Everyone is Urged to Attend and Hear the State Issues Discussed

Nehawka

C. D. Keltner has been employed as night watchman at the oil well property, and says he likes his work fine.

I. M. Davis and wife of Lincoln were visiting with their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Milburn and family for over the week end.

Julien Petersen and wife of Nebraska were here a few days since and were visiting with Grandmother Mary Mast for a few days.

R. E. Morse of Union, was in Nehawka and filling the gasoline tanks of Olaf Lundberg with products of the Standard Oil Co., which he handles.

W. O. Troop and family were guests for the day on last Sunday and for a very fine dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wehrlein.

Sheriff Bart Reed of Plattsmouth was looking after some business matters in Nehawka on Monday morning of this week, and was serving some papers.

Mrs. W. T. Johnson, sister of Julien Jay Fogard, who has been visiting here for the past week, returned to her home at Pawnee City on last Monday morning.

George Troop and Carl Christwiser were over to Lincoln as well as was Anderson Lloyd where they all attended the Nebraska-Texas football game on last Saturday.

Mrs. Z. W. Shradar was a visitor in Plattsmouth for a short time on last Friday where she was guest of her friends and also was looking after some business matters while there.

Roy Gregg and the family who were attending the church convention which was held last week at York, enjoyed the meeting very much and returned home on last Sunday night.

Dan Anderson and Roy Harshman both purchased and received a new corn picker, which were delivered on Monday of this week, they getting the new labor saving machines from J. J. Pollard.

Uncle Charles Philipot who is well over eighty years of age, went to the western portion of the state where he is looking after the construction of a fence on his farm in Custer county.

Mrs. Albert Wolfe and daughter, Miss Gladys were visiting with friends and also looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Monday. Albert was looking after the work at the exchange.

Mark Burton and the family moved the latter portion of last week to the house where J. W. Magney and family formerly resided before they built their new home and which is now owned by V. P. Sheldon.

Last Monday, Robert D. Taylor was assisting in the transportation of the hogs of Harry Knabe which he was bringing to town for the sale which was held on Tuesday of this week, and which was conducted in the Hicks sales pavilion. See the results of the sale elsewhere in this issue.

Verner Schumaker, son of Fred Schumaker who is attending the state university and who is a member of the university band, in the examination in the Thomas A. Edison test, ranked second in Nebraska, which considering the great amount of contestants makes an excellent showing.

Frank Trotter, to properly care for his truck which serves him so well as an investment and for making a living, is building a home for the faithful partner in his daily vocation. The structure is just east of the old livery barn, and between that and the home of the horses of Julius Ruchman.

On Monday of this week Mrs. E. H. Wescott of Plattsmouth arrived in Nehawka and joined Mrs. Marion Tucker, they departing from here for Lincoln, where they took a train for Alliance, they being delegates from Cass county to the state convention of Women's clubs which are meeting in that city this week.

Mrs. Frank Leman was in attendance at the Cass County Bible School guest of honor and made her welcome on this, her first visit here.

Have Much Better Year.
During that portion of the year 1930 the Nehawka Farmers Oil company from January 1st, 1930, as compared with the same period of the year 1929, showed an increase in their business of 34 per cent. As the business had grown very nicely during the first year and there was distributed over sixteen per cent of the business, during 1929, there being six per cent on the stock, and ten per cent on the business done, they were well satisfied, but when this period of the year shows a gain of 34 per cent, they are all more than satisfied. This is especially pleasing to the officers and the management as the company was new and were fighting for an existence. The board of directors at the meeting passed a resolution for the installing of another tank so there would be more storage room, as under the present circumstances the capacity has been scarcely enough and with the increased business it was found necessary to increase the storage capacity.

Sells Many Radios.
Olaf Lundberg has been disposing of a number of radios of late, in time for the world series and the football games as well as for the entire years of amusement and entertainment and for all other useful news. Those to secure the latest in radio and Mr. Lundberg will tell you what it is, are Mark Burton and Oscar Shradar of Nehawka, and Glen Whitehead of Plattsmouth.

