THE SWELLING GASOLINE TAX

Gasoline taxation has come to the fore as one of the greatest of the problems affecting the American pocket-book. Last year the tax reached almost $450,000,000. This year an authoritative estimate forecasts a total of $550,000,000. This estimate is based almost entirely on the expected gain in gasoline consumption. It does not include the recent tax increase of a cent a gallon in Idaho, or proposed higher rates in Mississippi, New York, New Jersey, Texas, Massachusetts, North Dakota, Kansas, Louisiana and other states. It is said that Missouri and California alone have displayed no tendency toward a higher tax rate. At the end of 1929, when the $350,000,000 has been collected, American motorists will have paid a total of $1,744,400,000 in five years, over six times the total of the preceding five years.

Few people have any fault to find with a fair gasoline tax when all the revenue is used for road purposes. In many states, however, the tax has grown out of all proportion to the retail price of gasoline, and some of the revenue has been diverted to schools, state departments, state debts and general funds. And the tendency toward still higher taxes continues with increasing force. Unless American motorists use their power to discourage exorbitant gas taxation, it is forecast that ten cent tax rates may be anticipated in the near future.

SENATE'S INQUIRY DELAYED

Washington.—The senate's inquiry into the campaign chests of senatorial candidates was delayed with the announcement by Senator Johnson of California, that his many other duties would forbid his acceptance of the chairmanship of the investigating committee. Informed of Senator Johnson's decision, Vice President Curtis deferred selection of a successor and immediately leaders of all factions in the senate called on the Californian to urge that he reconsider.

While Senator Johnson was insisting Friday night that his word would have to be final, friends were hopeful that he would yield to their urging. Meanwhile, other members appointed by the vice president were marking time and some intimated that their decision to serve would depend on the selection of a chairman. Other members appointed to the committee are Senators Goldsborough, Maryland, and Patterson, Missouri, republicans; and Pittman, Nevada, and Wagner, New York, democrats.

Selection of a successor to Johnson is restricted by the limitation in the investigation resolution that no members shall serve a senatorial election will be held this year.

Women Gain Equality Step at Law Parley

Question Up to Nations—Though Proposed Convention Keeps Sex Distinctions

The Hague.—The possibility of nations introducing into their laws the basis of equality of sexes in matters of nationality especially affecting the interests of children, and providing that the nationality of the wife should not be affected without her consent, is raised in a recommendation adopted at the codification of world law conference here that the governments be asked to study the question.

Meanwhile a number of messages have been received from United States senators stating that they will vote against ratification of any convention on nationality adopted at The Hague which maintains distinctions based on sex. Nevertheless Articles 9-12 of the proposed convention, which retain sex inequalities, went through by a large majority.

Miguel Cruchaga, Chilean delegate, spoke warmly for "absolute equality" both sexes in matters of nationality, which for many years has been an integral part of Chilean law.

Miss Doris Stevens of the Inter-American Commission of Women, issued a statement declaring: "The old patriarchal system of giving women what they do not want triumphed in the first world conference for codification of international law today. The nations of the world assembled have started on the road toward one code of international law for women and another code for men. This is intolerable."

Another side of the case was put by David Hunter Miller, chief American delegate to the conference. "One should not be disappointed because one cannot have all," he said. "This is a start. It is true that a recommendation on sex equality is not being made. It is true that the convention which the conference is drawing up. But it is the expression of a desire that is asserting itself with growing emphasis. One cannot measure real results by the final results of this conference, as there are enormous intangible values in the fact that 49 nations have come together to exchange views."

"In order to solve the question, you must know all difficulties," he said, "and that is a very important feature of the results of this conference. As regards other matters before the conference it appears unlikely that an agreement can be reached on the limits of territorial waters and the points is likely to be felt over for future debate."

The committee on responsibility of states adopted a resolution affirming the desirability of the fact that obligations be submitted to judicial or arbitral settlement.

HOLD ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The Fairview Women's club held a very fine meeting the past week at the school house southeast of Louisville and which was in the nature of the achievement day of the club.

There was a very pleasing attendance and the greatest of interest in the discussion of the plans for the forthcoming year as well as in the excellent program that had been prepared.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Fritz Kaffenberger while Mrs. Dan Terryberry gave a very fine reading in the discussion of the plans for the forthcoming year as well as in the excellent program that had been prepared.

Mrs. J. W. Tritsch led the group singing and in which all joined in the familiar songs.

The program was one of the greatest pleasures as it consisted of a very fine piano number by Miss Mildred Murray, a vocal solo by Mrs. Dan Terryberry and two accordion selections offered by Henry Hill, Jr., and Franklin Wehrlein, that proved an artistic treat to the audience.

At the conclusion of the evening dance the prohibitionists were served that made the evening one of the rarest enjoyment.

IN MEMORANDUM

In remembrance of our dear father, John Wiles, who died April 1, 1930.

In a beautiful cemetery.
Where the blue grass gently waves;
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
In his lone and silent grave.

