Death of a Former Secretary of State

Charles W. Pool, Prominent Democrat and Newspaper Man, Dies Following Long Illness.

Charles W. Pool, seventy-two former secretary of state, died at his home, 827 South Twenty-seventh street, Lincoln, Saturday afternoon. Seriously ill for some time, Mr. Pool was sufficiently hopeful of recovery to file recently as democratic candidate for secretary of state. Death came as the result of a throat malady.

For a number of years Mr. Pool was editor and owner of the Johnson County Journal-Tribune at Tecumseh. He had been a resident of Lincoln since 1908.

A native of Illinois, Mr. Pool came to Nebraska in territorial days, learned the printer's trade, and after publishing a newspaper for some time went to the legislature in 1898. He was the first democrat to become a speaker of the house.

Governor Morehead appointed him deputy labor commissioner in 1913. The next year he was elected secretary of state and held that office two terms, and was returned to office again in 1922 and in 1924. During his term in the legislature he named the committee that drafted the bank guaranty law which was enacted in that session.

Mr. Pool had taken an active part in Nebraska politics for forty years. He had served as county chairman and delegate to county, congressional and state conventions on several occasions.

He served as president of the Nebraska Press association in 1913-14. At the time of his death he was vice president of the Service Life insurance company. He held membership in the Masonic lodge at Tecumseh.

Previous to filing this year as candidate for secretary of state, Mr. Pool had been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor and for congress in the First district. He said his platform of the past, "economy and courtesy," would be used again this year.

Besides his wife, he leaves a brother, Willis Pool, Omaha; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Doodale, Burchard, and Mrs. Alice Edder, St. Louis.

HOLD CLUE MEETING

The Lewiston Study club met at the home of Mrs. George Park Thursday afternoon, June 26th for their annual meeting which was opened by singing the "Nebraska Slogan" song and giving the salute to the flag, followed by the federation song, "Peace is Marching On," composed by Mrs. Avery Abbott.

After roll call and reading of the minutes of the last meeting a motion was made and carried by a unanimous vote to change the name from the Lewiston Study Club to the Cedar Creek Study Club of Murray.

Annual reports from each officer, chairman of standing committee and leaders of each department were next given.

At the close of the president's report, Mrs. Hendricks asked all to stand in silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. Wiley who passed on in April. Mrs. Nelson Berger of Nehawka, county chairman of rural clubs, then took charge of the meeting and installed the new officers: Mrs. George Park, president; Mrs. Charles Keil, vice president and Mrs. Victor Wehrbein, secretary-treasurer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation of the many acts of kindness and words of sympathy extended to us by our friends and neighbors in our hour of sorrow at the death of our beloved son and brother. Especially do we wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. A. Lentz, those who sang in the choir, who sent the beautiful floral tributes, and who assisted us in other ways. We shall cherish the memory always.—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Engelkemier and Family. js-d&w

AN OLD TIME POEM

The first issue of the Plattsmouth Journal, issued in the year 1881, had among other contributions to the paper, a poem by the Rev. Canon H. B. Burgess, then rector of the St. Luke's Episcopal church which poem was dedicated to Hon. William Wheeler, then a prominent resident of Plattsmouth. Through the courtesy of one of the old time residents we are permitted to reprint this poem of an early day:

The hand of Providence, forsooth
The hand of industry in youth;
The hand inured to sweat and toil,
The good hard hand of honest toil.

The hand that fears no tyrant's rod,
The hand that keeps the laws of God;
The hand that shuns dishonest gain,
The hand that gives none others pain.

The hand that does good deeds to men,
More mighty is than sword or pen;
On such kind Providence will wait,
And lead them through the narrow gate.

God's blessing on the stalwart hand,
That holds the plow and tills the land;
For when like men you've done your best,
God's province will do the rest.

Then draw deep furrows through the land,
According to Divine command:
Would you provide for future needs?
Cut down the thorns, uproot the weeds.

The hand of Providence, indeed,
Provide; then plant good seed—
For you shall reap as you do sow,
This is God's providence, you know!

Talk not of idleness; from thence
Expect no boon of Providence;
The golden sheaf and waving grain
Is no reward of idler's gain.