Hampshire Boars for Sale.
We have some very nice Hampshire Boars and ready for service for sale. Pollard Brothers, Nehawka. See sign on O Street road. 02-2tw

Rin-Tin-Tin is Starred in Thrilling Photoplay

"The Lone Defender," New Mascot All-Talking Picture is Rinty's Latest Production.

"The Lone Defender," Rin-Tin-Tin's newest all-talking picture, which will be shown locally at the Ritz theatre, Plattsmouth, Neb., Friday and Saturday Oct. 10th and 11th, is a melodramatic mystery story of the modern West.

This serial, which will be shown at the Ritz theatre every Friday and Saturday, is in twelve parts. The first installment, "The Mystery of the Desert," which will be shown this week, will introduce Rin-Tin-Tin for the first time in a serial production.

The story of "The Lone Defender" concerns the difficulties of a girl, whose father has been murdered, to save her gold mine from the mysterious and elusive Cactus Kid, who is endeavoring to steal it from her. Laid on the great American desert and the Mexican border, the plot provides unusual opportunities for the varied talents of the screen's greatest dog star. In fact, Lee Duncan, owner and trainer of Rin-Tin-Tin, is of the opinion that so much action and so many thrills have never before been incorporated in any of this accomplished canine's productions.

In addition to Rin-Tin-Tin, the cast of "The Lone Defender" includes several well-known and popular stars. Walter Miller and June Marlow play the leading roles. Buzz Barton, the youngster who has won so wide a following for his harrowing western parts, has another important role. Josef Swickard, Frank Lanning, Lee Shunway, Bob Kortman, Lefe McKee, and Arthur Morrison are among the others. The production was personally directed by Richard Thorpe under the supervision of Nat Levine.

"The Lone Defender" was written especially for Rin-Tin-Tin by William Presley Burt, Harry Fraser and Beverly Cohen. Cohen and Burt wrote the dialogue.

It will appeal to every patron even though not usually interested in chapter plays.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

The death of Mrs. James O'Neill, former resident of this city, occurred late Monday night at the family home in Council Bluffs following a short illness. The funeral services were held this morning at that place and the body laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery at Council Bluffs.

Mrs. O'Neill was formerly Miss Anna Mockenhaupt of this city and where she spent her childhood days but has largely made her home in the Iowa City since her marriage. She was a sister of Mrs. Joseph Kelly and Chris Mockenhaupt of this city and also is survived by two other brothers, John and Henry Mockenhaupt.

The members of the family from this city were at Council Bluffs today to attend the last rites.

Mrs. R. B. Hayes and Mrs. F. L. Barkus were among the local members of the Methodist missionary society who were in Omaha today to attend the meeting of the society.

Enjoyed Happy Gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Williams were greatly pleased to have their old time friend and neighbor, when they lived near Bonesteel, South Dakota, but who are engaged in the baking business at Geneva, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mohare, drop in on them, last Saturday evening and being accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of Lincoln. The occasion was made the more enjoyable when on the following day, Sunday, their daughters, Misses Cassie and Vera Williams, and Dorothy Flynn and Joseph Vance came adding life and vivacity to the gathering.

Reports Son Improving.

Mrs. Isaac Reed who has been in Omaha since the injury of her son, Lyle, when he was accidentally shot, which was some nearly two weeks since, was with his improvement able to get away and ran down home for the night on last Tuesday, and reported that the son was getting nicely now and that hopes are entertained that he will be able to return home in a few days if he continues to improve.

Hans Johnson Improving.

Hans Johnson who suffered the severe injury of getting his knee so badly cut, and who was compelled to go to the hospital for treatment, is making some very fine advances in the improvement and is hoping soon to be able to return home again and with the leg in fine shape for the physicians are promising that the knee will not be stiff.
