the river on lands of his father, where he has been making an excellent quantity of hard wood lumber and on last Tuesday took a truck load of the lumber to Omaha where he had it sold.

Attended Threshers Convention.
Floyd Saxton was a visitor to Lincoln going on Tuesday, where he went to attend the three days convention of the Nebraska Threshers Association which is meeting in Lincoln this week.

Beats the School Boy.
Uncle W. L. Hoback who is sure a sport when it comes to fishing and out of door sport, with the warm days which has been in evidence for some time past clearing the river and the Weeping Water creek, he could not resist the temptation to go with rod and line he was down on the banks trying his luck with fish and by the way he had very good luck at that for he got a goodly string of the flippers.

Had An Excellent Time.
It has been the practice of the Methodist Bible school to hold a birthday party every month, and for the members of the classes whose birthday falls in the current month. However, the bad weather and the prevalent smallpox, and following that, the measles, kept the school from celebrating the occasion. However, on Tuesday of this week, they celebrated the event for the past three months, they putting on a program and also having birthday cakes and candles for all whose birthday anniversaries had fallen in the past three months, December, January and February. All enjoyed an excellent time.

MABEL NORMAND FUNERAL
Los Angeles.—A public funeral for Mabel Normand, who died Sunday in a Monrovia, Calif., sanitarium, was suggested Monday by friends as a last tribute to the popular comedienne. Definite arrangements were held in abeyance, however, pending the arrival from New York of the actress' mother, Mrs. Mary Normand; a brother, Claude, Jr., and a sister, Gladys. Services at the Church of the Good Shepherd tentatively were set for Friday. Suggestions that Miss Normand's body lie in state at the mortuary here were also considered as hundreds of letters and telegrams and telephone calls were received by her husband, Lew Cody.

Depositors of Failed Banks Open Headquarters

Representatives Arrive at Lincoln to Prepare for the Coming Legislative Meeting

Headquarters for the Nebraska depositors' league, an organization of creditors in failed state banks, was established at Lincoln Saturday at the Hotel Conhusker by R. T. Jones of Scottsbluff, its secretary and manager, who announced that active work will be done before and during the extra session of the legislature to see that all depositors get a "square deal."

Frankly declaring his own lack of faith in the program outlined by Governor Weaver, Mr. Jones insists that the state is morally obligated to provide the means for paying depositors "every dime" which they have lost in institutions under its control and protection. Of the $20,000,000 deficit he thinks the state itself should pay 75 per cent and the solvent banks the other 25 per cent through continued assessments levied upon them in addition to the $3,000,000 of accrued installments which they now owe to the guaranty fund.

The guaranty law itself, Jones believes, should be left substantially as it now is, at least until the deficit is cleaned up. He does not personally favor the South Dakota plan, suggested by Governor Weaver, under which banks would build up individual reserves equal to their capital stock in the form of bonds and other securities deposited with the state treasurer. It would take years to build up these reserves, but it is hoped that the guaranty fund would not be sufficient to guarantee more than a small part of the deposits.

The plan of campaign which the depositors' league will follow is to hold a series of local meetings in various counties and then arrange a mass meeting at Lincoln while the legislature is in session. In that way it is hoped to impress the legislators with the fact that those who had money in failed banks and have not yet been paid are expecting full reimbursement.

For the present week, the following schedule of meetings is announced:
Monday, at Superior; Wednesday at Stromsburg, including depositors of that place, Polk, and Osceola, Friday, at Geneva.

In addition, State Senator Kenneth C. Whelan of Pawnee City is to make a radio talk on Tuesday from station KFNF at Shenandoah, Ia., at 10:15 p. m.

There will also be a meeting at South Sioux City on March 3, the day before the legislature convenes at Lincoln for the opening of its session. He said he had received requests up to this time for meetings at 24 different places. Dates for these will be given out as soon as they have been arranged.

