Former Cass County Young Man Wedded

Harley A. Puls of Cornish, Colorado, and Miss Clara Schmietenknop Are Married

A quiet wedding of much interest to many people of this community was performed at three o'clock Monday afternoon, November 24, 1930, at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, north of Hooper, when Rev. H. O. Rhode pronounced the words that united as one Harley A. Puls of Cornish, Colo., and Miss Clara Schmietenknop of this locality. The double ring ceremony was used, the rings being carried on a blue satin pillow by little Miss Ardy's Schmietenknop. Miss Meta Hasebrook was the bridesmaid and Irwin Osterloh, cousin of the bride, was the best man. Mrs. H. O. Rhode played the wedding march and the wedding was witnessed by only relatives and a few invited friends.

For this occasion the bride wore a two piece dress of wine colored chiffon, the bridesmaid a dress of brown flat crepe and the ring bearer a dress of peach flat crepe. The bride carried a bouquet of bride's roses and her attendant had a wrist bouquet. The men wore dark blue suits. Following the services at the church all returned to the home of the parents of the bride where a two-course wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock and happy felicitations were extended to the happy young couple. Misses Lois and Agnes Moeller waited on the tables during the serving of the dinner.

Mrs. Puls is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmietenknop of north of Hooper, this community having always been her home, and among whose people she has much endeared herself by her friendly ways and womanly qualities. She has attended Midland academy but most of her life has been spent at home, and is eminently fitted for the duties that are to become hers in her new status in life. Mr. Puls is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Puls of Cornish, Colo., and though never having been a resident here he has a number of friends in this locality made thru frequent visits. He is a pleasant and agreeable young man to meet and is a successful young farmer. Mr. Puls is a graduate of the class of 1925 of the Plattsmouth high school.

After a short stay with their parents the newly weds will depart to make their home at Cornish near where Mr. Puls and his father are engaged in farming and ranching, and extend a welcome to all friends to come out and visit them. All friends wish them many years of happy wedded life as well as a successful one.

LIEUTENANT COL. GILMORE

Dr. D. H. Gilmore, who for a long period of years, barring two years spent in the service of the U. S. A. in the world war, has aided in ministering to the physical ailments of the residents of Murray and vicinity, has gained new honors, being now Lieutenant Colonel Gilmore.

Colonel Gilmore is an officer in the medical reserve corps and has successively been lieutenant, captain and major in the corps and on Monday of this week was notified of the fact that he had been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel and attached to the 348 hospital unit of the national army.

In the world war Dr. Gilmore had a very extensive service in France and was at the evacuation hospital at Saveney, France, one of the largest units of the American army hospital system.

The many friends of Dr. Gilmore over the county will be pleased to learn of his new recognition of his ability and service. Dr. Gilmore is a member of the Plattsmouth American Legion Post in whose affairs he has always taken a keen interest.

STUDY CLUB MEETS

The Cedar Crest Study club met Nov. 21, at the home of Mrs. Fred Campbell. All members and one visitor were present.

The afternoon was spent in the usual manner of lesson and musical numbers. Plans were also laid for a Christmas party.

At the close of the meeting a dainty luncheon was served by the hosts.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jarvis Lancaster.

STILL SUFFERING

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wales of Omaha, injured in an auto accident near this city on Monday night, are reported as doing as well as possible under the circumstances, although they are still suffering a great deal from the effects of the accident. Both have been very sore and stiff as the result of the accident in addition to the wounds and injuries that they suffered and have been confined to their home since the accident.

SEEKS DAMAGES

An appeal has been filed in the district court here in the case of Leonard Wendt vs. the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad company, the case being brought here from the justice court of P. A. Jacobson at Louisville. This action is one in which Mr. Wendt is suing for damages against the railroad for the killing of a cow which it is claimed on August 15, 1930, strayed on the right of way of the defendant company and was struck by a Rock Island train and killed. The amount of damages asked is $135.

In the trial of the case at Louisville Justice Jacobson found for the railroad company and from which decision the plaintiff now appeals to the higher court.

