To the Voters of Cass County

I WOULD LIKE to meet you all personally before election, but it will be impossible. I may see some of you! So, I will take this method of informing you that I have lived in Cass county since 1883, have paid taxes over 35 years. This is the first time that I am seeking a public office, although I served as Clerk in the County Treasurer's office four years for Treasurer Mike Tritsch and four years for Treasurer Mia U. Gering. The past four years I assisted in the office of County Assessor W. H. Puls, also part of these four years in the office of County Clerk Geo. R. Sayles. With all this experience, I sincerely believe I am justified in asking your support on election day. Thanking you in advance, I am—for gathering corn, which is interesting the farmers at this time.

Dr. J. F. Brendel reports the arrival via the stork route of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sweten of a very fine young lady on last Friday at the home of her parents near Louisville. Both parents and the little Miss are doing very nicely.

James Earhart has been hopping to the matter of picking corn. He has a lot of corn and he says the way to get it out of the field and in the crib is to just go after it in earnest and it will get done before the coming of the real cold weather.

County Commissioner George L. Farley was looking after some business matters in Murray on Monday of this week. No he was not looking after his political fences, but after the public roads with which he is charged. He does not have to run for office this year.

Alex Campbell with his big sawing outfit sawed wood on last Saturday for Major Isaac Hall, and again on Monday sawed wood for Mrs. Alma Yearly and now these two homes can keep warm during the winter without getting out and chopping wood in the snow.

Wm. Wehrlein departed on last Wednesday evening for the western portion of the state where he went to have shipped a number of cars of cattle which he has recently purchased and which are to arrive in Murray on Friday and will go into the feeding yards of Boedeker and Wehrlein for feeding.

Reports from the bedside of Mrs. Wm. Sporer who is convalescing following her operation for the removing of a cancerous growth is to the effect that she is getting along as well as could reasonably be expected, and it is hoped that she will be able to return home in a short time. Her many friends are pleased that she is convalescing so nicely.

John Eppings and daughter were over to Omaha from their home in Murdock on both last Sunday and Monday evenings, going to see Mrs. Eppings who is in the University hospital and where she expects to undergo an operation for relief of a growth, which has been impairing her health for some time. It is hoped that she may be able to return home in a short time entirely well again.

John T. Bates and wife of Rising City were guests for the day on Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brendel, where they were also pointed by T. E. Jamison, father of the two ladies who is building a school house at Manley. A very pleasant day was spent by all present. The occasion was made the more pleasant by the presence of W. L. Hobson and wife and their son, Richmond, all of Weeping Water.

Makes Purchase of Farm.
Wm. Sporer recently made purchase of a farm in the neighborhood of Murray which he considers as the very best location for farming in Cass county which is in the banner county of the state of Nebraska, and there is no better land in any state than this. The farm purchased is that which has been owned by Roy Howard and is a good one, the farm consists of three eighths and is located very near to Murray.

Men For Your Votes.
The caucuses of both the democratic and republican parties were held in Murray on last week and the officers chosen for the voters to choose from. The selection on both tickets were excellent ones and it now remains for the voters to take their choice.

The democrats offered as their standard bearers P. A. Hild assessor; W. L. Seybolt, justice; M. G. Churchill, constable; Herman Wohlfarth, overseer.

The republican nominations being Thomas Nelson, justice; O. T. Leyda, assessor; Green Picket, overseer and M. G. Churchill for constable.

Building Good Farm Home.
Earl Mrasek was busy on last Monday hauling lumber from the Nickles Lumber yard to the site some two miles southwest of Murray, where Guy Wiles is building a new room house, which is to be two stories and modern to the last word. The contract is had by J. A. Scotten, who is serving on the federal jury at Lincoln last week and this. The work is being looked after during his absence, by his coterie of very excellent and reliable workmen.

Ladies Appreciate the Kindness.
It is well known that the ladies of the Christian church of Murray made purchase of the former Woodman hall, but which is now a thing of the past for it has been razed to the ground. Twenty-eight members of the Modern Woodmen of America donated their interest in the building to the ladies of the church and on last Wednesday 15 men worked like beavers, and Thursday 15 men worked and the building was entirely torn down. The ladies of course prepared a very fine dinner on each day, and all enjoyed the lark nicely. The ladies now wish to express their appreciation of the very fine work which the men did in tearing down the structure. The materials which is excellent lumber will be used for the erection of a kitchen in the rear of the church. The ladies again say thank you for your kindly help.

Services Christian Church Sunday.
There was services at the Christian church last Sunday, the Bible school, the morning service, the young people's service and the evening service. This was a busy day for Rev. Robert E. Hanson, who taught the men's class at the Bible school and also preached at both morning and evening services as well as participating in the young people's meeting.

A Very Pretty Wedding.
On Wednesday of this week the wedding of Mr. Charles H. Boedeker, jr., of the Murray State bank, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Boedeker of Murray, and Miss Frances Stewart, the winsome and accomplished daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Stewart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Murray. The wedding lines were read by the father of the bride, the Rev. J. C. Stewart, at their home which had been decorated for the occasion and presented a very pretty scene.

The young people are well known by their host of friends who extend congratulations. The bride is a graduate of the Dunbar school and a most accomplished young woman of many excellent traits of character. The groom Mr. Boedeker, is a graduate of the Murray schools and also of the military school at Fairbault, Minn., where he made his four year course in three years time. They departed for the east on a wedding trip and are also to visit at Monmouth, Ill., where the bride also attended school. They will also visit in Chicago before their return. They will make their home in Murray following their trip, where Mr. Boedeker will be interested in the Murray State bank. The Journal, with the many friends of the newly wedded couple, join in extending best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Freshmen Given Initiation.
The members of the Freshmen class of the Murray High school were given the customary initiation on Tuesday evening.

BRYAN ASSAILS 'HIGH TAXES'

Clay Center, Oct. 21.—Tax reduction was held foremost of the issues involved in the current state campaign in an address by Charles W. Bryan, Democratic candidate for governor, here Tuesday night.

Declaring the cost of state government had increased 500 per cent in less than 12 years, Mr. Bryan said the Republican party, "in control most of the time, was chargeable alone for the present unbearable tax burden."

The present Weaver administration, the former governor continued, "is the most costly in the history of Nebraska, and there is no hope of any relief from the Republican party."

"Governor Weaver two years ago, to secure his election, promised the people a careful, business administration, with a reduction in the cost of state government and a corresponding reduction in state taxes, but he has broken those promises and has increased the number of state employes by 50 per cent," Bryan asserted.

FORCED TO CLOSE THEATRE

Stuttgart, Germany.—An unprecedented demonstration for and against a play purporting to describe the oppression and exploitation of negroes in the United States Sunday night brought out police riot squads here and caused the closing of the theater in which the performance was being given. The police used their clubs on the demonstrators. The play, "Shadows Over Harlem," written by Ossip Dymov. Its opponents confined their protest at first to catcalls and the blowing of police whistles, but when the author appeared on the stage broke into pandemonium. The disorder spread to the street and the riot squads were called out, surrounding the audience and closing the theatre.
