Plan Official Opening of New Traffic Bridge

Final Work Being Done on Livingston Road and Gravel will be Placed Next Week.

From Thursday's Daily.
The official opening of Plattsmouth's new Missouri river bridge is to take place in the early spring—in fact within a few weeks, at most. At today's Chamber of Commerce luncheon report was made of the work on Livingston road, now being completed, and as soon as the rough spots are touched up with the blade grader, work of spreading the gravel will be undertaken next week, the entire job being completed by March 15th. The guard rail contractor will be urged to get busy with his part of the work.

Other matters touching the bridge and road include the proposed marking of the different routes that will converge at Sixth and Main streets, with large arrows pointing to different towns and indicating the mileage. It was voted to send a committee of three, composed of E. Schneider, John Sattler and Searl Davis, to attend the meeting of the Iowa division of the Harding Highway association early this month, when there will be considered the matter of re-routing the new route to extend west from Red Oak to Glenwood and on to this city over our new Missouri river bridge.

Another new highway extending diagonally across the country from Florida to Washington is so planning its route as to cross the river here. Literature on this new highway was referred to the Good Roads committee and they empowered to co-operate in any manner possible.

The industrial committee reported having established correspondence relations with several factories planning on extensions during the current year.

Athletic Park May be Reality This Season

Prospects are Good for the Realization of the Park for Use of the Schools of City.

The creation of an athletic park at the old tourist park grounds on Washington avenue, just north of the high school and Central buildings seems to be very bright and will fill a long felt want in the way of a park that will be adequate for the use of the schools in their football and track activities in the fall and spring. This park with a little work can be made into a real place for the school activities and could also be utilized in many ways for the track and football seasons.

The board of education has planned on securing additional property if possible which would add to the advantages to the schools and give them ample room. It is to be hoped that this will be completed and the park placed in the hands of the schools so that the spring track season can be staged on a new field and where an adequate cinder track can be arranged for the running events. In the past it has been impossible to establish any kind of a record on the old ball park because of the holes and bumps that made the track so uneven it was impossible to make speed and where also the sprinters were in danger of getting a fall.

Platter Debators Lose Out at the District Meet

Paired with Strongest Team at Meet Which Was Won by Fremont—Work Highly Praised.

From Thursday's Daily.
Meeting the hardest competition of any school in the tournament, the Plattsmouth high school team was eliminated in the semi-finals of the Eastern District Debate Tournament held at Valley yesterday. Five schools competed: Fremont, Plattsmouth, Blair, Valley and Snyder. The tournament was under the direction of Mr. J. Arthur Nelson of Fremont and the officials at Valley had spared no effort to make the tournament a success. The single judge system was used in all debates except the finals where three were used. The single judges were: Miss Sarah Ryan, debate coach at Omaha Central; Miss Mona Robinson, debate coach of Omaha North and Mr. Roscoe Cartwright, debate coach at Thomas Jefferson.

In the first round, Plattsmouth drew the strong Fremont team, three times district champions. Fremont runnersup against the Central champions in the Midland college tournament three weeks ago. The Platter speakers: Mary Swatek, Gerald Sperry and Robert Livingston took the negative side of the state question and gave a splendid account of themselves against a championship team with a record of twenty-nine victories this season. Miss Ryan, in giving her decision to Fremont, praised the local team for the splendid showing it made against a team of the class of Fremont. Other contests in the first round found Valley and Snyder pitted against each other while Blair drew a bye.

In the second round, Plattsmouth drew a bye while Fremont met Snyder and Valley met Blair. Fremont and Blair were victorious and Plattsmouth drew Blair while through some peculiar arrangement, Fremont was permitted to debate Snyder again. The Blair-Plattsmouth was a close contest with the local speakers having the edge because of a victory over Blair a few weeks ago. Charles Nowacek took Gerald Sperry's place on the affirmative. Miss Robinson stated in her decision that the debate was so close that it was extremely difficult for her to make a decision but that she gave the victory to Blair because their speakers seemed to be more experienced. A victory over Blair would have sent Plattsmouth into the finals against Fremont.

Fremont used her third team against Snyder for a set-up victory. With Valley, Snyder and Plattsmouth eliminated, Blair and Fremont argued for the championship at eight o'clock with Fremont picked to win.

