Hans Christensen, the genial Unionite, was called to Murray on last Monday where he went to see his family physician regarding the condition of his health.

George A. Stites and his right hand man, John Erwin, are giving the office of the elevator a good painting. They have not the job completed but expect to soon.

Henry H. Becker was looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Monday, he driving over to the big city to secure some repairs for an auto on which he was working.

Robert L. Propst who is visiting at the home of his son, A. W. Propst and family at Nebraska City, was a brief visitor in Union on last Tuesday while on his way to Plattsmouth and Walston.

Mont Robb was feeling quite poorly for a number of days last week, and was confined to his home and bed for a number of days. However, he is able to be out again and is showing some improvement.

Mrs. L. R. Upton and daughter, Sara, were over to Lincoln the first of this week where they were making arrangements for a place for Miss Sara to live during her attending at the state university this year.

Miss Jane Robb who will attend school at the state university at Lincoln this winter, came down for a few days to assist her aunt, Miss Augusta Robb at the post office during the illness of the grandfather.

Miss Jane Robb of Lincoln, entertained last week for a few days a number of her friends, who were visiting the state fair, they being Misses Nola Banning, Louise Foster, and Helen James of Union, Leora Giles, Ruth Madison of Wyoming, and Miss Beatrice Kropp of Lincoln. The young ladies enjoyed an excellent visit.

Will Engage in Farming.

On Monday of this week Noah Parker who has made his home in Union for the past several years, moved to Cedar Creek where he will make his home for the present and will with the coming of the next spring, engage in farming near that place.

Meets With Severe Accident.

While Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Becker were returning from the state fair late last week, and were driving along about five miles west of Union they having been up since early in the morning and this being rather late, Mr. Becker being quite sleepy, dropped into a ditch and the car he was driving veered into a ditch by the road side near the Pollard Bros. farm, throwing Mrs. Becker, who on the side near the bank, against the car so that her back, hips and body were severely bruised and sprained.

The ditch was so that they could drive out as they were going down grade and they were able to come home. However, as Mrs. Becker had her arm out of the window of the car, the arm as well as her back and hips was quite severely injured.

Mrs. Becker was compelled to keep her bed for a number of days but was able to get up and stand up on Tuesday morning of this week. She seemed to feel better when she stood up straight but is still very sore and suffers from the bruises and strains much.

Mr. Becker is also considerably bruised and sore from the jolt but not as much as the wife as she was on the lower side when the impact came. It is hoped that they will both be better soon.

Makes Trip to Oklahoma.

On last Sunday morning Frank Bauer and Mrs. Harold Nickles and daughter, Deede and Bettie Jean, accompanying him, departed for Ponca City, Oklahoma, Frank going for a visit and the remainder of the party returning home a week after having visited here for some time. Mr. Bauer will return this week and will be accompanied by Mr. Nickles who will visit a short time and take his daughter, home who is visiting here now. While they are away, John B. Roddy was looking after the harness and shoe shop.

Enjoyed Pleasant Vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rihn who were away for a number of days taking their annual vacation, returned on Tuesday of last week, and while away enjoyed visiting many of their friends as well as seeing much country which they had not seen before. They first went to Plattsmouth where they visited for a time, then visited in Omaha with friends and later at Glenwood, Iowa, following this they went via Council Bluffs to Missouri Valley, crossing into Nebraska on the new auto bridge and went to Fremont where they visited, and from there to other towns, returning via Lincoln. They enjoyed the visit very much and later last Sunday were guests of friends in Glenwood, Iowa.

Union Bank is Victim of Smooth Sneak Thief

Some Person Entering Bank During Working Hours Makes Away With $240 in Cash.

The vault of the Bank of Union was recently damaged by burglars but the cash in the vault was not harmed, but the bank is now shy some $240 in cash as the result of the operation of a sneak thief who carried the money out while the bank was operating in the regular routine of business.

The cash was in the drawer of the desk along the grating separating the banking room from the main room of the bank and disappeared in a very few moments, while C. B. Smith, assistant cashier, was in the vault. The person taking the money had evidently sized up the situation as at the time W. B. Banning, the cashier, was out of town and Hallas Banning, who was assisting Mr. Smith had been called out on the street on some business. Mr. Smith had gone into the vault to look up some records and finding it necessary to use a small ladder to get the records down from a shelf and while he was on the ladder, a space of only a few brief minutes, the money disappeared. Mr. Smith returning to the main banking room noticed the wicket in front of the teller's window open and the drawer open as well as a $100 bill lying on the floor and discovered that the bank was shy the amount of $240 that had been pilfered.

The person pulling the crime was very smooth and a quick worker as the short space of time Mr. Smith was absent required quick work to get the money and escape.

The county officers have had a suspect under observation and for questioning but without result, as the party denied any knowledge of the crime and so far there has been no definite proof of his possession of the funds also it is claimed that the party was in the bank, at or near the time the money was taken.

Miss Mildred Waldo who is making her home in Omaha where she is employed, was an over week end visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Waldo, returning to her work on last Monday morning.

