Shrine Band Entertains at the Masonic Home

Two Hundred of Members of Tangier Temple of Omaha Here to Visit the Masonic Home

From Monday's Daily— Approximately 200 members of the Tangier Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Omaha, Nebraska, were guests of the State Masonic Home here yesterday at the annual Omaha Shriners outing.

As soon as the Omaha Shriners arrived in the city they were taken on a tour through the Masonic Home and infirmary, many of them availing themselves of this opportunity to visit with friends and relatives there. At noon the Shriners enjoyed a picnic lunch on the lawn of the Masonic Home where tables and chairs had been placed for their convenience.

RED SOX WINS SWATFEST

From Monday's Daily— The Murray Red Sox and the Louisville Ash Grove teams yesterday staged a swatfest on the occasion of their second meeting of the season, the final result being a score of 15 to 12 for the Red Sox after a smashing eighth inning rally by the red hosed warriors.

The game opened with the Ash Grove looking like the money, they having in the second inning scored seven runs for a start, but in the intervening innings the Red Sox were able to whittle the Louisville lead down until at the close of the seventh innng there was a twelve to twelve tie.

In the Red Sox half of the eighth the blow of Louis Svoboda broke up the contest and assured victory for his team when with three men on the sacks he doubled to center to score the three runs that spelled the margin of victory.

Alex Schwab of this city was on the mound for the Red Sox while Knudson was the hurling ace for the Louisville team but both pitchers were nicked for a number of hits as well as having errors by their team mates help roll up the large score.

The attendance at the game was one of the best of the season as there were large groups from Louisville and Plattsmouth to see the struggle of the two teams.

OUTS SQUATTER

From Monday's Daily— Sheriff Bert Reed was called yesterday to the Brantner farm on the Missouri river bottoms, where a stranger had settled and taken possession of a small shack which is used to store feed and implements. The man was apparently partially deranged and could give no account of who he was or where he had come from but was clear on one point and that was that he liked the shack and proposed to remain there. The shack contained a cot and stove as it was used at one time by men working for Mr. Brantner, and made a decided hit with the stranger. The man was brought up to the county jail and is being quarantined there until other arrangements can be made to get rid of him.

WILL ENJOY OUTING

From Monday's Daily— Mr. and Mrs. John W. Crabbill and daughter, Miss Alice, are leaving on Tuesday for an auto trip to the west and en route to Yellowstone Park they will spend a short time at Estes Park, Colorado. They are to be joined at Yellowstone by Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Westover and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Robertson, who en route to the park will spend a short time with the members of the Westover family at Rushville, Nebraska. The Plattsmouth group will tour the Yellowstone together and are planning on having a real time in this great natural wonderland of the west.

HAS CAR DAMAGED

From Monday's Daily— Last evening James Doyle, the owner of the Economy cleaners on North Sixth street, had a close call from serious injury when the Ford car which he was driving was overturned on the new paved highway south of this city near the E. H. Spangler home. Mr. Doyle was returning home from short spin out into the country and as the car approached the new portion of road the steering apparatus in some manner refused to respond and the car was overturned. The car suffered the breaking of the bumper and one of the fenders badly bent. Mr. Doyle was able to extricate himself from the overturned car and secured help to bring the car on into the city.

Liquor Case Arrest Creates Excitement

Walter Burke Is Struck by Irate Baker for Alleged Booze Transaction

Saturday evening Walter Burke was placed under arrest by Officer Joe Libershal on the charge of possession of liquor following an altercation that occurred in the Wentworth bakery, Mr. Wentworth claiming that Burke had brought liquor there for a son, which was resented by Mr. Wentworth in a forcible manner. The police were called and Mr. Burke taken into custody for the alleged liquor law violation.

It is claimed that Burke brought a basket of apples to the bakery in the early part of the evening and which had two pint bottles of hooch concealed beneath the apples, the liquor being discovered by Mr. Wentworth who called the attention of others to the presence of the bottles, after Burke had left the bakery and on the return later in the evening of Burke, the trouble occurred.

Mr. Burke denies the story and his contention with the hooch, although he brought the apples to the bakery, claiming that when he left the basket there there was no bottles of liquor concealed in the basket and that if they were there it was without his knowledge.

The case was somewhat complicated when the officers and Mr. Wentworth returning to secure the bottles of liquor discovered that they had been removed and broken by some party.

Mr. Burke was turned over to the county authorities and a charge of possession filed against him by County Attorney W. G. Kleck and to which Burke entered a plea of not guilty. He was released Sunday under a bond of $1,000 for appearance for trial on July 23rd.

