Exporters Hear Warning to Use Care on Credits
Chicago, Feb. 27.—Warning to American manufacturers to "stop, look and listen" before extending credit too liberally to foreign buyers, until present business conditions have righted themselves, was given by George R. Meyercord, president of the American Manufacturers' Foreign Credit Underwriters and of the Meyercord Company of Chicago today.

Mr. Meyercord was among the speakers at the opening session of a foreign and domestic trade convention sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association in cooperation with the United States Department of Commerce.

"Hardly one of our American export markets throughout the world today," Mr. Meyercord said, "is in a really satisfactory condition of affairs. Many even among the larger importing merchants and manufacturer concerns abroad, who waxed prosperous and established good credit ratings in the post-war decade, are now up against a radically changed set of business conditions that they are struggling hard to survive."

Mr. Meyercord added, however, that a long range view gave the hope that conditions will begin to improve soon and that there is no need for "pessimism or panic on our part."

"Even in 1929, of the depression year," he said, "we sold almost $4,000,000,000 worth of American merchandise to our export customers. I believe we shall substantially exceed this figure in 1931. Our foreign markets are sure to improve steadily and we will find it good business in the future, just as we have in the past, to extend reasonable credit facilities to our foreign customers. It is up to us to apply all our resourcefulness and American ingenuity to the job."

In view of encouraging trends in Latin-American business conditions, George J. Eder, chief of the Latin-American section of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, said it would be decidedly worth while for our assigned American business men to investigate conditions, laying basis for future business by establishing agencies or strengthening existing channels of distribution.

Now is the opportunity, he said, to win the confidence of Latin-American exporters by showing confidence in them at this time of general doubt and uncertainty. "When conditions revive," he said, "business will go to those who have the courage and foresight to seek it."

Other speakers at the session were E. M. Fisher, export manager of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., and George W. Doonan, manager of the foreign department of the Central Trust Company of Illinois.

Mr. Fisher said that conditions were much more favorable for developing export business at the present time than they were in 1921 when there were many failures and large losses on inventories. Furthermore, he said, exporters in the Chicago district have the advantage of developing their foreign trade with the backing of some of the largest and soundest banks in the country.

The conference was planned by the association with a view to spreading confidence throughout the middle West in the possibilities of increasing the foreign trade of this section. According to Theodore R. Gerlach, president of the association, Illinois should be able to double its export trade, which now averages about $250,000,000 a year.

Elmwood Store Has Visit from Safe Crackers

Secure Some Seventy Dollars From Safe in the I. J. Fuller Store Friday Night

The safe in the store of I. J. Fuller at Elmwood, one of the leading business houses of that city, was forced open late Friday night or early Saturday morning and the cash in the safe amounting to $70 was taken by the robbers and who were able to make a getaway as the robbery was not discovered until many hours afterwards.

The robbers gained entrance to the store through a rear window of the building and made their way into the main portion of the store where the safe and office of Mr. Fuller was located. The safe was jammed and pried open and the job from all indications was the work of an amateur it is thought by the officers who were on the scene as soon as the robbery was reported.

The comedy skit which was cleverly rendered by Miss Madge Garnet brought forth tremendous applause.

LABOR BILL IS WITHDRAWN
London—The British labor government withdrew from parliament the hotly-contested trades disputes bill, refusing longer to sponsor the measure, the whole purport of which had been altered by a liberal amendment in committee. The laborites may, however, "get even" Wednesday during consideration of the electoral reform bill, which is backed by the liberals.

Originally framed, the trades disputes bill would have removed the drastic legal restrictions on strikes imposed in 1927 after the disastrous general strike in 1926. In announcing withdrawal of the measure, Sir William Jowitt, characterized the liberal amendment carried in committee as "entirely unacceptable."

The conservatives have violently opposed the bill but the liberals voted with the government thru the second reading. There were rumors of an agreement whereby the laborites would back the electoral reform bill if the liberals supported the strike measure. All went well until the liberals offered the amendment during the committee stage, greatly broadening the definition of illegal strikes. The government was defeated on a vote and Tuesday's withdrawal followed.

Oldest Congressman Dies; Seated in 1893

Representative Henry Allen Cooper, 80, of Wisconsin is dead.

Oldest house member in point of service, the republican progressive died at his hotel here early today as he rounded out 35 years of service and planned to take his seat in the coming session.

