UNION HAS BAD FIRE

The town of Union, which has been the scene of many serious fires and twice almost gutted by the ravages of the flames, was again a sufferer from fire as the building on the north side of the Main street of the town, occupied by the Atteberry garage, was gutted by the fire.

The building is a one story structure of concrete block and the blocks that formed the walls of the building are practically all that is left as the roof was almost wholly burned off and all save a small part of the woodwork in the building.

The fire was first discovered about 10:45 by Mrs. Elmer Withrow, who resides a short distance away from the building and she gave the alarm at once, but before the members of the fire department could reach the scene and have two streams playing on the blaze, the structure was all ablaze.

There was a number of cars and a truck in the garage and these were all practically ruined, advices from Union received here state, and the loss from this item will be very high in addition to the building itself.

The cause of the fire has not as yet been determined, although a number are of the opinion that a short in the wiring of some car caused the destructive blaze.

The building as well as the greater part of the cars in the garage, was the property of Charles Atteberry, well known Union man and former resident of south of this city.

Declare Power is the Main Issue before Congress

Capper and Norris Cite Program, Letter Naming Four Proposals—Avoid Special Session

Washington D. C., Nov. 21.—The power issue, government or private control, was advanced today by two republican senators, fresh from victory in the west, as one of the outstanding problems confronting congress and the presidential campaign of 1932.

Senators Norris (Neb.) and Capper (Kans.) joined in this opinion and in demanding action by congress at the short session on the controversy between the senate and house over operation of the Muscle Shoals, Ala., power and nitrate plant.

The Nebraska senator is sponsoring the senate bill for government operation of Muscle Shoals. President Hoover is sympathetic to the house measure for private operation. Coincidentally, Senator Norris today demanded votes upon four measures at the short session for avoiding an extra session of the new congress in the spring.

Doesn't Want Extra Session. Norris included among the measures which he wants acted upon at the approaching short session his bill for government operation of Muscle Shoals, the bill to curb the powers of courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes, unemployment relief, and the constitutional amendment to change the meeting times of congress.

"I don't want an extra session," he said. "If there is an extra session it will be brought on because the administration won't give consideration to matters which either are in conference or on the senate calendar.

"I am anxious to give the senate an opportunity to render a party verdict. If the administration will withdraw its opposition, we will do it.

"If these bills are not acted upon, it may be necessary to force action by a special session which can easily be done. The machine republicans who hitherto have blocked the resolution to end short or lame duck sessions may have to take a bitter dose of their own medicine."

Proposal by Capper.

Senator Capper also advanced a proposal that 50 million bushels of wheat held by the farm board be used to feed the unemployed. Senator Borah (Iowa) looked favorably upon this idea, remarking that "what haunts me is the fact that wheat is rotting in the warehouses and 90 million people are hungry."

Senator Norris asserted his belief that the power issue would be the main issue of the 1932 campaign, and said "the citizens have spoken in unequivocal terms for government operation in the recent election." He referred to referendum on water power in several states.

Both Capper and Norris urged more time for a trial of the farm board before seeking to amend the law. Their position is expected to end any attempt to force an extra session by insistence upon the export debenture principle of farm relief.

All of the bills named by Norris already have passed the senate except the anti-injunction measure. The house has under consideration a substitute for the Norris constitutional amendment to do away with the short sessions in which a new congress has been chosen.—World-Herald.

WILLING TO SERVE BRYAN

I. W. Jacoby of Havelock is listed as a candidate for a place under the Bryan administration which is to set in along with the cold weather which is usually common during the month of January. Mr. Jacoby would not object to serving in place of H. J. McLaughlin, secretary of the department of agriculture. Mr. Jacoby served as a member of the house of representatives in 1923 and has appeared in many legislative lobbies since then, sometimes asking for passage of bills and sometimes just treating the members to fresh buttermilk which he produces in his farm dairy near Havelock.

Another democrat who would like to be remembered by Governor Bryan right after the holidays expire is W. B. Eastham of Lincoln. He would prefer to serve as state insurance commissioner in place of Lloyd Dort, formerly assistant attorney general who is head of the insurance bureau when Governor Morehead was in office and also served a short time under Governor Neville.

George E. Hall, formerly state treasurer and Bryan's secretary of finance, is asking Lincoln bankers to recommend him to succeed Secretary Bliss of the department of trade and commerce which is now receiver of failed state banks.

Governor Bryan will Battle to Destroy Code Law

Governor-Elect Still Undecided About Appointments; Silent on State Engineer and Sheriff.

State taxes and roads will be the principal subjects he treated in Governor-elect Charles W. Bryan's inaugural message to the legislature next January.

The governor-elect said Friday he will insist that the expenses of the state government be reduced so that state taxes may be cut. He will propose a state highway program he hopes the legislature will approve.