ENJOYS VISIT HERE

From Monday's Daily— Mrs. A. B. Swarth, with her daughters, Mrs. R. N. Ranson of Tekamah and Mrs. R. E. Parker of Seattle, Washington, have been here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Morgan, old time friends of the family. The visitors have returned to their homes and Mrs. Swarth and Mrs. Parker are planning on making a visit at Hot Springs, Arkansas, with the widow of Carl Swarthout and later Mrs. Swarthout will accompany her daughter back to Seattle to spend the winter on the Pacific coast.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

From Monday's Daily— Miss Etta Nickles of the Etta-Belle Shoppe of this city, departed today for Omaha where he goes to attend the convention Beauty Culture operators which is being held for today and Tuesday. Miss Nickles will be in attendance at the convention for the two days and will return to duty at the shoppe on Wednesday morning. She is expecting many interesting talks and lectures on the beauty culture and demonstrations of some of the new advanced ideas in this line of work.

MRS. VARNER BETTER

Mrs. James Varner, who has been quite ill for some time with an attack of flu and complications, has so far recovered that she has been able to be down in the main part of the city and working a part of the time at the Hinky-Dinky store where she has been assisting her husband. Their daughter, Elizabeth, is now confined to the home with an attack of tonsillitis from which she has been suffering for several days.

TO HAVE TONSILS REMOVED

From Monday's Daily— This morning Harry Speck departed for Omaha where he entered the St. Catherine's hospital where he will have his tonsils removed. Mr. Speck has for some time been suffering from trouble with the tonsils proving very annoying and as soon as was possible after the last attack he decided to have the tonsils removed to prevent recurrence of the trouble.

Arnold Mast, of Near Nehawka Shot in Quarrel

Well Known Resident of Northeast of Nehawka Shot by Nephew Thron Murray

From Tuesday's Daily— This morning shortly after 8 o'clock Arnold Mast, well known farmer, who resides three miles west of Nehawka and a half mile south of Murray, was shot and seriously if not fatally injured, by his nephew Thron Murray, following an altercation that occurred on the highway near the residence of Mr. Mast.

The shooting is the culmination of bad feeling and trouble between the Mast and Murray families and while Mr. Mast or young Murray were not active figures in the quarrel that preceded the shooting, they were the chief factors in the perhaps fatal sequence of the argument that arose between Will Troop and Ed Murray, father of the young man who fired the shot that wounded Mast.

The direct cause of the trouble was that of a quiet and unassuming cow, as related to the officers when they were called to the scene of the trouble. Mr. Mast resides with his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Mast, on a small tract of land which consists partially of pasture land. Mr. Mast gave his permission to a hired man on the Will Troop place to pasture his cow there as being more convenient in caring for and milking. Last night Mrs. Ed Murray, sister of Mr. Mast called the Troop home and stated that the cow would have to be taken out of the pasture and this morning Mr. Will Troop as well as J. E. Crouch, his hired man, came to the Mast home to see about the matter and were assured that the cow being left in the pasture was perfectly satisfactory and that they had made no complaint. At this time Ed Murray came along the roadway cutting weeds and Mr. Troop came out in the road to ask about the matter of the cow and why his hired man had been ordered to take the cow out of the Mast pasture.

The incidents at this time are conflicting, as Mr. Troop states that he merely started to talk about the matter and Murray started to attack him, at which Earl Troop, who was at the Mast place with his brother, George, came out into the road and proceeded to take the part of his father, beating up Murray to a greater or less extent and in the battle, it is claimed Murray pulled a revolver and fired at Earl Troop, wounding him, however, and at this Troop took the revolver away from Murray.

Ed Murray claims that he was dragged from his mowing machine by Troop and beat up, he giving this version of the trouble to the officers, denying that he was the aggressor in the case.

In the meantime, Thron Murray, son of Ed Murray, who was working in a field nearby, had seen the fight and hurrying to the house secured a 25 rifle and leaping into a car drove down the road to where the fight had taken place and while the parties were getting quieted down the young man came up and after a few remarks proceeded to shoot at his uncle, Arnold Mast, the bullet striking Mast in the abdomen. Before another shot could be fired J. E. Crouch grabbed the rifle and attempted to wrest it from Murray but was unable to do so until George Troop grabbed the infuriated youth from the back and Crouch was able to secure the rifle but only after breaking it.

