HOLD ACHIEVEMENT DAY

As a climax to a very successful year just completed, the Lewiston Social Circle club held their achievement program at the Lewiston Community Center, last Tuesday evening. A very enjoyable program was arranged by the club.

Several piano numbers were given by Miss Dahl and Mrs. Young. The play "The Evening News" was given by Mrs. Bruce Wolf and Mrs. Earl Wolf was very cleverly put on. The entire club sang the choruses to several old familiar numbers during the play.

Miss Baldwin, the assistant county agent, gave a very interesting talk on Better Homes. Miss Baldwin has recently been appointed chairman of the Better Homes movement.

This by no means ended the program. As usual the best was held till last. In some way the husbands of the club members had heard of the ritualistic work put on by the women, so impersonating the women of the club, they exposed the clubs charter, passwords, and all by putting on a one act play representing one of the clubs meetings.

At a banquet, Albert Young has no equal. Tony Klimm with his boyish bob made many a man's heart in the audience pound and Charlie Wolfe spoke never have been a man. Harry Gobelman and Sterling Harris were not hard to look at either.

Feager Smith would have made any bathing beauty take a back seat. Supervising day nurseries should be Arthur Hansen's occupation. Ethen Allen and John Hobscheidt should both be flappers and Allen Vernon made Emma Schmalzer look up and take notice. A bazaar was held with the program, the articles being made of the samples of the different lessons during the year.

A fine exhibit of the years work was also held by the ladies.

About $25 was made from the lunch and bazaar to be added to the club treasury.

Achievement Days.

The women who have taken the project work sponsored by the agricultural extension service all year have an interesting word in their vocabulary at this time of the year. That word is "achievement." The dictionary definition really is "something accomplished or achieved or gained; a noteworthy success. About 600 Cass county women have been studying accessories for the house since last fall. Now the different clubs are meeting in groups for their different projects, to sum up their project work and enjoy a social time.

There are six of these groups in Cass county and they will meet at the following places: April 18, M. E. church, Louisville; April 23, Congregational church, Weeping Water; April 24, Church, Murray; April 25, M. E. church, Greenwood; April 29, Anglican, Newark; April 30, Community Bldg., Elmwood.

Before buying your Sunday dinner visit the food and bake sale at Smith's store, Saturday, April 19th.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. (Young people's meeting). Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30.

You are cordially invited to worship with us.

1930 Club Week. Eighteen boys and girls will represent Cass county, as winners of prize trips, at the 1930 Club Week, at the College of Agriculture, Lincoln, June 2-7. The past two years Cass county has had the largest number of club members at Club Week of any county in the state. Will we be able to have the same record this year?

Application blanks are available at the farm bureau office. These must be in the state office by May 8th so all club members interested in attending should make arrangements right away.

4-H News Writing Contest. Rules and directions for boys and girls club news writing and picture contests are sponsored by the following daily papers: State Journal, Lincoln; Lincoln Star, Lincoln; Hastings Tribune, Hastings.

Following are the requirements of competing reporters: Write news stories about what his or her club plans or does during 1930. Send them in promptly after the meetings are held or the events happen. Send them to Elton Lux, extension editor, agricultural college, Lincoln, where they will be edited and sent on to the paper and where the original stories will be kept on file for the judges at the end of the year. Write and send in at least four stories. Secure and send in one or more pictures showing the activity of the club or of an individual member or leader. Pictures will be judged according to their usefulness for cuts in newspapers. State Fair and Ak-Sar-Bell pictures of prize winners will not be accepted.

If a winner, he or she is to send in a good photograph of themselves. Contestants will receive special news writing lessons each month, and also constructive criticism of each story as it is edited for the paper.

Feeders Day Friday, April 18. Stockmen and their wives who attended the eighteenth annual feeders day program Friday, April 18, at the agricultural college in Lincoln will meet together for the first hour of the day. The separate sessions for the men and women will begin at 10:45 when the men start to the feedlots to look at the cattle.

