Surely Up to Us

That is Just What It Is Any Proposition

The growing season is here, with good prospects for a splendid crop. Things didn't look so good a week ago, but the hot days and good work of the farmer is bringing the corn out of the kinks, and the wheat is surely a picture. Things just about always turn out right in Nebraska. So, now, let us all do our part for the best business interests of Murray. We are here to help Murray advance. It is our town—let us make it the very best.

Announcing:—

Opening of the Phillips Petroleum Company Station at Murray

We desire to say that we are providing a service station where only the very best of goods, coupled with out-of-the-ordinary service will be given. Our Phillips 66 Gasoline is the very finest grade of motor fuel money can buy and in Lubricating Oils and Greases we can supply your every need with finest quality at most reasonable prices.

The new station is located on Main street, at the old Livery Barn stand, which has been changed over into a modern place. George W. Rhoden will be in charge, and will see that every patron is served to the best. We are extending thanks for all who shall become patrons. We are now open for business and shall expect to merit all that comes.

which was given in Murray on last Saturday evening, drew a very large and well pleased crowd. There will be another show the coming Saturday night. Come and enjoy the show, meet your friends and have a good time.

Harry B. Nelson and Benjamin Franklin Noell, were out in the country and getting some good warm sun, shine as well as a few whiffs of fine pure air, as they sang in merry glee, and painted the barn of John S. Valley. The boys have been hoping to it and are hoping to get the structure painted soon.

E. J. Boedecker was over to Chicago with two car loads of very fine cattle which brought 35c more than the next highest sale, on account of the excellence of the lot which he had. The cattle bringing $12.75 while the lot next to him brought only $12.40. It looks like it pays to have the cattle well finished.

David Lancaster is having some bolts, not that it has been said they are worth five dollars each, but because they came, and he could not help it. While he is kept from the field on this account, Raymond, the kid brother is out on the farm doing his stunt in mowing clover which the others are putting up in good shape.

L. L. McCarthy of the Phillips Petroleum company was in Murray on Monday with a load of their products, supplying the station here which is being built at the livery barn location and which is making a very fine station. Ralph Kennedy was putting some finishing touches on the building which is being made ready for office, store room or supply department. The pumps have been installed and the company has been doing a nice business. George W. Rhoden, the clever and accommodating manager of the place is in charge and will look after the interests of the clients. See him at the station. He will treat you right.

Makes Nice Drive.
Sam P. Latta, manager of the Conkeys Farm Elevator of Murray, accompanied by Mrs. Latta visited with friends in Louisville and also stopped in Plattsmouth where they visited for a time before returning to their home in Murray.

Finds Business Very Good.
W. G. Boedecker who was at Chicago during a number of days last week, returned home on Friday and was well pleased with the business outlook. The city itself was humming with business. Speaking of the packing interests he had to say that the houses were well filled with products, but which were moving out very rapidly, and the indications that prices would be better if cattle and hogs were held from the market for a short time, and this would allow the packing houses to get their reserve stock off their hands and room for other.

Speaking of the farming interests he had to say that the crop was much like it is in this section of the country, but with many areas for a limited distance which is over flooded with water on account of excessive rains and the way the drainage is naturally formed.

Manley Wins Ball Game
With all good feeling between the contending parties, the Murray team played the visitors from Manley on last Sunday at the Murray park near the swimming pool, with the result that the visitors were able to wrest victory from the Murray team by a score of 18 to 5. A large crowd was present also to dip in the refreshing waters of the Murray bathing beach and have a good time for people from all over were present and a most enjoyable day was had.