Pioneer Resident Passes His 90th Birthday

A. H. Graves Honored by the Relatives on the Occasion of Passing of Anniversary

The passing of the 90th birthday anniversary of A. H. Graves, pioneer resident of the county, was observed yesterday at the family home at Murray, when the relatives from this part of the state were in attendance to join in the well wishes to the aged father and brother.

The day was featured by the splendid Thanksgiving dinner served in cafeteria style and which had all of the good things that could be wished for as making a fitting honor to the aged guests of honor.

The time was spent in a varied program of music on the violin and guitar by the different members of the party while J. D. Graves, one of the brothers of the guest of honor, gave the family history, covering the period from the late sixties when the family arrived in Nebraska and settled at old Rock Bluffs, which has since been the home of some of the members of the family although others have moved to different places.

A. H. Graves was born on November 26, 1840, in Tennessee, while Mrs. Graves was born in Arkansas, on June 1, 1848, they being brought by their families to the state of Iowa, where at Hillsdale, Mills county, they were married on June 22, 1865. To bless their lives nine children were born of whom there are six living, three sons and three daughters, Edward and George Graves of Peru, J. H. Graves of Plattsmouth, Mrs. M. G. Churchill, Murray, Mrs. Frank E. Valley, Omaha and Mrs. D. B. Crawford of Hartington, Nebraska.

During the afternoon Mr. McFarland of this city visited Murray and took several pictures of the family group.

Those attending the event were: Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gray, Perry; Mr. and Mrs. James Rock Bluff; J. D. Graves, Jessie Graves, Verena Graves, Theodore Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Graves, and Ed Graves, Peru; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Royal, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Derieg, Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. Nellie Wakley, Helen Wakley, Robert Wakley, Malvern, Ia.; C. D. Bomer, Glenwood, Ia.; Elva Bomer, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Walter Paden and daughter, Margaret, Steward, Neb.; Chas. L. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Graves and daughter, Dorace Maxine, and Mrs. Walter Byers, Plattsmouth.

SANTA CLAUS DEPARTS

Word has just been received from Iceland North Pole that Santa Claus is leaving Toyland for his long trip down into the U. S. for a pre-Christmas visit to certain towns where he has some very good friends, and since our boys and girls have sent in so many requests for him he has accepted the invitation to come to Plattsmouth and learn from them at first hand what their Christmas wishes are.

The Brownies and Elves and all Toyland are making toys fast as possible during Santa's absence. The factories are running day and night in Toyland. Thousands of additional toys will be asked for by the children Santa is to visit and everything must be ready so these toys can be made up as soon as Santa returns.

Santa has given instructions to have Tantalus bring the reindeer and sleigh. Every Elf to his duty. Warm wraps have been provided for Santa's Northern friends and plenty of food and moss for the reindeer.

Wait Dasher, Stop Dancer! In just a minute Prancer! Stand Vixen! Happy Christmas to all and to all a good night!

Now Dasher! Now Danver! Now Prancer! Now Vixen! On Come! On Come! On Blitzer! On Blitzer! Now dash away! Dash away! Dash away all!

More rapid than eagles his courses they come as he whistled and shouted and called them by name. Expect to have more news from Santa Claus Land Monday.

Mrs. Fred G. Morgan was a visitor in Omaha today where she spent a few hours at the hospital with Mrs. D. C. Morgan, who is recovering from the effects of her recent operation.

Thanksgiving Exercises at High School

Splendid Address and Clever Program Marks School Observance of Festive Holiday.

The Thanksgiving spirit was observed at high school on Wednesday afternoon when the students joined in a very pleasing program that was both inspirational and entertaining to the students and friends who had gathered there.

The very clever comedy of William Dean Howells, "The Mouse Trap," was presented by a group of the students, who were garbed in the costumes of the play. The comedy and the playlet followed the festive feast of the humble mouse, bringing out much delightful comedy. Those in the cast were Maxine Clويد, Towney Livingston, Margaret Shellenbarger, Helen Schulz, Lucille Albert, Eleanor Swat- and Ruth Ferris, while Miss Florence Beighley of the high school faculty was the director of the production.

The stage was very attractive in the new curtains of yellow which have been presented by the Senior class of the High School.

