John Fickle was looking after some business matters in Omaha for a short time on last Monday.

County Commissioner C. F. Harris was looking after some county business on last Saturday at Manley.

John T. Becker was shelling and delivering corn to the George A. Stites elevator on Tuesday of this week.

A little babe of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Austin was quite ill for a few days during this week, but was reported as being better later on.

Bud Fitch was a visitor at the Union Business Men's club dinner on last Tuesday and was introduced to the crowd by his friend and neighbor, Rev. W. A. Taylor.

W. A. Knox who formerly was engaged in the restaurant business in Union, but who is located in Omaha, was a business and social visitor in Union on last Monday.

Both George Stine and Mrs. J. S. Pitman are having a serious time with their arms which were vaccinated, and are taking good and strong. They are both so they cannot work.

Early last Tuesday W. H. Porter had a pick up load of hogs which he took to Omaha and returned in time to take a load to Nebraska City for C. F. Morton during the forenoon. That takes hustling, and Billy can do it.

Attorney A. L. Tidd and J. Elbert Wiles of Plattsmouth were in Union on last Tuesday looking after some business matters and also went to Nehawka, Weeping Water and Murdock where they were called to look after some business.

W. E. Moore and family were guests for the day and dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Suduth of near Murray. The dinner was so good and they were having such a good time that they stayed for supper and all enjoyed the day very pleasantly.

Reports from Denver are to the effect that Mrs. J. F. Clagy who underwent an operation for the removal of a growth from her face, is getting along very nicely and is expected to be entirely well in a short time, which is good news to her many friends here.

The Overland theatre which has been seeking an outlet for their advertising came to Union and lased a lot, and began the erection of a bill board thereon, but were stopped by the town officials as the erection of a wooden bill board was in violation to the city ordinances.

By a vote the Union Business Men's club extended to the members of the Men-o-N. C. their thanks for the very excellent entertainment which was given for the benefit of the Union Business Men's club, which was held on Thursday of last week and was enjoyed by a large and very enthusiastic crowd of loyal Union citizens.

Charles L. Greene and wife were over to Omaha on last Sunday where they were visiting for the day with Mrs. Addie Bartlett, a sister of Mr. Greene and Miss Florence Bartlett, a niece who is convalescing in the hospital there from several weeks of very severe illness with pneumonia. She is making good improvement at this time.

Otto Grey and Henry Morell departed for Parsons, Kansas early this week with Mr. Henry Becker's truck for their household goods. They are moving to Union and will work on the farm for Henry Becker. They had not the best of luck for they burned out a bearing on the truck, and had to stop and have the truck

Celebrate Many Birthdays.

On last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Burbee, was held a most pleasant gathering when a number of birthdays were celebrated. Mr. Burbee selected a day in March for his birthday as well as did his daughter Mabel, and among others, but this was not all. Miss Edna, formerly, but now Mrs. Roy Christweiser was born 30 years ago on last Sunday when she was 30 on the thirtieth of March 1930. A most pleasant time was had and the many birthdays were properly celebrated.

The O Street Road.

A lively discussion of the matter of road building was had at the dinner of the Union Business Men's club on last Tuesday, when it was rumored that efforts were being made in Nebraska City to get a paved road from Nebraska City, and which it was thought if allowed that the paving of the O street road would be denied. Dr. Ackenbach and a number of others made strong ringing addresses in favor of getting after the matter of the O street road now and keeping after it until they had it paved.

A committee was appointed consisting of P. F. Rihn as chairman, with the other members, W. B. Banning, D. R. Frans, George A. Stites and W. A. Taylor to go to Plattsmouth and meet with the Chamber of Commerce of that place, to set all to working to save the pavement of the O Street road. However, the Chamber of Commerce of Greenwood was to be at Plattsmouth on Thursday of this week and the limited space and accommodations at the banquet room of the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce precluded the meeting this week, but which will be held the coming week, when the committee and the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce will thresh out the matter and do whatever possible for the project.

After You're Next.

Is the play selected for the presentation by the Union Junior high school and which they are to give the coming week, April 11th. They now have the play well in hand and are perfecting with every rehearsal. The play will be given at the M. W. A. hall in Union and is attracting much interest. The play is filled with many amusing incidents and also carries a very worth while scheme. Do not fail to have this on your ad list.

