

GREENWOOD

Mrs. W. R. Kemp of Lincoln was a guest for the day last Sunday at the home of L. M. Mowery and daughter.

A. R. Birdsall was a visitor on last Wednesday when he was called to look after some business matters for a short time.

P. A. Sanborn was a business visitor in Lincoln last Monday, called there to make some purchases of goods for the store here.

Mrs. Cecily Gates of Bethany was a visitor in Greenwood last week and was attending the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church.

Earnest Proctor of Neligh, is visiting for some time at the home of his friend, James Stands of near Waverly, and is visiting here often with his many friends in and about Greenwood.

Andy Mayes, the genial and accommodating drayman and who keeps the people of Greenwood warm by delivering coal to their homes, took a day off on last Wednesday and was spending the same at Lincoln.

Mrs. F. M. Hoenschell of Wymore was a visitor with friends in Greenwood for a number of days last week and on Wednesday morning departed on the early train for Omaha where she will visit for a time before the Christmas season.

A. B. Wilson of University Place, a minister of the Methodist church, was in Greenwood one day last week when he was attending a meeting of the Foreign Missionary society of that church which was held at the church on last Tuesday.

Glen Peters who has been enjoying a vacation from his work in Omaha for the past month, was asked to return to his duties and on last Monday went to Omaha, and was accompanied by the father, O. F. Peters, who drove over to the big city to take the son.

Miss Louise Mcford went to Milford one day last week to make her home for the present. This leaves Mr. Mcford without a housekeeper, but as he has been a rustler all his life he is qualified to do the cooking as well as the other work which comes his way.

Burglars Visit Greenwood.

One night last week burglars, whether of amateur, where from abroad or those who make their homes near here, and however they were successful in pulling off a robbery, was as annoying probably more annoying than the amount of the loss was concerned. At the school house they took a violin and a clarinet, the violin being the property of Miss Virginia Newkirk. They also entered the Standard Oil station but nothing was missed as everything was locked tight that it could be gotten into. Watson Howard, the manager, says he did not notice anything gone. At the Peters elevator a shot gun was taken, as well as a flash light and Rex had two cigars in a box, they took them and left the box. About time to get busy with the campaign for getting the miscreants.

Were Shelling Corn.

Among those who were delivering corn during the past week to the Peters Grain Company were Ed Holtenbeck, Ole Olsen, the Mayers Bros. and Carl Hansen, they wanting to get the corn away while the weather and roads were good.

Sang "The Messiah" Wednesday.

Mrs. Rex Peters and Mr. Norman Peters were taking part in the rendition of the "Messiah" which was given at Lincoln on Wednesday night of last week and was accompanied by O. F. Peters and wife and Mr. Rex Peters.

Entertained Woman's Society.

Mrs. O. F. Peters entertained at her home in Greenwood the ladies of the Methodist church at their regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society, and where they enjoyed a very worth while program, the program being conducted by Mrs. P. A. Sanborn who was the leader. Mrs. Peters served dainty refreshments which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Spending Holidays in South.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mathews of the firm of Mathews and Petersen, departed last week for the South where they will spend the holidays and will visit for a time at the home of the mother of Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Belle Wilson of Pocatello, Kansas. They will spend some time here as they are well known by many friends as well as Mrs. Mathews mother. Following their visit there they will also go on to Paola, where the parent of Mr. Mathews reside, R. E. Mathews, as, besides the father Mr. Mathews has a sister at home, Miss Adelaide Mathews.

Held Christmas Party.

The Daughters of Rebekah gave at the I. O. O. F. hall on last Tuesday evening their pre-Christmas party when they entertained all members of the I. O. O. F. as well as all visiting members and friends which made their number almost exceeding the capacity of the hall for holding them. A most enjoyable program was had. One of the features of the evening was an address by Mrs. Veda Hall, on the subject of Oddfellowship and its kindred society, the Daughters of Rebekah, his subject being F. T. L. or Friendship, Love and Truth. Mrs. Hall made an excellent address and one which was listened to with much interest. Mrs. Harry Schroeder entertained with a few musical numbers which were much applauded. The Old Fiddlers contest was a very pleasing phase of the evening's entertainment and the music was furnished by Lee J. Wahlradt who did all the fiddling but which was credited to some one else as he stayed behind a screen, while he did his work. Other features which attracted marked attention were rendered by Clyde Newkirk, Earnest Proctor and Harry Hugh. One fun provoking feature was the broadcasting station F.T. with Phil L. Hall as the announcer. Eats, sure they had them and all enjoyed them at that. Mr. E. E. Brunkow presided at the piano and charmed all with her music.

Married at Glenwood.

Married at Glenwood, Iowa, Dec. 11th, Inez Pollard and Henry Marinbeck. Gail Pollard, Helen Rau, Lois Tubbs and Mrs. Livingbloom accompanied them. A shower was given for Inez on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 10th by Mrs. Luther Harmon and Miss Tubbs. They received many useful and ornamental presents upon their return Friday. The young people have begun housekeeping at Ashland.