The tall, upright, white haired and bearded "dean of the house," as he was called by his colleagues, attended a prolonged and heated house session last night and retired late, complaining of feeling ill. Death came a few hours later with his wife at his bedside.

Representative Cooper had suffered injuries from a fall at his home in Racine last summer and his health had been none too good since then.

Entered House in 1893.

The Wisconsin member represented the First district. He entered the house with the Fifty-third congress in 1893. For one term his service was broken. He was defeated for reelection to the Sixty-sixth congress because he voted against entering the world war.

Throughout his career he was an ardent supporter of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

Cooper was with Theodore Roosevelt in Milwaukee in 1912 when an attempt was made to assassinate the former president, then running for another term.

Body Starts Home Wednesday.

Cooper was born at Walworth, Wis., September 8, 1850. He was graduated from Northwestern university and attended Union College of Law at Chicago. He began the practice of law in Racine, where he made his home, in 1875. He served in the Wisconsin national guard and was a delegate to the republican national convention in 1884. For a time he served as district attorney for Racine county.—World-Herald.

119,770 Get Jobs in 36 States on Highway Work
$1,065,000,000 Expenditure Planned; Women's Clubs Aid Unemployed

Washington, Feb. 27.—State road work in 36 states gave employment to 119,770 persons during January, a report from the American Association of Highway Officials, to Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's Emergency Committee for Employment, shows.

Other data collected for Colonel Woods through the United States Department of Public Works, show that $1,065,000,000 this year by construction divisions of 45 states, for state buildings and state highways. This figure includes $212,400,000 for highways, for which construction is either already authorized or is contemplated in state programs.

Last month a total of $50,425,292 in road contracts were entered into by 36 states, W. C. Markham, executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials told Colonel Woods. These contracts include 1,295 miles of high-type surfacing, 1399 miles of low-type surfacing and 1212 miles of road brought to proper grade for surfacing.

"While the month of January in most of the states does not permit much road construction," Mr. Markham said, "nevertheless during this time these states report 398 miles of high-type surfacing completed, 346 miles of low-type surfacing completed, and 335 miles of road brought to proper grade.

"No figures are available to compare the month of January 1930, for the country at large, yet reports from a few states which kept such records show that the number of people employed this year was a substantial increase over January of last year.

"The fact that 44 state legislatures are now in session and complete plans for the year's work therefore are held up in many cases awaiting legislative action, contracts let in January, 1931, give every indication that state highway departments are pushing forward their work quite perceptibly. It is believed that reports for February will show an even larger amount of increase in employment."

Leading all states in the total construction planned for the current year is New York, according to the figures collected by the United States Daily. New York's legislative budget calls for expenditures of $103,000,000 for highways and public buildings. California, with a building and road program calling for $79,854,000, Louisiana with $54,000,000 and Illinois with $52,000,000, will likewise contribute an important measure of unemployment relief.

Many unusual methods of aiding the unemployed have been inaugurated by women's clubs in all parts of the nation, according to a report of activities of 3,000 club women sent to the President's committee by Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In Boston the Federation of Women's Clubs has a store for the sale of partly worn garments. It not only affords clothing at reduced prices but takes clerks from the ranks of the unemployed. Under the leadership of Mrs. Carl L. Schrader of Belmont, Mass., the women's club of Massachusetts are cooperating in the activities of the Community Chest, particularly in collecting clothing.

In Birmingham, Ala., the Federation of Women's Clubs has established a free employment bureau in cooperation with the League of Women Voters and is providing milk and other foods to school children in need because of unemployment in their homes.

In Minnesota, under the leadership of Mrs. Sam Rask, of Blooming Prairie, 45,000 club women have taken the responsibility of keeping 1500 jobless people employed every day by finding odd jobs about their property.

Women from Baltimore and other eastern cities are sending food into the southwestern states. With farmers unable to raise livestock because of lack of fodder, families are grateful for canned milk that is being sent by club women as well as canned vegetables, tomato and orange juice.

LEWISTON SOCIAL CIRCLE
The Lewiston Social Circle club held their regular meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Wolfe and with a very pleasing number of the members being in attendance. Mrs. Ben Albin was the associate hostess of the afternoon.

The leader of the meeting were Mrs. A. L. Vernon and Miss Margaret Moore and who gave in a most interesting way the lessons that formed a part of the regular session.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Albin, who was very much interested in her usual very able manner. The club voted to aid the unfortunate in Arkansas.

