Charles Swan's home was the scene of a good deal of excitement on last Saturday when the roof caught fire and burned the dry shingles until it had burned a great hole. The neighbors were there at the call for assistance as also the members of the Union fire department responded and did good work in the extinguishing of the flames. The loss was not so great as it appeared it would be during the time of the greatest excitement.

Has Fine Water Plant.

James E. Wiles, better known as Elbert Wiles, living south of Plattsmouth, has just been sinking a new well and having completed it Herbert Minford installed a new electric automatic pump, which works when it is wanted and stops when the supply of water is sufficient. Mr. Wiles in the dead of winter just now is digging trenches for pumping the water to the house and also to the barn, and will have it so arranged that when the wind does not blow that the electricity will take up the white man's burden of pumping water and keeping the supply at the proper place. However when the wind blows the wind will have the matter all to its self and is so arranged that when it falls the current will step in and do the work. It is nice to have those two big brothers, electricity and wind, they are real good boys, of course naughty sometimes.

Miss Mamie McMann, an instructor of the school and Mrs. Herbert O. Burbee, also added to the pleasure of the services by the very fine musical number with song which they rendered. Bryan Asks Counties What Roads Required

Declares Will Not Be Found by Promises of Predecessors—First Letting to Be Soon

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 2.—County commissioners and supervisors of the various counties of the state were asked today by Governor Charles W. Bryan to aid in formulating this year's road building program, by submitting recommendations to him designating those roads deserving first attention. From these recommendations the governor expects to work out with State Engineer Roy Cochran a definite highway construction program for this year. He said he is particularly desirous of obtaining information from the larger counties in western and northwestern Nebraska where "road building has been delayed."

Early Work on U. S. Routes. Immediate attention will be given to those highways on the federal system for which $3,400,000 is apportioned to Nebraska as a result of the emergency unemployment appropriation by congress is available. This money must be used before next September.

Discussing temporary plans for this year Governor Bryan said: "The road department will devote its entire attention to road building and remain out of politics. Governor Bryan laid emphasis on a statement that all promises of roads which may have been made heretofore are cancelled so far as the future is concerned."

Repeating his previous statements that the road department will devote its entire attention to road building and remain out of politics, Governor Bryan laid emphasis on a statement that all promises of roads which may have been made heretofore are cancelled so far as the future is concerned.

"The last election repudiated all promises made by former governors and I don't care to be bound by them," he asserted.

"My attention has been called to a number of letters in which certain roads were promised. Some of them were two or three years old and the roads have not yet been built. I do not feel that the state engineer has been to blame for this situation. Under the cash system the governor is responsible for the highway department."

Force Works Night and Day. In his recent budget message, Governor Bryan estimated that the 1931 road building program will probably include approximately two hundred miles of paving and six hundred miles of gravel.

It is expected that the first road letting will be held within about three weeks, with a more extensive letting during the first or second week in March.

Employees of the highway department have been working day and night shifts for three weeks in an effort to prepare plans for these early lettings. While no definite announcement has been made, it is understood that the Gary, the D. L. D. between Ashland and Gretna will probably be included in the first letting.

TURN IN EXPENSE LISTS

Omaha—Expense accounts turned in by Agents Cosad and Hansen, sent here from Minneapolis to "clean the town," were on Feb. Monday.

At another place they spent $32 for forty-eight drinks and chicken dinners. This place also failed to yield liquor when raided.

VALUES TAKE HUGE DROP

Washington—The severity of the general decline in prices of farm products was said Monday by the agriculture department to have been reflected in a drop of $1,500,000,000 during the past year in the value of United States livestock. The department said aitho the total of animals was approximately the same their value as of Jan. 1 was $4,366,447,000 compared with the Jan. 1, 1930, total of $5,887,964,000.

BERGDOLL MISSING AGAIN

Weinsberg, Germany. — Grover Cleveland Bergdoll is missing again. The wealthy draft dodger who lived here after the world war, has not been seen in this town for nine months. Neighbors are afraid, however, look speculatively on rumors that he has returned to America.

