Death of Mrs. A. L. Todd of Ashland

Former Plattsmouth Resident Passes Away After Long Illness—Burial Here Tuesday.

The death of Mrs. A. L. Todd, for many years a resident of this community, occurred on Saturday evening, September 6th at 9:30 at the family home near Ashland where for many months Mrs. Todd had lingered, bearing with Christian fortitude the long and painful illness from which she has suffered. Mrs. Todd had been a sufferer from an internal cancer and which gradually took toll of her life until death brought her peace and rest, being at the time of death aged 62 years, 11 months and ten days.

Phildia Phillips was born September 18, 1867, at Conneaut, Ohio, where on December 19, 1894 she was united in marriage to A. L. Todd, they spending some years in that community. In 1904 the family returned to Plattsmouth where they resided on the farm near here until 1920 when they moved to Ashland and near where they have since made their home. Six years ago Mrs. Todd suffered a nervous breakdown and has never regained her health, continuing poorly until two years ago when another severe attack of the nervous malady led to her being sent to the Lincoln hospital where examinations disclosed her affliction of cancer.

The condition of Mrs. Todd had been very grave for several days and all of the members of her family circle were at her side when death came. There survives, the husband, A. L. Todd, one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Meisinger, one son, Chester Todd, all of Ashland, as well as several grandchildren, including Florence Schutz of this city.

In her life Mrs. Todd has been a faithful and earnest worker in the cause of the Master, being a member of the Christian church for over forty-five years and while a resident of this city she was very active in the church social and spiritual activities. Since removing to Ashland she has largely been attending the Methodist church.

CHILD SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Saturday evening shortly before 6 o'clock, Leroy Bushus, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bushus, met with a very serious accident while crossing Washington avenue near the residence of Fred Kunsman, he being struck by a passing auto and suffering the fracture of the left leg halfway between the knee and hip.

The lad had come down from his home on North Eighth street to look for his father and not finding him at the new athletic park, he had started home, crossing the avenue on his way to Eighth street. Just as he started across the avenue the sedan driven by Willard L. Hansel, coming from the west, swept out from the rear of another car at the same time that the car crossed the path of the car and while Mr. Hansel immediately applied the brakes of the car he was carried some distance, running into the boy and knocking him down. The lad was picked up by Mr. Hansel and hurried to the office of Dr. R. P. Westover where a temporary dressing was made until the boy could be sent to the hospital at Omaha to have the leg set. Mr. Hansel took the boy on to the University hospital at Omaha where the injured member was dressed and the patient made as comfortable as possible.

STEAL SLOT MACHINE

Lorraine Iske, special watchman at Nave park, north of this city, has lost his gum vending machine but he doesn't care much because his jaw is too sore to chew.

Late Saturday night, just as the park dance hall was closing, four men drove up to the front of the hall and, alighting from their car, descended upon Iske. Two men—the largest two, Iske said—seized him and one of them struck him on the jaw.

After a scuffle, the men climbed back into the car and drove on. Then Iske discovered a gum slot machine was missing. He climbed into his own car, he said, and gave chase. He did not overtake the men, however.

Sunday he was nursing his sore jaw. The slot machine contained "considerable" money, Iske reported. He asked South Omaha police to search for the bandits.

Many Here to Listen to Assault Cases

Hearing on Complaint in the Troop-Murray Case on for Greater Part of Day.

The residents of north of Nehawka from Tuesday's Daily—
In the locality where both the W. O. Troop and Edward Murray families reside were here today to hear the evidence offered in the complaint against Mr. Murray for assault and also a peace bond and against Mr. Troop for a peace bond.

The county court where the hearing was held was packed to suffocation with the neighbors and acquaintances of the two parties in the case and it was very difficult for anyone to gain entrance to the court for the ordinary routine business, while Judge Duxbury was holding court.

There were but two witnesses in the assault case, that of the complainant Mr. Troop and the defendant, Mr. Murray. Their stories were radically different as to the facts in the case and the matter purely resolved into just what view the court might take of the evidence of the two men.

Both Mr. Troop and Mr. Murray were alone when the alleged assault occurred on the highway north of Nehawka on the afternoon of September 1st.

