Making A GOOD TOWN!

A collection of houses is not a town—the houses may be a retreat from the world, but to make a real live town, you must have homes. Make the home the very best and you make the town the very best! To make the best home all members of it must work to that end. To make the best town, all homes, all citizens and all business interests must work to that end. Remember, we are here to assist you in every laudable enterprise. Come, let us co-operate for the best interests of Murray.

Delivered Interesting Discourse.

Last Sunday at the Christian church was had a very pleasant and profitable service when Robert E. Hanson, pastor, conducted the services. There were the Bible school, the morning worship and the young people's meeting, the evening and the evening church services.

Has A New Truck.

J. V. Pitman, in order to facilitate the caring for the work on the farm and on the road, recently purchased a new Dual Ford truck one with a double pair of wheels in the rear and which is capable of hauling nearly one hundred and fifty bushels of corn. This will be a great help to Dick in the work which he has to look after.

Visit Friends Here.

George Berger, a brother of J. W. Berger and son, Edwin Berger, both employed with the Swift company of Omaha, accompanied by J. H. Brown and wife, were guests for the day on last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berger, where all spent the day very pleasantly. Messrs. George Berger, J. W. Berger and Edwin Berger also visited at Nebraska City for a short time where they were guests of Will Berger of that place.

Oscar Has Arrived.

He came by parcel post and is doing finely in his improvised sea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boedeker, Jr. Oscar is a diminutive alligator which was shipped to them by Robert (Bob) Wilson, now of Lauderdale, Florida, but who was formerly a student and scholar with Charles when they were attending school at Fairbault, Minn. Mr. Wilson formerly made his home at Nebraska City and captured the alligator which is only about a foot in length. On the arrival of the baby, was named Oscar by his proud possessors. He is doing well, stationed in a water pail for the present.

Ship Much Corn.

O. Troop was the leader in the fine program which was presented.

55th Wedding Anniversary is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Young Enjoy Pleasant Gathering of Relatives and Old Friends Sunday

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Young, east of Murray, was the scene of a very pleasant family gathering Sunday, the occasion marked the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of this splendid couple and also the eighteenth birthday of Mr. Young. Both Mr. and Mrs. Young are members of pioneer families in the state and Mr. Young has resided on his present farm since he came here as a babe of three years, in 1854, while Mrs. Young was brought by her parents, but a few years later.

Mr. and Mrs. Young grew to manhood and womanhood in the vicinity of Rock Bluffs and there their romance developed, that resulted in their marriage and the decision to start their home on this bonnet farm that the parents of Mr. Young had established west of Rock Bluffs. Here they have spent all of the years of wedded life with the exception of a few years in Knox county and white living in Murray.

The day was marked by a fine chicken dinner prepared by Mrs. Ona Lawton, daughter of the guests of honor and who resides with them at home, and the table was featured with a fine birthday cake with its glowing candles, that marked the years of Mr. Young's life and the happy wedding anniversary.

The members of the party spent the day in visiting with the parents and old friends. Those who attended the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Young, Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. White and daughter, Anna Lee, Lytle Lawton, Mrs. William Williverd of Moorehead, Iowa, a sister of Mrs. Young and Mrs. Saddle Oldham and Mrs. Myra McDonald, also old time residents of the community and neighbors of the Young family.

Mrs. Lena Fairfield Passes to Last Reward

Resident of Minatare Community Since 1885—Funeral Services Conducted Tuesday.

The death of Mrs. Lena Mentis Fairfield at the family home just west of this city last Sunday morning marked the passing of one of the oldest residents of the community, she having settled here with her family in the year 1885. Mrs. Fairfield had been ill but a few days, suffering from pneumonia, when she was summoned by death. Funeral services were conducted from the family home Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in charge of Rev. Blanchard of the Minatare Christian church. Interment was made at the Fairview cemetery. The following old time residents of the community acted as pall bearers: W. H. Johnston, Math Seumacher, Fred W. Smith, B. F. Ore, M. Wiles and E. O. Harshman. The Free Press joins many friends of the family in expressing sympathy to the bereaved son in his sorrow.

Mrs. Lena Mentis Fairfield, nee Mullis was born at Loganport, Indiana, April 2, 1857, and departed this life at her home west of Minatare March 8, 1931, aged 73 years. 11 months and 6 days. When she was about 8 years old, with her parents she moved to Nebraska, first settling at Plattsmouth thence moving to Lincoln where they resided 3 years, then returning to Plattsmouth where they lived for some time. While living there she met Joseph H. Fairfield to whom she was married February 18, 1878. To this union were born three children, one son, Earl, who survives her and two daughters who died in infancy. In the summer of 1885 they moved to Scotts Bluff county and settled on the farm where she has since resided.

Her father, Greenbury Mullis, as well as her grandfather were ministers of the Christian church, preaching the gospel that Sister Fairfield learned to love, accepting Christ as her Saviour when she was nine years old, thus giving almost 65 years to the loyal service of her Lord, and in that service she never wavered. Becoming a charter member of the Minatare church, attending services three weeks before the day of her death.

Her father organized the First Christian church in Bayard and preached for it for some time. When he became ill Sister Fairfield brought him to her place and cared for him until he died as also she did her mother. She was bereaved of her husband March 26, 1916.

She leaves to mourn her loss besides her son Earl, a host of nephews and nieces and a host of friends. She has made in her almost 45 year residence in this community. These all join in mourning the departure of a truly good woman who looked well to the ways of her household and who ate not the bread of idleness.