Edward Murray was a visitor in Plattsmouth for a portion of last week and also a portion of this week, he working on the wrecking of the former Straight building which is being razed for the purpose of building a modern filling station.

Robert Troop a family were visiting for a short time in Plattsmouth on last Saturday night, going to see Mr. W. O. Troop, who has been kept in his bed at the home of Robert Troop sr., of Plattsmouth since his injury early last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirkpatrick and the family who make their home in Dallas, Texas, arrived in Nehawka on Tuesday of this week coming to visit with the mother of Mrs. E. A. Kirkpatrick, who has been in not the very best of health for some time. It is hoped she will soon be able to be about again and enjoying better health.

Dan Anderson, who is a real dirt farmer, and knows how to use corn under adverse circumstances, has some corn this year, notwithstanding it was torrid weather for some time during July. As evidence that he knows how to grow corn he has just spent six hundred dollars for a corn picking machine with which he will harvest his crop this fall.

H. H. Stoll, Glen Rutledge and J. E. Woods were over to Cedar Creek on last Friday where they went to fish, and being as persistent as they could for a long time they caught nothing, but finally Ed captured a good sized fish species unknown, was wandering around on the land, and in order to capture it, they had to climb it over the back with a fence post and broke its back, which made it unsafe to eat. However, later they, or Glen, caught four bass.

Wm. Obernault has just completed the plastering of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Berger which is drying now and will in a short time be ready for the finishing of the wood work on the interior. The painting of the outside is going forward and when the interior wood-work shall have been completed, will be ready for the painters and decorators. Mr. Berger speaks very highly of the work which has been done on the building, carpentering, mason work, plastering and painting.

Former Governor Visits Here. Hon. George P. Sheldon, former governor of Nebraska, and who has made his home in the south for the past fifteen years, was called home on account of the death of his brother, Frank P. Sheldon, whose funeral occurred on Thursday of last week. It has been some time since Governor Sheldon was here and he remained for a short time to visit with his many friends and departed for his home at Jackson, Mississippi, on last Monday morning.

Business House Changes Hands. The cafe and eating house which has been conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lancaster in the Sutphin building, was disposed of by Mr. and Mrs. Everett to Benn Allen and wife whom it will be remembered some three years ago conducted the Nehawka hotel for a short time. They have made their home at Nebraska City since and come from there to Nehawka. They will conduct a cafe at this stand, having already taken charge of the place.

Churches Get New Pastor. With the resignation of Rev. H. D. Knoblock who has been the pastor of the United Brethren church, both at Nehawka and north of town, to accept a call to Wymore and Beatrice, to which he will go during the latter portion of this week, the position of the scriptures and very devoted in her work and an eloquent speaker, and we are certain she will make a success of the calling.

Rev. Murdoch is a young woman of great ability, very close student of the scriptures and very devoted in her work and an eloquent speaker, and we are certain she will make a success of the calling.

Was Friend of Major Andree. Incident to the finding of the body of Major Andree, the arctic explorer who lost his life some thirty-three years ago, Oscar Nelson, who makes his home in Nehawka, recalled of the time when in Sweden he and Major Andree lived directly across the street from each other and attended the same school when they were boys, and recalled very vividly when the Major sailed away in his balloon, though Mr. Nelson was not there at the time. Many years have passed since then but Mr. Nelson recalls the time when they were boys together.

Family Reunion. Sunday, August 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Griffin, Lincoln, Nebraska, the Griffin family reunion was held.

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Eddy and daughter, Dorothy, of Ottumwa, here visiting with Mr. Eddy's sister, Mrs. E. M. Griffin of Plattsmouth and Mrs. J. L. Griffin of Lincoln.

A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed by all and after spending an enjoyable afternoon the visitors all left for their respective homes.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Eddy and Dorothy of Ottumwa, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Griffin and family of Union; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Griffin and daughter of Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Carper and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Meisinger and son of Murray; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller and family of Nehawka.

Frank Pollard Sheldon. Sunday afternoon, August 31, 1930, at 5 o'clock at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha, Frank Sheldon, one of the widest known men of the whole community passed on to his reward. His passing was a great shock to everyone, as the short illness which he suffered for one week before his death. He was then taken to Omaha and an operation was performed to give him one slender chance of life.

Frank Pollard Sheldon was born in Nehawka, Nebraska, October 11, 1866, on the old Sheldon homestead which stands only a few rods from the home in which he has lived since his marriage. He was the third child and eldest son of Lawson and Julia Ann Pollard Sheldon. They were among the pioneers who left homes in the east to enter into an untamed land in the west in order that they might transform it into productive fields and wrest from it a more abundant life for themselves and their prosperity. The hard labors, the stoicism, the faith which was theirs to accomplish was imbedded into the very hearts of their sons and daughters. Indeed they assumed their full share of the adversities of pioneering. It was perhaps because of his intimate acquaintance with the trials of pioneering and his observation of the struggles of others that Frank Sheldon was such a sympathetic friend to others. It is doubtful if any other man of the community was held in more esteem than he and certainly he was the confidant and adviser of a host of friends who will sorely miss him now.