The cast of characters are: Paul Delmon, a young novelist with money, Benjamin Anderson; Marie Delmon, his wife of 139 dinners and 7 breakfasts; Hess Watkins; Geov., a study in black; Justin Anderson; Henry Jones, one day out on the matrimonial sea; Laurene Applegate; Mary Jones, also one day out on the matrimonial sea; Agnes Ervin; Phil Young, a cub reporter for no reason at all; John Gilmore; Peaches, a female reporter for all reasons; Freda Niday; Pat, a crook who hangs around with a policeman; Daisy Mead; Wansy Delbor, a chorus girl, why waste more words? Dorothy Clark; Mrs. C. U. Later, mother of Marie and nagger of Paul; Verna Rieka; Camille, Paul's nice little niece who finds a way whether there's a will or not; Marion Clark; Kate O'Reilly, her husband was a policeman and when he died she had his place—and how! Violet Porter.

Will Remain for April.

Dr. W. H. Ackenbach, the dentist who has been thinking of removing his dental offices to Nebraska City, has been prevailed upon to remain in Union for the present, and will stay here for the present month, or until May first, and is hoping that business will be such as to justify him remaining here continuously. Union needs a dentist and they have a fine workman and an excellent man in Dr. Ackenbach, and every effort should be put forth to make it possible for him to remain in Union.

Loses Barn and Hay.

Last Sunday night the hay barn which was cleverly filled with a good quality of hay was discovered on fire and before aid could be reached the barn and contents which were both very inflammable were entirely consumed. Mr. Tillman thought that the structure was covered with insurance but he has not had an opportunity to search among his papers to assure himself.

Will Change Grinding Operations

George A. Stites, will make a change in the operation of his feed grinding department at the elevator and will also arrange to make whatever mixture which any may want, consistent with the open formulas of the state of Nebraska or other states or what ever they may desire in mixed ground feeds for hogs, cattle, chickens or anything which may be wanted.

Writes From the West.

Mrs. Ogarretta Austin of Whittier, California, writes very interesting of the times in the west, and in a letter to Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor, tells of the folks there and how they are getting along. She says in brief that they are having beautiful weather there and they are liking the life in the west, but would like to see the folks here. She tells of being very busy with their new babies who are growing fast and are much interested in western life. The children having just gotten over the whooping cough and are feeling fine. Mrs. Florence Marty, formerly Miss Florence Dystart just underwent an operation for appendicitis and is getting along nicely at the Murphy Memorial hospital at Whittier, and is expected home soon. She sends regards to all her many friends in and about Union.

Union Village Election.

While the day was fine last Tuesday the election was a quiet one, although many voted. The village election showed a preference of D. Ray Frans for village clerk, a preference of Chas. Greene for village treasurer while for members of the village board, Earl Merritt, Geo. A. Stites and Orval Hathaway were elected. These are all good men and the city should prosper under this administration.

FAIRVIEW WORKERS CLUB

The Fairview Workers held their March meeting on the 24th at the charming country home of Mrs. William Wehrlein and which was very largely attended by the ladies of the club and a number of guests, among whom were Mr. William A. Becker, Mrs. John F. Wehrlein and Mrs. Fred Buechler.

The ladies enjoyed to the utmost the fact that Mrs. Joe Rhodes came down from her home at Omaha to assist in the meeting as she has served as the leader of the club for some time and has been attending the group meetings at Louisville where the project work is allotted to the various clubs in that territory. As an expression of the pleasure at the services of Mrs. Rhodes, the ladies presented her with a very pleasing group and to serve as a reminder of the old friends at Fairview, Mrs. Fred Kaffenberger making the presentation speech.

In the absence of Mrs. Jess Terryberry, one of the project leaders, who was prevented from attending by illness, Mrs. J. W. Tritsch served in this capacity.

The ladies enjoyed singing the song of the month, "The Church in the Wildwood," and the lesson of the meeting was a discussion of "Closest Access to Paradise," the articles being demonstrated and discussed by the ladies and many very fine specimens of the articles and work were shown.

The ladies also discussed the plans for their achievement day as well as the forthcoming district meeting at Louisville and the county meeting at Weeping Water which many are planning on attending.

At the close of the afternoon dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess that added to the enjoyment of the event.

TEN CITIES WANT 'HONEST' ASPIRANT FOR POLICE JOB

Chicago, March 27.—J. J. Klinek applied for a job as policeman, and now 10 cities want him.

He appeared at the detective bureau Wednesday with a letter from a real estate concern asking that he be deputized a special officer and stating the firm's faith in his integrity.

He was put through the bureau of identification and there was found his picture on a notice asking that he be held for authorities at Davenport, Ia., on bogus check charges.

Police found later nine other cities want him on similar charges, but they said Davenport would have first chance.