In a more serious vein, E. H. Westcott gave a short talk on "Thanksgiving Spirit," pointing out the need for expression of the appreciation felt for the good that had come out of life and for the blessings that each had received in some form in the closing year.

James Begley, Jr., one of the talented musicians of the school, was heard in two numbers, "Thora," by Adams and "Duna," by McGill. The girls' glee club also gave two very fine selections, "Going Home" and "The Dawn is Breaking," which were splendidly given under the direction of Miss Cora Williams, musical supervisor of the school. Miss Vesta Robertson served as the accompanist.

The students then joined in the pep rally on the eve of the Plattsmouth-Nebraska City high school football game and gave plenty of spirit for the team to win, later joining in the "P. H. S. Loyalty Song."

The presentation of the library gift was then made to close the program. The event was under the direction of the student council committee, composed of Jean Hayes, chairman; Edward Wehrlein, Gertrude Vallery, James Robertson and Helen Schulz. James Begley, president of the student council, presided, and Jack Troop, vice president of the council, served as master of ceremonies.

VISITS HOME FOLKS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Cole of Brule, Nebraska, departed for their home by auto Wednesday, after spending the past two weeks visiting relatives and friends in Cass county.

Mr. Cole is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Cole of Mynard, and having been reared and schooled in this vicinity he is always welcomed among his many old time friends and associates. Since locating in the west he has been engaged in wheat raising and is now one of the largest wheat farmers in Keith county, he having harvested 1500 acres of wheat this year.

In his electrically equipped shop on his own homestead, he keeps in repair his many trucks and tractors that are required to operate a farm of this acreage. All of his farming is done by motor, no horses are used, and he states that he expects to have a larger acreage of corn the coming year, which he will tend with tractors, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole enjoy all of the comforts of a city home as theirs is modern in every respect. Mr. Cole has set out more than a thousand trees during the past two years, including such varieties of fruit and windbreak that are best suited to that climate.

Since leaving Cass county ten years ago Mr. Cole has been a regular subscriber to the Plattsmouth Journal.

WELL KNOWN SOLOISTS HERE

The presentation of "The Messiah" here on Dec. 9th at the Parmele theatre promises much from a musical standpoint for the city and will bring here some of the best known vocalists of Omaha. The leading tenor and bass section of the oratorio will be taken by leading musicians of Omaha while Plattsmouth representatives in the solo parts will include Mrs. E. H. Westcott, soprano, and Miss Cora Williams, alto.

It is expected that the presentation will be on the same high standard as that presented in Omaha and will be one of the finest treats of its kind that has been afforded the Plattsmouth people in a great many years.

The very low admission price that will be charged should make it possible for all of the residents of the city to attend and enjoy the treat and to add to the music culture of the city and surrounding community.

RETURNS FROM NAVY

Arley Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Griffin of this city, has returned home from a four year service in the navy, he having been discharged from the navy on last Saturday at the naval training station at San Pedro, California. Arley has had a long and very interesting experience and which has taken him over a great deal of the world, he having had several trips through the Panama canal and in the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. In the last years of his service Arley has been engaged as a cook on various battleships of the Pacific fleet and in which profession he has become a real expert.

Theron Murray Wins Verdict of 'Not Guilty'

Jury in Case Charging Murray With Shooting to Kill Acquits Nehawka Young Man.

From Saturday's Daily—Theron Murray, Nehawka youth, who was charged in a complaint of having shot and wounded his uncle, Arnold Mast, on July 15th of this year, while Edward Murray, father of the young man, and a group of men were battling on the highway near Nehawka, was released from the charges late last night.

The defense completed their testimony late in the afternoon and the closing arguments over in time for the jury to receive the case and start their deliberations on the issues and evidence as presented. The verdict was reached at 11 o'clock and was a most pleasant one for the young man who was allowed to return to his farm home north of Nehawka freed of the charge made against him.

This is the first of several cases that arise from the same trouble, that of the fight in which Edward Murray, W. O. Troop and Earl Troop became involved on the highway near the home of Mrs. Mary Mast, mother of Arnold Mast and Mrs. Edward Murray on July 15th and which has caused the most intense excitement in that section of the county.

