COMMUNISTS BROKEN UP

New York—Several hundred communists who attempted to stage a demonstration for the unemployed in front of the city hall Thursday were rushed by a large detail of police who drove them out of the park. The square was filled with office workers and others strolling about during their lunch hour when the demonstration started. The communists, carrying banners, started marching along Park Row. Police had been directed to keep them out of the park. The demonstration had been advertised by circulars distributed at subway stations calling on the unemployed to assemble at the city hall and demand that the city government, "which can raise the salaries of Mayor Walker and others by tens of thousands of dollars," immediately find work for them, and that free rent, food and clothing be furnished for the unemployed and their children.

POLL ON BANK SITUATION

Washington—Maintenance in the structure of the federal reserve system of the principle of regional banks with autonomous powers, in contrast to a central bank, has been approved by member organizations of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

Voting in a nation-wide referendum on nineteen proposals designed to strengthen the federal reserve system, the members expressed themselves that a policy favoring a uniform rate of discount for all reserve banks was unsuited to the regional system and to the diversity of business conditions.

All the proposals dealing with questions of administrative policies and practices, were adopted by more than the necessary two-thirds majority vote, the chamber said Thursday. A nonbinding preliminary returns were based upon a report on activities of the federal reserve system by the banking and currency committee of the national chamber.

TRADES UNION BEJECTS COMMUNISTS' PLAN

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 27.—The communists element in Australia's trades union bodies received a severe setback Thursday. The trades union congress, by a vote of 80 to 75, rejected a motion which would have reaffirmed affiliation with the Pan-Pacific secretariat. Relations with the latter body were broken off a year ago.

Death of Former Papal Secretary of State

Rome, Feb. 25.—Cardinal Merry Del Val, 65, until recently papal secretary of state and arch priest of St. Peter's, died today from heart failure after an emergency operation for appendicitis.

The cardinal was stricken suddenly ill yesterday and grew worse during the night. Finally an operation was deemed necessary and this was performed by Prof. Bastianelli. The cardinal was resting comfortably this afternoon when fatal collapse came.

The cardinal's death which follows that of Cardinal Perosi, secretary of the consistorial congregation, last Saturday, now leaves the college of cardinals with 32 so-called foreign cardinals and 28 Italians.

Cardinal Merry Del Val was one of the most distinguished figures in the recent history of the papacy. He was made a cardinal in 1903 at the comparatively early age of 38 and forthwith was created secretary of state to Pope Pius X.

The cardinal was of noble Spanish birth. His father was Spanish ambassador to the court of St. James, when the future cardinal was born in London in 1865. He was educated at the Jesuit college of St. Michel, Brussels, and was selected as private tutor to King Alfonso XII. When his father was appointed Spanish ambassador to the holy see, he accompanied him to Rome and entered the Georgian university to prepare for the priesthood.

The cardinal was professor of many religious orders in the United States and Canada, among whom were the Sisters of Divine Providence in Texas, the Sisters of Charity, known as the Gray Sisters of Canada, the Sisters of Charity of Blessed Virgin of Dubuque, Ia., the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of Oldenberg, Ind., and the Franciscan Sisters Third Order of the Immaculate Conception of Joliet, Ill.

The prelate appeared in excellent health on his recent public appearances and his seizure with appendicitis came with extreme suddenness.

He succeeded Cardinal Rampolla as pontifical secretary of state in 1902, having been made a cardinal. His term in that office ended with the death of Pope Pius X, 11 years later. He then became archpriest of St. Peter's.

He officiated only two days ago at the baptism of the grand niece of the pope, Maria Pia, daughter of Count and Countess Ugolini.—World-Herald.

LEAGUE GROUP IS DIVIDED

Geneva—After failing to reach an agreement on an important point Thursday morning, the committee preparing amendments to the League of Nations covenant again found itself sharply divided Thursday in studying another part of the covenant in order to close up the so called "war gap."

Disagreement first arose among the jurists in considering article twelve. They could not agree on the question whether the parties to international disputes should be limited to arbitration, judicial settlement and appeal to the league council, or should be given an opportunity to employ any and all possible means of settling their quarrels. The matter was referred to a sub-committee.

Wheat Prices Move into Higher Ground

Recovery Made as Exchange at Omaha Renews Its Attack of Federal Farm Board

Chicago—Above the hubbub of voices clamoring criticism of the farm board's grain policies were heard the shouts of traders Thursday bidding wheat futures up within nine cents of the price the Farmers' National Grain corporation is paying its co-operative farmers for cash wheat. Two days ago, at its weakest moment in years, March wheat sold at 98 3/4c, nearly 20 cents a bushel cheaper than the government's cash price.

Thursday's advance of 2 1/4 to 2 7/8 cents on the Chicago market was credited chiefly to the presence of government agents in the wheat pit.

Observing that the "lurch is on the side" for engaging in future trading after "years of criticism of grain exchanges and of futures trading," the Omaha grain exchange said:

"Since about Jan. 20 they (the government) corporations have been open at Lebanon, Ill., for recouping the loss of cash wheat at a price about 15 cents above its present value in the world's market. With a dead loss of about $1,500,000 haunting their dreams they have recourse to the speculative method of recouping the loss. They bought more wheat this time in the futures market, but with the hope that later rising prices will enable them to recover past losses."