While Plattsmouth drew the hardest assignment of all the teams in having to meet Fremont and Blair in succession, Fremont was having easy sailing against the weak Snyder team and Blair was easily trimming Valley who was not even able to beat Snyder. Neither Fremont or Blair had any difficulty disposing of any of their opponents except Plattsmouth. If the Platters could have had a little luck in the draw, they might have had an opportunity to gain at least one victory which would have sent them into the finals. The Platters had the same ill luck in the drawing last year, meeting Blair and Fremont in order.

Plattsmouth can well be proud of the showing that the speakers made in the tournament during the season. When good debating is done, the decision is not of great importance. Plattsmouth has made an effort to stress the values to be gained from public speaking and the clash of arguments rather than the winning of an impressive array of victories.

Plattsmouth closes the season with three victories, over Blair, Valley and Nebraska City; two defeats at the hands of Blair and Fremont and four no-decision contests with Omaha Central and Omaha North.

All the debaters graduate this year. Robert Livingston and Mary Swatek are winners of awards for the second year while, Chas. Nowacek and Gerald Sperry will receive this award for the first time.

SURPRISE PARTY

Wednesday evening Stuart Porter's Sunday school class, consisting of about 17 boys and their teacher, Mrs. Boynton, staged a complete surprise on him, it being his 15th birthday. After Stuart came out of the daze, games and music made the time fly swiftly, until the birthday cake was passed and candles lighted. Then the gifts were opened and admired; afterwards the cake was cut and served with other dainty refreshments. One of the surprises of the evening was a radiogram from Stuart's brother, Kenneth that had crossed 7,500 miles of sea and land in a single day, to wish him joy.

Everyone present voted the party a complete success.

SEEM TO HAVE LOCATED LEAK

From Thursday's Daily.
The flooded condition in the vicinity of Oak and Seventh streets which prevailed for the past several weeks, seems to have developed to have been caused by a leak in the main of the water company, or at least that part of the overflow in the streets where for the past two weeks there has been a great deal of water flowing. The members of the city council investigating the matter yesterday with the officers of the water company decided to turn off the mains leading into that section of the city as an experiment. The mains had been off but a short time when the flow of water ceased, proving no doubt to be a leak in the pipe.

Now that the cause of the trouble has been located it will be repaired, but a great deal of damage has been done by the flowing water, to the paving as well as the annoyance to the residents of that section of the city, who have had their cellars full of water for the past few months.

The water company had checked their standpipe and pumping records and could trace no apparent undue use of water, but which has apparently been flowing all of these weeks and months and in which time a great deal of water has been escaping.

Traveling Man Killed in Auto Wreck Last Nite

Tragedy Occurs Near Murray Corner When Car Driven by Albert Cable Overturns, Burns

From Friday's Daily.
This morning at 2 a. m. Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Murray returning from a call in the vicinity of Murray discovered an Essex coach burning along the roadside of highway No. 75, a few miles south of the Murray road and lying near the wreckage was the form of a man, his clothing slowly charring from the heat of the burning car and a young woman who was badly dazed as the result of the experience that she had undergone. Dr. Gilmore pulled the man, who was apparently dead, out of the wreckage of the car and assisted an injured girl to a nearby farm house where her injuries were treated.

It was learned that the dead man was Albert E. Cable, 38, traveling man for the Pickwick Ready to Wear Clothing Co. of Nebraska City, and the injured girl was the wife of Miss Neva Krierin, also of Nebraska City, and employed in the Morris cafe at that place.

As far as the girl was able to tell of the accident, she had worked until late at the cafe where she is employed, and that she was quitting work. Cable had come to the cafe and as she claimed, had been drinking, they had then started out on a drive and came north on highway No. 75 as far as the place where the accident occurred. Miss Krierin stated to County Attorney W. G. Kleck, who with Sheriff Bert E. Hartsch, accompanied to the scene when notified, that she had urged Cable to let her drive but that he had refused. They had been going from one side of the road to the other and finally the car overturned. Miss Krierin had been in the car and as she stated, she crashed over, and the next that she knew of the accident was when intensely hot glass falling on her, aroused her, and she found the car ablaze and her coat was commencing to burn. She hurriedly threw off the car and was able to crawl to the car which was then burning very badly. Cable apparently had been thrown clear of the car as he was lying on a small bank near a telephone pole and was dead when his companion escaped from the burning car. It was thought that he had been killed by the fracture of his neck as there were no serious wounds on his person or skull fracture.

