CELEBRATED 78TH BIRTHDAY
On last Wednesday at their home north of Nehawka, the estimable couple Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Young were surprised and especially Mr. Young, it being his 78th birthday anniversary. A large crowd of relatives, neighbors and friends were present to assist in the enjoyment of the occasion of this couple of pioneer of Cass county, for they have been here for over sixty years. Mr. Young was born at Seven Miles Ford, Virginia, and when seventeen years of age with his parents went to Ohio, where they resided for a short time and following the civil war came to Nebraska and Cass county, where they made their home and still reside. The years have brought them a competence, for they have been both industrious and frugal, and not alone this, they have fallen heir owing to their real good citizenship, to many friends and hold the honor and respect of their large circle of friends. The birthday cake which contained 78 candles was secured from an Omaha baker by their son, Paul Young. They were showered by good wishes and congratulations as well as many very fine presents from their admirers.

the farmers and the citizens of the town got out on last Tuesday morning and rounded up some sixteen miles square and were able to bag some half dozen wolves. One large gray one was loping over a hill, when some one shouted there goes one, and it chanced to come over a high bare piece of ground and there met Oscar C. Hinds with his fuzzeleer and taking good aim he let the blunderbuss off, striking the wolf in the left ear, and it had gone to eternity, where all bad wolves should go before they devour the chickens and ducks. This community was relieved of six of these pests in the hunt. Also a good half day's sport was provided for the hunters.

Receives Congratulations. Mr. S. Ray Smith, Weeping Water, Nebr.

Allow me to congratulate you upon winning the trophy for the outstanding Dairy Club in 1930.

The trophy will not be delivered to you until after the time of Organized Agriculture, if it is agreeable with you.

We are placing an order for engravings, and the cup will probably be back by the first of the week, but we would like to keep it to display during this Annual Farm and Home Week at the Agricultural College.

Watch for the removal and for the date of the sale.

NEW ENTRY FOR MAYORALTY
Chicago—Alderman Arthur F. Albert foe of the administration of Bill Thompson, Monday night announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for mayor. Albert's entrance brought to three the number of candidates vying for anti-Thompson votes in the forthcoming primary—a situation which was described by Edward J. Brandegee, the republican leader, as "lamentably enhancing the present mayor's chances for re-nomination."

Besides Albert and Thompson, Judge John H. Lyle, outspoken nemesis of gangsters, and Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of aldermen, are also in the republican primary in February. The democrats have placed themselves solidly behind Anton J. Cermak president of the county board.

SHOOTS AT DIRECTOR
Bucharest—A young student Monday walked into the editorial offices of Adeverul, Rumania's biggest democratic newspaper, and fired two shots with a revolver at M. Socor, director of the paper. Neither shot hit its mark. Arrested, the student expressed his protest for the antifascist attitude of the paper.

Sen. Norris Hits Doherty Party, Costing Million

Asserts Luxurious Affair Illustrates "Prosperity Inequality"—Anticipates No Revolt

Washington, Dec. 27.—Official circles in the nation's capital were just as agitated as society matrons tonight over the "million dollar" party given by Henry L. Doherty, utility magnate, to his debutante adopted daughter, Miss Helena Lee Eames Doherty, here last night.

While Senator George W. Norris denounced the luxurious affair as illustrating the "inequality in American prosperity," rumor had it that President Hoover was showing concern over a report that Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley had attended the party.

Mr. Hurley was said to have informed the president that he did not attend the affair, even though newspapers carried his name as one of the guests.

All this agitation grew out of a newspaper story, published in the Washington Herald, telling how hundreds of jobless men were led a few hours earlier in the garage of the hotel, where Doherty staged his daughter's debut. This story told how the limousines of rich guests were rolled into the place, where starving men had just been fed. The story also told how the party was held in the limousines of rich guests when it described how Secretary Hurley had been among the celebrants.

Senator Warns Country. Norris declared the party proved how some men had so much money they didn't know what to do with it. He also warned the country that parties similar to Doherty's were being given in France just prior to the French revolution.

When Norris' statements were referred to Doherty, the multimillionaire head of the Cities Service Co., declared the Nebraska was just "seeking publicity." He declined to enter into a dispute with Norris as to the "cost of the party" or its propriety.

"I don't see how Doherty could have the heart to scatter his money so wastefully while men without money were starving and jobless and out prospect of getting a job," said Norris. "This is a good illustration of what is wrong with American prosperity."

Says Others Have None. "When we observe affairs like this one, it is time for thinking men to consider what is wrong with our prosperity. It illustrates the inequality in prosperity and wealth. Some men make so much money, like Doherty, they don't know what to do with it. Others have none at all."

"And in making his money, Doherty accumulated it while others were losing all they had, understand many men lost thousands upon thousands investing in the stocks of Doherty's companies, acting on his advice, only to lose all they had. But Doherty came out of it rich enough to throw his money on a party like this one."

"I have nothing against him, but his 20-year-old daughter could have had just as good a time on one-one-hundredth of the money he spent. Just prior to the French revolution, affairs like this were the custom in France. The French nobility couldn't see the storm ahead. People like Doherty exhibit the same blindness as the French did."

Anticipates No Revolt. "I don't anticipate such an eventuality in this country as the bloody French revolution, in which executioners were the next day executed and blood filled the gutters. But it does seem that something akin to it is afoot here now. Affairs like this one by Doherty don't help our conditions at all."

"I would prefer not to dignify the senator by replying to his statements," Doherty told International News Service tonight. "He is obviously trying to say something sensational in order to get his name on the front page. I am a man 60 years old and have been dealing with that type of politician all my life and cannot take him seriously."

"Of course, if I really said what I thought of him it could not be printed."

The Doherty party was the most ornate and pretentious social affair given in Washington in recent memory. The magnate hired the whole first floor of one of Washington's most fashionable hotels, all its ball-rooms and a hundred rooms on other floors.

Guests were brought here from other cities on special trains. The flowers cost thousand of dollars. The debutante gave her twelve attendants automobiles. There were 2,000 guests.

It will be many a day before the capital forgets the party.

Trucks from the Mayflower hotel delivered to local hospitals the flowers and plants used for decorations, acting under orders of Mrs. Doherty. The Children's hospital got a large number of flowers, and an announcement by the hotel management.

YOUTH IS FREE ON BOND
Port Arthur, Tex.—Robert L. Williams, eighteen, University of Texas sophomore, charged with the slaying of a twelve-year-old girl, was released on $10,000 bond Monday to await action by the grand jury after he waived a preliminary hearing. The youth, who had come here from his home in Austin, where his father, the Rev. S. W. Williams, is pastor, is being held in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, to spend the holidays with Miss Johnson formerly his fiancée was represented in court by his brother, Paul Williams, Dallas attorney. The girl was found shot in Williams' car outside a parsonage here.

LEGGES REPLIES TO CRITIC

Washington — Chairman Legge said Monday the farm board had no objection to an investigation of its marketing activities. He made the statement in reply to a question prompted by a letter of John A. Simpson, national president of the farmers union of Oklahoma City, challenging Legge to join in urging adoption by the senate of the "Wishful Union" which Simpson said asked such an investigation. Neither the chairman nor the senate bill clerk had any record that such a resolution had been introduced.
