On Wednesday evening of last week, Eugene Nutzman entertained at his home south of Nehawka, a party of gentlemen, and in honor of his friend, Mr. Max Balfour who is visiting here for the past two weeks.

To better care for the business and afford the inflation of tires when in the rear portion of the garage, O. Lundberg has extended the air to the rear of the garage and thus affords a convenience which is much appreciated.

Heerman Meisinger and wife and their little babe were over to Lincoln last Sunday where they were visiting with friends for the day. They drove over and found the trip very pleasant, with good roads and fine weather.

Forest R. Cunningham who has been chopping trees on the farm of A. D. Friend near Alvo has the work of felling the trees and getting them ready for the mill about completed and will immediately begin turning them into lumber.

A. J. Ross who is a real dirt farmer and with none of the bombast about it included the picking of his corn last week and was well satisfied with the yield, all pretty fair, and some of it making as high as fifty-five bushels per acre.

Robert Troop and Ray McMaken were out to Grand Island for a number of days last week where they went to attend a stock sale and look after other business. They report the crops out there as being very good. They arrived home on last Saturday night.

The Busy Workers of the Methodist church gave a bazaar and supper on Wednesday evening of this week, for the purpose of replenishing the exchequer of the society as on them is also placed the responsibility of raising some of the monies for the church.

Will Schumacher who has been picking corn for C. D. St. John completed the work on last Saturday evening, and after computing the acreage and the amount of corn it was found the average per acre was thirty-eight bushels, and no kicking considering the weather during the summer.

Carl Balfour and the good wife entertained at their home on last Friday when they had a large crowd, numbering some sixty guests, and where they made a most excellent evening for the friends and in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Max Balfour who are visiting here from their home at Los Angeles.

Charles Chappell received by express the new coon dog which he recently purchased, the canine coming from Ramsey, Illinois, where there are some of the most wonderful of Kennels, and where they sure produce fine dogs. Charles will try and find some of the coons if there are any to find.

W. A. Hicks who is a coon hunter from away back and his friend, the sturdy (Tubal Cain) Herb Kuntz, the blacksmith, were out on last Sunday evening until three o'clock Monday morning, but nary a coon showed up. However they enjoyed the hunt just the same as it was a fine night for the sport.

Alfred Anderson and family of Omaha were visiting for Saturday and Sunday in Nehawka and were guests at the home of the mother of Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Albertine Ost, where they enjoyed a very fine visit. They remained for Sunday and enjoyed while here a visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Max Balfour and their little daughter, who are spending some two weeks here from their home at Los Angeles, California.

Dr. Wilson of Omaha, superintendent of the Omaha division of the Methodist church was a visitor in Nehawka on last Sunday and attended the quarterly conference. Superintendent Wilson expressed himself as well pleased with the condition of the church, of the excellent minister, and the fine condition of the work being done by the church, also complimenting the church on the very fine condition of the church building and parsonage.

Give Welcome Party.
The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Max Balfour gave this popular couple a very pleasant party at the Nehawka Auditorium on last Saturday night. A most enjoyable time was had by the visitors and their friends here.

Hears Sister Injured.
Mrs. Miller Christensen received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Carrol Parish of Long Beach, California, telling of she and husband getting severely injured and a certain real estate man being killed when their car skidded and went over an embankment on the mountain side looking for a site for the erection of a bungalow when as they were driving along the bank rolled to the bottom one hundred feet below, when the man who was showing them the land was killed, and both Mr. and Mrs. Parish were very severely injured. It was with much difficulty that Mr. Parish dragged himself to a cabin to give aid to the injured. Both he and wife are in a hospital at Long Beach, where the wife had a broken collar bone and both are badly bruised.

Gave Excellent Entertainment.
The opera which was sponsored by the Nehawka school and which was given on last Saturday evening, was one received with much pleasure by the large audience which gathered to enjoy the production. The success was due to the co-operation of the teachers and citizens of Nehawka as well as the school.

Make Hit at WAAW

Morgenthau in Fear of New European War
Former Ambassador Says if Comes the United States Will Be Compelled to Enter

Battle Creek, Mich.—Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, said Monday he believes another European war is imminent. If it happens, he said, the United States will be forced to take a part just as surely as it was in the World War. War, he asserted, can be averted only by the United States. He suggested that the United States propose a postponement of payments of war debts by the various European countries to the United States, for, possibly, a five year period, with the stipulation that any country which is the aggressor in a war shall sacrifice this right or deferment. France, the former ambassador said, is preparing to repel any attack and is arranging alliances with Poland, Jugoslavia, Rumania and other countries. Germany, he said, is not content without her colonies and territories and war talk is general. In Italy, he said, Mussolini can hope to retain his personal domination only by some successful venture outside the country.

