Preparing for War in Europe

Adventist Official Says Nations Heavily Arming; Europe in State of Immorality.

Omaha, Oct. 18.—Declaring that on every hand there is increasing anxiety among statesmen of Europe concerning the future, the Rev. L. H. Christian, of London, president of the northern European division of Seventh Day Adventists, at the meeting of the officers' council of the world's general conference in the Hotel Rome in Omaha today said the people generally are expecting another great war.

Rev. Christian has been in Europe for 15 years as the leader of the Seventh Day Adventists and has visited every nation on that continent in his study of political, religious, educational, social, and financial conditions.

"Europe is in an appalling state of immorality," he declared, "and it is staggering to its doom. Drunken men and prostitutes reel down the main streets of many cities, and everywhere there is a feeling that a great and overwhelming catastrophe is just before them. They believe that this next war will bring the downfall of civilization, which will bring the extinction of the human races. We need to tell them that the Bible foretells that the end of all things is looming on the horizon, and God, through Jesus Christ, is their only hope. We Seventh Day Adventists as a people are endeavoring in the power of God to speed the advent message, not only to Europe, but to other parts of the world, for who knows but that the whole inhabitable world will be involved in the next conflict that is sure to break in Europe before long?"

"Germany as well as other countries is facing a great industrial crisis, with 2,000,000 men out of employment at the present time. That the nations of Europe are preparing for war is evident from the fact that there are today 3,100,000 men under arms and there is an annual military budget for all countries of $1,500,000,000. The great majority are expecting and nerving themselves for another war."

All of the attractive novelties that can be wished for at the Halloween observances are now on hand at the Bates Book & Gift Shop.

ECLIPSE TO BE WATCHED

Niuafof Island, South Pacific—Scientists from far away United States and New Zealand were hoping Monday night for clear skies during the ninety-three second eclipse of the sun here Tuesday, at 9:09 a. m. local time (3:09 p. m. c. s. t.) The moon, passing between the sun and earth will cast a four mile shadow band upon the South Pacific ocean from New Guinea Island to the tip of South America.

In this brief period the scientists with giant cameras, spectroscopes and telescopes will endeavor to learn more of the secrets of the sun, 93,000,000 miles distant. By means of shadow bands upon photographic plates and by delicate instruments, they hope to learn more about the sun's power to send light rays from the stars, as predicted by Albert Einstein, German scientists. Already the sun, its white corona and red chromosphere have been made to yield the story of many of their components—sodium, iron, helium and others.

Likes Iowa Fine.

Speaking of Iowa, Henry Wessell, who visited at Des Moines, making the trip via the northern route when they went over to visit their son, and returning the southern route on their return says that Iowa is a great state, but that the weather was somewhat too dry for the crops. Still he says there is a pretty fair crop of corn in places, while at other points the crop is very poor.

Little Daughter Very Poorly.

The little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kettlehut, has been very poorly for some time past, and was taken by them to Omaha where an examination was had, and it was decided by the specialist that she be left for observation. So they returned home bringing the little one with them last week and returned on Monday of this week to leave her at the hospital for observation. Mrs. John Opp accompanied the party on Monday. It is hoped that the little Miss will be in her former good health in a short time.

Leslie Gregory, and Galen Rhoden and the family were enjoying the celebration of the opening of the Waubensie bridge at Nebraska City on last Friday.

Thomas Troop and James Smith were looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Tuesday, they driving over to the big town in the car of Mr. Smith.

Dr. Douglas Hansen who located in Nehawka some nearly two weeks since, coming from Omaha, was visiting with his friends and relatives there last Sunday.

Harry McVey and Albert Wolfe were called to Omaha on last Tuesday to look after some business matters which they had in hand, they making the trip in their auto.

C. M. Chrisweisser and wife were enjoying a visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McVey on last Sunday where they enjoyed the day visiting and as well a very fine dinner.

Mesdames John and Ray Chrisweisser, were over to Weeping Water on last Monday where they were visiting with their friends and at the same time were having some dental work done.

