Telephone No. 18 Union, Nebr.

Frank Bauer and sister, Anna, were over to Greenwood on last Sunday, where they visited at the home of Pete Schroeder, all enjoying a fine visit.

C. E. Withrow and wife of Nebraska City were visiting at the home of their son, Elmer Withrow and family on Monday, and all enjoyed the visit very much.

George Stites is having Otis Keene build a wind break at his feed lots to protect the cattle when they are being fed and at other times to keep them from the wintry blasts.

Dr. Fimette Chaplain of the Methodist hospital in Omaha, accompanied by four of the nurses of that institution, were in Union on Sunday and held services at the Methodist church in Union.

Horace W. Griffin, the blacksmith, and cream and produce man, was over to Weeping Water on last Tuesday where he went for a load of poultry which he was purchasing from Ben Gibson near that place.

Mesdames P. F. Rihn and C. G. McCarthy were over to Murray on last Monday where they were meeting with the women of that city regarding the work of the extension club and arranging for work of the club at Murray.

With the wind of Tuesday which was sure a strong one, some portions of the walls left standing from the garage fire were blown over but with no hurt to any one other than the walls were blown down, and which were dangerous as they were.

C. J. Shaveley and family and Carl Shaveley were enjoying a visit at Plattsmouth on last Sunday they being guests while there at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Porter. Mrs. Shaveley and Mr. Porter are sister and brother. They all enjoyed a very fine visit and a good time.

With the wind howling over the country far and wide and blowing at sixty miles per hour on last Tuesday Charles Hoback was pleased that he had gotten his corn all picked and in the crib on last Saturday. He had estimated the corn would make thirty bushels and the actual picking test showed 31.

L. P. Fitch is having some remodeling and repair work done on his house, the work being done by Mr. Abbie of Nebraska City, the gentleman who has been working with Joe Bauer during the past summer and fall. Mr. Fitch has been having some French doors installed, which is adding much to the convenience of the place.

Louis W. Crawford and family of Obert, and Bert Crawford and family of Hartington, arrived last Sunday, called here by the death of their brother, Alonzo Crawford. The funeral being awaited until Thursday for the arrival of Lawson Crawford who makes his home in California, and who could not arrive until Thursday, when the funeral will be held in the afternoon. See the account elsewhere.

George A. Stites was over to Greenwood on last Monday where he was arranging for the departure of the mother and step-father for Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, where they will make their home with two sons who reside there. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Terrall, Mrs. Terrall mother of Mr. Stites who have made their home in Greenwood for some time were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stites here for the past week before their departure for the east.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Frans and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore of Murray were over to Omaha on last Sunday where they went to visit with Mrs. Fleming Robb who is in the Methodist hospital convalescing following an operation which she underwent for the restoration of her health. They found her doing very nicely and also visited with Miss Mae Murphy who is also taking treatment at the same place. Miss Murphy was doing fair. Miss Agusta Robb was also over to Omaha.

Omaha Sunday and visited the patients as well.

Did Excellent Work.
The Union fire department are to be complimented on their very fine fight which they made against the fire which destroyed the garage and building of Charles Atteberry, on last Wednesday night. The fire had gotten a start when discovered, and had made great headway, and was difficult to overcome. They soon had two streams playing on the fire and were able to keep the fire from extending to other buildings on either side. The fire completely destroyed the building as well as the contents. Some of the cars in the place owned by other people were covered by insurance, but it ran to the parties holding the incumbrance of the place and which leaves Mr. Atteberry in such a position that it is difficult for him to get started again. He is an excellent workman and one of the most reliable of men and will have no trouble of getting and maintaining a position, but this will necessitate him removing from Union. All would like to see him remain in Union and he and the family are the very best citizens.

Will Visit Chicago.
W. B. Banning who has been a member of the state fair board for many years will meet with the board at Lincoln Saturday and will then depart with a committee for Chicago where they will meet with the mid-west committee from the numerous state fairs, where they will hold a four day session, their work touching the state fair work of the entire middle west.