"If the legislature will work with me I will eliminate the code system entirely and materially cut the cost of state government," Bryan said.

"I have been besieged with applications for state positions since election day, but I have made no promises and have no definite appointments in mind." The governor-elect said he probably would not make more than three or four appointments before taking office in January.

"I do not know what positions I will have to fill," he explained. "I hope to reduce the number of state employes materially and for that reason I cannot make any promises now."

The appointments he has in mind to decide upon before he takes office are those of his own private secretary, member of the state board of control to succeed E. T. Westerveldt of Scottsbluff, state sheriff and state tax commissioner.

Those are positions certain to be continued regardless of what code eliminations or consolidations may be made.

M. L. Endres, former sheriff of Douglas county, and Thomas Carroll, former state sheriff, are among the men mentioned for state sheriff. Rudolph Brazda of West Point, former state senator, is prominently mentioned for state tax commissioner.

The appointment for the state board of control has not even been seriously considered by the governor-elect although he has two or three men in mind.

Bryan said he was not yet prepared to say that just what good roads recommendations he will make to the legislature.

He declined to say whether he contemplated any change in the office of state engineer, now held by Roy L. Cochran.

REPORT CONDIT. COCHRAN WILL LOSE STATE JOBS

Lincoln, Nov. 21.—The Lincoln Star Friday said it was believed in state political circles that Governor-elect Charles W. Bryan would replace W. C. Condit as state sheriff and Roy L. Cochran as state engineer.

"There will be some appointments, and some disappointments," said Bryan Friday.

The Star said former State Senator Rudolph Brazda, West Point, was a candidate for tax commissioner and Charles Smrha, Milligan banker, might succeed Clarence G. Bliss as secretary of trade and commerce. George E. Hall also has been suggested, as has K. C. Knudson, Omaha.

Johnson of the rehabilitation committee reported that work was being done on a quilt that would be turned over to the state department for use where needed.

It was also voted to donate $5 for the associated charities to be applied to their general fund on relief work. To aid in national book week it was voted to donate a book to the library, the same to be selected by the librarian and placed in the library.

The report of the treasurer showed forty-two members who had already paid their dues for the year. Dainty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Murray Study Club Enjoys Fine Program

Ladies Have Study of the Cultural Arts for the Winter Program

The Murray Study Club met at the home of Mrs. H. C. Todd on Thursday afternoon, November 20th, and enjoyed a splendid program. There were about eleven members and three visitors present, the attendance being rather small, on account of the weather.

The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. J. C. Stewart, presiding, at which time several matters were under discussion, the most important being a donation of $5.00 to the cause of the local chapter of the Red Cross, and the sending of a Christmas box to an orphanage in Omaha.

The song for the day was "Coming Thru the Rye," and with this the musical part of the program opened. After the opening song, the listening selection "Sextett from Lucia" was played by Mrs. J. C. Stewart.

The topic for the day was "The Study of Art." The leader of the meeting being Mrs. W. G. Boedecker who opened the meeting with suitable remarks, pertaining to the subject.

A very interesting and inspiring talk was then given by Mrs. Charles H. Boedecker on "Painting from the Early Roman Period, Down to the Present Day." An instructive paper in the art of hanging pictures was given by Mrs. Lucian Carper. A paper written by Mrs. Vantine on the life of the artist Millet and read by Mrs. Todd, proved very interesting.

The subject of "Educational Art in the School," from the first to the eighth grades, was well handled by Mrs. G. H. Gilmore, in which she emphasized and illustrated the influence of art upon the children as they passed thru the various grades.

The program was closed by an effective talk by the leader, after which Mrs. Pittman sang a beautiful solo in her usual efficient manner. A most instructive and enjoyable program was concluded by the singing of "America the Beautiful," after which Mrs. Todd as hostess, served most delicious refreshments.

The many friends here of the estimable family regret very much to see them remove from this city where they have made their home for the past eighteen years but will extend to Mr. and Mrs. Mumm their best wishes for the future years of happiness in the new home. Ira Mumm, the son, is at Crete, Nebraska, where he is attending Doane college at that place.

SKYSCRAPER NEARS FINISH

New York—Hidden in fog, steel workers toiled unseen all day atop the Empire State building Friday to put in place the last piece of a 200-foot mooring mast for driblettes, 1-284 feet above Fifth avenue. This is higher than workmen ever have reared a building before. By night a flag floated at a height which would be 102 stories if translated into loft floors, and the steel work, including eighty-five office floors of the building, was finished.

AN APPRECIATION

Before the late election is forgotten, I want to ask the privilege of expressing to the voters and press of Cass, Otoe and Sarpy counties, through the Journal, my sincerest thanks, not so much for my election, as for the many courtesies shown me and kind words said of me, and expressions of friendship and confidence from so many old friends and new friends, many more of which I hope to deserve and make.

