Condition Is Serious.
Fred Wolfe, who was taken to the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln on account of the very serious condition of his health is reported as being very critical. The attending physician who visited him at the institution is to the effect that his case is considered as being most grave. All is being done for this excellent gentleman by the physicians and the nurses but the case is thought to be the most serious.

Have Many Fine Chickens.
The Lesley Hatcheries are working very fine this season and it has been a fine spring for the young chicks. They have hatched many thousands of the little babes, and disposed of many also. They have at this time many baby chicks, some just started and some well along, so they can run out without a mother. If you are a lover of chickens and animal life just drop around and see the wonderful display of life in the little chicks which they have at the farm.

Making Repairs on Water Tower.
The uneven settling of the water tower and the supports of the tank, which is connected therewith, has ruptured the casing which surrounds the pipe leading from the tank at the top, and has made it necessary for some repairs to be made, and the work is being done by those eminent workmen Gust Sorman and John Gumbarger, who they have at the work so that when it is completed it will be the best. During the early portion of last week the high winds interfered with the construction of the scaffolding which was necessary for the doing of the work.

Moving Paraphernalia.
Employees of the paving company which did the work on the highway running past Greenwood last year, were in town during the past week and were getting the machinery and other aids in their work ready and were loading some for shipment to the northwest where they are to begin paving soon, and which is expected to be completed by the time the work over the river and towards Omaha shall be ready.

Making Fair Improvement.
Phillip Reese who has been at the Lord Lister hospital for some two weeks or more has been making fair progress towards the restoration of health and would have been able to have returned home but for the giving away of one of the stitches which was taken when his operation was performed, but however he is getting along and will be able to be home in a few days anyway. The many friends of this excellent young man and they are many who come to that will be pleased when he shall be able to return home again sound and well.

Will Open Golf Course.
The golf course which was instaltuted last summer by Mr. O. F. Peters and which has been closed during the winter, will in a short time be opened and will be conducted by Grant Peters. This will enable the fun loving people of Greenwood an opportunity to enjoy this fascinating game without leaving town.

Make Trip to Omaha.
A number of the friends of Phillip Reese were over to Omaha on last Tuesday to see this excellent young man at the Lord Lister hospital, where they found him doing nicely and spending a short time with him, and also left a very fine bouquet of flowers to cheer him. Those to make up the party who visited him were, Harry Hughes, L. C. Marvin, W. E. Palling, A. C. Moskey and Fred W. Eigerdecke. The visit of the boys did Phil much good and sure he was glad to see them.

The M. E. guild was pleasantly entertained at the church basement on Tuesday afternoon by Mesdames Lincoln Dimmitt and Leo Peters. The remainder of the afternoon was spent quilting, after which lovely refreshments were served.

The L. C. C. Kensting met at the L. O. F. hall last Thursday afternoon, having a 1:00 o'clock covered dish luncheon, which was enjoyed very much by all those present. The next meeting will be held on April 23rd with Mrs. E. O. Miller.

The Western Asphalt Paving corporation has had a crew of men putting their equipment in shape and loading same for Maxwell, Nebraska, where they have a contract to put in a 11 mile strip of pavement. After this work is completed they will return to this vicinity to begin work laying the connecting link from Ashland to a point north of Gretna. The completion of this strip will give a continuous paved road from Lincoln to Omaha and be a great improvement, especially in the spring of the year when the frost goes out and the traffic on the D. L. R. is too much for the gravel base. A number of Greenwood men accompanied the paving machinery to Maxwell and will be employed on the work there during the next two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfe returned home from Lincoln, where Mr. Wolfe had been under the care of Dr. Misko for more than two weeks. He was taken suddenly worse Friday morning and had a hemorrhage of the stomach. Dr. Emery was called, but as he could do nothing for him but give a hypo, which Omaha doctors had advised Mr. Wolfe not to take, it was deemed best to take him back to Lincoln. A son, Clifford Wolfe, arrived from Wahoo, in response to a telephone call, and an ambulance was summoned from Lincoln to take Mr. Wolfe to the Lincoln General hospital where he has since been under the care of Dr. John C. Thompson. Since Thursday night he has not permitted to take as much as a drink of water or any food. Dr. Everett was called in and advised an operation in about ten days. Mr. Wolfe has been suffering unduly, but he bears his pain with much fortitude and unlimited patience. Under the expert care he is receiving at the hospital, it is hoped he will be able to get relief from his ailment in the near future. Mrs. Wolfe has been at his bedside all the time, while Clifford has been with his father and mother at the hospital a great deal of the time.—Gazette.

NORTH AMERICA TO LEAD
New York—Responsibility for righting the wrongs of the world rests with the people of the United States and Canada, Hanford Macnider, minister of Canada declared.