With the wounding of Mast the trouble quieted and a message to Murray brought Dr. G. H. Gilmore to the scene to give temporary aid to the injured man and Sheriff Reed, charged with Rex Young and Pat Reed arrived on the scene and Dr. Gilmore and Pat Reed took the injured man into Omaha to be placed in the hospital.

The other parties came on into this city where the case is being investigated by County Attorney Kleck.

There has been more or less trouble among the members of the family of Mr. Mast and Mr. Murray for some time and last September Mrs. Ada Murray, wife of Ed Murray and a sister of Mast, had him arrested, charged with having struck her and which Mr. Mast claimed he had done so in defending his crippled mother. For the offense Mr. Mast was fined $25 and costs which was paid and he was placed under a peace bond on the complaint of Mrs. Murray. Since that time the relations of the families have been strained.

This afternoon a complaint charging Thron Murray with shooting with intent to kill and wound Arnold Mast, was filed by County Attorney W. G. Kleck. The defendant was represented at the arraignment by Attorney A. L. Tidd and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. The appearance bond was set at $2,000 by County Judge A. H. Duxbury and the bond being supplied the young man was released and allowed to return home.

The young man also bore marks of the struggle he had been through as he suffered a scalp wound in the battle that had ensued for the possession of the rifle.

WILL ATTEND FUNERAL

From Monday's Daily— This morning James M. Robertson, past grand commander of the Knights Templar of Nebraska with William F. Evers, superintendent of the Nebraska Masonic Home, departed for Omaha where they were joined by Lewis E. Smith, grand recorder of the Knights Templar and W. H. Wanner of Falls City. The party continued from Omaha to Bloomfield where they attended the funeral of Dr. J. Harvey Mettlen, grand commander of the Knights Templar, who died very suddenly on Thursday at his home at Bloomfield.

Gas Lines are Now in the Town of Manley

Workmen Engaged Tuesday in Cutting Under the Railroad Tracks With Their Line

The natural gas line that is being extended from the Texas fields northeast through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois to Chicago, is now advanced as far as Manley in Cass county. The lines reached there Tuesday and the workmen were engaged in the work of cutting under the tracks of the Missouri Pacific railroad with their pipe line to extend it on northeast in the direction of Plattsmouth and where it is crossed the Missouri river.

The line reaching Manley at this date will make it probable that the pipe line will be in Plattsmouth by the first of August as had been promised by President Brooks of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co., at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here two weeks ago.

The company carrying the contract for the pipe line construction are pushing their work as rapidly as possible and the main base of their activities has been transferred to Mynard where their supplies are located and where also the camp for the men is stationed. A great many of the men engaged in the various activities of the pipe line construction are making their headquarters in this city.

YOUTHFUL BASEBALL STAR

Poissal Herold, youngest son of Peter Herold, a general ball player of this city, is making a record in the great national game at Omaha, which gives promise of making him a worthy successor of the grand old man of baseball. "Pud" has been playing third base this season on one of the American Legion Junior baseball teams, Sam's Lucky Dogs, and who has just won the championship of Omaha in their league. Smith's Lucky Dogs will now play in the state tournament sponsored by the American Legion, with their fine record they bid fair to go a long way in the state wide meet and have a fine chance at the state championship and which would entitle them to participate in the national tournament held by the Legion.

HERE FROM THE EAST

Merle Rainey of New York City and Frank Cross of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, are here to enjoy a visit with the relatives here, they joining Mrs. Rainey and Mrs. Cross who have been here for several weeks. They are visiting here at the W. H. Rainey home and the A. N. Sullivan farm home south of this city as well as with the many other relatives and friends.

VISITS OLD HOME

From Tuesday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon James Grace, old time resident of this city and veteran of the Omaha police force, with his son, Frank Grace and wife and Mrs. Anna Baxter, who was formerly Miss Anna Kennedy of this city, a niece of Mr. Grace, motored down from Omaha to visit a few of the old time friends in this locality. Mr. Grace was chief of police of Plattsmouth some thirty years ago and afterwards removed to Omaha where he has been on the police force there since that time. Mr. Grace was retired some two years ago. While the years have made many changes here and the old time associates of Mr. Grace have gradually faded from the scene and there were but few that he was able to meet yesterday whom he could recall.

FORECLOSE TAX CERTIFICATES

From Wednesday's Daily— Fine suits were filed in the office of the clerk of the district court today in which Byron Golding is the plaintiff and the various defendants are F. Bailey, et. al., Marvin D. Welsh, et. al., David A. Patterson, et. al., Schuyler G. Kellogg, et. al., Albin J. White, et. al.

