Hold Enjoyable Family Reunion. On last Sunday at Epworth park at Lincoln, was held the second annual reunion of the Sturm family. There had been a first reunion one year ago and an organization effected with a complement of officers and committees. This second, was attended by some one hundred and eight members. The day on the section west of Beatrice was raining quite heavily during the forenoon, and the attendance which comprised of nearly sixty was cut off. A number of the family from Nehawka and vicinity were not able to be there for various reasons. However, the roster list was increased some forty members and now stands at about one hundred and fifty. All came prepared to eat and the dinner was spread in the dining hall of the park, which is commodious, and accommodated nearly all at the table, the others taking their plates, found convenient places on benches nearby, thus all were provided for. The feature of the day was the sociability of the members of the family. A program was had consisting of impromptu addresses by different members. A. F. Sturm, president, making the principle address which consisted in giving a history of the family, from when the forefathers of the family came from the old country, which was in Alsace Lorraine France, more than eighty years ago. Andrew Sturm, father of Henry Sturm and A. F. Sturm, came to America in 1854, and after remaining for a time earned an income, and the officers elected for the present year are A. F. Sturm, president, Nehawka; Stella Bandine, Lincoln, secretary, while the trustees were Fred Keichel, Johnson, Albert Paap, Lincoln, and A. F. Sturm of Nehawka.

Women Close Big Parley of Co-Operatives

Guild Conference Preceeds World Congress Assembling in Vienna

Vienna—Delegates from 20 different states attended the two days' congress of the International Co-operative Women's Guild, an independent organization of women co-operators, which closed here Aug. 22. The meetings were presided over by Frau Emmy Freundlich, who, in addition to being president of the guild is a vice-president of the European Economic Union and a deputy in the Australian Parliament.

Discussion disclosed the fact that the delegates wanted greater representation for women in business, particularly in the cooperative movement. Questions of motherhood and child welfare, with their consequent social and moral aspects, and cultural development, were also discussed.

Meanwhile discussion among the delegates who have arrived for the thirteenth congress of the International Cooperative Alliance, which convenes here Aug. 25, is directed mainly at proposed changes in the procedure of conducting the congresses. Steadily increasing expansion of the agenda has compelled the change and a new scheme has already been drawn up by the central committee.

In the main the proposals call for greater coordination in the technical relationships between member groups and the alliance. It is also urged that the time-table for the business proceedings of the congress should be extended to four full days of two sessions each, thus giving two additional sessions without an increase in the number of days. During the sittings of the congress no auxiliary meetings will be held and all social functions during the period will be entirely eliminated.

These proposals indicate that the central committee hopes to emphasize on delegates the need for utilizing the full time of the congress on the business affairs of the movement.

EAGLES HOLD PICNIC

Sunday the members of Plattsmouth of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held their annual picnic at Naevus park north of the Platt, they meeting with North Omaha series No. 38 in the happy and joyful occasion. The day was one that all enjoyed and the members of the order with their families and a few invited guests spent the day in the fine program of sports, the big picnic dinner and culminating in the dance in the evening.

One of the features of the day was the baseball game of the indoor variety which was staged between the two aeries and Plattsmouth for the third year won the pennant as the champion of the Eagles. The score was 19 to 12 for the Plattsmouth Eagles and Charles Miller proved a jinx to the Omaha players in the game by his hurling while the locals hit freely.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS PICNIC

From Monday's Daily—
The Sunday school of the St. Paul's Evangelical church held their annual picnic yesterday, the members of the school and a large group of the members of the church congregation driving to Riverview park at Omaha for the day's outing. The members of the jolly party enjoyed a large number of games during the day and at which a great deal of pleasure was derived. The members of the party came with well laden baskets and which provided the means of a fine dinner that all enjoyed to the utmost. It was late in the afternoon when the members of the picnic party returned home, voting it a most pleasant event in the social activities of the church.

ENJOY FAMILY REUNION

Sunday a reunion of the members of the O. S. Turner family was held at Elmwood at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Clements, the latter a daughter of Mr. Turner. The day was featured by a most delightful time in visiting and a general good time by the members of the party and with a fine dinner served at the noon hour, which was one of the rarest pleasures to all of the family. Those who enjoyed the occasion were: County Treasurer John E. Turner, wife and daughter, Dorothy Jean of Plattsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook and family of Alvo, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bothwell, daughter, Jean Adair, of Elmwood, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Turner of Marquette, Nebraska and the father, O. S. Turner of Elmwood.