Headquarters for the depositors' league will be in two rooms on the fifth floor of the Commercial hotel. Mr. Jones and his wife are now located there. Miss Cecil Schroeder of Scottsbluff will come to Lincoln and assist in the activities.

Each county meeting will be asked to elect three delegates to attend the mass meeting at Lincoln after March 1, at which permanent officers of the depositors' league will be selected and a state mass meeting called. The latter assemblage will be set for a date while the legislature is in session, the idea being to emphasize to some extent that the depositors in failed banks want.

Holds State Responsible.
"The state is morally obligated to these people to see that their losses are made good," Jones said Saturday evening. "The poor judgment of its officials, coupled with incompetence and dishonesty on the part of some bankers which the state permitted, is what caused the losses."

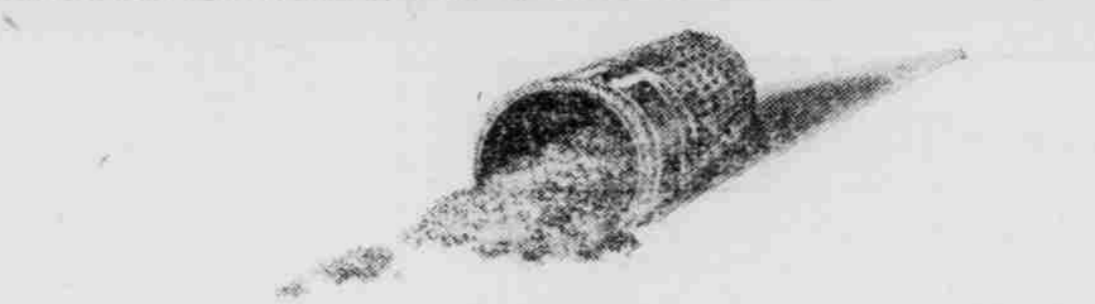

Money contributed by the state to reimburse depositors should be raised through an income tax, Jones asserted. Property taxes, he thought, are high enough now and no further burden of that kind ought to be imposed.

The league, he said, is opposed to the policy of allowing one man in the state banking bureau charter powers to refuse bank charters. When the people of a community indicate that they do not want a bank they should be permitted to have it, Jones declared, whether the banks already in business like it or not.

Jones took occasion to state that he is simply insisting on fair treatment for the depositors, bankers, and everyone concerned. He showed checks from two bankers representing contributions to aid the league in its work, as evidence that some members of the fraternity sympathize with the organization's aims and are willing to help it along. Other checks will be solicited for contributions to cover publicity, expense of meetings and other details.

Mr. Jones will register for the legislative session as a lobbyist in behalf of depositors' interests. One other man whom he does not care to name at present will also be registered in a like capacity.

May Develop Political Angle.
While the depositors' league itself is avowedly a non-political organization, there are signs that the agitation is conducting may serve indirectly to turn the wheels of some political grist mills in the ensuing state campaign. One of its original sponsors, who was very active during the regular legislative session a year ago, is Attorney William Ritchie of Omaha. Recently a movement has been started out in the state to make Ritchie the democratic nominee for governor. He happens

ONE THIMBLEFUL - A DAY'S FEED FOR ONE CHICK!

THINK OF IT! One tiny thimbleful... all the feed a chick can put in its little crop in one day. On this tiny bit it must live... grow... build bones... build muscles... start feathers. Think of the job feed has to do!

They must depend on feed for so many things! They get them all in Purina Chick Startena (mash) or Purina All-Mash Startena Chow... 12 different ingredients in every thimbleful. Cod-liver oil... dried buttermilk... alfalfa flour... granulated meat... these and eight others are there!

These 12 ingredients... think how carefully they must be mixed to make every thimbleful alike. Purina Startena and All-Mash Startena Chow are mixed over and over again... 960 times just to be thorough! You will find the same care taken with Baby Chick Chow (scratch)... to be fed with Startena until your chicks are six weeks old... and with Purina Growena (mash) and Purina Intermediate Hen Chow (scratch)... to be fed from then on until the pullets are laying at 16 weeks.