The body of Mr. Cable was brought to this city and taken to the Straight undertaking rooms where it will remain until the members of the family take it to the home at Salina, Kansas. Mr. Cable was a member in good standing of Fairbury lodge of the Elks and it was learned here, had formerly been married and his wife and three children were living at Salina, Kansas.

The injured girl was taken this morning in the Sattler ambulance to the St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City where she will be cared for.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church held a very fine meeting at the home of Miss Elizabeth Spangler on Wednesday afternoon and with an unusually large crowd in attendance.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. H. E. Sortor and covered the meaning of Pentecost, taken from Acts 1 and 2.

There was a short business session and then the meeting was turned over to Miss Margaret Mapes as the leader and who discussed the need of more religious workers among the people of the southwestern Europe where the people are of a very high type of intelligence.

Mrs. Robert B. Hayes conducted a "speldown" of the members of the society taking questions and answers from the current issue of the magazine.

Mrs. H. E. Sortor gave a very impressive talk along the lines of service for the cause of the King and an appeal for giving more of time, personality and means to the church and its work instead of merely a haphazard aid to the cause of the church.

At the conclusion of the afternoon duty and delicious refreshments were served that added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

BUSY MAKING TESTS

The Plattsmouth Water Co., has a number of men engaged in the work of making tests along Oak street where the water main that supplies the section of the city. The workmen are trying to definitely determine whether or not the water that has been flowing there for several weeks is the result of a bursted or leaky main water pipe. The men are making tests at each section of the main to try and see if there is a leak existing and if so in what section of the system it is located. The mains extend for several blocks and if a leak exists it might be anywhere in that area. If a leak is discovered the company will start in at once on the repair work to get the line back in shape.

The car was descending a hill and a good rate of speed was being maintained when the car skidded in the loose gravel and the car swung off the road and into the guard fence along the road, breaking the fence and plunging down a small incline. Fortunately the occupants of the car were not injured altho the car was badly mashed up as the result of the accident. The party were taken up into Cedar Falls for the funeral services and secured a new car at that place for the return trip back home.

Ladies Observe World Day of Prayer Friday

Mrs. Homer Stuntz of Omaha Is Speaker Here at Meeting Held at Methodist Church

From Saturday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon a large number of the ladies of the city, belonging to a number of the churches, gathered at the First Methodist church where they observed the World's Day of Prayer, an event that was being held all over the world and in which this city was fortunate in securing as the speaker of the occasion, a lady that has made a great study of religious teachings. Mrs. Homer Stuntz of Omaha, widow of the late Bishop Stuntz.

Mrs. H. E. Sortor, wife of the pastor of the church, presided over the meeting and in her usual pleasant manner introduced Mrs. Stuntz. Mrs. Stuntz in her remarks took up the subject, "The Bigger Life" and in which she very beautifully illustrated the richness of the life that is fully dedicated to Christ, of the peace and happiness that true christian has in the performance of the tasks that lead to the attainment of the world and the aiding in the advancement of the religious life. The speaker urged the more giving of the individual of their time and service in the cause of the church of their faith and in the following of the teaching of the Master.

She brought to those present two questions, "Why Did Christ Come to Earth?" and "How Do We Know We Are Christians?" These she answered for us from the Bible and emphasized two things, first—what not to do, "Judge not" and second—what to do, "Love All People." To help us better understand the last, she gave us a picture of conditions in India where she had spent several years with her husband, and where one of her sons is now a missionary. Yet sometimes, it may be harder to love some of those near about us, but Christ did not call us to an easy task. So it is well and fitting that we have a special tune when we all come together in the name of Christ, asking for a day of Pentecost for ourselves as came to the disciples in the far land nineteen hundred years ago, which power is just as real as possible today as then. The quartet gave a second number "God is Calling You" and the service closed with the song by all "A Charge to Keep I Have" voicing a prayer in itself by each present. A few minutes of introductory and general exchange of appreciations for the benefits received, made all feel the worthwhileness of such a meeting and the desire to remember the date each year.

A fine musical program was given, Mrs. John E. Schantz, offering a solo number while a quartet composed of Mrs. Harry Schultz, Mrs. Hal Garnett, Mrs. J. E. Schutz and Mrs. R. B. Hayes, gave several fine numbers. Mrs. J. M. Roberts served as the accompanist for the singers.