Kansas City — Former Senator James A. Reed told the Kansas City Steuben club Monday the World war resulted from economic rivalries and that the blame could not be fixed upon Germany or any other country. Reed said the conditions creating the economic rivalry, resulting in jealousy and fear, still exist and might cause future wars unless removed.—State Journal.

INEXPERIENCED HUNTERS FIND DECOYS COSTLY PREY
Canton, O., Nov. 14.—Neither Dr. M. R. Rev. nor Russell H. Bovey, theater manager, had ever gone duck hunting until they went out to a lake yesterday. When they came upon a fine lot of birds floating lazily, they fired in unison. Not one duck took flight. Then an irate hunter rose up from the reeds. Bovey and Rev. are paying for the decoys.

Police Officer Killed Trying to Arrest Pair

Detective Fred Kruger Shot by Fletcher Moore, Bank Robber, Also Hurt in Fray.

Omaha—Chester "Shorty" Gore Omaha, captured by police three hours after he had escaped during a gun battle in which his partner, Fletcher Moore, shot down and killed a police detective and was himself shot down at he attempted to flee, Monday night confessed a part in the Hiawatha, Kas., bank robbery on Oct. 8, police reported.

Gore's confession was made after several hours of continuous and severe grilling. He said, police related, that he had driven the bandit car in the Kansas holdup. Moore, Gore declared, was one of the gunmen in the robbery.

Moore, lying at the point of death in a hospital, was unable to talk. Moore was shot three times when he fled after shooting down Detective Sgt. Fred Kruger, after Kruger and his partner, Detective Sgt. Ray Strong, had stopped him and Gore as they left a rooming house.

Kruger and Detective Sgt. Ray Strong accosted Moore and Chester Gore, a companion, as they emerged from a rooming house in the company of a woman. As the detectives sought to place the trio in a police auto, Moore drew a pistol and fired point blank at Kruger, sending a bullet thru his abdomen.

As the shot rang out, Strong whipped out his pistol and struck Gore over the head. He then started in pursuit of Moore who had cleared a nearby fence and shot him down as he raced across a lawn, placing three bullets in his body.

Gore in the meantime had recovered and fired three shots at Strong, none of which took effect. Then he leaped into another automobile with a woman and sped away.

Gore drove to the home of a relative of the woman where she left the car and he drove off. For four hours Gore eluded the squadrons of police that sought him, only to be captured shortly after he had entered the Fort Omaha army post in an effort to find a secure hiding place.

Police detectives, stationed at the Fort in a belief that Gore might seek Private Harold Moore, brother of the wounded man, arrested Gore. Private Moore, an officer's chauffeur, had previously been arrested.

The shooting took place in front of a rooming house where the two and a woman had been rooming for three days. Mrs. Peggy Diggle, landlady, said that all had been drinking Monday and were very hysterical as they left the house prior to the shooting. Police said they believed the pair to have been connected with a gang of hijackers which had been operating here recently. Sergeant Kruger was widely known thruout the middle west for his prowess as a bowler.

"Kruger was the fourth Nebraska officer to be shot since Aug. 12 and the second one to be killed within a week," State Sheriff Condit said Monday night. Deputy Sheriff McCallum was fatally wounded Armistice day.—State Journal.

CONSPIRACY IN STOCK SALE

Cambridge, Mass.—Sentences of two years in the house of correction were given Monday to Otis E. Dunham, president of Page and Shaw Candy company, Isaac Hart and Joseph Pollay, Boston brokers, for conspiracy to defraud in connection with the floating of a $2,000,000 stock issue of the candy company. In addition Dunham was fined $1,000 and Hart and Pollay each $5,000. They were acquitted of being accessories to larceny. It was testified during the trial that the brokers got nearly $1,000,000 of the $2,000,000 taken in on the issuance of the stock.

Committee to Weigh Merits of Farm Bill

Leaders in Agriculture Asked by McNary to Attend Meeting—Sees Legge and Hyde

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The senate agriculture committee is going to weigh the merits of the newly established farm marketing act next week and determine with agricultural leaders whether new legislation should be sought at the approaching session of congress.

Senator McNary (rep., Ore.), chairman of the agriculture committee, today called upon Secretary Arthur Hyde and Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board to meet with the committee next Monday to state their views and program. McNary invited also the presidents of the three national farm organizations: L. J. Tabor of the National Grange, C. E. Huff of the Farmers' union and S. H. Thompson of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Wants Complete Picture.
The senator said he is calling the conference to get a complete picture of the agricultural situation before congress meets. He said last fall that the new act should be given a thorough test before it is abandoned or modified, but he added today that he wanted to get a full exchange of opinions.

