Chicken Thieves are Active in County Again

Sixty Chickens Stolen from Bintner Farm South of This City Last Night.

From Monday's Daily—
The chicken thieves are again showing activity in this section of Cass county, they having last night visited the farm of Mrs. Kate Bintner south of this city and east of Murray, taking some sixty chickens from the farm and making their getaway from the scene.

The family was aroused at an early hour this morning when the thieves were operating and the alarm was at once given but the parties were able to make their way along the creek on the farm to the roadway some distance away and where they doubtless made their escape in a truck or car, leaving no sign of the direction that they may have taken.

The chickens were roosting in the barnyard and the persons taking them were evidently familiar with the locality as they secured the fowls with little trouble and were able to make their escape.

Local Gridsters Win from Omaha Team Here Sunday

7 to 0 Score for Plattsmouth in Battle With American Business College of Omaha.

The American Business college team of Omaha comprising a large array of the former stars of high school, Creighton and Omaha university, came down Sunday to do battle with the local Athletics, with the result that the Plattsmouth gridsters were the winners by the score of 7 to 0.

The game was quite evenly fought in the earlier part of the struggle with the visitors depending on an air attack for their most successful gains while the locals contented themselves largely with line smashes and end runs for their ground gaining. Neither team was able at any stage of the first half to appear dangerous.

In the final quarter of the game the visitors made a strong bid for victory and which resulted in disaster, as Louie Svoboda was able to intercept a pass of the college team and race into the enemy territory and from where a fine and bullet like pass from Richard Herold to Dick March was good for the touchdown and victory, they making good the extra point. The visitors were unable to recover and the score at the final whistle was 7 to 0 for the locals. In the game the locals showed up well, Herold being particularly effective as was March and Koubek.

Club Formed to Aid in the Work for the Democratic Ticket at Coming Election

From Wednesday's Daily—
The democratic voters of Plattsmouth Precinct to the number of fifty-five met at the Taylor school house last evening and formed a club. The meeting was presided over by County Chairman D. O. Dwyer, and in a half hour talk explained the plans and purposes of the club presenting thoroughly the necessity of the voters organizing that they might through their meetings keep posted on legislation in the state and nation and in that way taking a stand against large and necessary sums of money being appropriated to the end, that taxes may be reduced. Those present were very enthusiastic for the entire ticket this fall as well as determined that their club shall function and increase in numbers from time to time. Many others has signified their intention to become members but on account of the work now being done in husking corn were unable to be present.

Upon adoption of the rules and regulations the following persons were named as officers:

Charles W. Stoehr, President.
George W. Snyder, First Vice President.
H. H. Ray Tschirren, Second Vice President.
Mrs. Henry Nolting, Secretary.
Henry Born, Treasurer.

Many of the county candidates were present and gave short talks, disclosing the increased activity they are finding throughout the county and the chairman spoke for the candidates who were unable to be present.

Hon. W. B. Banning of Union being present was introduced to the club and made a very interesting half hour talk on the workings of the state legislature in which body he represented Cass county for the past eight years. He gave strong reasons why J. A. Capwell should be elected as his successor to the office of state senator, as well as, the election of Paul Schewe of Murdock as representative. During the speeches of the evening the high character and leadership of Hon. G. M. Hitchcock, who is now at the head of the ticket for United States senator, was often mentioned and enthusiasm shown for him. The general expression of those present was that everybody should attend the Hitchcock meeting in Plattsmouth on Thursday night.

Hon. Charles W. Bryan's determined position that economy should be exercised in use of public funds in this state to the end, that taxes may be lowered, struck a popular cord which everybody agrees should be done and done now.

The meeting was a complete success, and bespeaks a growing and active club in the precinct.
