Judge Holmes, at 90, Hands Down Decision

Veteran Jurist Declares That Airplane Is Not "Vehicle"— Birthday Sunday.

Washington, March 9.—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who celebrated his ninety-third birthday yesterday, continued his judicial activities today by handing down one of the three opinions delivered by the supreme court.

The justice, who has been a member of the court for 28 years, held that airplanes are not "vehicles" and therefore the theft of an airplane was not punishable under the national motor vehicle theft act.

Care of Sows and Pigs.

The following suggestions are taken word for word out of Nebraska Station circular 40, "A Manual for Hog Raisers" written by Prof. W. J. Loeffel, of the College of Agriculture.

"After the sow has farrowed, the pen has been cleaned, and fresh bedding supplied, the pigs should be returned to the sow for a few days. No food need be given for 24 hours after farrowing, although the sow should be provided with an abundance of drinking water.

"In most cases, about two weeks will be required to work a sow up to a full feed after farrowing. A ration successfully used at the Nebraska Agricultural College for young pigs and brood sows as well is:

Ground corn, 200 lbs.; ground oats, 200 lbs.; Shorts, 200 lbs.; Tankage, 20 lbs.; Linseed meal, 15 lbs.; Steamed bone meal 6 lbs.; Salt, 6 lbs."

Personality and Paint.

Personality is an elusive term, whether it is applied to a person or a room, but it is extremely important. We say that a human being has personality meaning, in all probability, that he or she has vivacity, variety of appeal, and colorful interest.

Personality in a home is not a matter of mere money expenditure. It is rather a matter of taste, of someone's charm and individuality expressed in the decorations and furnishings of that home.

A smartly-dressed woman plans her costume as a whole and would not consider buying a hat, even though it was immensely becoming, without minimizing the bad ones and giving life, warmth and character to each room.

In making such an outline, certain points should not be forgotten, such as the fact that rooms with cold or insufficient light should be decorated with warm, light-reflecting colors; that light colors, having a "patchy" effect, make a room look larger, should be given preference, especially in small rooms; that if there is much woodwork, or if it is unevenly distributed about the room, it is better not to have too much contrast, in order to avoid a "patchy" effect.

The furniture should also be included in this survey. A good deal of it will fit in admirably just as it is. Some of it probably looks pretty unpromising. But, let me tell you a secret, if you have not already guessed it—most of it can be altered unbelievably by a coat of paint or a slip cover. A gay new dress for that shabby taupe upholstered chair, a brilliant table in that colorless space near the corner, and a general refurbishing of the other pieces and you can change the effect and mood of your room so that your best friend will think that you have spent a lot of money on new furniture, unless you are so proud of what you have done that you can't keep the secret.

TESTIMONY IS COMPLETED

Indianapolis—Two alienists appointed by the court testified Tuesday in the murder trial of Harold Herbert Schroeder, Mobile, Ala., that the defendant "unquestionably of sound mind" and was sane at the time an unknown man's body was burned in Schroeder's car near here last May.

All testimony in the case was completed and arguments will begin Wednesday morning. It was indicated these would take all of the sessions and that the court's instructions to the jury, which Judge Baker said would take about an hour, probably will not be given until Thursday.

RACKETEERS HIT KANSAS

Topeka—The racketeer has come to Kansas, says Roland Boynton, attorney general, who believes the state needs more than "an 1868 police system to combat 1931 organized crime."

In an address at a meeting of Topeka teachers Tuesday night, Boynton said intoxicating liquor was being hauled into Kansas "under the protection of armed guards, the guards being furnished by wholesale liquor dealers in Kansas City, Mo."

PLANT MARIGOLDS FOR BRILLIANCY

Marigolds in various types furnish a brilliant spot in the garden, glowing oranges, yellows and browns and maroons. Plant liberally of the various types from the tiny dwarfs so useful for edging, the French types with their buttons and beautiful markings of brown and maroon on orange and yellow grounds, the tall French singles for cutting, and the African large double quilled balls in lemon, golden, and orange yellow three feet or more tall as stately garden subjects and for bouquets.

A novelty hailed with delight by gardeners is offered this year in a tall African type which has been produced by the skilled plant breeders of California. This is the "All Double Orange African." This is similar to the older Orange Queen in size and form but unlike the older types of double African marigolds the seed produces 11 double plants. The older types produced a certain percentage of singles which were of little ornamental value and a few of them in a planting of the full double forms were always a disfigurement to the planting. As there was no way of telling whether the plants were single or double until they attained blooming size, there was no way of preventing the appearance of these types or transplanting double forms into their places.

The new type is reasonably certain to provide a bed of all full double type. After a careful test and selection it is now set out with the statement that the seedlings are 100 per cent double. This will be a welcome improvement.

The tiny teteges signata punilla is a favorite edging plant, making a compact ferny little bush of delicate fragrance compared with the rank odor of the foliage of some of the taller types and covered with tiny single orange bloom all summer. Next come the dwarf French, compact little bushes covered with buttons of varied coloring and then the tall French with fine stemmed blooms for cutting.

The tall French and African are the cutting types. The others are for garden decoration. Marigolds flourish under almost any soil conditions, withstand drought fairly well, but require full sunshine to do their best.

