Platters Drop Game to Falls City Gridsters

Southeastern Title Holders Roll Up a Score of 32 to 0 Against Local Team

From Saturday's Daily—
The heavy and aggressive football machine of Falls City high school, under the pilotage of "Jug" Brown, had little trouble in disposing of the Plattsmouth team yesterday on the Falls City grounds, the crippled Platters forming but little opposition to the smashing and tricky plays of the Richardson county team, the score at the close being 32 to 0 for the Orangemen.

The Falls City team is recognized as one of the best in the east part of the state, heavy and carry a large number of clever plays to back up their weight and power. The passing combination of Margrave to Kink in Falls City line up also was a factor in their winning.

Captain Hartford of Plattsmouth won the toss and chose the south goal, giving the visitors the advantage of a brisk wind.

Allen kicked off 50 yards to Dew who returned 11 yards to the Plattsmouth 21 yard line. Wiles hit left guard for 3 yards. Dew punted to Kink on Falls City's 40 yard line. King returning 10 yards to mid field. Grant ripped through left tackle for seven yards. Yoder cracked the same spot for 2 yards. Grant fumbled but the Orange recovered for no gain. Margrave plowed through center for 2 yards and a first down on the Plattsmouth 39 yard line. Yoder picked up 1 yard at left guard. Grant sashed through right tackle for 1 yard. Grant was stopped for no gain through the line.

Yoder made it a first and 10 on the Plattsmouth 27 yard line. Grant failed to gain on a line smash. Falls City took the center. Yoder hit left mid field, returning 15 yards to the Plattsmouth 35 yard line. Yoder's line plunge netted a yard. Yoder was spilled for a 6 yard loss. Begley replaced Wiles at right half for Plattsmouth.

Allen took Margrave's pass in the tip of his fingers for a 14 yard gain. Schober replaced Yoder at quarterback for Falls City. Grant broke loose for 16 yards and a first down on the 10 yard line. King hit right tackle for 5 yards. Margrave speared through center for 2 more. Yoder crashed center for 1 yard. Valch dropped Grant for a yard loss and Plattsmouth took the ball on downs on its 2 yard line.

Dew's pass to Hartford was incomplete. Grenwald replaced Griffith at center. Dew's punt was blocked. Two Falls City men dropping on the ball behind the goal line for a touch-down. Score, Falls City, 31, Plattsmouth, 0.

Grant plunged through for the extra point. Score, Falls City 32, Plattsmouth, 0.

Thomas, Wier, Sauer, Clark and Bullock went in the Falls City lineup. Lang kicked off to Frady on the Plattsmouth 20 yard line. Frady returning 14 yards to the 34 yard line. R. Hinz forward pass, to Dew was incomplete. Wertz replaced Margrave for the Orangemen. R. Hinz' long pass to Hartford was intercepted by Lang on the Orange 47 yard line. Wertz picked up a yard at left tackle as the game ended with Falls City in possession on the Orange 48 yard line. Final score, Falls City 32, Plattsmouth 0.

JOHN GALLOWAY INJURED

From Thursday's Daily—
John Galloway, end, but who has been playing tackle on the high school football team since the injury of Gilbert Hinz, was added to the hospital list of the blue and white yesterday afternoon. Galloway was injured in the scrimmage with the reserves and as the result had the ligaments of the left ankle torn and injured and which is so severe that he is confined to his bed for a few days and will be unable to take part in the Falls City game at that place Friday.

The injury list will cause the blue and white to present a very much battered team against Jug Brown's crew on Friday when they journey to Falls City, but the injuries of Wiles and Hinz should be improved so that they can participate in the Ashland game on October 17th at the dedication of the new stadium, but in the case of Galloway it will require rest of the injured ankle to permit him being in the lineup.

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Palmer and family of this city departed for Afton, Iowa, where they will join in the golden wedding anniversary of the parents of Mr. Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. The many friends of the Palmer family here will join in their congratulations to the bridal couple of fifty years ago on this most happy occasion.

RENOMINATE JUDGE GRAVES

From Friday's Daily—
The democratic caucus at the court house last evening took up the matter of the nomination of the only purely local office that will be voted on this fall, that of the police magistrate of the city. For this office the democrats renominate Judge Charles L. Graves, who has served most acceptably in this office for the last few years, altho the Judge is a republican politically he has shown signs of conversion and which led the democrats in recognition of his good work in the office to renominate him. This will assure the election of Judge Graves to the office of police judge for the ensuing two years.