SOME GUN
T. L. Colborn, the M. P. Agent at Plattsmouth showed us a gun Tuesday that was a real one. We should judge that this weapon was at least 100 years old.
It was of the old flint lock type and muzzle loader. It was nicely finished and had carvings upon it of real workmanship. A head of a pirate was cut in the metal on the top of the gun. We suppose that the gun might be classed as a revolver as it shot a large ball and was perhaps 18 inches in length. He was inquiring for ammunition for this weapon and we suppose that he wants to keep it to replace the one that was stolen at the depot when burglars entered that place some time ago. The gun is possibly worth some real money as a relic of by-gone days.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

We advise you to get your Fire-works now. Omaha people are driving to nearby towns and buying them in large quantities this year. Avoid disappointment by buying now. See the large display at Bates Book Store.

Tornado Kills One Near Cozad; Injures Several

Farm Losses Estimated at $100,000—Many Homes Wrecked—Report Heavy Hail.

One man was killed, several persons were injured, some seriously, and damage estimated at 100 thousand dollars was done to farms by a tornado which swept the foothills south of the Platte river between Gothenburg and Lexington, Neb., Tuesday evening.

The only known fatality is that of Henry Roper, 55, who was killed in the destruction of the home on a farm rented by his son-in-law, Frank Phillippi, seven miles southwest of Lexington.

The most seriously injured thus far known are Dr. J. H. Quinn, who may die of internal hurts, and Ella Pickering, 13, daughter of James Pickering, farmer, who suffered broken ribs.

All South of River.
The tornado damage was confined to the south side of the river, it is believed. North of the stream, where towns along the Union Pacific lie, there was rain and hail, damaging crops badly, but no buildings were destroyed and nobody was reported injured.

The twister appears to have struck first at the farm of Dr. Quinn, four miles southwest of Gothenburg. There all the buildings were blown away. Dr. Quinn remained upstairs in the home while his son, the latter's wife and two children and the hired man, George McGinis, sought safety in the basement. The house was blown from over them, and Dr. Quinn was found unconscious in the wreckage. McGinis suffered a six-inch scalp wound when a refrigerator fell upon him as he cowered in the basement, but he is expected to recover.

Many Homes Destroyed.
At the farm of Clarence Wareham six miles north of Gothenburg, the house and barn were destroyed but the family fled to the basement and escaped unhurt. All buildings were destroyed on the farm of Mrs. Olive Sheridan, and on that of Theron Wiggins.

On the William Solters farm the barn was destroyed and the house damaged.

Ella Pickering was hurt when buildings on her father's farm were demolished.

Spends Self in Hills.
Mildred Martin, 23, daughter of B. F. Martin, farmer, living just east of the place where Roper was killed, was in the chicken house when the storm struck. The structure was destroyed, but she was only badly bruised.

Buildings were demolished on the farm of Jack Rohr.

The house and barn on the farm of Mrs. Anna Knoedler were wrecked, as were all buildings on the farm of Clarence Colkitt.

The large barn belonging to Lloyd Whaley was destroyed.

After passing the Knoedler and Colkitt farms, the tornado seemed to spend itself in the hills without further damage.

IOWA PEOPLE WEDDED

The home of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Westover was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday afternoon when Miss Ada Fenton and Mr. John Jay Wyland, both of Des Moines, Iowa, were united in the bonds of wedlock.

The marriage rites were read by the Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and in the presence of the Westover family.

The groom is an old college friend of Dr. Westover, having been a fellow student at Nebraska university and was also the room mate of Bernard Westover, brother of Dr. Westover, in the university days. Mr. Wyland is now the state manager of the Casualty Insurance company with his headquarters at Des Moines and where the young people will make their home.

IMPROVING FRONTS

The improvement program by the property owners in the business section is being continued and makes for a more attractive appearance in the city in general. The buildings of L. B. Egenberger have been given a thorough repainting and adds very much to the appearance of that part of the city while the Red and White store is also resplendent in the coloring from which the store takes its name. One of the latest of the improvements in painting and fixing up is that of the building occupied by A. J. Trilety and the adjoining building where Ward Clark does his barbering and where also a new dry cleaning establishment will soon be opened.

All of these improvements show the progressive trend of the community and add very much to the city in general.