Have New Furnace Installed.
The room which is used by Rihn and Greene for their store has been treated to a heating plant, the third of the kind which has been installed by Mr. L. R. Upton recently, the other two being the Bank of Union and the home of Mont Robb.

Lost Cars in Garage Fire.
Dr. W. W. Claybaugh who kept his car stored when not using it, at the Atteberry garage, suffered the loss of it as it was burned in the fire. Peter Willey of Nebraska City suffered the loss of his car, while Claude Lant also lost his car, but as he had insurance on it he was paid for the amount of his policy the following day. Showing it pays to carry insurance. While Mr. Atteberry was as careful as possible and also the members of the fire department did their best the fire could not be extinguished. Till who have lost have the sympathy of every one in their loss.

Sheep Top the Market.
Hugh E. Warden was over to Omaha on last Monday with a sheep which he has been feeding, there being one hundred and sixty of them, and good ones at that, for they topped the market which pleased Mr. Warden for he had given them good care.

Visiting Friends Here.
Hubert Roddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Roddy, accompanied by the good wife are visiting here from Denver. They were also visiting with friends and relatives in Iowa, where her folks reside as well as with the parents of Mr. Roddy here.

Had an Excellent Dinner.
The Union Business Men's club ate dinner together in the Propat building and were served with an excellent meal on last Tuesday and which should have done them until Thanksgiving day when the Baptist ladies are to serve Thanksgiving dinner. The two parties of ladies sure know how to serve good meals.

Surprise Their Friend.
A large number of the friends of John C. Hansel who was passing his birthday anniversary on Tuesday of this week, went to his home with many good things to eat, notwithstanding the fierce gale which was blowing and gave this gentleman a sure enough surprise. Mrs. Hansel was in on the secret which aided the friends in making it a complete surprise. An excellent time was had and Mr. Hansel was left some remembrances of the friendship of those who were in attendance. In departing they extended the wish that he might enjoy many such happy occasions.

Answers Last Summons.
Alonzo Crawford was born in February, 1877, and died at the Methodist hospital at Omaha on November 22nd, 1930, aged 53 years, 9 months and 13 days.

He grew to manhood near Union and had made his home here and in the northern portion of the state the most of his life. He was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Eaton on August 16th, 1896. To this union there were twelve children, 11 surviving the father, one having died in infancy. There are seven daughters and four sons, they being, Mabel Lowell, El Paso, Texas, Mamie Hogert, Norfolk, Nebr.; Margie Brown, Newcastle, Nebr.; Lawson Crawford, Cedar City, Utah; Dorothy Evelett, Union, and at home, Lawrence, Bernadine, Francis, Bernice, Eunice, and Stanley. These with the wife and mother, and six brothers and one sister are left to mourn his departure. Luther and L. W. Crawford of Obert, Bert of Hartington, Norman of Nebraska City, Ray Wisnise and Mrs. John Eaton of Union.

Cedar county where he resided for fourteen years and in 1926 returned to Cass county, living here since. He was engaged in farming, living three and a half miles east of Union.

The funeral was held from the Baptist church on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 27th, the interment being made at the East Union cemetery, the services being conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, life long friend of the deceased.

Wound Causes Serious Condition.
Raymond Hill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill of near Percival, Iowa, who was out last Saturday with a smaller brother on the river, and where as they were hunting, the gun which Mr. Hill was using was accidentally discharged, the charge cutting the ankle and lower portion of the leg as well as the foot almost away. They hastened to shore to secure help, but when going to the house which was nearest, but some distance from the river they found no one at home, and hastening back to the boat, went down the river further until they found some one who they secured to take them to Nebraska City, where they were served by a doctor, and taken to the hospital. The wound had bled so severely that it was feared that death would ensue from the loss of blood, but the bleeding was stopped. All attention has been given to the lad, and a number of blood transfusions will be required before strength enough can be gotten that it will be safe to operate and amputate the maimed leg.

RATE RULING SUSTAINED.
Washington — The division of freight rates among railroads in the southwestern and the western territory ordered by the interstate commerce commission in 1928, was sustained Monday by the supreme court, in a case brought by the Beaumont, Sour Lake & Western and other southwestern railroads. The court analyzed at length the various provisions advanced by those railroads for attack and found that none of them required it be set aside.