Bergdoll, whose flight to Germany to avoid military service kept him long before the public, left behind in this village his three children and their mother. Already the town gossipers are predicting that Bergdoll will not return here. Grandparents of the Bergdoll's children will not discuss the matter.

The Journal will appreciate you telephoning news items to No. 6.

HILL TO BE SENT BY CONE

Valley—Altho Hill at his home here and unable to attend the current legislative session at Lincoln, Treasurer Cone, a member of the house of representatives, plans to introduce a bill before that body Monday.

The bill, to be forwarded to the house by messenger, proposes changes in the present system of dealing with property foreclosure suits, among other features making it mandatory for the judge before whom the suit is heard to inspect the property in person.

Cone, who said he would be unable to attend sessions for at least another two weeks, added that his bill for delaying foreclosures would empower the judge to direct an appraisal of the property in the event he is dissatisfied. "If it is established that the value is in the property," he said, "the judge would be empowered to grant a continuance of the case for not more than three years." His bill, he said, is based on the system used in Canada.

THIEVES TAKE COPPER WIRE FROM RAIL LINES

Falls City, Neb., Feb. 1.—Thieves early Saturday stole a section of the copper wires out of cross-country lines of the Burlington railway and the Western Union Telegraph company near here, putting the lines out of commission. No communication could be held over them for several hours until a line repair man from here located the break in the lines and made repair man from here located the break in the lines and made repairs. The sections of wire taken were about five hundred feet long, extending between six poles and running parallel to each other, and it required the work of someone equipped with regular climbers and tools to steal the wire, and the aid of an auto or some heavy form of conveyance to carry it off. It is not known what the object of the thieves could be as the wire is not particularly valuable for junk. The theft occurred about three miles east of Falls City.

Better Demand is Forecast for Farm Products

Prospect for a Gradual Recovery Forecast by the Department of Agriculture

Washington—A prospect for a gradual recovery in the domestic demand for farm products the latter half of this year was seen Sunday by the agriculture department. The annual agricultural outlook report added "some recovery" in foreign demand also seemed likely, except for wheat and pork products.

"This prospect for improvement," the report said, "is based on the belief that the worldwide economic depression will have run the worst of its course by the summer of 1931, as consumption of many industrial products is now outrunning production. Prospects also will be affected by the volume of agricultural production in 1931."

"Altho production credit may be curtailed," the report added, "ample marketing credit is expected. Farm wages are the lowest in many seasons, and building materials and fertilizer prices are lower than they were a year ago.

The report said wheat growers "are faced with rather discouraging market prospects," and that unless yields throughout the world "should be materially below average, prices are likely to continue to be low."

"World production," it said, "had been increasing faster than consumption for some years and burdensome stocks have been piling up so that the world carryover on July 1 next will again be abnormally large."

Some increase in the commercial consumption of corn in the United States was expected. A decreased market for oats was forecast.

HITLER PAPER SUSPENDED

Munich—Police Sunday suspended the Voelkischer Beobachter, an organ of the national socialist leader, Adolph Hitler, for violating the "law for the protection of the republic." The suspension is effective until Feb. 7. The offending article was entitled "Mussolini and Schubert." It attacked Karl Von Schubert, German ambassador to Italy and under-secretary of state under the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann, calling him "the evil spirit behind Stresemann." It also recalled that he and Friedrich W. Von Pritwitz and Gaffon, present ambassador to Washington, were fellow members with the former crown prince of the famous Borussia fraternity and Bonn university at the time "when both apparently had not discovered democracy in their hearts and had not started founding democratic clubs." On the other hand, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy was rated as a "fine fellow."

BETTER PRICES FOR NEBRASKA FARMLAND

Active interest is being taken in Nebraska farmland and prices show a tendency to stiffen, it is indicated by the sales reported to the Mortgage Bankers' Association of Nebraska during the past week.

In Cuming county, $197.50 an acre was paid for 40 acres east of Beemer, and $175 an acre for 80 acres northwest of West Point.

A two-acre tract of meadow land in Merrick county, which was sold at auction for $147.50 an acre, originally and purchased by the seller's father for $5.50 an acre in 1884.