The meeting was in the nature of an all day gathering and the members found much pleasure in the opportunity to meet and talk over and were most thoroughly pleased to have with them Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe, the first time that Mr. Wolfe was able to be with the club since his very severe truck accident several weeks ago, and all were pleased to see him.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Martin Sporer on April 7th and as there will be a special treat, all members are urged to be in attendance. Mrs. John Hobscheid will be associate hostess.

WOMAN IS PARTY LEADER
London—Lady Cynthia Mosley is going to be her husband's "right hand man" in the building of the new political party which Sir Oswald has launched. This granddaughter of Levi Leiter of Chicago, has, in the past few years made a name for herself as a political figure who has sat in the house of commons a conservative, independent, laborite, and now has broken away from the labor party.

When she departed her title, joined the labor party and described herself as a "pink" but not a "red" she faced and endured the snubs of British society with rare good humor. Now both she and her husband face even more severe ostracism, for the combined forces of British politics, with the embittered laborites in the lead, are aligned against her.

As a political force, the Mosley party is still a babe in arms with only a half dozen members and the lobby jokers are saying it will need all the mothering Lady Cynthia can give it.

Norris Ready to Resign His Seat on a Condition

Proposes Bargain With President Hoover to Save Lame Duck and Muscle Shoals.

Washington—Senator Norris, who believes his presence in the senate is objectionable to President Hoover, has offered to resign from the senate on condition the administration enact the lame duck and Muscle Shoals legislation. Norris said the offer was made several weeks ago to a mutual friend of his and the president. He received no reply, and said he did not know if the president ever received the offer.

Norris, who starts a new six year term Wednesday, indicated that he also suggested he be named one of the $7,500 a year directors of the proposed Muscle Shoals corporation. The salary of a senator is $10,000.

Expect Shoals Veto Today.

Washington—President Hoover is expected to send a veto message to the Norris Muscle Shoals bill to the senate tomorrow after it convenes Tuesday. The war department, to which the bill was referred when it came to Mr. Hoover's desk, has made its report. The president is understood to be contemplating a message of dissent, which would not only deal with Muscle Shoals proper, but which probably will outline his view on the power question. Senate leaders, anticipating the veto, were carefully checking to determine whether they had enough votes to sustain it.

The conference report on the bill proposing government manufacture and distribution of hydro-electric power from the Muscle Shoals plant, was adopted in the senate by a vote of 55 to 28, one short of the two-thirds which would be required to override it, but opponents of the measure were preparing to meet such an attempt.

Comment of C. A. Sorensen.

Attorney Gen. C. A. Sorensen, a supporter of Senator Norris, when asked what he thought of the offer of Norris said:

"I assume one of his reasons is to call the attention of the country in that manner to the importance of his lame duck bill and the Muscle Shoals measure. It may be recalled that President Hoover recently used the name of Norris, referring to the Muscle Shoals measure as the Norris bill, and stating that anyone opposing it was subject to the accusation of being in league with the power trust. I assume that Senator Norris made the same suggestion, and that he is grounded that if he could get the two measures mentioned he would be doing as much good for the country as he could by remaining another term in the office of senator."—State Journal.

DEFER CUT IN GRAIN RATES
Washington, March 2.—The interstate commerce commission Monday postponed from April 1 to June 1 the date when revised freight rates on grain and grain products are to become effective.

The western roads protested vigorously against the rates being put into effect by April 1.

The railroads, since the commission decision last fall ordering the rate revision, have protested that they would be unable to prepare the vast mass of local schedules by April 1, and that their reduced volume of traffic in recent months has decreased their earnings to the point where the grain rate production might be unbearable.

The commission estimated the carriers might sustain an annual revenue loss of about $15,000,000. Some railroad estimates have increased this figure. The new rates were originally scheduled to go into effect last July.

It has been intimated by commission members that the grain rate decision might be appealed to the courts.

COURT TO REVIEW POLICY
Washington—President Hoover's oil conservation policy closing public oil and gas lands to prospecting, will be reviewed by the supreme court. Federal customs assailing the policy, supported by the states of New Mexico, Montana, Wyoming, Utah and Colorado, will be considered on their merits by the highest court. The oil policy was made effective under an order by Secretary Wilbur in March, 1929.