The Hand of Providence! This view,
Kind friend, we now do give to you;
To him that hath shall more be given—
This is the law of earth and heaven!

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Kurch and two sons, of Waterloo, Iowa, who have been visiting here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vallery, departed by auto for their home. Mrs. Kurch is a sister of Mrs. Vallery.

Material for Gas Line is Arriving at Mynard

Eight Car Loads of Pipe to Be Unloaded at That Place for New Gas Lines

Material for the natural gas line of the Missouri Valley Pipe Line Co., which is now being extended from near Wabash on into this city and hence on east through Iowa and Illinois is arriving in this vicinity for easier handling as the lines are extended east. Eight car load of the twenty-four inch pipe has arrived at Mynard and is being unloaded there for the use of the workmen as the line steadily forges to the east.

The arrival of the material here and the rapidity with which the work is progressing indicated that the promise of F. H. Brooks, president of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co., that natural gas would be here in August is to be fulfilled and the service be into this city in the next few weeks.

With the bringing in of the material to Mynard, there has also come the decision of the pipe line company to establish the camp for the workmen just west of Mynard near the Four Mile Creek and where the tented city that will house some 150 of the men will be erected as the work brings the lines nearer to the east section of the county.

The Missouri Valley Pipe Line Co. is the organization that is controlled by the United Light & Power Co., the Studebaker Co. and the Lone Star Oil Company, extending the line from Texas to this section as the first organization to get onto the Nebraska territory with their line although the Doherty-Insull interests are also planning on the invasion of this territory. The Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co., local officials state, is allied with the lines of its parent company, the United Light & Power company, the line now nearing this city and not the Insull lines.

Wheat is Good Hog Feed.

Wheat is worth a little more than corn per bushel for fattening or growing out hogs, Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel of the agricultural college at Lincoln in reply to numerous inquiries coming in at this time. In a comparative feeding test, the University of Nebraska Experiment station found that whole wheat made pork at the rate of one and three-eighths pounds per head per day at a cost of $5.64 per hundred pounds of gain. Whole corn produced gains of one and three-tenths pounds per head per day at a cost of $6.33 per hundred. Both grains were self fed with tankage in dry lots.

Course grinding of the wheat increased the gains to one and a half pounds per head per day, and the pigs are more wheat. When wheat is worth only 75 cents per bushel, as it was figured in the experiment, the extra gains did not pay for the cost of grinding the wheat. The higher the price of wheat, the more advisable it would be to grind it. Hand feeding whole wheat to hungry pigs would be wasteful, since they would gobble it down without chewing it well.

Soaking wheat for twelve hours increased the consumption of wheat, cut down the rate of gain, and therefore increased cost of gains, the experiment showed.

Recommend Hot Pack Method

The hot pack method canning, a combination of the open kettle and cold pack canning methods, is now recommended to Nebraska housewives thru the Extension Circular 997, available thru the agricultural college and all the offices of county extension agents. Everything from preparation of the jars to the storage of the finished product is discussed in the circular. It takes up in detail the handling of practically all the common fruits and vegetables.

Dairy Herd Report

A. E. Todd of Ashland is owner of the highest producing cow for the month of June. This cow, a grade Holstein, produced 1,809 pounds of milk with 70.6 pounds of butterfat, a test of 3.9 per cent.

The high herd of 17 to fifteen cows belongs to C. D. Geary of Mynard. This is a mixed herd of five cows and they produced on an average of 1,192 pounds of milk with 41.5 pounds fat.

Seventeen grade Guernseys belonging to R. B. Stone of Nehawka, produced 704 pounds of milk with 28.3 pounds fat.

The average production of the 222 cows tested was 731 pounds of milk with 27.1 pounds fat.

HAVE A CLOSE CALL

From Wednesday's Daily—
This morning Chief of Police Elliott detected two lads in the act of destroying windows in the east second ward school building, they apparently having no better occupation for a hot day than to hurl bricks through the windows. The boys agreed to settle the damage for the windows with the board of education, but the next time that they or other kids are found to be destroying property whether private or public, they will be given the opportunity of having to settle the matter in the police court.
