

WEEPING WATER

Wm. Van Every, manager of the Handy Oil station was sick for a few days during this week, he having an attack of something like the grip.

L. W. Dillerberg of Arnold, and who is a friend of W. J. Philpot was a visitor at the Philpot home for a number of days during the present week.

Wm. Hopkins, living some four miles west of the Cascade school is building a new barn, believing it pays to have a good place to house the stock.

Edythe Norton was spending last week with her sister, Mrs. L. R. Wiseman who resides between Weeping Water and Elmwood where they both enjoyed the visit very much.

The Weeping Water Cash store, to afford better lighting facilities in the rear portion of their store room have installed two more of the very fine lights such as the front of the store is equipped.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hobson and son, Richmond were enjoying a visit on last Sunday at the pleasant home of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brendel of Murray, they driving over for the day and an excellent dinner which was served.

Fred H. Gorder, county commissioner was over to Murray, to old Rock Bluffs and also in Liberty precinct where with the other members C. F. Harris of Union and George L. Farley of Plattsmouth, they were looking after some roads in that vicinity.

There was happiness at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lauritzen when the stork last Sunday brought a little daughter to their home, and who has gladdened the home. The young lady and mother are doing nicely and the father is getting along tolerable well.

The Weeping Water Woman's club was enjoying a very fine meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pool, on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Mrs. Pool who is a royal entertainer, served a delightful luncheon following the work of the afternoon and the very fine program.

C. W. Johnson, the hustling proprietor of the Johnson cafe was busy on last Wednesday, having the stoves put up for heating the place, as the past few days were rather cool when heated from the fire in the kitchen. He was over to Omaha on Wednesday looking after the purchase of goods for the cafe.

G. R. Binger was called to Lincoln last week and this to serve on the federal jury which has been in session for some time and which it seems has much to sift out of the ordinary affairs which have been transpiring. State Sheriff Condit was in Weeping Water recruiting the supply of venemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pool and their daughter, Miss Hazel, were visiting for the day on last Sunday with friends at Crete, they going via Alvo where they were accompanied by their other daughter, Miss Eloise who is a teacher in the Alvo schools. They all enjoyed the visit at Crete very much. Miss Eloise stopping at her school on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Knoell of Topeka, Kansas, who are cousins of Mrs. Fred H. Gorder were guests at the Gorder home for a number of days extending over Sunday. They also visited at Murdock at the homes of A. J. Tool and H. W. Tool and Mrs. Turner McKinnon, living near Alvo. They returned to their home in the south Tuesday of this week.

Peter Spanier of Weeping Water and Arthur R. Stander of Louisville departed on last Wednesday evening for Central City where they went to be at the hunting fields on Thursday the 23rd when the opening of the pheasant season shall occur. They are both lovers of the chase and we may expect that they will get the limit when it comes to shooting the pretty birds.

Coming to Weeping Water 56 Years. Ed Litch of Lincoln, a traveling salesman and carrying a line of gloves and mittens was a caller on the trade in Weeping Water on last Tuesday, and in conversation with the writer said that he had been making Weeping Water in a business capacity for the past 56 years which is a half dozen over a half century. He is a brother of P. J. Litch of Alvo, who visited at Lincoln on last Sunday, the occasion being the calling on their sister, Jessie Litch who is sick at her home in Lincoln.

RETURNS FROM THE SOUTH

W. P. Wright and family of Weeping Water, accompanied by Strling Wiles and family, Mrs. Wiles being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, and their daughter returned from their trip to the southwest portion of Oklahoma, where they were visiting for some two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Clark, who make their home a few miles from Granite, Oklahoma.

They spent two weeks with the daughter and wife, as Mrs. Clark is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright. The crops there are mostly cotton and on account of the very hot and dry weather, was not the best. On they way home they stopped at the home of Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald who reside near Stockton. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are brother-in-law and sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald. They report crops there not the best as far as corn is concerned although wheat was excellent. The merry party report having enjoyed the entire trip very much.

