Two Million Bushel Over '29 Visioned

Thousands of Grain Cars Put in Perfect Condition to Prevent Leakage

Preparations for moving Nebraska's 65,000,000-bushel wheat crop have been carried on by the principal railroads with such intensity that there can be little chance or car shortage, in the opinion of operating officials.

Reports reaching the office of E. Flynn, general manager of the Burlington lines west, showed that Monday night there were 3,077 grain cars in complete repair stored throughout Nebraska's golden grain belt as compared with 1,109 cars on the same day a year ago.

Burlington Prepared
"This is more cars than we have ever had ready in other years," said Mr. Flynn. "Realizing that the crop has been safe for the past several weeks, we have prepared to handle our share of 65,000,000 bushels when the movement starts, about the first week in July."

Mr. Flynn and other rail officials consider that this year's wheat crop will be about 2,000,000 bushels over that of 1929.

Farmers are already commencing to cut in the southern tier of counties in Nebraska and Kansas, with a probability of that number growing to 8,000 by July 10. The cars are distributed by divisions and not by states.

In repairing this vast number of cars unusual care has been used in providing against leakage, according to the operating department of the Union Pacific. A man was placed inside each car with instructions to "look for light" after the doors are closed. Any tiny ray of sunshine means another job of "calking."

THIRD DEATH IN 3 DAYS FOR RICES

Allance, June 23.—The third death in the Cleman Rice family within three days occurred when 2-year-old Lloyd drowned in a water tank.

His mother found the body and rode horseback with it five miles to a neighbor in vain hope of saving the boy's life.

The deaths of Mrs. J. E. Rice, pioneer ranch woman and great-grandmother of the child, and of Mrs. J. W. Orr, an aunt at El Centro, Cal., preceded that of the child.

Willard Brink and sister, Agnes, departed this morning for York, Nebraska, where they will spend a few days visiting with relatives and friends and enjoying a short outing.

TO REGULATE MOTOR BUSES

Washington—Amid vigorous debate the senate Tuesday began consideration of the Parker-Couzens bill to place interstate passenger motor buses under regulation of the interstate commerce commission. The measure, already passed by the house, went over until Wednesday. The opposition, led by Senators Dill of Washington and George, Georgia, contended a provision requiring a certificate of public convenience and necessity for bus lines would throttle competition.

Senator Couzens, Michigan, said some rules and regulations were preferable to no regulation. He added that the senate commerce committee had met obligations to the provision requiring the certificates by restricting this provision to cases in which more than one line was to operate.

CARNIVAL DRAWS CROWDS

The opening night of the Noble C. Fairly Shows in this city, showing at the tourist park on Washington avenue under the auspices of the American Legion, saw a very large crowd out for the evening and ideal weather conditions prevailing.

The Fairly Shows have some very fine attractions and entertaining features, the Hawaiian Village, as well as the Georgia Minstrels being as large shows as can be found in the carnival companies playing over the country. These shows offer extensive and varied programs that delight the audiences and prove rare features.

Another of the points of interest was "Old Satan," one of the largest snakes in captivity and which attracted a large number last night.

For the young and old who enjoy a thrill out of the ordinary the Tilt-a-Whirl afforded real entertainment for the large crowd.

This company is one of the best that has shown here and for the remainder of the week are offering some high class features for the benefit of the Plattsmouth people.

Prisoner Escapes Jail at Papillion

Walks Away When Trusty Takes Group to Roof for Breath of Air—Held for Robbery.

Sheriffs and police of two counties are searching for Lawrence Chubb, 19, Rochester, N. Y., who escaped from the Sarpy county jail at Papillion, Neb., at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Chubb, with Bernard Regan, Detroit, Mich., was sentenced to three months in jail last week after pleading guilty to entering the Missouri Pacific railroad station at Fort Crook, and stealing a package of tobacco.

It is believed by Deputy Sheriff Beeline that Chubb walked out of the county jail when the door was opened by George Hun, a trusty doing eight months for bootlegging, to permit six prisoners to go upon the roof for fresh air and exercise. Hun has been helping Sheriff Olderod out by "acting as his jailer," he explained, and answering telephone calls in the sheriff's office on Sundays.

"I opened the door for the men to go upstairs," said Hun. "Then I returned to my 'room' to continue reading a magazine. I thought all the men went upstairs, and didn't learn of the escape until Regan came down and told me 'Slim' Chubb was missing."

Regan said Chubb had not told him of his plans to leave and that he didn't know Chubb had left until he had finished his cross-word puzzle and gone to the roof of the jail to play pinochle with Chubb.

REEBEKAHS HOLD BANQUET

Pursuant to the call of the Assembly Vice President Mrs. Daisy Thoms, 40, held a special meeting Sunday, June 23.

The $30 banquet at the Perkins Hotel was a very pleasant affair and the Assembly Vice President voiced her appreciation of the warm welcome accorded her. A short but interesting program picturing the past, present and future of the lodge and a roll call of members present giving the Rebekeh age of each, showed that Mrs. Susie Bates had been a member for forty-three years. The program closed with the singing of "America."

Following the banquet the members adjourned to the lodge hall for a school of instruction which gave the members a chance to ask questions and receive much valuable information concerning lodge work.

Rosalie Crabtree, past assembly president and two other notable Lincoln members were also in attendance and participated in the evening program.

ANOTHER BIG NIGHT

From Wednesday's Daily—

The midway at the Fairly Shows last evening was a gala scene with a very large crowd present and the greatest of fun prevailing among the merry makers who filled the grounds.

The riding devices did a pleasing business and the various entertaining features of the shows received a generous patronage from the young and old alike.

The "big" show offered a wide variety of interesting subjects for the throng present on the grounds.

The rain of early this morning assisted in laying the dust on the grounds and will make it even more pleasant for the crowds tonight.

FORMER WEEPING WATER BOY GETS APPOINTMENT

We are very pleased to pass on the good news of the fine recognition of the superior ability of Tom Snipes, formerly of Weeping Water, recently accorded him.

Splendid recognition has come, this time from the federal government, with his appointment, along with three other Nebraska boys, to a position on the Federal Japanese Beetle Eradication staff. Tom graduated a year ago with highest honors, from the Weeping Water high school at the age of 16, following which he moved with his parents to Lincoln, where he entered the state university, recently completing his freshman year with honors. His appointment will take him to New Haven, Conn., where he will remain this summer and return to resume college work in the fall.

His father, L. R. Snipes, was formerly Cass county Extension Agent for many years, and was unusually successful in his endeavors.—Weeping Water Republican.

HOLD FAMILY REUNION

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruby near Weeping Water was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Sunday when their children were home for the day to enjoy a reunion under the family roof and to partake of a fine dinner that had been provided for the event. The time was spent in visiting among the various members of the family circle until late in the afternoon when the party called at the Philip E. Trisch home to visit with Clyde Gilmore, who has been quite poorly in the past few days. Those to enjoy the day at the Ruby home were Bernard Ruby, the banjo artists of radio station KMA, as well as Floyd Ruby, electrician at the radio station, Mr. and Mrs. Virgel Ruby of near Newark and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cooper of near Weeping Water.

Nothing will ever take the place of Noise and Fireworks on July 4th. And to supply that demand you will find an especially large stock of celebration requisites at the Bates Book store. Prices are right, too.