The trial of the cases has attracted a great deal of attention and during the two days of the Theron Murray trial there was hardly standing room in the large district court room as the residents from the Nehawka and Murray communities sought to gain admittance to hear the testimony that was given.

The members of the jury following their verdict were excused until Monday morning when the panel will be here to start in on the grind of court, the case set for trial being one against Edward Murray.

Community Joins in Union Thank Service

Rev. C. O. Troy Speaker at Impressive Services Held Last Night at Presbyterian Church.

The Union Thanksgiving services participated in by the residents of the community was held at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening and a very pleasing number were present to join in the services of praise and Thanksgiving for the blessings that had come in the past year and to give praise to the Maker for His goodness.

The opening prayer and scripture lesson were given by Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the church. The choir during the services gave two of the Thanksgiving anthems of praise and glory.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. C. O. Troy, pastor of the First Methodist church, and who based his address on the "Thanksgiving Ideal," stressing the ancient form of gathering to offer up the prayers of entire communities in thanksgiving for the benefits received, both temporal and spiritual. The spirit of meekness that is reflected in the acknowledgement of the humbleness of man before his Maker, found in the rendition of public thanks for the benefits that have been received, was carried out in the sermon of Rev. Troy and given in his usual very impressive manner.

RECEIVES HIGH HONORS

Miss Nancy Ralston of Kansas City, grand niece of Miss Olive Jones of this city, who is here a great deal of the time to visit with her aunt, is one of the high ranking students of the Creighton university at Omaha. Miss Ralston is a member of the freshmen class and in the report of the class made this week she is given the highest rank of any of the students.

The friends here of Miss Ralston will be much pleased to learn of her splendid standing in her school.

Blue and White Swamps Oteans with 13 to 0 Score

Plattsmouth Reserves, However, Get Trimmed by a Similar Score Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving day of 1930 will be a bright spot in the annals of the Plattsmouth high school athletic history as the anniversary of the successful culmination of the football season and the opportunity of many of the veterans to feel the glory of victory as the curtain fell on the season's play.

The Nebraska City high school which has for many years been the Thanksgiving foe of the Plattsmouth, was host to the blue and white yesterday and where they were defeated by the score of 13 to 0, the Platters playing a real game on both the defense and offensive phases of the struggle.

The scoring of Plattsmouth came early in the game, the Platters kicking off to the Oteans and who allowed the kick to roll over the Nebraska City goal line where Chet Wilos recovered and downed the ball for a touchdown and the first score for Plattsmouth. The try for point however, failed. The play was so quick that few realized that the Rother crew was headed toward a victory and with a good start to the glorious finish.

The second touchdown came in the second period when a series of brilliant line smashes and passes, carried the ball to the Nebraska City goal line and where Gib Hirz carried the ball over in a grueling struggle as the ball was held to the fourth down before the Platters were able to put it over. Hirz also made the extra point good and left the tally at 13 to 0 for Plattsmouth and where it remained.

The third period saw the Oteans threatening the Plattsmouth line but the splendid work of the Plattsmouth line where Stoll, Yelick, Donat, Hartford and the other line-men served to turn back the threatening menace and to place the ball out of the danger zone.

The last few moments of play saw the Plattsmouth team well on the way to another score, they having the ball on the one yard line of Nebraska City when the gun sounded the completion of the game and a victory for the blue and white.

The locals used successfully a great many passes and in the receiving Merie McCrary and Bob Hartford were the most successful and did much to advance the Plattsmouth plays into the enemy territory.

The Plattsmouth team this season has been one of the best in many years and barring the unfortunate start of the season when injuries sustained in the practices before the season laid up several of the players, the team has been very successful and especially against the strongest teams of the southeastern conference with the exception of the bad start against Falls City.

The Plattsmouth Reserves had a strenuous time against the Nebraska City seconds and the junior purple and gold warriors were able to defeat the locals by the score of 13 to 0, a score that the senior Platters later reversed on the Oteans. This game was played at 8:30 and the early hour found but few of the fans out to enjoy the game.