Pretty Home Wedding Held at Weeping Water

Miss Cassie L. Williams Is United in Marriage to Mr. Elmer Rethenberg of Fort Crook

On Wednesday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Williams at Weeping Water, which had been especially decorated for the occasion, was celebrated the wedding of their eldest daughter, Miss Cassie L. Williams to Mr. Elmer Rethenberg of Omaha. The marriage lines were read by the Rev. Ralph Pichham, pastor of the Congregational church. Mr. Joe Vance of Omaha and Miss Vera Williams being respective best man and bridesmaid, Miss Vera being second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williams and sister of the bride. The bride who is employed in Omaha as stenographer and clerk in the office of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, while the groom is with the government and is located at Fort Crook where he is in charge of the Government Radio station of the air port at that place. The newly married couple will make their home in Omaha where they have a home ready prepared for their going to house keeping. The wedding cake was baked at the Williams bakery, and decorated by Otto Neville, the decorator at that institution. Following the wedding and the delightful wedding dinner the wedding party which also consisted of a number of friends from Omaha, returned to Omaha, their home for the future. The Journal joins with their many friends in extending congratulations and good wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life for this excellent young couple.

HARD STORMS IN MEXICO

Mexico City—Hurricanes and torrential rain storms have caused much damage along the central Gulf coast in the last few days. A report received Tuesday night said the same hurricane which struck Vera Cruz Monday also wrought destruction in the seaport of Alvarado, state of Vera Cruz, destroying a large part of the poor section of the town and leaving hundreds homeless. Much crop damage was reported in the vicinity, with rail and telegraph service tied up in some sections.

The hurricane brought winds ranging up to 100 miles an hour when it struck the city of Vera Cruz, and although port traffic was tied up no great damage was reported. Heavy rains fell.

The Mexico City-Brownsville air service has been held up for the last three days by rains and fog.

Moran, Gangster Chief, is Seized in Roadhouse Raid

Charged with Vagrancy and with Carrying Concealed Weapons — Says Is Business Man

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—The law caught up with George "Bugs" Moran today.

The North Side gang chieftain was harassed with such charges as vagrancy and carrying concealed weapons and questioned about numerous slayings and other major crimes.

The search that started June 9 when Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Tribune reporter, was killed, ended early today in a small roadhouse west of Waukegan, Ill. The Lake county (Waukegan) state's attorney and five private detectives made the raid, and Moran, after he saw who confronted him, made no resistance.

Lingle was a close friend of Scarface Al Capone, so when the reporter was shot down from behind, the police inclined to the theory that the gang headed by Capone's arch enemy, Moran, might have had something to do with it.

Moran had disappeared, however, and when Jack Zuta, Moran's lieutenant, was killed as a supposed sequel to the Lingle slaying, the plot thickened and search for the gang leader intensified.

Charge Is Vagrancy. There were numerous other things the police wanted to talk to Moran about, including the unsolved Valentine's day massacre of seven of his henchmen last year, but when he was captured as he slept this morning, the charge was vagrancy.

A pistol was found under Moran's pillow, so he was also charged with carrying concealed weapons. After Chicago police had arrived to rearrest him, he was released by Lake county authorities on five thousand dollar bail for each charge.

Then he was brought to Chicago on one of the "public enemy" vagrancy warrants issued several weeks ago for major gangsters. Put through the identification bureau and kept carefully from the view of reporters and others, he was taken into the chief of detectives' office and questioned.

Says Is Business Man. What he told the police, if anything, was not revealed, of course, but Moran told reporters in Waukegan that a vagrancy charge against a business man like him was a joke and that so far as he knew "Santa Claus" killed Lingle and Zuta.

"They can't make a vagrant out of an active business man," Moran said. "I am vice-president of the Central Cleaners and Dyers, and actively connected with the business."

It has been generally agreed for some time that Moran is no longer in active control of the North Side gang. Police believe he was driven out by the extensive Capone organization.

Moran, however, had another story. "I have been out of the booze business and all other rackets for four years," he said. "I have been going straight and I intend to go straight."

"When Lingle and Zuta were killed I was in the middle of Canada on a hunting trip. I'm going on another when I get out of this mess. I make 25 thousand dollars a year from my interest in 'the Central Cleaners and I don't want anything to do with the rackets.'"—World-World.

There is no slack business period for the merchant who advertises his goods the year 'round.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Rooters Day Program.