Just two weeks ago we parted,
How we miss you Daddy dear;
And remember all your sweet smiles,
As we drop a silent tear.

Oh we think of you, dear Daddy,
And our hearts are sad with grief;
Oh its so hard to give you up,
But we think of God's relief.

The flowers the friends placed on your grave,
May wither and decay;
The love we have for you, dear Daddy,
Will never fade away.

—Mrs. Garland Nilson.

Boy Usher Plays Hero Role in Theatre Fire

Courage and Clearheadedness Saves Three Hundred Children From Peril of Burning

Weburn, Mass.—The courage and clearheadedness of a seventeen year old usher boy saved 300 children from a fire which swept the Strand moving picture theater here late Sunday just before the show started. As it was, fifteen persons were slightly cut or burned and the theater was damaged to the extent of $50,000.

Five minutes before the curtain was to go up, the usher, Jerome Lynch, seventeen, local high school boy, noticed a flicking back of the screen. He went to investigate with a janitor and found the curtain had already caught fire. Walking back to the middle of the auditorium, he announced that there was a slight fire back stage and asked the audience, with few exceptions, to walk out quietly.

Meanwhile flames shot up the curtain and curled along the roof. Some of the children screamed and pushed, but Lynch and George Patten, the manager, succeeded in getting all out.

As Lynch reached the street, he heard screams coming apparently from second floor rear rooms reached by a wooden stair which was cut off by the fire. He climbed a telephone pole and jumped across to the roof upon which windows from the rear room faced. Aided by Joseph Cohen, the moving picture operator, who had escaped from his projection booth by way of the rear, the usher broke the windows and helped six girls, one of whom had fainted, to safety. Meanwhile four boys in the men's room broke thru adjoining windows.

Firemen arrived and helped those on the roof to the street. Those slightly burned or cut by glass, including Lynch, were treated by doctors on the scene and sent to their homes.—State Journal.

CLOSE WATCH ON ALCOHOL

Washington.—Prohibition enforcement officers throughout the nation Saturday were ordered by Prohibition Commissioner Dorman to put forth greater efforts to prevent diversion of industrial alcohol to bootleg channels.

In instructions sent to officials of the prohibition service, the commissioner said nothing was more important from the standpoint of effective enforcement and protection of public health than to deal effectively with criminal operations based on manipulation of various alcohol products.

"I would like each administrator," he said, "particularly of those districts where alcohol control is a problem, to make a thorough survey of his inspection force activities with a view to employing the greatest number possible on these diversion problems. Any unusual or new operation that comes to your attention should be promptly reported, as our ability to deal effectively with changing conditions rests to a great extent on the promptness and accuracy with which we are able to note these symptoms of changes."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Real estate taxes will be due May first and from that date it will be delinquent and subject to 10 per cent interest, so all taxpayers are urged to make their payments as soon as possible.

JOHN E. TURNER,
County Treasurer.

A REAL ROAD PROBLEM

The good roads movement in the United States has been productive of so much enthusiasm that we are likely to reach the conclusion that our present highway mileage is adequate for all purposes and that there is no necessity for going to the expense of further building on a large scale.

The facts show differently. The United States has three times as many automobiles as the rest of the world, but Europe has four times our surfaced roadway.

We stand twelfth in the world in the proportion of highway mileage to square miles of territory.

A vast field for highway development remains almost untouched in this country. Great stress has been laid on construction of trunk highways. Farm-to-market roads now need attention.

At present there is a determined movement, led by the American Farm Bureau Federation, to provide the farmer with the all-weather, year-round highways that he needs and deserves. This can be done, in most states, without excessive cost to the taxpayers by employing economical, low-priced, but long-wearing surfaces. So long as an overwhelming majority of American farmers live on roads that are impassable during several months of the year there will be a serious road problem.

STEEL MERGER MARKS TIME

Youngstown—Forces opposing the merger of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with Bethlehem Steel corporation, quietly worked at laying battle lines Sunday night under the leadership of Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier. "The merger has been voted, but it is not consummated," declared Eaton. "It will be tried on its merits."

Meantime Washington dispatches have been received to the effect that an investigation of the merger will be made by the federal department of justice to determine whether any restraint of trade might result from the combine. Otherwise the pitched battle of business which raged for more than three weeks and culminated late Friday in the vote of the stockholders of Sheet and Tube here in favor of the merger was at the stage of marking time until Eaton's forces make some further move toward the courts. This they have openly vowed to do.

Eaton's forces contemplate filing a suit in federal court at Cleveland to test the merger under the Clayton and Sherman antitrust acts.

TRADES HER HUSBAND FOR AN AUTOMOBILE

Chicago—A 1930 husband was traded for a 1927 automobile by Mrs. Marie Vesley Kirian Saturday, and when Judge Sabath asked if she deemed it a fair trade, she snapped an emphatic "no." "It's an unfair comparison for the car," she added. "Even if I do have to crank it, it won't kick me in the back." The kick in the back charge brought her the divorce. The automobile was in lieu of alimony.