Glen Valley Farm Visited by Robbers

Harness, Fly Nets and Horse Collars Taken With Other Articles—Loss Is $200.

From Friday's Daily—
This morning when Glen Valley, well known farmer, residing just north of the city on highway No. 75, arose to start in on the day's labors, he found that his barn had been visited during the night and that two sets of harness, practically new, as well as three sets of fly nets and eight horse collars had been purloined from the barn as well as other articles and the total amount of the loot was in the neighborhood of $200.

Mr. Vallery has been made the target for more or less invasion of robbers and thieves for the past few months, suffering the loss of grain at different times as well as other articles that have disappeared from the farm without the knowledge or consent of the owner.

The officers as well as Mr. Vallery have maintained watch to try and find the party taking the stuff from the farm but have so far been unsuccessful, but the latest deprecation may lead to the uncovering of the person or persons who have been looting the farm.

Mr. Vallery stated today that he would give $50 for the apprehension and punishment of the person who had been robbing him, regardless of whether or not the loot was recovered.

VISITS OLD HOME

From Thursday's Daily—
Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Carl Humphrey and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Elster of Omaha, taking advantage of the beautiful moonlight October evening, motored down from their home to visit in the city where Mr. Humphrey and Mrs. Elster were born and where Dr. Elster started his work in the dental profession. They drove over the city and were much impressed with the improvements in the appearance of the city, the clean and well lighted streets and the up to date appearance of the business section. While here they were callers at the C. C. Wescott home and which had a very sentimental significance for Dr. and Mrs. Elster. Some thirty-two years ago the Elsters were married here and at that time C. E. Wescott had built the home at Seventh and Main streets and the newly weds were the first occupants, in fact Mr. Wescott had the house built on the plans prepared by Dr. Elster and it was here that the first years of their wedded life were spent and here their son, Richard Elster, himself now married and living in St. Louis, was born. For them the trip brought many happy memories of the long ago and the days of their youth.

ENJOY A FINE TIME

Plattsmouth residents in large numbers enjoyed the dinner and supper served at the Lewiston community center Thursday, a delegation of the members of the retail section of the Chamber of Commerce driving down at noon for their luncheon while in the evening a very large number motored out for the evening meal. The dinner and supper was one that was all that could be desired in the way of a real feast of the good things from the Nebraska farms and those who attended felt amply repaid for their efforts.

The Lewiston band served to entertain in the afternoon and evening with a program of very fine selections while an auction sale was held also that proved most interesting to the residents of the community.

WILL UNDERGO TREATMENT

From Thursday's Daily—
Miss Vestetta Robertson departed this morning for Omaha where she will enter the Methodist hospital at that place for treatment. Miss Robertson having been suffering for some time from an affliction of the thyroid. It is hoped that the course of treatment will give the patient permanent relief and permit her restoration to her former good health.

Golden Wedding of Well Known People

Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Worley, Long in Service of Methodist Church—Mrs. Worley Born Here

Devotion to an ideal for christian service that led them to points as remote as Kin Kiang and Chin Kiang in China and brought them as near home as a score of communities in Nebraska is the record of the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas H. Worley, who on Sunday, Sept. 28, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day at Omaha.

In the morning, one of their sons, Carl, who is a banker at inland, and his family accompanied the couple to the First Methodist church, where the decorations were two large bouquets of golden flowers, the gift of the daughter, the three sons, and the eleven grand children, and where the Rev. C. B. Hankins expressed the congratulations of his congregation. Dinner was enjoyed at the Carl Worley home.

In the evening, at church once more, the Rev. Mr. Hankins asked the honored couple to come to the rostrum, and the entire congregation came forward to offer congratulations.

For several months the anniversary day has loomed large in the plans of the Worley family.

Mr. Worley's wife, Mrs. T. H. Worley, nee Harriet, who was born in China, and the youngest son, Lloyd, were home simultaneously for a visit with their parents. The former is the wife of the Rev. T. E. Ashby, D. D., pastor of the first Congregational church, which is the Bowdoin College church, at Brunswick, Maine, while the latter is pastor of the First Methodist Church of Norwalk, Conn., a church of 750 members.

The oldest son, Earl a veterinarian, who runs a pet hospital in Pasadena, Calif., was unable to attend the series of reunions that preceded the golden wedding day. He is planning on a two months' visit from his parents this winter. And very likely he will not be disappointed, for a trip of several thousand miles means little to these veteran travelers, who have journeyed completely around the world, gone into Old Mexico, made an extended trip through his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary of the union.