She was a good and faithful wife, a devoted mother, a true neighbor, a loyal citizen, faithful church member and a genuine Christian. Hence we sorrow not as the infidel do, at the complete death of her, but we look forward with joyous expectation and longing anticipation of meeting her in her glorious body which God will give to her and to all who look for and await His glorious appearing coming in the clouds of heaven, when the dead in Christ shall arise and with the living saints are caught up to meet the Lord in the air.—Minatare (Nebr.) Free Press.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The subject of the lesson-sermon read at all Christian Science churches was "Matter" on Sunday, March 22, was "Matter." This religion teaches that God, Spirit, is not the creator of matter, and that in the Bible material terms often are in a figurative sense, which need to be correctly understood to obtain the spiritual application. One Biblical citation reads, which needs no interpretation is "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. . . . And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doth the will of God abideth forever." A selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 270), reads: "Matter and Mind are opposites. One is contrary to the other in its very nature and essence; both cannot be real. If one is real, the other must be unreal. Only by understanding that there is but one power—not two powers, Matter and Mind—are scientific and logical conclusions reached."

GUARDS READY FOR RIOT

Pontiac, Ill.—A bugle sounded and a squad of machine gunners and guards at Pontiac reformatory threw themselves in readiness to quell a riot, but nothing happened. The bugle, Warden Cranor had been informed, was to signalize the start of a revolt by 2,000 inmates. He had state police and guards posted within the walls prepared to cope with it. Seemingly, he said, the prisoners realized it would be futile to take a stand against such odds, and abandoned their plan. All was quiet at Pontiac Tuesday night.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. (Young people's meeting). Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30. You are cordially invited to worship with us. J. C. STEWART, Pastor.

Ora Edwards

Dies at Hospital in Omaha

Succumbs to Lingerin Illness—Was Employee of Ash Grove Plant At Louisville.

The death of Ora M. Edwards occurred at the University hospital in Omaha on Friday, March 13, 1931, following an illness covering a period of several weeks. He was 50 years and 19 days old at the time of his passing.

The native state of Mr. Edwards was Missouri, his early home being at Nevada, where he was born February 24, 1881. He was married to Lottie M. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Moore, pioneer Cass county citizens, November 2, 1904. Mrs. Edwards died September 1, 1911. The survivors of the union are Mrs. Jesse Blunt, of California; Herbert and Beulah, of Louisville, and Arthur, of Kansas City.

On February 24, 1912, Mr. Edwards was married to a sister of his deceased wife, Miss Ruby Moore. To this union four children were born. They are Wilbur, Doris, Mabel and Elizabeth, all of Louisville, who with the widow, survive. One grandson, Jimmie Blunt, lives in California.

Mr. Edwards was preceded in death by his parents and one sister, leaving six brothers and four sisters. One sister, Mrs. Frank Jeffreys of Tamara, Nebraska, was present at the funeral services.

Mr. Edwards was employed at the Ash Grove company's plant at the time he was taken ill. He was a loyal and faithful employee, a true friend and a loving husband and father, and his death has brought deep sorrow to his family and many friends.

The funeral occurred Sunday afternoon at the M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. Robert D. Murphy officiating. The local I. O. O. F. and their wives attended in a body as a token of love and respect to their departed member. Mr. Edwards was also a member of the M. W. A. organization, in which he carried a $2,000 life insurance policy.

The floral offerings were beautiful and numerous, testifying to the esteem and respect of the many friends of the family. The Epworth League sang a beautiful number out of respect to the member of the family who belongs to the organization and members of the choir sang several numbers. Interment was in Glendale cemetery in the family lot.—Louisville Courier.

CASS COUNTY SCHOOL OF LEADERSHIP TRAINING

Do not forget the Cass County School of Leadership Training, to be conducted May 1-5. Some have been asking, "What is this school?" It is a genuinely Christian project. Its purpose is to help those interested in religious work, to fit themselves better to do that work. This is done thru discussion and study under the direction of competent leadership. A text-book is used to guide the thought of the group. In our school there are four departments:

1. The Pupil and the Teacher: John C. White, leader. This course should be especially attractive to all who are teachers. It will help you to understand the problems a little better which all teachers face.
2. The Life of Christ: Rev. Klein, leader. This course will offer a splendid opportunity to get a more intimate and detailed knowledge of the Master.
3. Story Telling in Religious Education: Mrs. Warner, leader. Stories have always been a great aid in teaching religion. Jesus used stories to bring out many of his greatest lessons. Take this course and learn more about the art of story telling, and how to find good stories to tell.
4. Methods and Materials of Vocational Guidance, Or. What Shall I do with My Life? H. A. Norenberg, leader. This course is meant chiefly for those who are facing or are helping others to face the choice of a life's work.

Arrange your schedule now and plan to take one of these fine courses. You will profit thereby and your discussions and views will be a help to the others who attend.

H. A. NOREMBERG.

SHORTAGE BARS SMITH QUIZ

Perry, Ia., March 24.—Lack of funds Tuesday loomed as a possible barrier to further inquiry into the identity of the body buried here as that of John Smith, missing Perry insecticide manufacturer.

The county board of supervisors late Tuesday voted down a proposal to appropriate a body to exhumate the body again. It was planned to raise the body Wednesday and seek possible identification marks as well as the manner in which it met death.

James Ridsen, chief of the state bureau of criminal investigation, said his department had no funds to pay for an autopsy or exhumation of the body.

County authorities Tuesday had not determined what further steps they would take. Search for Smith has continued since his disappearance. It was hoped that identification of the body would lead to some trace of the missing man.