Already there is a movement in the senate to revive the export debenture principle of farm relief as a supplement to the farm marketing act. This was passed a year ago by the senate over the objection of President Hoover but was defeated in the house.

Decisive Action Seen.
Whatever the results of the farm meeting next week, it is expected to lead to decisive action in the senate at the short session—either for additional legislation or for a further test of the present act.

Senator Brookhart (rep., Ia.) has served notice he will renew his fight for the export debenture. In the recent campaign, Senator Borah (rep., Idaho) also charged a "betrayal" of the farmers by the administration and advocated enactment of the export debenture.

JONES THROUGH WITH GOLF

New York, Nov. 17.—Bobby Jones, world's champion golfer and sportsman of international fame, announced his definite retirement Monday from all championship competition so he can fulfill a contract to make a series of 12 one-reel motion pictures on golf instruction.

His withdrawal from tournament play, after a year in which he smashed all of the game's records by sweeping the four championships of the United States and Great Britain is effective immediately, and he will devote himself to the titles he now holds, open or amateur.

Jones, in an elaborate statement setting forth his decision and the reasons prompting it, revealed he signed a contract four days ago with Warner Bros. pictures. He will undertake his movie work in the spring and, after its completion, devote himself to his law practice in Atlanta.

Neither Jones nor Warner Bros. mentioned the financial details concerned, but it was reported the champion would work on a basis of guarantee, plus a percentage of the profit from the exhibition of the pictures. Participation of a national as well as international distribution of the pictures, it was estimated the venture would mean perhaps as much as $250,000 to Jones.

The retirement brings to a climax the most sensational record of victories achieved in golf history. No other king of sport ever decided to leave the competitive arena at so youthful an age as 28 or when at the very height of his powers, with the exception of Gene Tunney.

AUTO PLUNGE KILLS ONE

North Platte — Funeral services will be held here Tuesday afternoon for Jim Greeley, nineteen farm hand who was killed instantly Saturday when the automobile in which he was riding plunged from the road near Hamlet.

He and three companions were returning from a dance when the accident occurred. Nelly Jones, Charles Jones and Lucille Kazebeer, his companions, were injured severely. Charles Jones sustained a crushing chest and many lacerations but he is expected to recover.

Wheat Takes a 3c Jump on U. S. Buying

Purchase of 10,000,000 Bushels Gives New Confidence to Traders

Chicago, Nov. 17.—In a session that held special significance because of the re-entry in the wheat pit as buyers of government sponsored organizations, grain prices advanced materially in all principal markets Monday. Net gains of wheat futures in Chicago were 1/4 to 3/8 cents per bushel.

It was the first session since Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal land board had officially confirmed the rumors that the stabilization corporation was buying wheat. The blackboards and tickers were watched 2 1/2 c; July (new style contract) went up 1/2 c to 2 1/2 c; December (old style contract) went up 1/2 c to 2 1/2 c; July (new style contract) went up 1/2 c to 2 1/2 c.

The story, at the end of a day in which the news was principally of the farm board, was told in the closing figures for Chicago wheat futures, old style contract: Dec., 75 1/2 @ 75 3/4 c (up 1/2 to 3/4 c); March, 75 @ 75 1/2 c (up 1/2 to 3/4 c); May, 76 3/4 @ 76 1/2 c (up 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 c); July (new style contract) closely to see what effect the government's purchase would have.

Other markets in this country reported similar increases while a still greater gain was made in the Winnipeg wheat pit, after the report that Canadian bankers had agreed not to force the sale of the wheat pool holdings, whereas the Winnipeg futures had been abnormally under Chicago figures, as much as 15 cents. Monday's closing prices showed spread of only 1 1/4 @ 1 1/2 cents in the December column and 9 1/2 @ 9 1/4 c in the May.

The Chicago advances were made soon after an inauspicious opening. Within 15 minutes, short traders, apparently apprehensive concerning the government's plans, had hurriedly leaped to fulfill their contracts and had sent the market rapidly into higher ground, most futures gaining from 1 to 2 cents.

After the early flurry, the market showed more uneasiness but held fairly steady, despite new statements by farm board executives to the effect that the government was buying cash wheat as well as futures and was buying in all principal markets.