Only last August, they took an automobile trip of 1,300 miles into Colorado, with Mr. Worley acting as sole chauffeur, though he will celebrate his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary this month, and his wife is 71.

Trip Round World in 1882.

The trip around the world was begun in 1882 from San Francisco. After a brief stop in Japan, the young couple went on to China where they devoted themselves to mission work for nearly three years. No well organized language schools trained foreign missionaries then as now, native teachers came daily for a year to the Worley home to train the newcomers in the language. Actual mission work was of an evangelistic nature.

The Worleys started home in 1884. The Straits Settlement, the Suez canal, Gibraltar, Ireland, England were unforgettable adventures. One point of interest in London that has recently become particularly significant to the Worley family was the old Bunn-Hill-Fields burying ground, where are buried John Bunn, Daniel Defoe, and Susanna Wesley, among other notables. Recently the Worleys have learned that their earliest ancestor, of whom there is record, lived in London in the days of Oliver Cromwell and was buried in Bunn-Hill-Fields, which was then in the suburbs of London and is now in the heart of the city.

Early Student of Uni.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Worley are of English origin. The former was born in Vermillion county, Illinois, in 1852 and came to Nebraska with his father, the Rev. George Worley, in 1867—the year in which Nebraska became a state. Mrs. Worley was born in 1858 two miles from Plattsmouth. Her father, Brand Cole, settled in Nebraska in 1854, named the town of Plattsmouth, and was a member of the territorial legislature.

Mr. Worley was a student at Nebraska State University back in the days when there were no fraternities—and no athletics. He has the distinction of winning the first contest of any sort that was ever put on at that institution. It was an extracurricular contest planned by the Palladian Literary Society. One of his competitors was the late Judge A. W. Field, who afterwards became prominent in Nebraska political circles.

At Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston, which Mr. Worley later attended, his most thrilling "extracurricular activity" was driving Frances E. Willard's horse and buggy to take her to the railway station in the mornings and to meet her there in the evenings. At that time Miss Willard was just beginning her temperance work.

Served Six at Once. Methodist pastors were scarce in those days and Mr. Worley was induced to leave the training school a year before he was graduated to take up his work at Milford, Neb.

While there, he served six churches, preaching in town Sunday mornings and usually Sunday evenings, and in the country Sunday afternoons and two evenings of each week. About one hundred miles were driven every two weeks with horse and buggy to preach in three school houses; a private house, which was a dug-out; and a sod church.

The church provided the luxury of a pulpit and a pulpit chair—the former, a post set in the ground with a barrel head on top; the latter, another post with a foot square board nailed to it as a seat.

Wedded in 1880

It was while preaching in Ashland a year later that Mr. Worley met Miss Almada Cole, who became his bride on Sept. 28, 1880. Her work has been mainly with the children and young people of her husband's churches. Among the hundreds of children who have been in her Junior League classes, was Dr. A. V. Hunter of Hastings. He became a member of Mr. Worley's church at Weeping Water.

Altogether, the Rev. Mr. Worley was Methodist pastor in fourteen Nebraska towns before he officially retired. Milford, Ashland, Syracuse, Valparaiso, Tobias, Fairbury, Exeter, Edgar, Table Rock, Friend, Weeping Water, Crete, Wymore and Ashland having been his charge at two different times.

His reluctance to become a "superannuate" has resulted in his serving seven smaller charges since his official retirement. They are Sterling, Harrison and Arborville, Kansas, Doniphan, inland, Lawrence and Giltner.

A total of 4,000 people have been members of his churches, while twice that number have been members of his congregations.

Mr. Worley has received the highest honor that the conference grants—that of election as a delegate to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The conference was held at Baltimore that year and both he and Mrs. Worley attended.

Mr. Worley still welcomes any opportunity to conduct a church service; and he said today he would gladly accept a regular charge if his friends and relatives would hear to it.

Lately he has been pleasantly occupied with writing an account of his trip of several thousand miles. The memoirs will make a sizable volume and he expects to have them published soon.

Into his story has crept much of kindly philosophy that has actuated both his own life and that of Mrs. Worley.

The Worleys reside at 608 west Sixth street, Omaha.

Man Killed at Scottsbluff Not Fred Martens

Miss Amelia Martens and E. A. Wurl Find Man is Not Their Relative as Was Feared.

