Prison for Banker Who Violated Law

Henry S. Westbrook Held to Have Received Deposits Knowing Bank Insolvent

Henry S. Westbrook, Otoe county farmer who occupied the position of vice president of the Dunbar State bank after its president, Tom Murray, had fled to avoid the consequences of illegal operation of the institution, lost in supreme court Friday.

The state produced evidence to show that Westbrook's connection was much more active than he insisted to be true. The court says this proves that he had often signed papers for the bank when Murray was absent, and that he was for years familiar with the bank's condition.

Kasbohm testified that after the bank had closed he remonstrated with Westbrook for taking his money, and that Westbrook admitted he knew the bank was then insolvent, but that the bank needed the money and that was why he took it.

The court holds that there is no merit in the contention that the law under which he was convicted is not constitutional because of defects in the title, which described it as an act to establish the civil administration code.

CHECK IS LONG DELAYED

Hudson, Mass.—Herbert W. Jennison, fifty-six, received some mail from the treasury department Friday—and his eyes blinked. Jennison served in the regular army in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war. When his "hitch" was over in 1901, he re-enlisted. He was discharged in 1905 at San Francisco. Friday's mail brought a check for $30—and the notation "re-enlistment money."

"They told me at the time that I'd receive it shortly," Jennison said with a chuckle.

Million will Need Red Cross Aid February 1

Number Will Include More Than One Fourth of the Population of Arkansas

Washington, Jan. 23.—Relief calls to the Red Cross for food and clothing during the past few days have been so great that Chairman Payne today said close to a million people would need aid by February 1.

"Our reports today show we are caring for 587,034," Payne said. "Our field workers in the one state of Arkansas alone estimate figures 550 thousand persons will be in the Red Cross rolls in that state by February 1. This is more than one-quarter of the entire population of the state."

"Relief has been extended to a number of counties in West Virginia, Virginia, Alabama and Ohio by the national organization in the past few days, as the local resources of the community and the chapters were exhausted. The magnitude of this task for caring for drought sufferers, and the acute need for the relief fund of a million dollars which the Red Cross has asked for, can be comprehended when a comparison is made with the relief work by the Red Cross in the Mississippi valley flood in 1927.

"At the very height of that emergency 600 thousand persons were cared for by the Red Cross. Today we are helping within 50 thousand of that number and our workers tell me we will be giving food, clothing and other types of relief to almost a million persons by February 1, if calls continue to mount at the rate established in the past few days."

Contributions to the Red Cross 10 million dollar relief fund were boosted to $1,264,000 today. The United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries have appropriated 50 thousand dollars for the Red Cross relief work, it was announced at New York.

As a result of the radio appeal last night by President Hoover, former President Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith and others, officials at Red Cross headquarters were busy answering inquiries as to where to send money.—World-Herald.

LEGISLATOR WILL PASS WOMAN JURY LAY, SAYS COOPER

Nebraska women will be made eligible for jury service by the present legislature, in the opinion of State Senator John W. Cooper of Omaha, advocate of giving women the right to serve as jurors.

"Apparently the law will not be serious opposition to the proposal to permit women to serve on juries in Nebraska," Senator Cooper said. "Of course, the law will be worded so as to give women who should not serve an opportunity to be excused by the court. Women with small children, school teachers, nurses and women with similar responsibilities must of necessity be excused from jury duty."

Senator Cooper said that in states where women serve on juries, lawyers and judges alike were well pleased with them as jurors.

Mr. Rodgers' mother is assisting in the case of her daughter-in-law and everything possible is being done for her comfort and her friends are hoping that the next report will be very encouraging. Mrs. Rodgers was formerly Mrs. Clara Scheel.—Louisville Courier.

August Funke Wins Weeping Water Bride

Son Louisville Lumber Dealer Married to Genevieve Hobson—To Reside in Louisville

The marriage of August Funke, one of Louisville's prominent and well known young men, and Miss Genevieve Hobson, popular and charming young lady of Weeping Water, daughter of A. B. Hobson, of that place, took place at the home of the bride's father last Friday at the noon hour. The wedding was a quiet affair and was witnessed only by the immediate family and the attendants of the young couple, Miss Viola Davis, of Louisville, as bridesmaid, and Marlon Ossenkop, also of Louisville, as best man.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of peach colored satin with trimming of net in the same color. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses with baby breath and wore a necklace of gold that had once belonged to her deceased mother. Miss Davis wore a very pretty gown of brown chiffon trimmed in peach to harmonize with the bride's attire. She carried a bouquet of rose buds with lavender sweet peas. The bridesmaid and best man are friends of the young couple of long standing.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Theodore Hartman, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Louisville, of which the groom is a member. The bride had been teaching in the Weeping Water schools, in the 7th and 8th grades and had met with splendid success in her work and was highly esteemed by the board of education and by her many friends. She resigned shortly before her marriage and her place in the schools was filled by Miss Dorothea Dudley, of Guide Rock.

The groom is a son of H. A. Funke, well known lumber dealer of Louisville. He was formerly associated with his father in the lumber business, but since the coming of the cement plant to Louisville he has held a position of responsibility in the shipping department of that institution. He is a young man of excellent character and is respected by the whole community and is valued by his host of friends for his genial, friendly ways. He and his bride are popular among a large circle of friends and Louisville people will be glad to hear of their happy marriage and will consider her a valuable addition to the social life of the town. —Louisville-Courier.