Ethel M. McLennan, had a permit to prospect near Sacramento, Calif., and H. H. Simpson and W. P. Pyron, also desired to prospect for oil in that state. Roy C. Barton wanted to search for oil in New Mexico. All contended that the president had set aside an act of congress, and Secretary Wilbur's order was attacked on the ground that he president had issued no formal proclamation.

The five states complained that the effect on the closing of public lands to oil prospecting would materially lower their revenues, by depriving them of a fruitful source of taxation.

E. L. WEAVER NAMED YORK SCHOOLS HEAD
York, March 2.—E. L. Weaver, superintendent of schools at Scottsbluff for three years, Monday was appointed to succeed Conrad Jacobson, resigned, as superintendent of York schools.

President E. H. Smith of the school board said Jacobson would retire from the educational field, after being here six years.

Weaver received his bachelor's degree from Nebraska Wesleyan university last year, and has a master's degree from the University of Nebraska. He has served as principal and superintendent 26 years.

PROHIBITION REPEAL ASKED IN PORTO RICO
San Juan, Porto Rico, March 2.—An effort to do away with prohibition in Porto Rico was started Sunday by the agriculture association which said its enforcement here was a "joke."

ADMIRER KILLS SECRETARY

New York—The thirty-two year old private secretary of a Wall street financier was shot to death in her upper west side apartment and her admirer, a bookkeeper ten years her senior was believed to be dying of self-inflicted wounds. He confessed, police said, that he had slain her. The girl, Mae Birmingham, died instantly, Howard Quade, shot thru the forehead, was able to make a formal statement, detectives said, of his part in the tragedy. Fear that an impending business trip the secretary was to take meant permanent separation caused Quade to plan the shooting.

Conference of Progressive Senators is Called
Call Specifies It Is Not to Organize a Third Party—Explanation by Norris.

Washington, March 2.—A call for a conference of progressives of both parties to meet here March 11 for a round-table discussion was sent forth today.

It was sponsored by five senators—Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, and Cutting of New Mexico, and Cogan of Colorado and Cogan of Colorado. Cogan becomes a senator March 4.

The call specifies that the organization of a third party is not contemplated.

Among the subjects to be considered will be the power issue.

Norris' Explanation.

Norris described the meeting as an "economic conference" with a purpose of determining the causes and cure for depression.

Five governors have been invited and have signified their intention of attending. They are Roosevelt of New York, a democrat; Pinchot of Pennsylvania, a republican; Meier of Oregon, independent republican; La Follette of Wisconsin and Olsen of Minnesota.

In addition to the power subject other topics due for consideration include unemployment insurance and anti-injunction legislation.

The call was sent also to the house, where Representative La Guardia (rep. N. Y.) acted as spokesman for the senate sponsors.

A Reass Out of Respect.

Both houses of congress recessed for an hour today out of respect for Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, dean of the house, who died yesterday.

To his widow, President Hoover wrote: "I am very deeply sympathetic in your bereavement, and I do pray that you may find consolation in the memory of his long and useful career."

Speaker Longworth is expected to appoint tomorrow a committee of about 20 members of the house to attend the funeral at Racine. The senate adopted a resolution to send a committee of 15 senators to the funeral.

Before recessing, the house adopted a resolution mourning the passing of a member of 26 years service. Tributes were paid by several representatives.

The house later unanimously adopted a resolution to appropriate 10 thousand dollars for Mrs. Cooper. It now goes to the senate.—World-Herald.

Election of Schall is Basis of Contest
Notice of Action Filed in Senate—Minnesota Infer Mitchell May Have Part.

Washington—Notice of a contest against the election of Senator Schall of Minnesota was filed in the senate. The communication was signed by Einar Holdale, democratic senatorial nominee in the November election. It said a petition would follow which would charge illegal use of the mail, violation of the Minnesota corrupt practices act, and illegal and fraudulent voting in some of the polling places. Senator Walsh, Montana, presented the contest without comment.

The action came a short while after a statement by Schall inferring that Attorney General Mitchell might have a part in an election contest against him had been read in the senate.

"It seems to me," Schall said in a statement read to the senate, "that the president and the senate and especially the judiciary committee should know how close our attorney general, Mitchell, is connected with the men who are starting this contest upon the ground that I have misused any franking privilege and that I have broken some Minnesota law in securing my election."

"The so-called contest is a spiteful one," he added, "and grows out of my fight for the appointment of a federal judge who was the choice of the people of my state."—State Journal.