"These purchases have established the fact that the government now recognizes the value of the futures market. If its use of this modern tool of trade shall restore confidence and bring an improved price range, congratulations will be in order."

Winnipeg—Taking its cue again from Chicago, the wheat market opened optimistically forward Thursday out of range, temporarily at least of the year's lows touched in Tuesday's hectic session. It closed only fractionally below its peak quotations and registered net gains of 2 3/4 to 3c for the day.

May futures shot forward to $1.17 and closed at $1.16 7/8. July touched $1.19 and closed at $1.18 3/4 to 7/8, and October reached $1.20 closing at $1.19 7/8 to $1.20.—State Journal.

Wilkins is Back from Antarctic with New Maps

Discovers Three Hundred Miles of New Coast Line and Two Islands

Montevideo—Maps showing 300 miles of hitherto unknown coast line discovered by the Wilkins expedition to the antarctic and movie films showing scenes in the ice were landed here Feb. 23 on the Norwegian steamer Rendrik Ibsen, which brought the party from the far south.

Sir George Hubert Wilkins, head of the expedition, and Pilot Chessman left the ship off the coast and flew to land.

Sir Hubert will remain here for about a week and then start for New York, although he is yet undecided whether to return to the United States he will proceed to Europe, with the object of preparing for his intended submarine expedition to the antarctic this summer.

During the trip just completed, Sir Hubert discovered more than on his previous expedition to the south polar regions, he said, but the weather was invariably worse. Six flights were made in the hydroplanes Los Angeles and San Francisco, some over land, others over the sea, and still others over large masses of floating ice which resembled islands of exceptional size.

Three of the flights were of long duration, and traversed hitherto unknown territory, never described by other antarctic explorers. Sir Hubert said. Altogether the planes flew 2500 miles, and discovered 300 miles of new coast and two islands previously unknown. He said the expedition also was able to verify theories that the so-called Charcot island discovered by the French explorer Charcot, is no an island but a peninsula, with a large continent southward. West of Charcot, instead of finding the land he expected, he found only water.

Weaver Suggests Tax as Retail Equalizer

Says Open Competitive Field Must Be Business Goal—Talk About Chains

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 28.—Observing that the small town independent merchant should be retained in an open competitive field, Governor Weaver today suggested a form of sales tax as a means of equalizing conditions.

His comment on the chain store controversy was made for a member of the McKendree college debate squad at Lebanon, Ill.

Calling attention to the fact that Nebraska has not enacted any laws either to encourage or to prevent the growth of the chain store, Governor Weaver described the present situation as one directly attributable to the branch store expansion by larger merchandising concerns, who, he said, had taken advantage of the auto and good roads.

Patronage to Decide.
"The final answer to this expansion," the governor said, "will come from the people themselves, because their patronage will determine the success or failure of the system."

Practically all of our merchants, he added, have been local home owners and taxpayers, interested in every community enterprise and supporters of churches and schools.

"Because foreign-owned or foreign-operated corporations bear only a small part of the expense and responsibilities which attach to local merchants, the competitive field should be kept open to the worthy small competitor by a system of taxation," the governor suggested.

Proses Graduated Tax.
This taxation, he explained, should be upon an entirely equitable basis, operated with reasonable exemptions on a graduated basis of gross sales or excess profits.

A taxation system of this nature, he said, would conform to the recognized principle of the graduated federal income tax.

"I know of no other way to meet the new and complex problem which now confronts the small business man. It would justly supplement needed organization for co-operative purchase by small merchants of goods on a large scale, and the personal contract and service which comes from local business ownership, home ownership, and home interest in all community affairs," he said.

Wants Competitive Field.
"Efforts to maintain a fair competitive basis in the local business field for local business men must be directed to these ends. The fu-

SUGAR HITS LOW MARK

New York—Raw sugar for future delivery, particularly that for delivery next month, fell to new low prices on the New York coffee and sugar exchange Thursday.

Over-production of Cuban sugars and reports continued dissension in the ranks of the sugar export corporation in that country were influencing factors in the general decline in prices.

When raw sugar for delivery next month fell to 1 3/4 cents a pound, off 6-100 of a cent, that commodity reached the lowest price it has sold for since the establishment of the exchange here in 1914. Sugar for delivery in later months sold slightly higher, but all were at low levels for the season.

The refined sugar trade was somewhat unsettled by the conditions in raw sugar futures, but refiners continued to quote 4.95 cents a pound for fine granulated.

CONGRESSMAN IS SET FREE

Chicago—Congressman Stanley H. Kunz and his son, Stanley Kunz, Jr., were acquitted late Thursday of charges of operating a confidence game and obtaining money under false pretenses. The congressman who is sixty-six, sobbed as the verdict was returned and was led from the courtroom. "I knew they were wrong," he said.

When the indictment was returned several weeks ago he then termed it "political persecution." Congressman Kunz and his son were indicted Jan. 6 by the county grand jury investigating allegations of bribery in connection with the award of civil service jobs. One of the counts was conspiracy to bribe. But this was nolle prossed by the state.

Both men demanded early trials, the congressman insisting that he "had the right to an early vindication."