STORY OF THREAT TOLD

Detroit—A "voice from headquarters" threatened over the telephone that Jerry Buckley would be "taken for the ride" if he continued his crusade for the recall of Mayor Bowles.

The threat was made in the trial of Ted Pizzini, Angelo Levich and Joe Bonmarito for the murder of the radio political commentator last July 23. The testimony was given by W. Wright Hedge, manager of radio station WJBC, over which Buckley carried on his radio campaigns against vice for a "square deal" for the unemployed and against the Bowles administration during the latter weeks of the recall campaign. Gedge said the threat was telephoned to the station on July 18, and that he took the call.

"This is the voice from headquarters speaking," he quoted the unidentified caller as saying, "Tell Buckley that if he talks about the recall tonight, he will be taken for a ride, and it will be a long one."

IMPORTERS' WORD AWAITED

Washington—Administration officials awaited word from oil importers upon which they hoped to base plans for solving some of the urgent problems confronting the petroleum world. Secretary Wilbur, as chairman of the oil conservation board, said he expected several days would be required by the importing companies to work out a definite program of curtailing imports.

He said it would require considerable study of marketing zones, the price in various areas, and existing contracts binding the various companies to formulate the plan. He said the Standard Oil of New Jersey and most of the other leading importers have notified the government they were willing to assist as much as possible in carrying out the proposals advanced by President Hoover and now being negotiated by Secretary Lamont.

HERRICK HAS A COMPLAINT

Baltimore—Manuel Herrick, former Oklahoma congressman sentenced last October to six months in jail on charges that he helped make moonshine liquor, made a protest here about the treatment he said he was accorded at the Centerville, Md., jail. Herrick was released Sunday. The food was bad and the bedding was dirty, he asserted, and added that he was denied many privileges the other prisoners enjoyed.

Herrick said he lost forty-six pounds during the time he was in jail. He asserted "one prisoner, a privileged character, got the other prisoners down on me. They would wash the walls with my clean shirts and put rotten eggs between the sheets on my bunk, and a boy living nearby used to shoot nails at me from his air rifle."

Debenture Plan of Farm Relief to Have a Place

Listed Among Subjects to Be Discussed at Progressive Conference—Borah Chairman.

Washington—Strong indication that the export debenture farm relief plan would have a prominent place in the progressive conference here Wednesday and Thursday was given with the selection of Senator Borah as chairman of the round table debate on agriculture. The five senatorial sponsors of the conference, called to formulate a legislative program for the next session of congress, mapped out a program at a meeting and appointed chairman on the five subjects around which discussion will center.

Although not a signer of the conference call, Senator Borah attended to head the discussion on farm relief. A leader in the effort during the last congress to limit tariff revision to agriculture, Borah still is a firm believer in the debenture plan. He feels the farm board has been a failure and that the debenture, stricken from the tariff and farm marketing acts after President Hoover took a vigorous stand against it, remains one of the most important remedies. He may address the progressive conference on the subject.

Norris on Public Utilities.

Senator Norris, chairman of the conference, will preside over the discussions on public utilities. He will make the address welcoming approximately 125 persons expected.

Senator Cutting, New Mexico, will have charge of discussions on "return to representative government." Senator LaFollette, secretary of the conference, will head the round table on unemployment and industrial stabilization. Senator Costigan, Colorado, a former member of the tariff commission, will lead the tariff discussion.

Five sessions are to be held, one each devoted to the five principal topics of debate.

Senator Wheeler, Montana, one of the five signers of the call, asked not to be assigned a chairmanship, but he undoubtedly will take part in the discussions. Fifty-five persons already have accepted invitations. The list includes many labor leaders and college professors.—State Journal.

Warrant for Robbery is Facing Mills

Man Arrested in Connection With Hastings Bank Job Will Be Returned to Lincoln.

Hastings—A warrant for bank robbery has been issued here against L. C. Mills, arrested at Norman, Okla., in connection with the $27,000 Hastings National bank robbery. Police Chief Bramble and A. B. Cooper, state bankers' association operator, made the arrest. Officials here said that Mills would be returned to Lincoln but they refused to discuss the case.

They said he was known to have lived in the house with the three men who held up the bank. Bank employees say he was not on the scene of the robbery.

According to former State Sheriff Condit, Mills was not arrested on the belief that he was a member of the bandit gang but for questioning concerning the robbery, tho it was thought possible that he had visited Hastings before the holdup. Pictures of him have been shown to Hastings bank employees and officers but none of them identified him as being in any way connected with the hold-up.

Mills was identified from a picture shown to Thomas. The initials "L. C. M." were found on clothing in the house which the robbers shot their way out at Hastings. The former state sheriff knew a man in Oklahoma City named Lonnie Mills and officers there sent pictures.

Hastings people are said to have identified Clyde Nemerick and Jimmie Creighton as the two other members of the gang.—State Journal.

CONDIT'S SON, SHOT IN HOLDUP, PACES OPERATION

Lincoln, March 9.—Volcott Condit, Nebraska Bankers association investigator, may still have to undergo an operation as the result of a wound he suffered in an exchange of shots with the Hastings bank bandits, his father, W. C. Condit, former state sheriff, said Monday. Condit was shot through the right arm, the bullet penetrating his side and emerging from his back.