Counterfeit $10 Bills Now in Circulation

Warnings Reach Banks and Business Houses of a Very Clever Phoney Bank Note

Notice has been received by local business houses and banks which are protected by agencies from fraud and theft, that a new and clever counterfeit $10 bill is now being circulated in this part of the west. The reports are that from $700 to $800 of the phoney bills were received by the merchants in Omaha and Council Bluffs on Friday and Saturday and which were not detected even by the banks until special notice was received of the warning to be on the lookout for the bills.

The counterfeit is a $10 Federal Reserve bank note of the Kansas City bank and is dated as the series of 1928. The bill has the checking letter "J" on it.

The bank note has a portrait of Alexander Hamilton on it and the eyebrows in the portrait are heavier than the genuine bills, the lapel of the coat of Hamilton is not so clearly defined.

The bill is no doubt made from a finely photographed process over, which however is thicker than the genuine bills and has no threads in the texture of the paper as has the paper used by the government in the making of their money.

So far there has been no cases of the counterfeit money being located here but with Omaha as one of the points of putting out the phoney money the local business houses and banks are on the watch.

It is thought that the counterfeit money was made in Italy or some of the south European countries and smuggled into this country for the purpose of circulation.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

From Tuesday's Daily— A very pleasant surprise was given C. O. Carlborg in honor of his birthday last evening at his home in the south portion of this city. The evening was spent in various games and music.

A. Lightbody, Mrs. F. A. Virtis, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Claud Black, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Lincoln Jay, Alta Vista, Kansas, and Mrs. W. F. Moore.

ENJOY A FINE PROGRAM

From Tuesday's Daily— The Rotary club at their meeting today had a very fine treat in the musical program offered by a quartet of the local young musicians, who gave a very interesting and pleasing demonstration of their skill in the line of music. James Comstock was heard in a very clever trumpet solo and in which the accompaniment was played by Cecil Comstock, with James proving himself a real artist on the trumpet. An eight hand piano selection was given by the Comstock brothers and Donald Cotner and Joe Benak, which was very much enjoyed and reflected the greatest credit on the young men in taking part.

The review of the Rotarian was given by L. O. Minor and was a most thorough and interesting discussion of the magazine of the International organization.

BOYS RETURN FROM CAMP

From Monday's Daily— This morning Fred I. Rea motored to Nebraska City where he enjoyed a short stay at Camp Wilson, the Boy Scout area camp and also on his return bringing back with him the members of the party have earned "Dusty" Rhodes, who have been spending the week at the camp. Harry Stodola, another of the local boys who were at the camp returned home Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stodola. All the members of the party have enjoyed their stay at the Scout camp to the utmost and feel that the outing was a most pleasant experience.

HAS SEVERE INJURY

From Wednesday's Daily— Yesterday while Paul Safford of Shreveport, Louisiana, one of the men engaged in helping unload the large twenty-four inch gas pipes at Mynard was helping get some of the pipe unloaded, he suffered a severe injury. The pipe is unloaded by a skid and in handling the pipe it got beyond control and the men and the skid struck Mr. Safford a severe blow in the side. The condition of the man was such that Dr. O. C. Hudson, who was called to the scene of the accident, decided to have the man removed to the Clarkson hospital at Omaha where a further examination and x-rays will be taken to fully determine the outcome of his case.

Large Pipe of Gas Line Crushes Life of Worker

One of the Employees of the Line Near Manley Has Back Broken by Pipe Yesterday

From Wednesday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon one of the force of men engaged in preparing the ditches for the large natural gas mains in the vicinity of Manley, was fatally injured according to word received here.

The man had gone into the ditch to do some special excavation for fitting the pipe in the ditch, the large pipe or main lying on a wooden support near the ditch and suddenly without warning the main rolled into the ditch and the full force of the pipe struck the man on the back, causing a fracture of the spine and back. The injured man lived but a few moments after he was rescued from the ditch and the weight of the pipe. The large main pipes weigh from 2,400 to 2,500 pounds.

The name of the man could not be learned here as the employees of the company here were not aware of the identity of the man, the none of the ditching force reside here.

DEATH OF IOWA PIONEER

After intense suffering for many months, Mrs. Hiram Fitch passed away at her home Wednesday, July 9th. She was born in Ohio, May 4th, 1848, and was a little past 82 at the time of her death. She was united in marriage to Hiram Fitch in 1865.

