Will Have Fine Sign.

Why the barber shops are designated by the gaudily painted pole does not so much matter as the fact that such is the case and that where-ever the sign of the gaily painted pole is seen that the barber shop is in evidence. King Clarke has just completed a new sign of this kind for his brother Ira, and which when the paint is good and seasoned and dry the pole will take its place on the outside of the shop, there to extend a welcome to those in need of work in this line.

WEATHER

Drenching rains or heavy snows in almost every part of the country in the past few weeks give promise that we shall not go through another drought season, such as the past two years have been in many sections and last year was over a very large area. Condition are similar in other parts of the world, also.

The weather experts who have been studying the subject for sixty years, since the first scientific attempt to forecast weather was begun, say that the eleven-year cycle of sun-spots has a definite effect upon the weather. The sun-spot influence is not yet fully understood, but there is ground for belief that we shall not have any more general droughts before 1949, and that for a year or two we may look for unusually heavy rains to make up the water losses of the past two years.

HOLMES

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the United States Supreme Court celebrated his nineteenth birthday on March 8. A few days before he had delivered one of the most liberal and progressive opinions ever handed down by a judge on the bench. He is still young in mind and heart, though old in years.

To realize how the world has moved since Justice Holmes was born in 1841, we need only recall that railroads were still more of a novelty than the airplane is today. Texas was an independent republic, that Chicago was a village of 4,500 people, the electric telegraph was only six years old and friction matches had been invented only five years before, while the sewing machine had not been heard of.

DAM

Work on the Hoover Dam across the Colorado River will begin within a few weeks. This is the largest engineering project the United States or any other government has ever undertaken. The dam will be 739 feet high, 1,100 feet long, and will impound a lake 100 miles long. A canal 20 feet deep and 200 miles long will carry water from this lake 265 miles across the desert of Southern California, irrigating arid lands on which nobody can live now but which will provide homes and subsistence for five million people. The surplus water, not needed for irrigation, will be used for power development, under lease to a private power company.

Crisis in Wheat Expected when Harvest Begins

Senator Borah Says Farm Board Lacking Storage Must Unload—Board Says No

Washington, March 19.—With the prospect that the Federal Farm Board will have approximately 200,000,000 bushels of wheat in storage when the new crop comes on the market July 1, widely different views were expressed simultaneously in the capitals to how the board can meet the situation.

William E. Borah (R.), Senator from Idaho, advocate of the export debenture, who discussed the wheat situation among other topics at a solitary luncheon conference with President Hoover yesterday, stated afterward that he saw no way by which the Farm Board "could postpone the crisis" much longer in view of limited storage facilities.

On the other hand, Samuel R. McKelvie, member of the Farm Board in charge of wheat, said that adequate storage facilities existed, and that he had no doubt the board could hold its stock of wheat in storage if means were not found to dispose of it.

Mr. Borah forecast that Europe would not be able to see any difference between the dumping of wheat by Russia, and the similar disposal of wheat by the United States, if that expedient were resorted to.

The Farm Board is already exporting some of its wheat and has been engaged in operations of this character for over a month, it was said at board headquarters. This involves about 25,000,000 bushels of wheat that is "out of position," namely at seaboard, with about 20,000,000 bushels at Atlantic and Gulf ports and the rest on the Pacific Northwest ports. A quantity of this wheat has already been marketed abroad.

At a press conference last February, Mr. Legge declared that the board would not make a final decision as to disposition of the wheat "till after May." Farmers may still use large quantities of their wheat for livestock feed, he said.

An estimate of the nation's present elevator storage capacity made by private sources, but available at the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, puts the figure at 452,000,000 bushels. Total stocks of wheat in the United States, March 1 probably were in the vicinity of 50,000,000 bushels in excess of the same date a year ago, the Department of Agriculture states.

James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, stated today that the board has "no serious fears" in regard to finding a place to store the wheat surplus of next summer's crop.

The board hopes to relieve market congestion to some extent by the disposition of the 35,000,000 bushels now being sold in the export market. Mr. Stone said that this allotment is being sold in small amounts from day to day, but that no large amounts have yet been disposed of. The disposition program has yet three months to run.

"HOLIDAY" 1931 CLASS PLAY

The Senior class of the high school will present "Holiday" a three act comedy by Philip Barry as the annual graduating class play on the night of May 1st. The play is ranked as one of the ten best screen productions during 1930 and was one of the outstanding successes of the New York season.

It is the story of a gay young man engaged to a girl of great wealth and social position. He refuses to "make good" with her father who is a plutocratic individual with a reverence for money and social status. The young man prefers the philosophy of life as a holiday and as an independent venture in happiness. Because of this divergence of opinion, the two separate and in the end, the other sister finds that she and the young man have much in common in their views of life and agree to try the future together.

It is a delightful and brilliant comedy which should further enhance the reputation of past Senior plays here. It will be directed by Miss Mary Jane Tidball and the cast will be selected in the near future.