The story told by Mr. Troop was that Murray had passed him while on the way home and parked his car across the roadway, stopping at the Troop car and had then came back to the car of Mr. Troop with an iron bar in his hand and threatened him as well as cursing him. Troop had got out of the car and started to try and get away when he was hit by an iron bar in the hands of Mr. Murray, inflicting injuries on his head, face and body. After hitting him several times, Troop stated, Murray had gotten in his car and started for home.

On the affair given by Mr. Murray was radically different, he claiming that Troop had driven from Nehawka ahead of him and had driven back and forth across the road and prevented Murray passing him, finally blocking the road with his car. Mr. Murray stated that Troop had gotten out of his car and came to the Murray car carrying a bar of iron and threatening Murray, calling him names. Murray had tried to get Troop away and Troop had fallen against the car during the mix up. Murray had finally taken the bar of iron away from Troop and who had then attacked him with his fists and they had exchanged several blows. Troop being hit in the case and he striking Murray also several times.

On the examination both men denied the story of each other as the facts in the case.

This afternoon the hearing of the application of Edward Murray for a peace bond against Mr. Troop was to come up and Judge Duxbury reserved his decision in the case until both had been threshed out before the court.

NEED OF CLOTHING FELT

Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans, secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross and county probation officer, whose work is among the needy and unfortunate to a greater or less extent in the Red Cross activities, is making an urgent appeal to the residents of the community for clothing and shoes of all kinds.

The greatest need at this time is for children's clothing and shoes in order to try and assist the unfortunate children in getting prepared and attending school. It is desired to have all kinds of clothing or shoes donated in order that they may be used to aid cases where very needed.

Mrs. Rosencrans has disposed of practically all of the clothing that has been donated in the past and the present season and the approach of winter points to need of a great deal more relief work than last year.

The clothing desired is articles that are wearable and can be used at once, no clothing should be sent that is not in shape to be worn or is entirely beyond being used.

Parties having clothing that may be used may call Mrs. Rosencrans and she will have them called for or they may be sent to the Coronado apartment where they can be held until disposed of.

Jack Sherwood to Have Fox Farm at Nebr. City

Former Resident Here to Launch New Industry in the Fall—Has Attended Fox Schools.

A silver fox ranch stocked with Milligan and Morrison breeders is in the making. A deal was closed a few weeks ago which will result in the establishment of this new industry in Nebraska City, says the Nebraska City News-Press, which industry is becoming of real importance in many parts of the state and country.

The ranch will be under the supervision of the Milligan Morrison associated firm but will be owned and operated by Jack Sherwood, former resident of Plattsmouth and brother of Herbert Sherwood, who has been interested in silver fox breeding for the past six years. Mr. Sherwood has attended the school of this firm at Idaho Falls, Wyo., each year for the past four years and has just returned from his final course of three weeks with a diploma. His school work consisted of courses in chemical ration, fur tests, body tests, balanced rations of food and teeth.

Milligan and Morrison require each caretaker pass examination following a course of instruction and also have practical experience before he is awarded a diploma or a contract to care for the animals. Mr. Sherwood, the Nebraska City representative already has several animals in pens at Log Cabin, Colo.

The new ranch will be situated on 16 acres of ground at the foot of Sixteenth street, the Frank Marnell property which has been purchased by Mr. Sherwood. He will have possession of the land October 1 and it is his plan to erect a temporary residence on the farm and immediately begin the supervision of the building of the pens. The first of March Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood will make their permanent residence there.

This fall 20 pens will be built and stocked with the animals. In the spring 20 more will be constructed and the fall of 1931 Mr. Sherwood plans to build an additional 20. From time to time after that pens will be built to accommodate the increasing number of animals. The ranch will be on a running basis about November 15 when the first 20 pairs of foxes will be shipped to their new home.

Milligan and Morrison, who operate over 400 associated ranches in the United States and Canada and who control Prince Edward islands in Canada, are located at Denver, Colo. Under their supervision these associated stations are guided by their 22 years of experience as fur traders in Alaska and as originators and breeders of one of the only two strains of silver foxes recognized and registered by the Canadian government. The animals that enter pens operated under the Milligan Morrison name must test 92.5 per cent perfect by a government standard.

Mr. Sherwood is enthusiastic about the new ranch and will devote most of his time to the ranch but will not give up the shoe shop which he has operated in Nebraska City for the past several years. He plans on competent help to care for the city business while he devotes his time to the farm.