Throughout the late campaign, in respect to men and issues, the newspapers of the district, by friendly and temperate suggestion and criticism, very greatly aided their readers in reaching right conclusions. The one promise I have made, am now making, is to render to the people of this Senatorial District my best service.

Yours truly, WM. H. PITZER.

Believe Teacher Kidnaped; Shot Scream Heard

Investigators Are Told of Automobile Near Railroad Station—Disappeared Sunday Night

Fort Morgan, Colo., Nov. 21.—Officials investigating the reputed abduction of Miss Enid Marriot, 28, school-teacher, today learned of a woman's scream and a revolver shot heard at about the time the young woman disappeared Sunday night from a Wiggins, Colo., railroad station.

Authorities said a woman resident of Wiggins told of the shrill screams of Roy Young, who lives near the station, recounted that he heard what he believed was a revolver shot as the train from which Miss Marriot alighted pulled out of the yards.

Belief that Miss Marriot was abducted and taken to some lonely shack in the Wiggins region is held by investigators. A search has been handicapped by snow drifts which have blocked highways.

A report that a man was standing near a large sedan at the railroad station when the young woman arrived at Wiggins was being investigated. Officers believe the girl got into the automobile under the impression the man was a friend.

George C. Carlson, the girl's brother-in-law, who has posted a one thousand dollar reward for the finding of Miss Marriot, dead or alive left Grand Junction, Colo., today for Colorado Springs to ask the aid of Chief of Police Hugh D. Harper of that city in finding the teacher. Carlson believes Miss Marriot has been kidnaped and will be held for ransom.—World-Herald.

REPORTS OF ARMY MEETING

London—Berlin dispatches to the Daily Express carry reports that two battalions of the red army mutinied while engaged in winter maneuvers at Ismailowo, a village ten miles from Moscow. The reports add that the men killed some of their officers, but ultimately were subdued by the goup (secret police) after a fierce battle in which many soldiers were killed or wounded. It was added that 700 arrests had since been made in the red capital.

Moscow—The official Tass news agency Thursday night denied reports from Berlin that red soldiers had revolted and that great numbers of persons have been arrested. The news agency characterized the reports as "absolutely malicious inventions."

Farm Hand Confesses Part in Bank Holdup

Carl Ellis Taken at Blair; Sheriff Tells of Cash in Grip; Robs in Missouri.

Blair, Neb., Nov. 21.—Carl Ellis, 22, for the past month a cornpicker on the Cass Fry farm 12 miles north of Blair, today confessed to Sheriff Maurice Mehrens that he was one of three who robbed a bank at Osborn, Mo., of four thousand dollars early in October, Mehrens said.

Acting on an outside tip Thursday afternoon, Mehrens and his deputy, John Hansen, and Sam Stevens, Blair night watchman, went to the Fry farm. They were told that Ellis had driven to Omaha with a man who had been at the farm since last Saturday.

A locked grip in Ellis' room jingled, when shaken, as if it contained money.

Ellis was arrested upon his return from Omaha. At first denying any connection with the robbery, he confessed when Mehrens started to open the grip which contained $650 in currency, gold and silver change.

Ellis implicated another farm hand and a man believed to be in jail at Maysville, Mo. He waived extradition, and is to be turned over to Missouri officers, who arrived for him this evening. They will probably start back with him some time Saturday.

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening Miss Helen Smetana entertained very pleasantly a party of friends at her home on North 14th street, the evening being spent at cards, the members of the party enjoying pinocle for several hours and in which the prizes were won by Mrs. Henry Ofe, first; Miss Dora Soennichen, second and Mrs. John Sanders, third.

The home was very tastefully arranged in the Thanksgiving decorations and which made a most pleasing touch to the scene.

At a suitably hour Miss Smetana served very dainty and delicious refreshments, being assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Elmer Lohnes and Miss Eleanor Smetana.

Those enjoying the evening were: Misses Dora and Christine Soennichen, Wilma Schless, Mary Holy, Lilian Koubek, Marie Horn, Elizabeth and Marie Nolting, Mesdames John Sanders, Henry Ofe and Lucille Gaines.

New York, Nov. 20.—John T. Mulholland told the court yesterday, in his suit to have the marriage annulled, that he wed Mrs. Mulholland in 1917 with the understanding that her first husband, Frederick (Spider) Tillman, Jr., had departed.

But when a radio speaker from the Doyer Street Mission was announced as "Spider" Tillman, Mulholland said, "I noticed my wife's facial expression undergo a complete change." Subsequent interviews with Tillman revealed him as the missing spouse, he said.