Miss Amelia Martens and her cousin, Mr. Wurl, who left for Scottsbluff, Nebraska on Thursday to look into the finding of a body of a man named Fred Martens, which it was feared might have been Fred Martens of this city, on reaching Scottsbluff found that the body of the man was not that of their relative.

The man had been found dead along the highway near the city and when found he had been dead several hours and his neck was broken. The man evidently having been struck by a passing motor vehicle or had fallen from a car or truck. The papers found on his person indicated that his name was Fred Martens and the press dispatches of the death caused the Martens family of this city to fear that it might be their son and brother, who has been living in Washington for some years.

The fact that the man was not their relative has brought a great relief to the members of the family here and quieted their fears which have for several days caused them a great deal of worry.

CHILD KNOCKED DOWN

From Saturday's Daily—
Last evening a young lad named Raymond Boyer, residing on Wintergreen hill, had a close call from serious injury when he dashed out from behind a parked truck into the car driven by Mrs. Chester Welshamer. The driver of the car was driving very slowly and as the boy rushed out from behind the truck it was impossible to stop the car and he fell beneath the car and as the driver stopped the boy crawled out from the rear of the car. The only injuries suffered were a few bruises and a case of being quite badly shocked on the part of both the boy and the occupants of the car. No blame was attached to the driver of the car as it was impossible to see the boy until too late to avoid the accident.

County Officials Seeking Solution of Handling Funds

Visit Attorney General to Seek Some Means of Arranging to Carry the County Funds.

From Saturday's Daily—
This morning County Commissioners G. L. Farley of this city, Fred H. Gorder of Weeping Water and C. F. Harris of Union, with County Treasurer John E. Turner and County Attorney W. G. Klock, were at Lincoln to seek some means of settling the vexing problem of what to do with the county funds which have been declined by the banks under the present conditions.

The Cass county officials are meeting with the attorney general to see if some method cannot be devised whereby the county and the banks can adjust their differences over the question of interest and service charges and once more permit the deposit of funds in the banks.

The banks feel that to maintain the status of paying the county two per cent interest on the checking account as well as the other extra work that the handling of the funds entail is too expensive and their proposition of a one per cent service charge is just and equitable.

The county is not disputing the justice of the bank claims for a service charge but feel that under the law they are not able to pay over this service charge and so they are seeking the opinion of the attorney general as to what means they can take to give the banks some return for their work in handling and caring for the funds.

The banks pay on private time deposits an interest rate but not on the checking accounts and accordingly have to place the county in a favored class. The county funds are subject to check at any time and makes it so that the banks cannot make investments of the funds on a profitable basis.

TRAFFIC REAL PROBLEM

From Thursday's Daily—
The traffic on the main street of the city as well as on Sixth street is fast becoming a real problem and one that is going to demand some action, the fast increasing truck travel over the main streets making it difficult with the large number of cars parked along the street to get through.

On Wednesday afternoon that section from Fifth to Sixth on Main street was so badly congested that it was difficult for one car to get through the street at a time. On both sides of the street there were cars parked, closing up the sides of the street, then came a row of cars parked out in the street and in addition to this several Omaha delivery trucks also stopped in the street as did a large cattle truck, almost entirely closing the street to travel, a single car at a time being able to work its way through the trucks and delivery vans to get up and down the street, altho this city has an exceptionally wide Main street.

It would seem that trucks making deliveries should use the alleys which would relieve a large part of the congestion, the McMaken Transfer Co. use the alleys in their deliveries and avoid blocking up the street and it would seem that other trucks could do this also or at least seek a parking place better than the center of the street.

From Friday's Daily—
This morning Don Seivers of this city received a message announcing the death of his eldest brother, Hugh Seivers, which occurred last night at El Reno, Oklahoma, where for many years Mr. Seivers has been engaged in the railroad business.

SUFFERS SPRAINED ANKLE

From Friday's Daily—
Miss Helen Smetana, bookkeeper at the Service Chevrolet Co., at their garage on Vine street, suffered a painful accident yesterday which will place her on the retired list for some time and prove very annoying. Miss Smetana had been out in the city looking after some matters for the company and on her returning had come into the rear entrance of the building where there is step off of several feet and in jumping down this step her right ankle was turned and quite badly sprained. The injured lady was taken to the office of Dr. E. J. Gillespie where the injured member was dressed and the victim of the accident made as comfortable as possible.

Legion Carnival to be Held Fore Part November

Plan to Open Event on November 12th for Four Day Run—Work Now on Features

The annual American Legion carnival will be held on the dates of November 12th to 15th inclusive, these dates being decided upon as the most logical and getting the carnival out of the way of the holiday festivities later on.