W. E. Maxfield and family of Weeping Water were guests for the day on last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wolfe of Nehawka, where all enjoyed the visit very much.

George Troop and his mother, Mrs. W. O. Troop were visiting at Nebraska City on Monday of this week, they driving down to look after some shopping, and also to visit with friends as well.

Michael Hill, the democratic candidate for the position of clerk of the district court, was in Nehawka early last Monday morning looking the matter over and meeting his friends as well as making more.

Ernest Ahrens is having his house on the farm painted and decorated on the interior, the work being done by Henry Feltes, the painter, who is hopping to the work when the weather is such as to permit him to work on the outside.

John Chrisweisser, who has been working with the gravel gang near Plattsmouth, was a visitor at home for over Sunday, and early in the week went to west of Lincoln, where he joined the crew who are doing some work there.

J. R. C. Gregory who is in the hospital at Omaha where he has been recuperating from the injury which he received some time since is to the effect that he is at this time making rather satisfactory progress towards recovery.

Miss Helen Creamer who was injured at the same time the other members of the family, is reported as showing some improvement, but is still kept at the hospital, as her condition is such that she cannot at this time be removed from the hospital.

John L. Stamp was a visitor in Nehawka early this week, and was looking after his political fences, while a short time before also John E. Turner who is the present county treasurer was also in town looking after his chances for re-election.

Ralph Vantine who has been visiting in Nehawka for a time, and while here visiting with his many friends, returned home on last Saturday morning, making his home at Crawford, and came home with Gust Nelson when he was returning from a trip which he made there a few weeks since.

Miss Hazel Carper who is attending school at the state university at Lincoln was a visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Carper for over the week end. She and mother were joined in the week end visit by Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Carper of Murray who drove down for the day, and all enjoyed the visit.

Earl Troop who is at Arriba, Colo., where he is engaged in operation of a threshing machine, where he is assisting in threshing beans, reports there being large quantities of beans there and that he had threshed for John F. Gorder of Plattsmouth, who has a large acre of beans. The crop of Mr. Gorder was making about eight hundred pounds of beans to the acre.

Lincoln Creamer Buried Monday—Lincoln Creamer, who died from injuries received several weeks since when he was injured in the back and hips in an auto accident on the O street road a number of miles east of Lincoln when his car was struck by another car and crowded into a ditch, passed away at the hospital at Lincoln early on last Saturday morning. The remains were brought to Nehawka and the funeral held from the Methodist church, the funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. W. E. Moore, former pastor of the Methodist church at Nehawka, but who is at this time located at Adams. A quartet composed of Albert Anderson, Mrs. Eugene Nutzman, Mrs. J. H. Steffen and Paul Schlottemeler, sang a number of the old hymns. There were many at the services to pay their last tribute of respect to one of the very best citizens of this county and state. The funeral director was W. L. Hobson and son. The interment was made at the beautiful Mt. Pleasant cemetery north of Nehawka. The Journal joins with the many friends of this excellent man extending sympathy to the members of the family from which he was taken.

Attended the Grand Lodge.

Lander John C. Wunderlich who was a delegate from the Nehawka lodge of I. O. O. F. and who is their secretary, departed for the meeting of the grand lodge which was held at Fremont. He attended the sessions and was very active in the work and deliberations of the grand lodge. He was accompanied as far as North Bend by Henry Gruber who stopped at that place for a visit with his nephew, Roy Kurens and wife, who are both teachers in the school at that place. The gentlemen returned the latter portion of the week after they looked after their visiting and work at the lodge.

Results of Local Caucus.

The democrats and republicans held their caucuses last week and selected candidates as follows for the several offices, the democrats selecting as their standard bearers: Grover Hoback for assessor, Albert Wolfe for justice of the peace, Berger Nelson for road overseer. The republicans selected James Pollard assessor, Stewart Rough as justice of the peace, Charles M. Bates as constable and Rindol Kettlehut as road overseer. By the way there will be no mistake made as all are well qualified for the several positions for which they have been placed in nomination.