"KONJOLA GETS ALL CREDIT FOR ENDING MY ILLS"

This Man Strongly Praises New Medicine that Ended His Suffering

MR. OSCAR BRANNE

"How I wish I had known of Konjola long ago," said Mr. Oscar Branne, Fisher Hotel, Kenosha. "For two years I tried everything I heard of in an attempt to gain relief from constipation and indigestion that made life miserable. About two hours after eating, my stomach would load up with gas and my breath would come in gasps. Nothing I ate agreed with me. Terrible headaches and sickening dizzy spells were the result of poor elimination.

"The many sincere endorsements of Kenosha people led me to try Konjola, and this splendid medicine lost no time in going to the root of my ailments. Constipation was quickly overcome. Dizzy spells and headaches vanished and daily my appetite improved. In one month, Konjola banished all my ills and restored my health. I advise all who suffer as I did to give Konjola a fair trial, and let it prove its merit.

Thus Konjola works, quickly, yet thoroughly. One does not have to wait long for relief when Konjola is given a chance, but for complete and lasting results six to eight bottles are recommended.

Konjola is sold in Plattsmouth by Mauzy Drug Company, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

DICE DECIDE OWNERSHIP

Redwood, Calif.—Resorting to a toss of dice to determine possession of a $2,700 diamond ring as provided in the will of the late Thomas A. Kelly, of Pescadero, Superior Judge George H. Buck Thursday awarded the ring to Miss Iris MacPherson of Chicago.

Kelly died April 18, 1929, leaving a will asking that Miss MacPherson and Miss Hazel Stirling, his nieces, toss dice for the ring, the lucky one to have sole ownership. Miss Stirling died before the toss was made and her mother, Mrs. Mae Stirling, petitioned the court for a half interest in the ring. The court ruled it was Kelly's intention not to divide the interest in the ring, but to give it to one or the other of his two nieces. Hazel's death, he said, made Iris the only claimant.

ACTRESS' BROTHER GUILTY

Los Angeles—Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neill, film actress, pleaded guilty in superior court Friday to receiving stolen property. The theft involved fur, clothing and jewelry valued at $10,000 taken from the apartment of Ted Lewis, orchestra leader last July. Noonan, who has been under mental observation since his return here from New York, where he was arrested several months ago, filed an application for probation. Hearing was set for April 11.

MEXICANS 'ABUSED' WANTS THEM BARRED

Los Angeles, March 31.—Because, he asserted, employers in the United States are "taking advantage" of Mexican immigrant laborers in many ways, Cleofas Calleros of El Paso, an executive of the National Catholic Welfare conference, Monday expressed his hope that their entry into this country would be prohibited.

Claim Drug Registry Statute is Obsolete

Has Been on Books Fifteen Years. Druggists' Officials Say on a Visit to Condit.

The law requiring druggists to register sales of all preparations and compounds containing alcohol sufficient to produce intoxication was passed fifteen years ago, and has been obsolete almost its entire life because of certain conflicts with federal law.

This was explained by S. C. Wilson, president, and Will Brookley, unit division secretary, of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical association, who called on State Sheriff Condit Tuesday afternoon. They brought with them clippings of a story carried by newspapers Monday, in which Sheriff Condit said he had been advised by a county attorney that the registration law was being ignored by druggists.

Sheriff Condit was given to understand that the law was passed by the 1929 legislature, whereas it was only amended at that session so as to allow bakers to keep certain alcoholic fluids for flavoring. It developed that the law has been on the statute books fifteen years or more but has never been enforced, because, the druggists explained, if the letter were followed, sale of patent medicine and many of the cosmetics carried in stock would have to be registered.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Brookley declared that excessive sales of alcoholic compounds fit for beverage purposes may be handled under the prohibition act. There are certain federal laws governing druggists, also, they said. If a person inquires of the druggist whether a certain preparation will cause intoxication, and is told that it will, and the preparation is sold with that understanding, then the druggist is liable under the prohibition laws, they explained.

But if every person is required to give his name and address when buying a patent medicine, perfume or tonic—all of which contain a large amount of alcohol—sales would drop off enormously, Mr. Wilson said. Both druggists said their association is strongly in favor of prosecuting druggists who violate the dry laws by illegally selling intoxicating preparations, and would aid in apprehending them.

16 IN HOSPITALS AS REDS BATTLE PIOUS

Berlin, March 31.—Sixteen persons were in hospitals Monday night, one of them close to death as the result of clashes between Communists and church-goers throughout Germany and Austria.