Eastern Star Kensington

The Eastern Star Kensington was pleasantly entertained on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Coleman with Miss Lola Allen assisting hostess. The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Armstrong acting as president. She showed the comforter which the ladies had pieced, and she and Miss Lola Allen had tied and finished. It was sure a lovely comforter, and by a vote of the Kensington it will be sent to the Masonic Boys' Home at Omaha. The election of officers was next in order which resulted as follows: Mrs. Armstrong, president; Mrs. Lola Allen, vice-president; Mrs. Edna Clymer, secretary; Mrs. Mildred Bucknell, treasurer. There being no further business the remainder of the afternoon was spent in a guessing contest in which Mrs. W. A. White won the first prize. After the contest a great present was given a drew from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, each receiving a nice gift. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the afternoon. Next meeting place to be announced later.

Returned Missionary.

Miss Lulu Boles, a missionary on furlough from India told among other true-rites, this one:
Thursday is prayer meeting day at the village where the missionary and his wife, at a village, fifteen miles away, every man, woman and child started at day break to walk to the village where the missionary lived that they might learn more about this man Jesus. All day the missionary and his native preacher taught the men and boys while Mrs. Missionary and her Bible woman taught the women and girls. Trying to teach as much in one day as their own villagers learned in a month. Do these missionaries need helpers? Do the Indians care to learn of Christ?

Missionary Meeting.

Tuesday, Dec. 16, a W. F. M. S. group meeting was held at the M. E. church in Greenwood. The group consisted of women from Lincoln, Cedar Hill, Ashland and Greenwood.
Mrs. Maine, district president, opened the meeting by Bible reading and prayer.
Mrs. Grubb gave a talk on extension members which may be women who are not physically able to attend the regular meeting. Business women with small children or those far removed from place of meeting, also met.
Mrs. High talked of Stewardship which means giving of prayers, personality and one-tenth of all our possessions, because of our love to God, the Father.
A beautiful Christmas song by Mrs. Rex Peters.
Mrs. Gates talked of the Alter of Service which tells us of the points we may make in our years work, such as by paying dues on time, giving Christmas offering to our Father; a thank offering to His son; organizing the children into Heralds or Light Bearers.
Mrs. Willis told how to organize the Heralds and the literature to use for them.
Miss Lulu Boles, a returned missionary who is studying at the University spoke of her work as an evangelist to the women of India, by going with a native woman to tell the Christ story and sing to them. She emphasized the need of day schools.

PLOWING IN DECEMBER

This has been an unusual year. Henry Vogel, one of our prominent farmers, had two gangs plowing in his field last week and said the ground was in exceptionally fine shape and not a bit of frost was encountered.
People go to California to escape the cold weather while here in Nebraska the fall and early winter seasons cannot be excelled any place on earth. Quite frequently the ground is in good condition for plowing up to Christmas, and while we are certain to have some extreme cold weather before the blue birds return, we are thankful for an invigorating climate such as Nebraska produces. CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our deep sense of gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown us in the last illness and death of our loved mother. Especially do we wish to thank the members of the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, Eagles, and the minister and pall bearers for their kindly acts and also those who sent the beautiful flowers.—The Children of Mrs. Emma Miller.

CAMP KESTER ENTERTAINS

Camp Kester, the local ladies camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, now being organized at Plattsmouth under the very efficient direction of Field Deputy, Mrs. Lonize Johnson of Omaha, gave an entertainment on Dec. 18th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Finnefrock, for members and the class of candidates entering the mysteries of woodcraft in Camp No. 332 on January 14th.

The evening was one of much merit, the time spent in games, music and dancing.

Fred Vincent, Meredith Chancellor, Tommy Mendenhall and Miss Mary Chancellor were the lucky prize winners of the evening. The visitors from Omaha were the Misses Lois and Doris Johnson.

Dainty and delicate refreshments were served at a late hour and all went home looking forward to the next joint entertainment which will be at Eagles hall on the eve of January 14th.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

From Friday's Daily— Last evening Mrs. Fred Lugsch entertained very pleasantly at bridge at her home on Pearl street where the home was arranged very attractively in the Christmas decorations and whose hues of red and green added to the charm of the scene.

In the bridge contests Mrs. E. G. Shellenbarger was awarded the prize for the high score, Mrs. H. A. Schneider the second and Mrs. John V. Hatt the consolation prize.

The members of the party enjoyed the Christmas season by having a Christmas tree and all of its accompanying gifts to add to the pleasures of the occasion.

Dainty refreshments were served to add to the enjoyment of the evening.

DEBATE NEBRASKA CITY

From Friday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon the debating teams of the Plattsmouth high school met with the teams of the Nebraska City high school at the local school auditorium. The question debated was "Resolved, that the nations should disarm except for such forces as are needed for police protection."

The local school had both an affirmative and negative team in the debate, James Begley, Stuart Porter and Midge Garnett being the affirmative team, while Robert Bestor, George Lepert and Paul Iverson formed the negative team.

The judges of the debate were Attorney W. A. Robertson and Rev. H. G. McClusky, who after the debate awarded the honors to Nebraska City and gave the members of the teams many valuable suggestions as to their work in the debating line. The debating squad feel very grateful to the gentlemen for their interest and assistance in the debate.