Although Chairman Legge was quoted in Washington as saying the stabilization's recent purchases of wheat futures would probably total about 10,000,000 bushels, estimates of only 11 1/4 @ 1 1/2 cents in the December column and 9 1/2 @ 9 1/4 c in the May.

Seven Fatal Wounds in Body of Detective

Kruger's Slayer Apparently Turned Officers Own Gun on Him—Strong Faced Fire.

Sergeant Fred Kruger, of Omaha, fatally wounded by Fletcher Moore, bank bandit suspect, Monday afternoon, was shot once with his own pistol, it was revealed at the post mortem examination Tuesday.

There were seven pistol wounds in his body. Six of them were fired by Moore's six-cartridge automatic, according to Dr. S. McClenehan, who conducted the autopsy. The other came from Kruger's .38 caliber special police pistol.

As police investigators now reconstruct the story, Moore probably emptied his own pistol into Kruger's body as they struggled, then wrested Kruger's gun from him and fired one more bullet into his body as he fell. Then, they believe, the slayer turned the blazing gun on Sergeant Ray Strong, Sergeant Kruger's companion, and fired three times at him before trying to flee.

Moore's gun had been fired six times, Kruger's four times. But it is now believed that the slain officer did not have a chance to fire a single shot in self defense. Any of his seven wounds might have been fatal, Dr. McClenehan said.

Hear of Threats Against Missing Scottsbluff Man

Say One Resembling Raue Took Ravenna Train for Grand Island; Wife Is Mystified.

Grand Island, Neb., Nov. 18.—With no surface motive for a voluntary disappearance and reported threats of harm told of, search late tonight for Jack Raue, 27, Scottsbluff salesman, had apparently made little progress.

Raue's car as found abandoned Monday morning in an old tourist camp near Ravenna. Raue's personal belongings were in it, and the ignition key was in the lock. A gun which the young man usually carried in a side pocket of the car was missing. Several cartridges were scattered on the floor.

Relatives said tonight that beyond report that a man answering Raue's description had boarded a train Monday at Ravenna for Grand Island, no clew had been obtained. Raue, who travels for a plumbing firm operated by his father and Carl Backers, had left Arnold, Neb., early Monday morning, saying he was driving to Valentine.

No Sign of Struggle.
When the car was found, there was nothing to indicate a struggle had taken place.

George Raue, the father, said his son had told of having been threatened by two men who had been sent to prison last year on a liquor charge in Denver after he had testified against them. The pair has been released from jail recently, he said. Investigators, too, have worked on the theory that young Raue may have become frightened at threatening letters he had received, and hoped to elude feared pursuers by disappearance.

Rev. E. C. Raue, Scottsbluff pastor and uncle of the missing man, was in Broken Bow tonight pursuing the investigation. The father went from here to North Platte, where lives his business partner.

Wife Is Mystified.
Raue is married and has two small children. Mrs. Raue, at Scottsbluff tonight, said she knew of no motive which would impel her husband to voluntarily disappear. She also knew nothing of the alleged threats, she said, but stated that her husband had been in Denver last year. Young Raue frequently carried large sums of money, relatives said, which might support a theory of foul play.

Lloyd Oman, at whose home Raue had stayed in Arnold, said Raue had behaved strangely after a trip downtown Sunday night. He had told the Omans of being pursued when he left Theford on the way to Arnold on a previous trip.—World Herald.

HEARING OF UNCLE IN HADAR SHOOTING SET FOR TUESDAY

Pierce, Neb., Nov. 13.—Milton Jones, 50, pleaded not guilty today and will face preliminary hearing next Tuesday on charges of shooting with intent to kill or wound, in connection with the shooting last Sunday evening of Miss Myrtle Granfield and her sister, Iola, at their farm home near Hadar. Jones is an uncle of the girls.

His companions at the time of the visit to the Granfield home, Joseph Carvell, 43, and Mat Madson, 34, were fined one hundred dollars for liquor possession and $20 for drunkenness, respectively, in court here today. The latter two were sent back to jail, being unable to pay the fines.

Jones is in jail, bond being set at five thousand dollars. Miss Myrtle Granfield left the hospital Wednesday. Her younger sister was less seriously hurt by the shots fired through a window.

STUDENTS SEEK SELF RULE
Lincoln, Nov. 17.—Student demands for more powers of self-government are gradually gaining in power at the University of Nebraska. The Student Council, official but powerless organ of campus government, is devising a new constitution. The document asks for more power than the mere authority to make recommendations to the faculty committee on student affairs.

General campus sentiment is outspoken in its support of the council's move. Leaders of the majority of campus groups are almost unanimous in the opinion that the university administration should give the council some original jurisdiction.