Prof. H. J. Gramlich and Ray R. Thalman, in charge of the 1929-30 cattle feeding tests expect to have their entire group of visitors at the cattle barn on the college campus at 11 o'clock, so they can see the various lots of cattle. For an hour Charles Johnson and his men will drive in the stock that has been on feeding tests, and Gramlich and Thalman will explain what each test has shown. Questions will be handled in rapid-fire fashion. Another chance will be given to ask questions at the close of the regular program in the afternoon.

"Start at 9:15, quit at 3:30" is again the motto of Feeders Day. It will be lived up to again this year as it has in the past. Folks who drive more than a hundred miles can count on being able to leave for home promptly at 3:30 without missing any of the program.

Talks to High School. H. K. Douthett who is in charge of the short courses at the college of agriculture, Lincoln, visited the Weeping Water, Nebraska, Elmwood and Eagle high schools Monday. Mr. Douthett spoke before the assembly, telling the students of the opportunities awaiting them at the "U" of Nebraska. After the address special conferences were held with the seniors that were interested in attending the "U."

Enter Corn Yield Contest. Several corn growers have entered the 15-acre corn yield contest during the past two weeks. The goal of Cass county this year is 15 entries so if you have a good piece of land that will be put in corn inquire at the farm bureau office about the rules of the contest.

Sprays for Fruits. It is not an uncommon sight at this season to see big bunches of trees and shrubs at the express stations every day. The estimates show that there are about $2500.00 worth of fruits and shrubs planted in Cass county annually. What per cent of these will be healthy, vigorous and bearing plants in five years? The answer to this question depends entirely upon the care the individuals give these plants. Weather elements, disease, insects and pests will kill a

Steps on Nail, Injures Foot. While J. R. Mayfield who resides near Weeping Water, was about his work on last Saturday he had the misfortune to step on a nail protruding from a board with the result that the nail was forced into the foot for a considerable distance, making a nasty wound. Mr. Mayfield was called to Plattsmouth on last Monday to act as a witness in the district court and on his return home stopped to see his friend, Dr. Gilmore, and have the foot dressed.

Horses and A Cow For Sale. I have a little more horse power than needed, can spare either a single horse or a team all well broken, and also a four years old Holstein cow to freshen soon.—Fred Rehmeler, Weeping Water.

Stephen L. Doughty in Doubt. A confidence artist posing as collector of bad debts, a seller of insurance was a familiar figure in the neighborhood of Murray, for a while a few weeks since and has left a number of sore spots and places of grief on his unemotional departure a short time since. He sold insurance or pretended to, to some of the people around here and offered a ten dollar discount of the payment of the premium of the second year if it was paid at the time with the first in making the application for insurance. Some of the people of Murray took the unemotional departure and paid for not only the first year but the second. They, however, never received their policy, and the company repudiated the whole matter. It is not good policy to advance money to strangers too freely, and in this instance NO POLICY AT ALL. This is no joke.

Gets Full Pay For Car. It will be remembered that Henry Rice suffered the entire loss of his Chevrolet coupe while he was on his way from the home of C. M. Read where he worked to Murray, the car taking fire and burning entirely up, some months since. He was carrying an insurance on the wagon, and about a week ago T. J. Brendel who is the agent through which Henry insured, paid him $333.50 the full value of the car, and with which Mr. Rice was well pleased.

Making Murray Look Better. Wilber Hewitt who is both painter and barber, has just completed the painting and interior decorating of the Christian parsonage, and will immediately paint the Christian church on the outside and decorate it on the interior.

John Frans, the artist also has just completed the painting of the home of Lucrecia Carper, and will immediately paint the home of C. N. Barrows and also that of Miss Beulah Sans, thus both gentlemen contributing to the better appearance of the city.

Will Make Trip South. John Urish and daughter, Miss Geneva, will expect to accompany Fred Schaeffer to some portions of Oklahoma in the near future and while they are away the farm home will be looked after by Mr. Verne Swolten.

Had a Fine Ball Game. Alfred Gansmeyer the manager of the Murray Red Sox ball team is pretty well pleased with the game as played on last Sunday. Alf had given the grounds more than the once over, and had spent much time trying to get the place in the best condition, and was well pleased with the crowd as well as the game which was played between the Murray team and a team from Omaha, the Murray team winning 5 to 4.