Mr. Sheldon received his education in the school of Nehawka. In 1888 when he was twenty years of age he built with the help of his father, the first store in the village and established the general merchandise business which until the time of his death he operated so successfully, making it one of the leading stores of the county. It was perhaps chiefly through this store that he gained the large acquaintance he had and it was because of his fair dealings with all that he merited the very general confidence placed upon his judgment and advice.

In 1891 he married Miss Emma Banning, also a resident of Nehawka, a most charming and helpful companion. To this union was born one daughter, Isadore (Mrs. Marion Tucker) who with her husband resides with her mother.

Mr. Sheldon early identified himself with all enterprises for the growth and improvement of the community. He served on the school board of this district for a period of thirty years. He has seen the school develop from an ungraded district school to a consolidated school comprising three districts and giving advantages to its pupils undreamed of a generation ago.

He has not only always favored, but has given largely of his time and influence and money to bring about any improvements in roads and buildings of the community. He was one of the men responsible for the erection of the Nehawka Auditorium, a civic and social center for the community. He was a large stockholder in the Nehawka bank and at the time of his death was its president.

He served Nehawka as postmaster under two administrations. The first commission was granted on the 16th of February, 1892 from John Wanamaker, Postmaster General under the administration of Benjamin Harrison. The second commission was dated the 27th of August, 1897, by James A. Gary, Postmaster General under the administration of McKinley.

He was an active lodge member, serving each organization faithfully. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, the Ancient Order of United Workmen and Modern Woodmen of America. He was a charter member of the Rebekah lodge. When the Masonic lodge was organized in 1901 his name was on the charter list. He was a member of Lincoln Consistory No. 2 Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite and of Senosities Temple Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Nehawka, as a community owes much to Mr. Sheldon. In the same efficient manner in which he has operated his farms and his store has been ready to render service for all enterprises of the town. His leadership will be greatly missed. But above all this, it was in his capacity of friend and adviser in which he was supreme. Men had respect for his opinions and confidence in his judgment. It must have been a source of great pleasure to him that he was so respected by his fellow men. He who has gained the love and respect of his fellow men has lived a useful life.

Besides his wife and daughter he leaves to mourn his passing one sister, Mrs. B. Wolph of Nehawka; two brothers George L. of Jackson, Mississippi and Vilas P. of Nehawka; also Anne Peterson Marshall who made her home with the family from childhood, of Fort Lupton, Colorado.

Harking Back to the 'Good Old Days' of 1900

Some Things the Technicians Found Out when They Started to Film "The Florodora Girl."

Two modern writers went back thirty years for atmosphere for "The Florodora Girl." Marion Davies big starring vehicle which comes to the Ritz talking screen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 14-15-16th.

They were Gene Markey, who wrote the original story, and Ralph Spence, who contributed additional dialogue to the screen play. Harry Beaumont directed, with Lawrence Gray playing opposite the star and the supporting cast includes Walter Catlett, Louis John Bartels, Nance O'Neil, Sam Hardy, Claude Allister, Vivian Oakland and Iika Chase.

And here are some of the things the technicians discovered when getting ready to film this great epic of thirty years ago:

Cost Much More Than Husbands who think their wives spend too much money for clothes, might be interested to know that it costs fifteen times as much to dress a Florodora girl of 1900 as it does a modern flapper of the present day. This was discovered No. 1 made by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer people in supplying costumes for "The Florodora Girl."

Football Different, Too Football, too, as played by the catch-as-catch-can rules of 1900 was greatly different from the modern-day game. Nose-guards, shoulder pads and other formidable protective accessories were included in uniform equipment, and it was necessary to dig up some of the old apparatus for use by members of the University of Southern California football squad for use in the "big game" scenes in "The Florodora Girl."

These are just a few of the obstacles that lay in the path of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer property men before everything was ready to begin filming the picture. It is said to be Marion Davies' greatest screen triumph.

The football sequence supplies hilarious motivation to the comedy plot which centers about the romances of the Florodora sextette girls.

The Ritz will show it three days—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—with a Sunday afternoon matinee.

Rauth Family Reunion. Last Sunday Sept. 7th at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glauwitz in Otoe county, gathered some sixty members of John Rauth and Anna Grauf, long deceased.

Out among the large oaks that are on this farm Mr. Glauwitz provided a long table, which was spread from well filled baskets, and of which all enjoyed to the utmost.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and renewing relationships. Those who participated in this pleasant event were: Mrs. Frank Grauf, Mrs. August Glauwitz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stander and daughters, Lena and Lillian, Mr. Wm. Rauth and daughter, Theresa, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glauwitz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kohrvald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Honer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erhart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glauwitz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Brien and family, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Rauth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stander and family, Mrs. Bertha Kelly and family, Mrs. Geo. Stall and son, Francis, and Miss Patton, lady friend of Mr. Raymond Glauwitz.

George E. Moreland departed this morning on the early Burlington train for Omaha where he will visit for a few hours attending to some business matters.