The carnival will follow the Armistice festivities for the Legion and the entertainment event will not interfere with the observance of the day that is so large in the life of the Legion and of all service men—that of the celebration of the end of the world war.

Plans are being worked out that it is hoped will give a fine entertaining program for the four days of the carnival and many special features will be secured by the carnival committee to make for the pleasure and interest of the big event.

The Legion is holding these annual events for the purpose of helping reduce the small indebtedness that remains on the community building and for which they are responsible and each dollar or dime that is secured at the carnival goes towards hastening the time when the building will be debt free and the Legion be in a position to take up other civic plans for the beautification and advancement of the city. The building has proven a real asset to the city and given the community an auditorium that has attracted attention from outside visitors who have been in this city as being a real monument to Plattsmouth. This past season a new ceiling has been added to the building through the personal labors of the members of the Legion and the financial aid of the Auxiliary, so that the support of the carnival is a community as well as Legion activity.

From Saturday's Daily—
This morning Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Guthmann and children, F. R., Joe and Jeanette, departed by auto for the west with Boise, Idaho, as their destination and where they expect to make their home for the winter. The Guthmann family will be greatly missed in this county where they have made their home for so many years and where their friends are legion. Mr. Guthmann has just retired from the banking business at Murdock and will now take a long vacation from active business cares in order to build up his health which has not been the best.

The family will not be among strangers however as Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Neitzel and family and Charles F. Guthmann and family are residing at Boise and will greet their brother and his estimable family.

RECEIVE PLEASANT NEWS

The relatives here have received the announcement of the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White at Proctor, Minnesota, on October 8th of a fine little girl. Woodmen Enjoy Fine Time in Get-Together

Visiting Delegation From Omaha Here to Participate in Program of the Evening

From Saturday's Daily—
The old woodman spirit prevailed this week when Cass Camp No. 332, M. W. A. of Plattsmouth, staged a program which will long be remembered by those who attended.

O. F. Tornblom started the program by showing the Society's Motion Picture "The Man Who Won," which was well received and appreciated. "A Vacation Adventure" and News Reel was also shown.

Following the motion pictures V. T. Arn of Plattsmouth extended the hand of welcome to the visitors. M. B. Reynolds of Omaha responded for the visitors in a masterly way.

Mr. Tornblom then introduced Mrs. Louise I. Johnson who is organizing a ladies camp at Plattsmouth. Mrs. Johnson responded very gracefully and stated that the Camp would soon be ready to charter.

District Deputy Elmer Amick of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was next introduced, followed by Capt. Russell Parks, Lieut. E. F. O'Hallon, Mrs. Bernice Reynolds, worthy consul of the ladies camp, Deputy D. E. Gulnace, all being visitors from Omaha.

Henry Tagger of Omaha was next on the program with his banjo and delighted everyone with his selections, Charles Nowacek being accompanist on the piano.

The drill team from Hazel Camp No. 171, Council Bluffs, Iowa, then took position of attention while the famous Omaha combination team escorted the flag of our country. The Woodmen's Honors were extended to our flag, nonmembers giving the military salute.

Following this ceremony an ex-manual spell-down was participated in by the Foresters and was won by Forester Murphy of Camp No. 171, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

This concluded the program, punch and wafers were served and dancing was begun. Everyone appreciated the fine punch arranged for by May Favors, the Consul's wife. The committee had arranged excellent music and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour by everyone.

MEN TEACHERS MEET

From Friday's Daily—

The officers of the past year were re-elected to their respective office and the members of the association enjoyed very much the discussion of the problems of various schools. The tentative plans for the county basketball tournament, the track meet of the schools of the county were also discussed.

The members were entertained by the girl's glee club of the Eagle school in a number of very beautiful vocal offerings.

The school men were also the guests of the home economics department of the school at a very delightful dinner that added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Those from this city to attend were Superintendent R. E. Bailey, Principal R. Foster Patterson, B. E. Woodward and Gerald Kvasnicka.

NAMES CAUSE CONFUSION

The fact that a man named Earl Harris had been brought back to this city from Fairbury on the charge of wife desertion, has caused more or less annoyance to Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Harris, also of this city, many confusing the parties and flurrying the last named couple to be the parties involved. Mr. W. Earl Harris and his wife, formerly Miss Gladys Arnold are not the parties involved in the desertion case and wish it made clear that they are not in any domestic trouble.