She was the mother of four children, Elonzo, with whom she lived, Mrs. Rachel Kearnes, of Plattsmouth, Neb.; Mrs. James Hadden, of Glenwood and Mrs. George Moore, who preceded her in death years ago. She also had 12 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. Five sisters also mourn her death, Mrs. George Reaflem, Mrs. Glenn, Mrs. Rachel Wilson of Mills county, Iowa; Mrs. McDowell of Vermillion, S. D., and Mrs. Guthrie of Kearney, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitch came to Mills county from Illinois about 60 years ago, and were pioneers of this locality. She was always of a cheerful disposition, even though her suffering was almost unbearable and was almost helpless for two years.

Funeral services were held at the home Thursday afternoon conducted by Rev. Charles Aitken of Bartlett, Music was furnished by Mrs. Boyd McCrary, Mrs. Frank Vest, Gladys and Louise Buckingham. Burial was in the Waubonise cemetery, by the side of Mr. Fitch, who died several years ago.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA

From Wednesday's Daily— Suit was filed yesterday afternoon in the office of the clerk of the district court in which C. Lawrence Stull is the plaintiff and Chester L. Spidell is the defendant. In the action Mr. Stull asks that a permanent injunction be granted the plaintiff against the defendant, his employes or agents, preventing the defendants from interfering with Mr. Stull or his employes from entering the land farmed by Mr. Spidell, which is owned by the plaintiff Stull, to work, plow or cut weeds on the land on which a crop is now growing. The plaintiff is represented in the action by Attorney J. A. Capwell while Attorney A. L. Tidd appears for the defendant in the action.

HERE WITH GAS LINE

From Monday's Daily— The men engaged with the natural gas pipe lines of the Missouri Valley Co., which is laying their line through this section, are moving into the city where they will make their home for several weeks at least. A party of inspectors comprising Clyde Irvine, V. C. Eddelman, Pat Dillon and L. G. Vech, are among the latest to move here to make their headquarters for the present. The presence of this force of men as well as many of the families, has caused a brisk demand for rooms and apartments over the city.

Dio B. Smith, Old Time Resident, Dies at Lincoln

Brother of A. Baxter Smith Dies This Morning at Home of His Sister

This morning the message was received here announcing the death at 4 a. m. today of Dio B. Smith of this city and member of one of the pioneer families of the community.

Dio B. Smith was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Smith, who came to Plattsmouth in pioneer days and where the deceased was born on December 10, 1867. In this city Mr. Smith grew to manhood and received his education in the local schools and on reaching manhood estate he entered the employe of the Burlington in the local machine shops, being engaged there for a great many years, later going to Havelock where he worked for some time. In late years Mr. Smith made his home at Beaver City, Nebraska, but on his health failing him he came to Lincoln and has made his home with a sister, Mrs. John Young, at whose home he passed away today.

Mr. Smith is survived by a daughter residing in California, one brother and three sisters, A. Baxter Smith of this city, Mrs. Charles Cummings of Omaha, Mrs. Flora Rivett of Ocean Park, Washington, and Mrs. John Young of Lincoln.

There will be a service held in the funeral chapel at Lincoln on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and the body will be brought here by auto hearse for interment, the cortege reaching the Oak Hill cemetery here at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon and where the committal services will be held.

PROTEST ON ROAD REGULATIONS

A number who have had occasion to travel over the south section of highway No. 75 are complaining very much over the regulations in force during the day while the dirt is being shouldered up to the paving along that section of the highway leading into the city. The road is closed to travel during the day and at night and on Sunday the road is open but during the hours when the road men are working on week days it is closed. The chief complaint is not at the closing of the road but the fact that the south portion of roadway has no closed signs or warnings and persons traveling over the road get well in toward the city before they find the closed sign at the north part of the paving and are compelled to go back and around considerable distance to reach Plattsmouth. They feel that the road should be closed at the south to save the traveler from all of this unnecessary journeying.

The closing of the road was made to prevent accidents while the grading is being done but evidently the matter of saving this annoyance to the travelers has been overlooked.

ASKS FOR INJUNCTION

From Wednesday's Daily— Suit was filed yesterday afternoon in the office of the clerk of the district court in which C. Lawrence Stull is the plaintiff and Chester L. Spidell is the defendant. In the action Mr. Stull asks that a permanent injunction be granted the plaintiff against the defendant, his employes or agents, preventing the defendants from interfering with Mr. Stull or his employes from entering the land farmed by Mr. Spidell, which is owned by the plaintiff Stull, to work, plow or cut weeds on the land on which a crop is now growing.