How little feed a chick eats... just one thimbleful a day... yet how important it is... how much depends on it... the chick's very life... its growth... what the pullets will do for you next fall and winter when eggs are sure to be worth good money. You can afford to feed only the best... Purina Poultry Chows.

is a close personal friend of the legislature's manager, Mr. Jones.

Ritchie has not yet announced himself as a gubernatorial candidate, but it is predicted he will do so in the near future and will inaugurate a campaign based on demands that the claims of depositors in failed banks be met before going banks are released from further assessments to the guaranty fund. Ritchie formerly lived at Bridgeport where two state banks went under at different times and the manner in which their affairs were handled before and after the failures has been scathingly criticized.

The Ritchie boom threatens to become an obstacle to the re-entry of Charles W. Bryan into the gubernatorial arena. It has been taken for granted in political circles that Bryan will again seek the democratic nomination for governor this year, though nothing authoritative has come from him in that regard.

Thinks Investigation Futile.
Manager Jones of the depositors' league, who served for a short time last year as a special investigator for Director Shallenberger of the state banking prob., it was dismissed after a disagreement with the latter over the method of carrying it on, is not much impressed with the results so far.

All the present officers of the Nebraska depositors' league are from the towns in the extreme western part of the state, in which section many bank failures have occurred in recent years. They are: President, A. B. Schaeffer, Scottsbluff; recording secretary, B. E. Rymer, Scottsbluff; corresponding secretary and manager, R. T. Jones, Scottsbluff; treasurer, O. P. Burrows, Mitchell.

Heflin is on Blacklist of Party in Alabama

Senator Told by Democratic Chairman He Cannot Qualify as a Candidate for Office.

Seima, Ala., Febr. 24.—Edmund Pettus, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, Saturday refused to accept the qualifications of United States Senator J. Thomas Heflin as a candidate to succeed himself in the democratic primary August 12.

In explanation of his action, Pettus told the senior Alabama senator the affidavit declaring himself a candidate did not meet the requirement of a resolution adopted by the democratic executive committee fixing qualifications of candidates for federal, state, district and circuit offices.

Although Heflin in his application said he did not vote the republican ticket in 1928, the state chairman pointed out that "you fall to state that you did not openly and publicly oppose the election of the nominees of the democratic party, or either of them, and that you did not oppose the election of the democratic electors for president and vice president in November, 1928."

"As this particular part of your affidavit probably cannot be amended," Pettus' letter to the senator continued, "my duty under the resolution is to return your check."

Before leaving for Washington during the past week, Senator Heflin qualified with the secretary of state as a candidate in compliance with the corrupt practices act.

Heflin, a bitter opponent of Fred E. Smith, in 1928, has declared if the supreme court fails to uphold the petition, he will take his case to the highest supreme court—the people—as a "Jeffersonian" candidate.

NICHOLS BODY WILL BE BROUGHT TO U. S.

Honolulu, Febr. 22.—The body of Dr. William H. Nichols, 78, of New York, chairman of the board of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corp., who died here at a hotel Saturday night, will be returned to the mainland aboard the liner City of Los Angeles Wednesday.

BREWERS DENIED COURT HEARINGS

Washington, Febr. 24.—The supreme court Monday denied the petition of Lem and Ophelia Motlow, owners of the Jack Daniel Distilling Co. of St. Louis, for review of lower court decisions upholding the government's seizure and forfeiture of the property on the ground that it was being used for fraudulent purposes.

The seizure followed the widely-discussed Jack Daniel conspiracy case, in which many prominent persons were convicted of abstracting liquor from the warehouse. The Motlows were not charged by the government with a part in the conspiracy and claimed that they cannot be made the victims of wrongful acts of others.