"Whether we want the responsibility or not," he said, "for whether the older countries have any desire to turn their eyes in our direction, it is from the North American continent that the first move will be expected to right world affairs when they become complicated or confused."
He declared, however, there was no desire to dictate how other people should conduct their affairs.

"Any such attitude," he said, "would arouse more resistance upon this continent than anywhere else on earth. Consciously or unconsciously, however, our handling of economic problems is fast becoming the principal worldwide influence. When it is unfortunate and unwise we shall be punished for it. When it is sound and far-seeing the rest of the world will profit and we shall profit with it."

John G. Stark, of Elmwood is Laid to Rest

Funeral Services of Prominent Financial and Republican Leader Held at the Late Home

The funeral of John Gerry Stark, long time resident of Cass county and prominent in the business and political life of the county, was held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Christian church of Elmwood, of which Mr. Stark and his family had long been members.
There were a very large number of the old time friends in attendance at the services and to pay their last respects with respect and esteem to the old time friend. Interment was in the Elmwood cemetery, where Mrs. Stark was laid to rest several years ago and where others of the family have been buried.

The death of Mr. Stark came suddenly on Friday afternoon, although he has been gradually failing for some time and his condition while regarded as serious was not thought to be dangerous. The first intimation of the passing of Mr. Stark was when a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eldon Stark, with whom Mr. Stark resided, noticed that he was not at the house and going out into the yard discovered the father dead, he passing quietly away as he was sitting in the yard. Medical assistance was called, but Mr. Stark was beyond all aid.

The deceased was sixty-five years of age at the time of his death and had been a resident of Elmwood and vicinity for the greater part of his lifetime, coming to Cass county when a young man and was united in marriage in this county to a daughter of the late Joseph Mullen, one of the prominent families of the west portion of the county. The family made their home at Elmwood, where the children were reared and several years ago the family was bereft of the wife and mother, since which time Mr. Stark has made his home with his children.

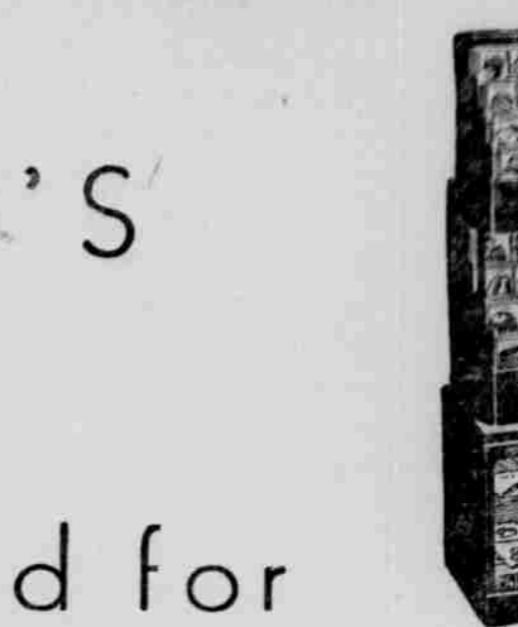

Mr. Stark was engaged for many years in farming and was also interested in banking at Elmwood some years ago, but of late years has largely confined his efforts to his farms. Always active in the life of the community, Mr. Stark was very prominent in the republican circles of the county and was at one time a candidate for county treasurer.

There is surviving two sons, Eldon Stark of Elmwood and with whom the father resided; Cecil Stark of Gordon, Nebraska, and Mrs. Margie Miller, of Lincoln.

Business to Discuss Insurance Employed

New Interest in Question Since Private Companies Will Not Do It—On Meeting Agenda

Washington, April 16—Governor Roosevelt's veto of a bill which would have permitted private insurance companies to write unemployment insurance in New York apparently "finishes" to the efforts made this year in various parts of the country to obtain legislative sanction for this form of protection for workers.

Had the vetoed bill become law it is not likely that there would have been any great influx of private companies into the field of unemployment insurance. At least one large life insurance company has been willing for a number of years to experiment with the writing of unemployment insurance and it is believed this concern would have availed itself of the privilege the bill would have granted. The rank and file of insurance executives, however, are opposed to unemployment insurance in principle. They view it not as "insurance" at all, but simply as the building up of a reserve fund in times of prosperity to be drawn upon in periods of adversity. In their opinion this is a matter for each industry to handle itself.

Many business leaders who are fearful of the ultimate effect of unemployment insurance on the financial stability of their industries, but nevertheless consider it their duty to make some provisions for their workers when out of jobs, would prefer to see the experiment conducted by an insurance company equipped to demonstrate scientifically the merits and demerits of the plan. With private insurance companies out of the picture, they realize that they themselves must set up unemployment reserve funds if they are to avert continued agitation for state-administered plans, the cost of which they will have to bear.

Because of this threat, brought to the fore by Senator Couzens' statement that business must act on this problem or the government will, a scheduled discussion on unemployment insurance at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Atlantic City at the end of this month assumes new importance.—World-Herald.