CHALLENGE TO DUEL GIVEN

London—Lord Winterton, conservative, revealed Friday night he had been challenged to a duel by "an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. Snowden." The challenge was a result of Thursday night's division in the house of commons on a vote of censure.

The vote was taken at the end of a long session in which Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, and others participated. It ended in a triumph for the MacDonald government by a vote of 279 to 234. At its conclusion Lord Winterton was struck on the face with an order paper by a laborite, C. J. Simmons, who claimed Winterton had used the words "insulting dog" in debate. Lord Winterton refused to disclose the identity of the challenger.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

From Saturday's Daily—The many friends of Mrs. D. C. Morgan will be pleased to learn that this estimable lady is now doing very nicely at the hospital at Omaha where she was operated on some ten days ago. The patient is showing some excellent progress and it is hoped that she may be able to return home in a short time.

NOW DOING NICELY

Mrs. Guy F. Heil, who has been very poorly for the past nine weeks, is now feeling very much improved and it is able to resume her household duties and also to be out among the large circle of friends who are very much delighted to see her out again.

For Job Printing call the Journal.

CHECKING UP TRAFFIC

From Friday's Daily—This morning "Buck" Taylor, head of the traffic regulation department of the state highway bureau, with Harry Ayers, efficient patrolman, were in the city checking over the work in this county, the amount of travel and the manner in which the traffic regulations are being observed in the county in general. Mr. Ayers has been here a number of times checking over the work and in the past has handled a great many cases of truck violation of the state law covering their operation on the highways of the county. The traffic department has been very successful in its work and greatly aided the making of the highways safer and better for travel.

Poultry Show to Open Doors Next Tuesday

Tri-County Show Will Be One of the Largest Ever Held and Many Exhibits to Be Shown

From Saturday's Daily—The Tri-County poultry show and pet stock exposition will commence its four day program in this city on Tuesday and continue on over Friday, giving the residents of this section a wonderful opportunity of enjoying the fine presentation of the poultry of fancies of this part of the state of Nebraska as well as many from points outside of this immediate area.

Last year the show had many birds entered from Douglas, Lancaster, Otoe and Cuming counties and this year it is expected that many of the outside counties will get in to join the Cass, Saunders and Sarpy county poultry men in their showings.

The show will be held at the American Legion community building on Vine street between Fifth and Sixth streets and the work of preparing the exhibitions will start Monday when the birds commence to arrive and by Tuesday noon the larger part of the birds will be on hand for exhibition and placed in the building.

The show will embrace practically all strains of poultry, varieties of ducks and geese, rabbits of all breeds and if the show of last year can be judged, the exhibition will be one of the best in the state.

The poultry association are announcing special prizes for the window in the Plattsmouth business house that most strikingly presents the poultry show spirit by carrying out an appeal to the poultry men and women who will be here for the four day exposition.

On next Thursday evening the poultry association officers and the exhibitors will be the guests of the local Chamber of Commerce at the first Happy Hundred banquet of the year and which will prove a great social feature of the Tri-County show and enable the men of the community to meet the various exhibitors and spectators in the development of better poultry in this part of Nebraska.

FIND INJURED MULE

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening while the Rainey boys were driving home from the city shortly after 10:30 they came on a mule along the highway near the Mike Lutz residence on Rock Bluff avenue. The mule apparently had one leg badly injured and the young men getting out to investigate found that the mule had one of the front legs injured, being out very deeply and the mule in using the leg had forced the bone of the leg out of joint and had been walking or attempting to, on the injured bone.

The young men called Sheriff Bert Reed and who drove out to the scene, and with the neighbors, attempted to find someone that owned the injured mule and while the search for the owner continued for several hours it was fruitless. The animal was placed in a barn at one of the farms along the road to await and see what could be done to find who owned the mule and the disposition that they wished made of it. This morning Fred Haffke, residing in that part of the city, visited the barn to see how the animal was progressing and found that someone had during the night shot the animal and placed it out of the suffering that it had undergone.