Hogs on experimental tests at the Nebraska College of Agriculture paid $1.25 per bushel for wheat, Prof. William J. Loeffel told the Rooters Day audience at the college Oct. 17. The pigs were fed ground wheat and tankage on Sudan grass pasture. Cost of the tankage and pasture were figured out before the pigs paid their bill for wheat. The pigs were on feed 105 days.

Another lot of pigs in the same test on shelled corn, tankage and Sudan pasture paid $1.14 per bushel for corn. Another lot paid 79c per bushel for barley; another group $21.50 a ton for shorts and two other lots paid $21.00 and $23.00 per ton for oats.

Each case the hogs were figured worth $9.00 per hundred at the college at the close of the experiment. Wheat produced the most rapid gains, the cheapest gains and got the hogs ready for market two weeks earlier than any other lot at a time of year when prices are normally declining. Another important point, Professor Loeffel stated, is that wheat is always available during the late summer and fall when corn is either scarce or high in price.

It took seven bushels of corn and 27 pounds of tankage to produce 100 pounds of pork. Ground wheat was two per cent more efficient than corn, pound for pound. Wheat shorts were 73 per cent as efficient as corn. Ground oats when substituted for one-half the corn in the ration were 80 per cent as valuable as corn pound for pound. When ground oats constituted more than one-fourth of the grain ration of fattening hogs the oats reduced the daily gain. Replacing half the tankage with table scrap meal reduced the rate and efficiency of gain.

Missouri Hog Man Uses Wheat. Missouri's champion hog raiser of 1930 used corn and wheat and tankage as hog feed, J. W. Burch of the University of Missouri told the Rooters Day people in his discussion of "Most Pork Per Bushel." Reuben Yoder of Harrisonville, Mo., marketed 146 pigs from 17 brood sows. The pigs averaged 251 pounds each or 2135 pounds per litter. Their feed cost $6.58 per hundred pounds of pork. The pigs ate a little over 6 bushels of corn and wheat and 20 pounds of tankage per 100 pounds of their weight.

Pig Pessimism Unwarranted. Hog hopes may fade a little with the seasonal decline in prices this fall but pig pessimism is not warranted at the present time, R. M. Green of the Kansas State Agricultural College stated in his forecast of the future hog prices of the country. He believes that the adverse influence of the money disturbance, 26 bushels of corn and wheat and 20 pounds of tankage per 100 pounds of their weight.

Explores Old Theory. In another experimental test at the Nebraska College, Professor Loeffel explored the theory that mixing high protein feed increases the efficiency of pork production. His new theory is that the mixing of protein feed will allow the absorption and storage of winter moisture. In the spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground, work the soil thoroughly with a disc and harrow, making a compact seed bed. The planting season is usually during the early part of April but the ground should be prepared by April 1.

The Extension Service of the Agricultural College will distribute forest trees and lists of available stock will be sent out about December 15. These forest tree seedlings will be distributed in the spring under the terms of the Clarke-McNary Act. You can file your name at the Farm Bureau office to receive this material when it is available.—D. D. Waincott, Cass Co. Extension Agent; Jessie H. Baldwin, Ass't Co. Extension Agent.

ODD PLANES TO BE TRIED. Washington—The autogyro plane was described Tuesday by David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics, as "the one new outstanding development in aviation." Ingalls said the navy department would purchase one or more of the planes for experimental purposes as soon as they are "further along in the development stage."

The odd shaped plane, with its stub wings and great rotating fan like blades whirling over the fuselage was demonstrated to naval men recently. Ingalls said those who flew the ship were enthusiastic about its possibilities in the field of naval aviation.

Hon. Troy L. Davis of Weeping Water, state representative and candidate for re-election on the republican ticket, was in the city today to meet his host of friends and looking after some matters of business.

Wheat Not So Good for Lambs. Wheat has not been so good a feed as corn for fattening lambs this fall, A. D. Weber of the college stated in a progress report of an 85 day test that has now gone 70 days.