FATAL CRASH OF AIRPLANES

Trenton, N. J.—Two airmen crashed to their death Sunday after their planes collided during a race for all race, the closing event of the all eastern states air meet at Mercer airport. The victims, Richard W. Mackie of Valley Stream, N. Y., and George Zinn of Dydal, Pa., were among a score of contestants in the final race of a two day meet. They collided as they rounded the first pylon and their deaths were witnessed by thousands of spectators. Zinn's ship clipped that of Mackie and fell bursting into flames. Mackie was thrown clear of his plane, but Zinn died in his cockpit. Whether he succumbed to flames or the fall was not determined. Zinn, formerly owner of the Rainbow flying field at Washington's Crossing, represented Trenton in the transcontinental air race in 1928. Mackie also was a skilled pilot.

Valley Stream, N. Y.—R. W. Mackie, killed Sunday in an airplane collision at Trenton, N. J., was considered one of the best pilots in this vicinity. He was believed to be the only man to have looped a Ford trimotored plane. He was thirty-six years old, married and the father of two children. For a short time this spring he was assistant manager of the Curtiss-Wright field here. Later he took a position as a commercial pilot.

THINKS BOTTOM IS REACHED

Washington—The opinion that prices for agricultural commodities had reached bottom and that they would gradually improve was expressed Monday by Chairman Legge of the farm board.

The chairman said the commodity markets "are doing better in showing an independence of the stock markets to an extent which they haven't shown for some time." He added that during the past week industrial stocks fell, but agricultural price levels were maintained at about the same point. "The feeling in the market," Legge continued, "must be that the commodity markets are thru liquidating."

He expressed belief that price levels for agricultural commodities had reached bottom, that they would probably "hang around" the present prices for a time then gradually improve.

W. J. VANDEVENTER DIES

Stella—Struck by an automobile, Walter J. Vandeventer, sixty-three died while being rushed to a Falls City hospital Saturday night.

After investigation of the accident Monday, County Attorney James announced that on inquest would be made.

Mr. Vandeventer was a life long resident of Richardson county, a retired farmer and prominent. Besides his wife, he leaves a brother, Al, of Longmont, Colo.

Funeral services will be held at the Community church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Elder J. W. Sapp of Brownville, assisted by Rev. Edwin L. Derley of Stella. Burial will be at Prairie Union.

Louisiana Quakes Shake 13 Towns; Damage Slight

New Orleans Feels Shock; Many Literally "Shaken Out of Beds" Two Tremors.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 19.—Distinct earthquake tremors today shook 13 or more towns and cities of southeastern Louisiana, including New Orleans, but no damage of any consequence was reported.

The only human injury reported resulting from the earthquake occurred in Morgan City, when worshippers in the Catholic church scratched and bruised one another in a rush from the edifice. The congregation began hurried exit from the church when they thought they saw the walls rock. Only a few were hurt and those only slightly.

The earthquake occurred about 6:15 a. m., literally shaking some residents of New Orleans and surrounding regions out of their beds. Thousands of telephone calls poured into newspaper offices from persons feeling the shock and wishing information.

Doubt existed as to whether two tremors occurred, or only one. Some narrators were positive that there were two shocks, about five minutes apart. It was defined that the first tremor lasted a full 30 seconds.

In Plaquemines, La., about 85 miles northwest of New Orleans, the quake was severe enough to shake the glass from street lights.

No record of the vibrations was made at the Loyola university seismographical observatory, as the equipment was reported out of order.

Prof. J. Adair Lyon, head of the physics department at Loyola college, said that the gradual fading out of the vibrations in northerly, easterly and western directions, probably indicated that the center of the disturbance occurred beneath the floor of the gulf of Mexico several hundred miles from land.

Today's earthquake is the first ever felt in New Orleans, according to older inhabitants, and no historical record has ever been found of any previous similar shock.

Nuns of the historic Ursuline convent in New Orleans told of feeling the earth tremble distinctly while they were at early morning worship.

In Covington, the night telephone exchange operator said that the switchboard at which she was seated rocked violently, and she was nearly hurled from her chair.—World-Herald.