Pointing out that twelve western trunk lines and thirty-two southwestern carriers were parties to the investigation conducted by the commission, the court held that it was not necessary for the commission to pass on each rate separately between each connecting carrier. It held the investigation had been sufficient there. The commission found that the western trunk lines were entitled to a larger share of the division of the rates. It was estimated the order would increase their receipts from such traffic approximately $3,000,000 annually.

PLANE'S WRECKAGE FOUND.
Juneau, Alaska—Reports here Monday night from White Horse, Yukon, said Pilot E. L. Wasson had discovered the wrecked plane of Capt. E. J. A. Burke and two companions missing since Oct. 11, in the headwaters of the Liard river in Yukon territory. The reports which arrived via Skagway, Alaska, said Wasson returned to White Horse, his headquarters, without further investigation because of gasoline shortage. He reported the wreckage indicated Burke and his companions were forced down.

Wasson said he would return as soon as possible within about fifteen miles of the wreckage and make his way to the plane by foot. Roughness of the country would prevent his landing near the plane, he said. Wasson said he believed Burke would have left a message in the wreckage, telling what had happened and indicating where the party might be found.

MONOPOLY PLANS CHARGED

East St. Louis—Testimony designed to show co-operatives backed by the federal farm board planned a monopoly in livestock marketing was given here Monday at the department of agriculture hearing ordered by Secretary Hyde to investigate practices at the St. Louis national stockyards.

F. G. Kerner, manager of the National Order Buying company, was quoted by Mrs. A. Russell Walker of University City, Mo., as saying, "We are going to change the whole system, and make the St. Louis stockyards just a feeding place between the farmer and the packer. The government used to fight trusts, but now it favors consolidation in business."

NEBRASKA SOIL YIELDS EVIDENCES OF GIGANTIC PREHISTORIC BEASTS

In no other state have there been found such numerous and amazing evidences of the existence of a race of great prehistoric animals as in Nebraska. Some of the finest specimens taken from Nebraska fossil quarries may be seen displayed in artistically constructed surroundings in Morrill Hall at the University of Nebraska. This interesting place is far known for its paleontological collections and is visited by thousands of people who stand in silent wonder before the skeletons of those towering beasts who walked the earth in the morning of creation. Notable specimens can be seen at the Smithsonian Institute in the capital, the American Museum at New York, Yale Museum, Field Museum of Natural History at Chicago, the museum at Amherst College and the Colorado Museum of Natural History at Denver.

The most famous fossil quarries in the country are at Agate Springs in Sioux county. This extensive bed of fossils was discovered by Capt. James M. Cook, a famous Nebraska plainsman who settled down in his later years to the quiet life of a rancher at Agate Springs.

Through the generosity of the late Charles H. Morrill, the geological skill and enterprise of Dr. E. H. Barbour of the University of Nebraska, and the co-operation of Harold J. Cook, successor to his father in the possession of the land upon which the finds have been made, these amazing discoveries have been made the possessions of all the people.

The Agate Springs fossil quarries have been under exploration 35 years. Mr. Cook, the present owner of the site, was the early home of numerous great strange beasts whose discovery today is so immensely interesting to science and so important to an understanding of the prehistoric ages.

Cherry creek, near Valentine, is another fruitful hunting ground for fossils. There are increasing evidences year by year that Nebraska was the early home of numerous great strange beasts whose discovery today is so immensely interesting to science and so important to an understanding of the prehistoric ages.

CABINET MEMBER RESIGNS

Berlin—The campaign of the government headed by Chancellor Bruening to force down retail prices in conformity with wage reductions resulted Tuesday in withdrawal of the economic party from the ranks of government supporters. Minister of Justice Johann Bredt, the party representative in the Bruening cabinet, resigned. For a while it was rumored that President Hindenburg would request Bredt to remain, a rumor, however, which failed to materialize.

The economic party is composed largely of middle class tradesmen. From sources close to Chancellor Bruening it was learned he is determined to push thru his financial reform program without resorting to lengthy negotiations.
