Merchants in a Fine Meeting

Discuss Plans Through Mutual Understanding to Stimulate Freight Shippings

From Friday's Dafly-

The public library auditorium was the scene of a very fine gathering last night of the merchants of the city and representatives of the Burlington shopmen, who met to discuss problems of mutual interest in the betterment of shipping conditions and larger use of the freight handlings of the railroad,

The meeting was called by the ommittee of the shopmen and Harry Lightbody acted as the chairman while J. C. Comstock served as the chairman of the meeting.

The facts relating to the amount

Mr. Comstock, giving the figures of the freight that was handled here in the various classifications and which was heard with real interest by the members of the gathering. The spirit of co-operation in every way possible between the merchants C. C. Wescott, president of the cham ber of commerce as well as other of resentatives also touched on the betterment of the mutual support of the merchants and the railroad interest in shipping and trade.

The decision was made by the business men that a committee of five be appointed to take up the drafting of resolutions that would urge the larger use of freight as a means of shipping wherever possible fullest support that it was possible to give by the local merchants.