The ownership of the mule was disclosed this morning when Fred Spangler found one of his mules missing and on reporting the matter, found that the animal had been injured and killed.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS HERE

The home of Judge and Mrs. James T. Begley was the scene of a very pleasant house party on Thanksgiving when they had as guests for the day, Mrs. Fred Hayhow of Papillion, mother of Mrs. Begley, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jacques of Alexandria, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Foreman, Mrs. Maude Shepherd and Mrs. T. C. Conroy, all of Omaha.

Charles Marshall, Pioneer, Passes Away

Former Resident of This City and Weeping Water, and Later of Otoe County

The information has been received here of the death of Charles Marshall, 78, at Glendale, California, a long time resident of Cass and Otoe counties, and who was married in this city in the early seventies to Miss Ella Hollister, a member of one of the prominent pioneer families, who passed away a great many years ago while the family were residing in Otoe county. She was a sister of Phil Harrison of this city.

Mr. Marshall had lived in Glendale for more than 15 years, going there after he had sold his banking interests in Otoe county.

Born in Yorkshire, England, Mr. Marshall came to the United States with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, about 60 years ago. The family lived for a short time in eastern Otoe county, then went to Weeping Water in Cass county where the parents lived until their deaths.

In the seventies Mr. Marshall was engaged in operating a stage between this city and Weeping Water and later on the invitation of the late Robert Sherwood, veteran shoemaker, he located here and learned the trade of shoemaker and for several years followed this trade in Plattsmouth. He later returned to Weeping Water and Syracuse where he was engaged in running a shoe store.

When the "new town" of Douglas, southwestern Otoe county, was founded he went there and with a group of Hendricks precinct men established the Bank of Douglas, building it to an important financial institution. Another brother, John, had started the Bank of Panama, west of Douglas, about the same time. Each, by the way, saw service in the Nebraska legislature.

In 1911, Charles Marshall came to Nebraska City to take over the management of the Otoe county National Bank. He remained two or three years, then disposed of his interest to the late A. E. Stocker. Immediately following the sale of his banking interests he moved to California.

Always closely allied with the Republican party, Mr. Marshall served his district twice in the state Senate, becoming at once one of the important figures in the two sessions he attended. He was mentioned for the governorship during his second term in the Senate, but refused to stand for nomination. In 1912 he became a candidate for nomination in a congressional contest which he lost, being defeated by Frank Reavis of Falls City who won his first nomination in that campaign.

Mr. Marshall's first wife, dead for many years, was Miss Ellen Hollister, member of a well known eastern Nebraska family. To them were born two sons: J. LeRoy Marshall, Douglas banker, who died in 1915; Earl Marshall, now of Nebraska City. By his second wife, who was Miss Florence Smales of Hull, England, he has one son, Allen, of Glendale. He leaves four brothers—William, of Douglas; Alfred, of Weeping Water; Paul of Elmwood, and Arthur, of Cozad, Neb. Three sisters also survive—Mrs. Lucy Maw, Aurora, Neb.; Mrs. Louise Evans, Aberdeen, South Dakota; Mrs. Belle Jones, Weeping Water. His brother, John T. Marshall, former Nebraska legislator, has been dead about 10 years.

HAS CAR OVERTURNED

From Friday's Daily—H. G. Soennichsen of the Black & White grocery is feeling very stiff and sore today as the result of an unfortunate experience that he had when making a hurry-up trip to and from Omaha Thanksgiving morning.

Mr. Soennichsen had driven to Omaha to the wholesale markets for a large order of fresh vegetables and cranberries for the heavy holiday demand. On the way home while he was traveling at a good rate of speed in the vicinity of Port Crook, the car struck a patch of loose gravel and before the car could be stopped it had turned over. The driver was shaken up a great deal and has suffered more or less bruising and slight injury that will make it difficult for him to be on the job as usual.

SELLS BEAUTY SHOP

Mrs. A. S. Ghrist, who has been conducting the Powder Puff Beauty shoppe on South Sixth street, one of the leading beauty establishments of the city, has disposed of her interests in the shoppe to Omaha parties who are to take over the operation of the shoppe within the next few days. The new owner of the shoppe will have a more extensive announcement to offer to the ladies of Plattsmouth and Cass county within the next few days as she takes over the place of business and assumes active management.
