Families Asked to Meet Census Taker Halfway

Scope of the 1930 Survey Requires Answers to About Twenty-Five Questions

Washington—Meet the census enumerator who comes to your door courteously and answer his or her questions willingly, is the plea of the Director of the Census. The census taking gets under way April 2.

If the woman in the home and the census enumerator meet each other halfway, the success of the fifteenth decennial census of the United States will be assured, he says.

When the forefathers first started answering questions put to them by the census enumerators in 1790, they had only to tell their names, addresses, number and sex of children and number of slaves. Now a representative of each family will answer about 25 questions, among them queries about unemployment and their radio sets. Over 100,000 men and women are being employed in taking the census, under the direction of 574 supervisors.

It sounds simple to ask a few questions and write down the answers but is it? The Census Bureau has found it necessary to issue a 50-page book of instructions for enumerators and reinforces this by oral teaching. The law prescribes penalties for refusing to answer and for giving false answers, and it also imposes penalties upon the enumerator for publishing information that may come into his possession because of his position.

Census Starts April 2

For more than a year about 200 clerks and draftsmen have been working at the Census Bureau, preparing and securing more than 7000 city and county maps.

Selection of questions is the result of much study by officials of the Department of Commerce, trained statisticians and other experts in census work. Each has a strong reason behind it. The Bureau has to make definite decisions as to what a family is, what a family is and other similar questions. The following questions will be asked of each person:

1. Your name.
2. Your relationship to the family (whether the head of family, wife, son, daughter, or uncle, etc.).
3. Whether your home is owned or rented.
4. The estimated value of your home, if owned, or the monthly rental, if rented.
5. Is there a radio set in your home?
6. Do you live on a farm?
7. What is your sex?
8. What is your color or race?
9. What was your age at last birthday?
10. Are you married, single, widowed, or divorced?
11. What was your age at first marriage? (For married persons only)
12. Have you attended school for college any time since Sept. 1929?
13. Are you able to read and write?
14. Where were you born?
15. Where was your father born?
16. Where was your mother born?
17. What is your native language? (For foreign-born persons only)
18. In what year did you immigrate to the United States. (For foreign-born).
19. Are you naturalized? (For foreign-born).
20. Are you able to speak English?
21. If you are a gainful worker, what is your occupation?
22. In what industry are you employed?
23. Are you an employer, employee, or working on your own account?
24. Were you actually at work yesterday?
25. Are you a veteran of the United States military or naval forces, and if so, in what war or expedition did you serve?

If you answered "No" to question 24, you will be asked whether you have a job and are merely temporarily out of work, or whether you have no job at all. If you have a job, you will be asked:

1. How many weeks since you have worked on your present job?
2. Why were you not at work yesterday? (or in the last regular working day?)
3. Did you lose a day's pay by not being at work?
4. How many days did you work last week?
5. How many days in a full-time week?
6. If you have no job at all, you will be asked:

1. Are you able to work?
2. Are you looking for a job?
3. For how many weeks have you been without a job?
4. Reason for being out of a job, or for losing your last job.

POLICEMAN SLAYS ROBBER

Los Angeles—A robber identified by Police Bertillon's record as Joseph Luby, gangster wanted in Detroit for double slaying, was shot and killed by a policeman Thursday, fifteen minutes after the robber had held up the Hollywood branch of the Security First National Trust and Savings bank. A HARD TASK

O'Neill, Neb., April 3.—Taking the census in the Nebraska sandhills calls for courage and determination on the part of women who have been assigned areas with far-flung boundaries in the Second district: Antelope, Boyd, Brown, Cedar, Cherry, Holt, Keya Paha, Knox, Pierce and Rock counties.

Of 119 enumerators working in this most sparsely settled part of the state, Supervisor Claude P. Hancock has named 35 women.

South of Long Pine in a district where roads are few Mrs. Albert Malignan of Long Pine is working. She will have to cover three hundred square miles, and the population, according to the last census, was 408.

Mrs. Ruth Eads of Valentine has 417 square miles of territory with a population of 517. Her territory is south of Valentine in the lake country, where the roads are mostly cow-paths in the sand and a compass will be needed so that she can find her way.

Difficult territory has also been assigned Mrs. Romona C. Wickham of Ell, Mrs. Mamie Waddell of Irwin and Mrs. Frances Cutler of Valentine, all in Cherry county.

The women will drive their own cars in taking the census. In order to compensate them fairly, the census bureau at Washington made a special rate of pay, exceeding the normal 50 cents a farm and 6 cents a name for country districts. They will be paid $1 for each farm schedule returned and 15 cents for each name.

In the more thickly settled farm regions of Nebraska the rate is 50 cents a farm schedule and 6 cents a name, while the pay in cities and villages is a flat 4 cents a name.

"These ladies have been chosen for their districts for their own ability to do the things they undertake," said Mr. Hancock. "No man in the district has been given a more difficult territory, and no man will beat them at the finish."

Action on Dry Bills is Set for Next Week

House Committee Gets Suggestions of Changes from Mitchell—Meet Wednesday.

Washington, April 3.—A decision on the legislative proposal of the Hoover law enforcement commission to strengthen dry enforcement was set for Wednesday by the house judiciary committee after failure today to reach an agreement on a major recommendation in the program.

With the committee divided on the commission's bills to permit juryless trials before United States commissioners and define misdemeanor violations of the prohibition laws, indications are that these measures will not be favorably reported to the house without radical changes.

In a confidential communication to the judiciary committee, Attorney General Mitchell approved the bills, provided certain changes be made which would meet the approval of Chairman Wickersham of the commission. Mitchell suggested the maximum penalty be increased from a five hundred dollar to a one thousand dollar fine and six months imprisonment or both and favored a redraft of an original commission bill to prevent district attorneys from calling a defendant in a minor liquor case before a grand jury after a trial before a United States commissioner.

In the same letter, Mitchell strongly opposed a bill by Representative Stobbs (rep., Mass.), to modify the Jones law by defining slight and casual offenders and fixing the maximum penalty at six months imprisonment and a fine of five hundred dollars.—World-Herald.

APPLES SOLD IN HALVES ON SO. PACIFIC ISLES

Wenatchee, Wash., April 2.—Apples are sold in halves and quarters in Java. Dr. L. E. Overholzer, who has just returned from the south Pacific islands, also tells of two and three grapes being picked from a bush and retailed to a customer. Apples, grapes and peaches are not native to the warm islands and are a luxury. Dr. Overholzer declares the orient is hungry for fresh fruits from America. Refrigerator ships will help solve the problem of serving the tropic lands in the near future, he believes.

Your ad in the Journal will be read, and they sure do get results.
