NYE QUIZ WILL OPEN NOV. 17. Washington, Nov. 7.—Senator Nye, chairman of the senate campaign funds investigating committee, Friday said the committee will conduct further hearings in Denver, Nov. 17, at Lincoln, Nov. 17, and will wind up its Illinois inquiry around Nov. 20.

The circumstances surrounding the attempted entry into the Nebraska Republican senatorial primary of George W. Norris, Broken Bow grocer, will be reviewed. The grocer was barred from the primaries and Senator George W. Norris was nominated and elected.

Nye declared inquiries thus far have revealed the necessity for a new corrupt practices act, giving congress control of expenditures in senatorial primaries and suggesting that each state limit the campaign funds for candidates.

Nye announced evidence had been found in Memphis, Tenn., which convinced the committee the city, so far as elections was concerned, was the "Philadelphia of the south." He said testimony showed utter disregard of the election laws in the primaries.

MINISTERS' WIVES CALL SMOKING OWN BUSINESS. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—Whether the wives of Chicago ministers smoke is, so they proclaim, their own business.

But by unanimous agreement Bishop Titus W. Lowe of the Methodist church, former Omahan, who promised to bring charges against ministers whose wives smoke "is all wet."

"I don't happen to smoke," said Mrs. Dorothy Rubel, wife of Rev. Henry Rubel of Berwyn.

Mrs. Rubel, who used to be with the folks where most of the girls smoke, said, "I have nothing against smoking and six ministers' wives I know do smoke, at least in private."

Mrs. George C. Stewart, wife of Bishop Stewart, said it was entirely an individual matter.

SEEK STANDARD MEASURES. London.—The standard imperial yard has shrunk two one-thousandths of an inch since it was cast in bronze eighty years ago, imperial conference experts believe. Therefore they want to inaugurate a system of standard measurements which will provide for more frequent comparisons of English and dominion units.

Their decision, if approved, would be of great importance to empire trade, the experts say, for even minute variations are important to industry. As an example of the benefits of standardization they cited the manufacture of girders for a bridge under construction near Calcutta.

Some were made in India and some in England, but every span, nut and rivet fitted exactly.

Episcopal League Raps Bishop Manning

Protest Against Sermon to Be Sent to Convention of the Church; On Early Church.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Protestant Episcopal Church League, a national organization, has issued a formal protest against a sermon preached last Tuesday by Bishop Manning.

In adopting the resolution of protest, the executive committee and advisory council of the league voted to send it to both the house of bishops and the house of deputies at the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in Denver next September.

The sermon, preached at the consecration of Rev. Charles K. Gilbert as a suffragan bishop of the diocese of New York, said that the faith and orders of the Episcopal church, "as judged by the standards of the early undivided church are fundamentally and definitely Catholic."

The league committee said the sermon contained "historical inaccuracies" and betrayed "amazing lack of scholarship."

"It is not a matter of doubt that the early church was neither Baptist, Presbyterian, Congregational, nor Episcopalian," said the protest. "It was a free brotherhood of the spirit, where its members were all of the one heart and mind. Obviously, some simple organization soon became necessary in view of the growing number of converts. This assumed different forms in different centers, as, for instance, Presbyterian at Rome, Episcopalian in some parts of Asia, and Congregational in other localities."—World-Herald.

CHANEY THROWS VOICE WITH AID OF DERBY

Here's a new use for a derby hat. You can throw your voice with it. This, according to no less an authority than Lon Chaney, who asserts that one of his favorite tricks of a ventriloquist is to use the derby as a sort of sounding board to push sound in a certain direction. He does the trick in his role of ventriloquist in "The Unholy Three," his first all-talking picture which will be shown at the Ritz theatre, Plattsmouth, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, this week.

The acoustics of a derby make it useful to hang over trombones in jazz orchestras for the same reason, declares Chaney, and adds that the derby in such a case is gilded to make it more ornamental rather than for musical reasons.

Appearing with Chaney in the cast of "The Unholy Three" are Lila Lee, Elliott Nugent, Harry Earles, John Miljan, Ivan Linow, Clarence Burton and Crauford Kent.

Hoidale was defeated, 278,854 to 287,081, on the basis of returns from all but 45 of the 3,705 precincts. He said he would demand a recount and seek an injunction to prevent the governor from issuing Schall a certificate of election, but would not take the issue to the United States senate.

League's Power Bill Wins by a 2 to 1 Vote To Keep Reward for Dead Bank Bandits Other Power Measures in Doubt; Liability Proposal Wins—Payment Is Beaten. Bankers Favor Traveling University to Give Course on Management. Omaha—The $3,000 reward for dead bank bandits, offered by the Nebraska Bankers' association, will continue in force, the organization ruled Thursday. Plans for an educational campaign to bring before the bankers of the state the advantages of a general installation of service charges "commensurate with the service rendered," were brought before the meeting and it was ruled that a "traveling university" to give a concentrated course on bank management be instituted during the coming year. The drive for more general service charges was opened by A. N. Mathers, president of the association and met with almost universal support among other speakers. In citing the need of service charges, W. E. Dulla of Chicago, accountant, stated that one-eighth of bank customers carried seven-eighths of the balances. Banks lose money, he said, on handling most of the checking accounts which range from $100 to $500. Howard Wilson, cashier of the Live Stock National bank of South Omaha, and chairman of the association's protective committee, said that resolutions calling for establishment of a state constabulary, installation of a radio signaling system with the sending office in the state sheriff's headquarters, and heavier prison sentences for convicted bandits would be laid before the association Friday. Serving with Mr. Wilson on the committee are R. H. Barber of Paxton, and Charles E. Wood of Tallman.—State Journal. FOR SALE Large Toulouse geese. Phone 285-J n10-2tw