Heard Father Is Dead. Walter Manier who makes his home southwest of Union in Otoe county was a visitor in Murray a few days since and reported the father, Gust Manier who has been making his home at La Fayette, Indiana, as being very sick. Since then word has been received of the passing of the father who is well known in this portion of the state. Walter departed immediately for the late home of the parents to assist in the matters incident to the passing of the father

Better Be Safe!

The local banker occupies a position by reason of the varied schemes which come to his clients (many resulting in losses to the public) to fully advise their patrons as to the validity of many propositions that are constantly being "put over" on the public. . . . Keep your money in your home bank. Consult your banker when some one would bring you a questionable proposition. Ask him about the so-called "gilt edge" securities. He knows—or can find out for you just how good they are. He is constantly watching to safeguard the interest of the community against "get-rich-quick" propositions.

The children at both the homes of W. A. Wheeler and Guy Wiles have the measles but are reported to be getting along fairly well as both places.

Mrs. M. G. Churchill who has been sick for many months is still making good gains but slowly, and is hoping soon to be entirely well of her malady.

James Latta has been having some improvements made at the Latta estate in the way of a cess pool which has been constructed by the hustling worker, John Sans.

Roy O. Cole of near Mynard was a visitor in Murray on Monday morning and was looking after some matters of business as well as visiting with his many friends.

The two elevator men of Murray are considering making the best of the waste ground near the elevators, and will put the ground to potatoes, both having a good sized patch.

Otto Schaeffer is expecting to place a new shingle roof on his farm home in a short time and make some other improvements at the farm which will add much to the convenience of the home.

T. H. Pollock of Plattsmouth and president of the Farmers State bank was a business visitor in Murray the first part of this week and was meeting many of his friends and he has many of them at that.

Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Seybolt entertained at their home for the day on last Sunday and were delighted with the families of Dr. J. W. Brendel and Mr. T. J. Brendel and wife as their guests. A most pleasant time was had, and a very fine dinner enjoyed.

R. E. Glover Dies at Dunbar. Last week R. E. Glover of Dunbar, Mrs. Grover being sister of Mrs. W. C. Allen passed away. The funeral was held and interment made at Nebraska City. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were over to Nebraska City to attend the funeral which was held there on that date. The Allen family here have the sympathy of the many friends in this their time of grief.

Home from Nursing. Mrs. Robert Shrader who has been at the home of Harold Spangler, where she was caring for Mrs. Spangler and their small son who had just arrived, Mrs. Shrader being there for the past two weeks, returned home early this week, the newly arrived son and his mother getting along nicely.

Mrs. Anna Pitman Very Sick. Mrs. Anna Pitman of near York, where they have been making their home for some time has been very ill, and on last Sunday her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Carper of Nehawka, and daughter Daleene, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lucrecia Carper of Murray, drove out to York to see the patient. They found the patient quite sick and remained from Sunday un-

MARKET REPORTS DAILY BY RADIO AID TO FARMERS

Omaha Grain Exchange Was the Leader. Station WAAW Erected to Render This Free Service.

The Omaha Grain Exchange was the first group of organized business men to give free radio service to customers. This radio market service is not only daily, but during the busy part of the day, the service is half-hourly—from 9:30 to 1:00 o'clock. These reports are not confined to the doings of the Omaha market, but those of a half dozen other leading markets are given, so that farmers have the choice of all markets within reach.

The Omaha Grain Exchange has no secrets. Its business is not only conducted openly, but customers are cordially invited to come and acquaint themselves with its manner of conducting their business. Visit the inspection department (supervised by the government)—call at the chemical laboratory, and watch the radio announcer throw the market reports into the air every half-hour for the benefit of farmers and stock-raisers within 500 miles of Omaha. You will return home with a comfortable feeling—an assurance that Grain Exchange members take pleasure in promoting the prosperity of their customers.

NEBRASKA CALLS EASTERN SAVANT

Lincoln, April 15.—Although the matter has not yet been officially brought before the University of Nebraska board of regents, Lane Lancaster, associate professor of government at Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., will succeed Charles M.