Lambs that did not like the reported wheat and would not take more than a pound per head per day. They went off feed several times in the 70 day period. Another test will be run this winter to determine the value of corn and wheat mixtures, both whole and ground. Western ewes will be fed again this winter to try to find the most profitable way to winter them while the lamb crop is being produced. Those on test last winter figuratively ate their heads off on a full feed of ground ear corn, cottonseed meal, corn silage, and cut alfalfa hay. Lambs from these ewes will be creep fed shelled corn, bran and linseed meal.

Three New Bulletins. Three new bulletins were handed out at Rooters Day. Two of them deal with pork and the other with lambs from western ewes. The numbers and titles are as follows: Cir. 40—A Manual for Hog Raisers.

Bul. 251—Barley as Hog Feed. Bul. 250—Raising Early Lambs from Aged Western Ewes. These bulletins as well as written reports on the experiments are available for free distribution to anyone requesting them.

School Lunches. As we are approaching colder days, we realize that the school lunch needs something warm. For variety, why not try a vegetable soup. Perhaps you will enjoy the following recipe and it is a good one to use left over vegetables.

VEGETABLE SOUP 1qt. tomatoes 1/2 pt. green string beans 1/2 pt. sweet corn 1 or 2 carrots Few stalks celery 1 turnip 1/2 green pepper 1 onion 1/2 cup rice A. B. C. noodles Seasoning Meat stock.

Cook carrots, celery, pepper, onion, turnip, rice and A. B. C. noodles in meat stock until tender, then add seasonings and the canned vegetables and heat thoroughly.

A variety of breads help to keep the sandwiches from growing monotonous. Try the following nut bread and see if it doesn't appeal to the kiddies:

WHOLE WHEAT NUT BREAD 1 c. white flour 4 t. baking powder 1/2 c. sugar 1/2 t. salt 1 c. whole wheat flour 1/2 c. chopped nuts 1/4 c. currants 1 egg. 1 c. milk.

Mix the dry ingredients, add nuts and fruit. Beat egg, add milk and combine quickly with the dry ingredients. Bake in a loaf, slowly for about one hour.

Variations: Substitute graham flour for whole wheat. Do not sift the graham flour. Dates or raisins may be substituted for currants but should be cut in small pieces so the bread will slice more easily. 1/2 t. cinnamon may be added.

Demonstration Team Places Fourth. Glen Henger and Warren Fager, Nebraska Champion Dairy Demonstration team placed fourth at the National Dairy Show at St. Louis, with 33 teams competing. The team demonstrated the building of a concrete milk cooling tank.

The states ranking above Nebraska were Arkansas 1st, Minnesota, 2nd, and Kentucky 3rd.

Keith Besack Shows Ayreshires. Keith Besack, 4-H club boy of Louisville, exhibited his two Ayreshire calves at the Dairy Show. One placed sixth and both of the calves showed in the Nebraska group that placed fourth.

Tree Program for 1931 Begins. In Nebraska early spring is the best time to do extensive tree planting—but right now is the time to plan for this planting. The ground where the trees are to be planted should be ployed this fall and left in a rough loosened condition over winter. This will allow the absorption and storage of winter moisture. In the spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground, work the soil thoroughly with a disc and harrow, making a compact seed bed. The planting season is usually during the early part of April but the ground should be prepared by April 1.

Hitchcock Tells How Senator May Aid Up to Man Elected to Get Aition for the Voters, Candidate Declares at Omaha

Omaha—The many different ways in which a United States senator can aid his state and the citizens that elected him to office, were explained Monday night by Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Omaha publisher and democratic candidate for senator. Demands of the individual citizen on his senator and the time the senator must devote to aiding the citizen were explained by Mr. Hitchcock who cited several instances of this nature that had been brought before him when he served in the senate.

These matters may seem of little importance to the public as a whole, he said, but to the applicant they are of great moment and it is up to the senator to get action for his voters.

"Some senators overlook this fact," Mr. Hitchcock continued. "Nebraska is 1,500 miles away from the seat of government and unless the Nebraska senator takes a strong interest in the welfare of the Nebraska people their interests will be neglected or postponed or often defeated."

The time, energy and research often involved in getting action on the individual citizen's request and needs was explained by the candidate.

Mr. Hitchcock concluded his address with a review of his ideas on the construction of huge reservoirs in western Nebraska and the value they would have to the nation as a whole as impounders of flood waters and to Nebraska in the storing
